TOWN MEETING PROCEDURE

Vote Passed Last Week to Govern Future Gatherings

The vote passed by the Town last week Thursday evening at the special town meeting to govern future gatherings at future town meetings is printed herewith in full. This is a petition for a special act of authorization by the town meeting to the effect that the town meeting shall be held at the town as provided herein next session.

TOWN MEETINGS

Resolved, That the Selectmen be and they hereby are authorized and instructed to petition the several courts for the enactment of a law to provide for voting by ballot at town meetings in the town of Winchester subsequent to the next town meeting.

Section 1. At all town meetings and all sessions thereof, held in the town of Winchester, officers to be appointed for the purpose by the Selectmen shall attend at the entrance or entrances to the place of meeting and shall permit only legal voters of the town to enter. They shall determine by the use of the check lists, or by means of mechanical devices approved by the Selectmen, or both, as the Selectmen may direct, the number of voters admitted to each meeting. The officers shall forthwith make return in writing to the Town Clerk under oath, which may be administered by the Town Clerk, of the number of voters admitted to each meeting and shall file with their return any check list used by them.

Section 2. Any vote passed at any town meeting or any session thereof to which one thousand or more persons according to the aforesaid officers' return shall have been admitted shall, upon petition, be submitted to the voters at large at a town meeting by ballot at a subsequent town meeting, as hereinafter provided, except that votes for moderator, or for any town, county, state or national officer, or on any proposition on which by any special or general law of the Commonwealth a vote is required to be taken by ballot, shall be taken by ballot. No vote subject to ratification under the provisions of this act shall take effect until the expiration of the time herein provided for filing a petition for ratification; nor, if such petition be filed, until after such vote shall be ratified in the manner hereinafter provided.

Section 3. If within the period of five days next succeeding the final dissolution of such town meeting a petition addressed to the Selectmen shall be filed with the Town Clerk, signed by at least one hundred registered voters of the town requesting that any vote or votes subject to ratification and passed at such meeting, except the final votes before mentioned, be submitted to the voters of the town for ratification by ballot, then the Town Clerk shall examine the said petition and if the Town Clerk finds that it bears the signatures of at least one hundred such voters, the Town Clerk shall so certify thereon and promptly on the expiration of said period of five days shall cause to be said petition to the Selectmen, who shall forthwith call a Town Meeting.

SATURDAY'S FIRES

Saturday was an active day for the local fire department, with alarms calling the apparatus out during the afternoon and evening. The first call was at 1:50, when box 7-46 was sounded for grass burning on Lachman street. Six gallons of chemical was used and 700 feet of hose laid. At 2:20 a telephone call from the residence of Mrs. M. S. Chapman on Highland avenue was sent in for burning grass. The chemical truck responded. At 2:57 box 7-46 was sounded for grass burning on Lachman street near Clark street. At 5:31 a telephone call from the residence of Benjamin F. Newlands on Russell road called the firemen to the Dunmore shirt factory, where burning grass had ignited a pile of boxes and a fence. 43 gallons of chemical was used here.

TWO GAMES OF BALL OVER HOLIDAYS

Two games of ball will be played on Manchester field over the week-end, the first being that of tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon, when the Town Team meets the strong Revere Knights of Columbus team, and the other on the afternoon of the 4th, when the Town Team meets for the second time the Charleston team. The Bennetts have previously played here, the Town Team going down to a 3-1 defeat before them June 11th in the best game to be played here this season. The Bennetts feel that they can repeat the score and the local management are confident they cannot, so a return game has been arranged. Tomorrow afternoon's game is anticipated as one to create much interest and to show good ball, the visitors coming well recommended for their ability and quality of ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Pauline of Pond street are the parents of a daughter, born Tuesday.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

June 27, 1921

The Board met at 7:30, all present. The records of June 20 were read and approved.

June 1921. The list of jurors prepared by the Selectmen on June 20, 1921, was duly signed by all members of the Board.

Fire Department (Fire House): The Board voted to instruct the Chief of the Fire Department to secure bids for the necessary painting and calking of the interior of the fire station, bids to be obtained without advertising. Bids for painting the ceiling are to be separated from bids for any other painting.

Measures of Leather: The Board reapportioned upon the approval of the Scales of Weights and Measures, the following persons nominated at the last meeting as measurers of leather for the year ending June 30, 1922: Michael J. Sullivan, Andrew J. Lynch, Thomas H. Matthews and Frank G. H. Finnimore.

Committee (Renting and Housing Committee): A letter was received from the Special Commission on the Necessaries of Life relating to housing shortage. A copy was ordered sent to a special committee appointed by a previous Board to look into the matter of housing conditions of which Mr. William A. Kneeland was appointed chairman.

Street Acceptances (Wolcott Terrace): The Board decided to take no further action in regard to the petition on file for the acceptance of Wolcott Terrace as a public way unless the necessary of life relating to housing shortage.

Traffic Rules: Another letter was received from Harry W. Brown, relating to taking some action in regard to modifying the traffic regulations at the center in front of his block at the corner of Mt. Vernon and Main streets. Mr. Brown who had appeared in regard to pole location on Norwood street, also spoke in regard to this matter. He stated that both he and his tenant, Mr. Allen of the Allen Pharmacy, felt aggrieved by this traffic regulation at the center and hoped that something might be done to modify the same. This matter was referred to the Committee on Police to take up with the Chief of Police and report back to the Board.

Sidewalks (Asphalt): A letter was received from Mr. Thomas W. Condon of 47 Russell road and 972 Main street, asking that the sidewalk constructed sometime ago on Main street from the corner of Glenwood avenue to Sheridan circle be completed. The Clerk was instructed to write Mr. Condon that this sidewalk is on the program and will probably be laid at an early date.

The meeting adjourned at 10:30 p. m.

George S. F. Bartlett,
Clerk of Selectmen.

LAST SERVICE IN METHODIST CHURCH

Society Collects Bonus of $5000 by Giving up Church Edifice Sunday

On Sunday last the Methodist Society held its last services in the present church building on Mt. Vernon street. By thus closing its connection and use of the property, sold recently to the Winchester Laundries, Inc., the Society received the bonus offered by the Laundry amounting to $5000, the provision being that the church should be vacated on or before June 30th.

The action was taken on Wednesday evening at the quarterly conference, it being voted to abide by the decision of the trustees in thus relinquishing the building.

The Methodists will hold their union services in Waterfield Hall and will also resume worship at that place in September pending the erection of their new building on Church street.

ISAACSON-FRUMSON

Miss Clara Frumson, daughter of Mr. Samuel Frumson of this town, was united in marriage to Mr. Abram Isaacson of Boston, in Academy Hall, Boston, on Tuesday evening, June 28, 1921. The bride was attired in lace over brides satin and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses. Her veil was caught up with orange blossoms. The bridesmaids wore Nile green taffeta.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaacson were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. After an extended wedding trip to Baltimore, they will reside in Boston.

PINKHAM-PRIME

Governor Present at Marriage of Winchester Couple

— The largest society wedding of the month, attended by about 600 guests, including Governor and Mrs. Channing Cox, was that of Tuesday evening, when Miss Evelyn Fontaine Prime, daughter of former Representative Prime and Mrs. Winfield F. Prime of Prospect street, was married to Mr. Raymond Edward Pinkham, master of the Wadleigh and Prince Schools. The wedding was performed at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Howard J. Child, pastor of the First Congregational Church, at seven forty-five, followed by a large reception until after ten.

The residence was beautifully decorated for the affair. The reception room was banked with palms and potted plants with white roses used exclusively for the cut flowers. The library was decorated with Orphelia roses, and the hall and dining rooms were in pink and green, pink roses predominating, with asparagus fern and rosebuds twined about the stair rails.

The wedding march was played by the Hope-Wright Trio, the same group of young ladies playing a program during the following reception. Miss Margaret Wiley of Somerville, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and the groom's brother, Mr. Frank Pinkham of Fitchburg, was best man.

The bride wore a wedding dress of white lace with heavy silk figures and trimmed with orange blossoms. Her veil was fastened with orange blossoms and her bouquet was of lilies of the valley and orchids. The maid of honor's dress was Nile green satin with lace, and she carried pink roses.

Mrs. Selwyn Prime of Worcester was matron of honor, wearing light blue chamoisee, and Miss Olive Edith of Fitchburg and Miss Edith Johnson were the bridesmaids, wearing pink chamoisee. Miss Dorothy Folger Pease and Miss Madeline Fontaine Prime, both of Worcester, and little nieces of the bride, wore flower girl and ring bearer. They wore simple dresses of white chiffon.

At the reception Mr. and Mrs. Pinkham were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Winfield F. Prime, Mrs. Charles Pinkham, Mr. Frank Pinkham and Mrs. Selwyn Prime. The ushers were Messrs. Selwyn F. Prime of Worcester, Mr. Howard Robbins, Mr. John R. Faussey and Mr. Herbert L. Smith.

School has Winchester wedding been more largely attended, the guests numbering many from distant cities in addition to those of the and other nearby places. The couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts from a host of friends.

Mrs. Pinkham is a graduate of the Winchester High School, Class of 1917, and for the past four years has been studying with Ivan Moravsky, the vocal teacher. Mr. Pinkham studied education at Columbia, Harvard and Boston University, and has been principal of the Wadleigh and Prince Schools for several years.

The couple will spend the summer at Annisquam and will make their home in the Fall on Highland Avenue.

NEW CHAPTER FORMED

Order of Eastern Star Organized Here Saturday

With a charter list of about 50 members, Winchester Chapter 175, Order of Eastern Star, was instituted on Saturday evening in Masonic Hall. There were many present at the institution and following initiation, out-of-town members of the order attending in large numbers, including guests from Stoneham, West Medford, Woburn, Reading, Somerville, Springfield, Brighton and Melrose.

For several months plans for the organization have been underway. Many Winchester ladies and gentlemen are affiliated with the order, all of whom have been members of outside chapters. Securing more than the required number of signers for a charter, the new chapter has been launched under the most auspicious circumstances.

The chapter was instituted by Grand Patron Albert A. Thomas of Middleboro, assisted by Grand Matron Alice Walker, Grand Marshall Louise G. Crafts, Grand Chaplain Carrie A. Cushing and Grand Secretary Lucy B. Colby.

The following officers were installed: Worthy Matron—Mildred Sanford, Past Matron of Middlesex Chapter, West Medford.

Worthy Patron—J. Ervine Johnson, Past Patron of Crescent Chapter of Stoneham.

Associate Matron—Grace D. Johnson.

Secretary—Allena E. Roberts.

Treasurer—Edith L. Cummings.

Chaplain—Myra E. Morrill.

Wardler—Ethel K. Jewett.

Alah—Vera L. Clarke.

Ruth—Edna T. Hatch.

Ethel—Edna M. Johnson.

Martha—Ruth R. Strawbridge.

Electa—Grace S. Baneroff.

The new chapter is to be known as Winchester Chapter 175, and meetings are to be held once a month on the first Wednesday. The installation work Saturday evening was done by the officers of Middlesex Chapter.

Chairman, Gamma Eta Kappa Fraternity

ENTERTAINED AT AIGREMOY

Mrs. O. C. Sanborn entertained the local chapter of the Gamma Eta Kappa Fraternity at Aigremoy, her Winchester estate, last Friday evening. There was a reception on the East Porch followed by dancing in the stable and billiard room. Miss Marguerite Wadley gave several monologues during the evening and supper was served at midnight.

The grounds and porch were strung with lights in Japanese lanterns and the rooms where the dancing was held were decorated with daisies and roses with a background of laurel.

Mrs. Sanborn was assisted by Mrs. C. W. Apsey and Miss Helen Sanborn. Mr. Harold Ogden and Mr. Leon Tuck received with the ladies. About fifty couples were in attendance including many from Somerville, Allston and Lawrence.

Mr. Raymond Strawbridge was chairman of the committee in charge.

GILMOUR-BARNES

The wedding of Miss Charlotte Barnes, principal of the Washington School and president of the Winchester Teachers' Club, to Mr. Arthur Emerson Gilmour of 11 Manchester road, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Gilmour, took place before a large audience on Saturday evening at the First Baptist Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Clifford H. Walcott, pastor of the church, at eight o'clock.

Miss Elsa Ashley Field of Wollaston was maid of honor and Mr. William Wesley Gilmour, brother of the groom, was best man. The attendants included Miss Marjorie Hammond Davenport of West Medford, Miss Elsie Brown of Melrose, Miss Virginia Myrick of Wollsey and Mrs. Ethel Marsh Parsons of this town.

The ushers were Mr. Walter Gardiner of Andover, Mr. Chester Edward Ames of Winthrop, Mr. Kenneth Mason Childs of Needham and Mr. Frank Wesley McLean, Messrs. Ames and Childs were classmates of the groom at Technological.

The bride wore a wedding dress of duchess satin, hand embroidered and trimmed with lace. She carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore yellow crepe de chine and carried yellow roses, while the other attendants were all in organdie of pale tints of rose, blue, yellow, lavender and green. They carried old fashioned nosegays of summer flowers.

A reception followed the ceremony from eight-thirty to ten, the couple being assisted in receiving by Mrs. Charles Allison Barnes, mother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Gilmour. Decorations of palms and pink roses were used almost exclusively, giving the floral setting a particularly pleasing tone in pink and green. The guests attending included many friends and relatives of the couple from nearby towns and cities, including also the members of the teaching force of the public schools.

Mr. Gilmour, who is connected with the Carpenter-Morton Company of Boston, is a graduate of M. I. T. and an overseas veteran, having served with the 77th Div. 304th Artillery. They will make their home in Winchester.

It is reported that another clothes line thief has appeared in town. During the week over $100 worth of personal clothing and house linen is said to have been taken from a reel in the yard of Mr. Herbert A. Wadleigh, 9 Sheffield road. The articles included table linen and 19 pairs of silk stockings. It is thought the thief left on a bicycle, a wheel having also been stolen.

WADLEIGH GRADUATION

Graduation exercises of the Wadleigh Grammar School were held in the Town Hall last Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. This is the first year the school has had an afternoon program for its graduation, previous graduation exercises having been held in the evening. Notwithstanding the innovation, and the very hot afternoon, there was the usual record attendance, the hall being filled nearly to capacity.

The program occupied a little over two hours, including singing by the scholars, prayer drill, led by John Clifton, an address by Rev. E. H. Walcott, and an address by Rev. E. H. Walcott on "The Fractional Life." The girls in the graduating class were dressed alike in white with gold ties, and presented a very attractive picture grouped on the stage.

The program occupied a little over an hour, following which the graduates and the audience marched to the Wadleigh School grounds next door, where the pupils gave a physical culture drill, led by John Clifton. At the close of the exhibition the graduates marched by the reviewing stand and were presented with their certificates by Mr. Stillman P. Williams of the School Committee, he being assisted by Principal Raymond E. Pinkham and Principal Mercey J. Davis.

The school was thrown open to the public and in the various rooms was displayed an attractive arrangement of work done in the various departments through the year, many visitors inspecting the displays.

The list of graduates was printed in last week's Star.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

A face that does not smile is very seldom worth while.

The man who says "I know what I want" is generally well posted on his wants, but should be advised on his needs.

If a man really wants to feel for the poor he should feel in his pocket.

How many boys have said that they would do as they liked when they became twenty-one and then got married.

Two very hard things to understand another man's success and our own failure.

Having had a nice rain.

With the gardens well watered and in fine condition.

Let us now have fair weather and not over-do a good thing.

TO MOTORISTS

Help to keep the Roadside Beautiful!

You love the beauty of our New England roadways as you motor through them. Help to keep them beautiful. You know what flowers to pick along the road, and which are the precious and rare varieties. But picking tends to exterminate. Help teach others what you know, so that as the years go by, our highways may become more beautiful for the increasing crowds of travelers who use them, instead of less so. For our roadways are in a real danger now from automobilists who love our native plants, but who do not understand their habits, and whose gathering of them is wiping them off the face of the earth.

There is mountain laurel, for instance, whose glossy green tops will soon be putting forth their marvelous, coral-pink clusters of flowers under the half-shade of the pines. This shrub is a plant all our own. It does not grow in other countries, except where it is imported and carefully cherished in gardens. Yet we are exterminating our laurel. Every year truck-loads of it are used for the making of festoons to decorate ballrooms and churches. Each festoon means that a year's growth and with it hundreds of clusters of the wonderful, pink flowers are destroyed, and our woods are being gradually denuded of one of their most precious features. Automobilists, who love our New England countryside, should look out for people tearing down the laurel bushes, and try to save them. Laurel should be cut with a knife, and cut sparingly. A few sprays are more beautiful than a great many, and a few spared now means a great many in the future instead of none at all.

Then, there are our roadside flowers, which we all love to look at as we pass them. There are many of these that may be picked without endangering the supply. There are our daisies which are cultivated in gardens in Europe, and all the nodding grasses that grow with them. We may pick these to our heart's content, also wild roses, meadow-sweet, irises, asters, golden rod, and eupatorium, as they are so plentiful that enough will surely be left to go to seed.

We sometimes see marsh-marigolds, violets and peck columbines growing in such profusion that we think of them as beyond danger of extermination, but they are not, and if we hope for the permanence of their lovely growth we should pick them sparingly. But the delicate swamp orchids we should guard carefully. Picking these pulls up the root, and helps to exterminate a plant which is already rare. Carry a book along with you, if you do not know these plants, and you will find the making of their acquaintance a delightful pastime. You will learn hundreds of treasures of our woods and hills which you can help to propagate rather than to destroy. There is our native orchid, the pink lady-slipper, which nods at the end of its slender stem, coming up from between two big leaves near the ground. Orchids should always be arranged alone, or two or three together. Cut one, now and then, leaving its roots intact. But leave the others to grow, for they are among our rarest treasures. We should not cut our ferns, our jack-in-the-pulpit, our arbutus, our crowfoot violet, our bunch berries, our ferns. They all

A business man told me last week that a man he had known for years as a successful merchant, came into his office that day and said that less than one year ago he was actually worth over four hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

By shrinkage in values he had lost it all.

He had rented a very inexpensive place in a nearby city for a home, and was going to try and begin over again.

If that man has carried a proper amount of life insurance it's paid up value operative in event of non-payment of future premiums will be "a shelter in a time of storm" for his family and himself.

need protection. They wither quickly when picked, and the picking of them is making these delicate and beautiful plants more and more rare, until in time we shall not be able to find them at all. Even the Mayflower, New England's sweetest of flowers, is rapidly being exterminated from over-picking. All these flowers we can help to cherish and preserve. This appeal is sent to you because we feel that the automobilists have not only an intimate interest in our roadways, but that they may have great influence in guarding them. You already know and appreciate their beauty. In your wanderings along our roads, you can carry a knife with which to cut flowers instead of breaking them, you can learn what kinds to cut and what kinds should be left to multiply, and you can help others to do so. You can avoid buying rare flowers offered for sale by children along the roadways and by flirts in towns, and thus discourage the wholesale destruction of our plants through their commercial value.

Our countryside used to be the possession of the few people living in the locality. Today, since the advent of the automobile, they have become the possession of all of us. The preservation of the natural beauties of our land becomes the interest of all the thousands of people who look forward to enjoying them in the future, or who want their children to find their country as beautiful as they have found it. Help, as you go along our highways, to teach people to make them more and more beautiful.

The affair was under the direction of chairman Wilfred Perry, with Miss Florence Jewett, secretary and Miss Betty Smith, treasurer. Harry J. Pickering had charge of the transportation and the committee on sports included John Mead, chairman; J. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Parker, Miss Brooks, C. P. Downer, Miss Blanche Gillis, Mr. Paul Anderson, George Morrow, Miss Starks, John Gutierrez and J. H. Hammond for Waltham. President Arthur T. Downer, Mr. John G. Perry and Mr. W. T. Soule were the judges of the sports.

WOMEN MAKE LAST DRIVE ON CONGRESS FOR "BABY BILL"

The announcement that the Shepard-Towner Bill will be taken up by the Senate, July 12, of great interest to the country. No measure has had such universal endorsement as this. Women are aroused and through their organizations, have petitioned Congress asking for speedy enactment.

In 1919, about 12,000 mothers and 100,000 babies have died from preventable causes. Women voters believe that 100,000 babies are worth a million and a half dollars, the yearly appropriation asked, and petition Congress to pass this bill. The organization joining in this urgent request are the American Association of University Women, American Home Economics Association, General Federation of Women's Club, Friendly Society of America, National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association, National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' Association, National Consumers League, National Federation of Business and Professional Women, National League of Women Voters, National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution, National Women's Christian Temperance Union, National Women's Trade Union League, the Council of Jewish women, the National Catholic Council.

Marriage intentions have been filed with the Town Clerk by Andrew T. Anderson of 384 Washington street and Miss Helen Isabel McCarthy of 9 Eaton street.

JUNE, 1921, MILK CHART

Published by the WINCHESTER BOARD OF HEALTH

The bacteria count in this chart gives the number of bacteria found in one c. e. taken from the center of the sample after it had been well shaken. It should be remembered that another c. e. taken from the same sample might give a somewhat different count, but the difference would rarely, if ever, exceed ten per cent.

The above names are arranged alphabetically, not in order of quality of milk. Certain brands are not listed in this chart because they have been analyzed by competent authorities or are sold in Winchester in negligible quantities.

METHODIST NOTES

The Ladies' Aid Society, to the number of thirty-five enjoyed a pleasant outing, June 23, at Juniper Point, Salem, Mass., as the guests of Mrs. Karen E. Ray. Five automobiles were loaned and driven by Rev. A. B. Gifford, Dr. A. L. Brown, Mr. Percy Johnson, Mrs. Annie Stearns and Miss W. Bent. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Ray and a very happy day was spent by all.

Woodchuck Hard to Capture. Many woodchucks are caught in steel traps, but the animal often escapes by gnawing off its own leg as near the jaws of the trap as possible, says the American Forestry Magazine. Sometimes a woodchuck will pull the trap down a burrow as far as he can do so, and seal himself in! It then becomes quite a task to unearth him and pull him out, for he hangs on like an armadillo.

Similarity. "Sometimes you see a man," said Senator Sorghum, "who behaves toward his country the same as he does toward his wife. The more he knows he loves her, the worse he seems willing to treat her."

PETTS-BRECK

On Wednesday, June 29, in the Union Church in Waban, Miss Agnes Breck of 47 Englewood avenue, Brookline, was married to Mr. Sanford Ferdinand Petts of Winchester. The ceremony was performed by the minister of the church, Rev. Dr. Charles Herrick Cutler.

Miss Breck attended the Misses Allen School at West Newton for four years and afterwards graduated from Miss Sackler's School of Design.

Mr. Petts was graduated from Harvard with the class of 1912.

Mrs. Harvey L. Kline, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, the bride's other attendant was Miss Helen Alice Whittaker, as maid of honor. The best man was Guy M. Kinsley of Cambridge and the ushers included Joseph Breck, Harvard 1907, brother of the bride, and assistant director of the Metropolitan Museum, New York; Everett B. Horn of Waban, Harvard 1901; John W. Webster of Newton, Harvard 1908; Maurice S. Ricker of Brookline, Brown 1911; George H. Mellon, Jr., of Newton Highlands and Roland D. Stearns of Chestnut Hill.

The bride was given away by her father. She was gown in ivory white canton crepe and georgette, and wore the conventional veil of tulle, held in place with a bandeau of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower of bride's roses and sweet peas.

The church was beautifully decorated, and Miss Sylvia Meadows, the church organist, played the processional and recessional marches. A small reception was held at the home of the bride after the ceremony.

Mr. Petts and his bride will be at home to their friends after September 1st, at Myopia road, Winchester.

OPEN TOURNAMENT AT COUNTRY CLUB

The Winchester Country Club announced this week an open tournament to be held July 13, 14 and 15, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The play will be 18 holes, medal play, with the qualifying round on July 13, six strokes to qualify for match play. On July 14 the first and second rounds in all divisions will be played, and on July 15 the semi-final and final rounds.

On the last named day a four ball best ball, one-quarter added handicap will also be played, with gross and net prizes. The medal play will carry prizes for the qualifying round, gross and two nets; also for the winners and runners-up at match play.

The qualifying round prizes are subject to the M. G. A. rule that such winners must continue at match play. The first division will play from scratch, other divisions on the M. G. A. basis of holes up. All matches are to start not later than 10:30 a. m. and 3 p. m. or forfeit to player who is ready, or both forfeit if neither player is ready. Participants may start up to 1 o'clock in qualifying round and Friday four ball best ball round.

The course is open for practice on Tuesday, July 12th, to those entering on that day.

BUILDING PERMITS

The following permits have been issued by the Inspector of Buildings for the week ending June 30:

Amendments to Building Laws
Town of Winchester, Mass.
ADOPTED AT TOWN MEETING ON MARCH 31, 1921

Voted: That the Building Laws of the Town of Winchester being the By-Laws relating to Building, Plumbing, Wiring and Gas Fitting be amended as follows:

By striking out the fractions "1/2" in lines 18 and 20 of page 67; by substituting the figure "2" for the figure "1" in line 26 of page 67; and by striking out the phrase in lines 37 to 39 of page 67, beginning with the words "unless such masonry be at least" and ending with the words "shall be not less than 2 inches."

By striking out the sentence in lines 6 to 8 of section 204 beginning with the words "All ceilings immediately over" and by substituting therefor the following, "All ceilings not made of incombustible material shall be covered with plaster or incombustible material above the door of any furnace or boiler over an area of at least 4 square yards; if the top of a furnace comes within 18 inches of such ceiling, it shall be covered with metal lath and plaster or other incombustible material over an additional area extending 2 feet on each side of the furnace."

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of amendments to Building Laws, being By-Laws and Regulations Relating to Building, Plumbing, Wiring and Gas-Fitting, adopted by the Town of Winchester, Mass., on March 31, 1921 and approved by the Attorney-General of Massachusetts on May 3, 1921.

WHERE THE REVOLUTION WAS WON

The historic battlefield of Yorktown, Va., where the British general, Cornwallis, surrendered, and where for all practical purposes the American Revolution was brought to a victorious conclusion, may soon be made into a shrine to share popularity with Bunker Hill, Valley Forge and Mt. Vernon.

The little village and its surroundings form the subject of the following bulletin issued from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic Society:

Though Yorktown was not a thriving community nor a place noted for its accessibility during the Revolutionary days, it was relatively much more important and much less remote from the daily life of the country than it has been at any time since. Most other American towns were small in those days, ports were few, and railroads were unthought of. As cities have sprung up where there were only hamlets or patches of wilderness before, and as railroads have brought even the two oceans relatively closer together, Yorktown, at a point where the commerce has been developed, and without rail connections, has become in effect more and more remote, and its character as a sleepy village has become more and more emphasized.

Site of Famous Surrender a Tiny Village

The Yorktown of today is a community of less than 200 inhabitants, with a few fine old colonial homes and a number of less pretentious dwellings. The nearest railroad lies eight miles to the south. In the town is a monument erected in 1881 on the one hundredth anniversary of the surrender of the British. As a reminder of the early importance of Yorktown, there still exists the first customs house in the United States. Near the village are remains of the forts and redoubts whose capture by the Revolutionary soldiers and their French allies marked the real birth of the United States. The scene of Cornwallis' surrender, which was by proxy through his general, O'Hara, is believed to be in the open country just south of the village.

Yorktown is on a narrow peninsula lying between the wide estuaries of the James and York rivers, and is where the latter meets Chesapeake Bay. Cornwallis, after scouring Virginia, burning homes, killing and driving off stock, and capturing large numbers of slaves, retired down the peninsula to Yorktown. Lafayette, with a handful of American soldiers followed at a distance. It was when this situation was pointed out to Washington that he was persuaded to abandon his plan to attack New York and instead to take his own forces from West Point and Rochambeau's division from Providence, R. I., to stake all on a battle in the south. The arrival of De Grasse with a French fleet in the Chesapeake, blocking the entrance to that bay and preventing reinforcements reaching Cornwallis, made the defeat of the latter inevitable.

Wonderful Harbor Used in World War

It is not strange that Cornwallis considered Yorktown a good location for military headquarters in spite of the ease with which the peninsula might be blocked. It possesses a truly remarkable deep water harbor, and Cornwallis counted on the maintenance of communication by water with the heavy British forces in New York.

Yorktown's harbor was put to good use during the World War and so far the second time played an important part in the country's martial history. In the month of the York river opposite the famous village the greater part of the Atlantic Fleet at times rode at anchor. There, behind the defenses at the entrance to the Chesapeake, and further protected by nets and patrols across the mouth of the York, dreadnaughts and lesser vessels were safe from molestation by enemy submarines. Thousands of men were intensively trained for naval duty at this anchorage while the whereabouts of the fleet was kept a profound secret. The Yorktown anchorage was allied to in official communications throughout the war only as Base 2.

JAMES F. CUMMINGS

James F. Cummings, 56 years of age, died Friday at his home at 15 Grove place, where he had resided for the past 20 odd years. He was an electrician and signal man on the Boston & Maine Railroad for over 34 years. Funeral services were held at St. Mary's Church on Monday morning with requiem high mass. The interment was at Calvary Cemetery.

When James Doucette of Elmwood avenue was turning into that street from the Church street end Saturday evening the steering gear on his auto broke, it colliding with a telegraph pole before he could stop it. He escaped without being injured, but the front of the auto was somewhat damaged.

PROBATE AND OTHER COURT NEWS

The estate of Maria Murdoch is inventoried at $79,957.35; $48,837.65 in personal property and $11,500 in real estate.

The will of Mrs. Emma F. Swan who died June 4th has been filed. It is dated March 25 and names Fred Joy of Winchester as executor. She leaves to William Parkman Lodge of Masons of Winchester, $1000, to be known as the John H. Winchester Fund in memory of her brother, John H. Winchester, a former master of the lodge. She also leaves $200 each to the Hens for Aged People and the Winchester Visiting Nurse Association.

RECLAIMING THE CAMPANA

Reclamation projects are under way for making the famous Roman Campagna what it was before the fall of the Roman Empire, that is, a fertile Italy a region which once was dotted with busy villages and luxuriant fruit trees, newspaper dispatches state.

This now dreary plain, of which only one fifth has for hundreds of generations been tilled by the plowshare, is the burial place of scores of European cities. It is desolate and foreboding and has for centuries given to Rome a splendid isolation and filled the sleep of the sunnier transfer to the city with unending haunted dreams, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Aqueduct Ruins Witness Past Glory The Campagna di Roma, that district of Italy which so nearly corresponds to ancient Latium, lies along the west coast of the country from Civitavecchia to Astura and the Pontine Marshes as far inland as the Alban and Sabine Hills, where Horace wished for a little farm that he might enjoy the "golden mean" of life. Rome lies near its center. In Horace's day it was cultivated and dotted with towns and villas. Today the ruins of aqueducts, once a mark for the Campagna's pride, solemnly speak of its past grandeur.

It is almost improper to speak of the region as a plain. It is rather a volcanic sea extending on both sides of the Tiber. Once the Mediterranean probably pushed far up the valley and most of the area resembled an archipelago. Then evidently there was a great volcanic upheaval, the earth rose to the east, the sea was pushed back, the streams from the Alban mountains found no outlet, and the marshy stagnant waters have swallowed cities, leaving no trace of them merely their memories and their names. Tufa and ashes partially filled up the water, creating a marsh, which became the home of the elephant and the stag.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Taylor of Williamette, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ruth Beatrice Taylor, to Dr. Louis Lenzie Hills of Westbrook, Me. ## GARDEN NEWS STORY

Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture and Home Economics SUBJECT—Preparation of the Garden

SUBJECT—SUCCESSION OF CROPS

The returns from the crops following peas, strawberries or any early crop that has been removed, will depend to quite an extent on the care used in transplanting or sowing this second crop.

Although there are many vegetables that will develop if planted or transplanted at this time, the more common ones that will appeal to the average gardener include late cabbage and cauliflower, celery, snap beans and turnips. In transplanting any of the plants mentioned the main thing to take into consideration is to keep the roots of the plant from exposure to wind and sun. Also, see to it that the place where plants are to be put in has been well moistened. If one has to carry water in a pail, it is much better to put a small amount in each hole where the cabbage or cauliflower is to be put rather than attempt to cover the entire surface. This should be allowed to thoroughly soak in before the plant is actually put in place.

Holes should be deep and watered, ready to receive the plants before they are taken from the original row. There is no need of putting more water on the surface of the ground. It will do more good around the roots.

If turnip seed is to be sown, a light trench should be made and this thoroughly wet down the same as for receiving the transplants. Seeds should be sown directly into this moist earth and then covered with dry earth. If beans are planted two inches below the surface of the ground, moist soil contains sufficient moisture to grow them.

SUBJECT—Tomatoes for the Garden

It is fairly safe to set tomato plants this week. They can be protected from any light frosts that are likely to occur by covering them with papers, but when by stone or straw they will not blow away. Gardeners should watch the thermometer and play safe by covering the plants if the temperature goes below 40°.

Ninety percent of the plants sold at retail by stores are Dwarf Stone. They are very attractive as young plants because of very early sturdy growth, but they are poor yielders and it is much better for backyard gardeners to buy Best of Chalks, Early Jewel or Matchless, all of which are well known standard varieties that yield large quantities of sturdy fruit.

The first enemy that attacks the young tomato plant is the cut worm. If the stalk is wound loosely with heavy paper and then set so that the paper extends an inch below the surface of the ground and two inches above, cut worms will come in contact with the paper and leave the plant alone. When cut worms appear in large numbers it is wisest to make what is called a poison bait. It is made by mixing two quarts of dry bran and one ounce of white arsenic or Paris green with two quarts of molasses. After the mush has stood several hours it should be scattered in lumps the size of marbles over the garden near the plants that are being injured. This mush should be applied late in the day so that it will remain moist in the night when the cut worms come to the surface to do their feeding. It is often necessary to make a second and third application of the poison because it is not good after it becomes dry.

Flea beetles frequently attack young plants and do considerable damage. Dipping them in lead arsenate solution before setting will protect them at the start and if they are damaged as they grow larger, spraying with Bordeaux Mixture will act as a deterrent.

The large green tomato worms which sometimes appear later in the season and eat the foliage can easily be seen and as they never appear in great numbers, can be picked from the vines and destroyed.

The Edward T. Harrington Co., has announced the sale of the large 10 room house, garage and 7613 sq. ft. of land at 29 Crescent road, owned by Nina M. Hayward, to Mr. Alfred M. Bond, who buys for a home. The Harrington Company also announces the sale of 16,895 sq. ft. of land on the northerly side of Chesterford road to A. W. Laurie. The sale was made for Charles Bruce.

JULY 4th QUIET

No Accidents or Incidents Mar Day's Celebration

July 4th passed in Winchester with a model record for quietness. Possibly the intense heat, the day being one of the hottest of the season, had something to do with conditions, but not even an alarm of fire broke the stillness which prevailed until evening, when the noise of the fireworks on Manchester Field echoed through the valley. Not a single accident was reported other than a minor automobile accident which occurred at 8 a. m. on Church street when a Ford runabout owned and driven by Ernest Forsaith of Upland road, Arlington, hit a tree near Wedgemere avenue. The runabout was somewhat damaged, but Forsaith was not injured. He was taken to his home by the police. What caused the accident is not explained.

The bells of the Town Hall and the churches were rung at sunrise, noon and sunset. Band concerts were given on Manchester Field during the afternoon and evening, and the usual entertainment was held in the Town Hall during the forenoon for the children, and a horse ball game played on Manchester Field in the afternoon.

About 900 children attended the entertainment in the forenoon, the crowd being the largest for several years. A program of magic, music, story telling, etc., was given, with Herbert Springer as the magician and Herbert Clark as monologist, artist and novelty musician. Miss Mary French was at the piano. This feature of the celebration was in charge of Sleetman George E. Willey, and an interesting program was rendered. The children were given gaily decorated caps and red, white and blue shakers, and at the close of the program tickets for ice cream were distributed.

Owing to the break-down of the truck conveying the Charlestown Bennetts, the base ball game did not start until a half hour after scheduled time, but it was a good game and very interesting, the Bennetts defeating the Town Team 2 to 1. This was the second victory for the visitors, they having previously won from the local nine. It is credited with being one of the best games ever played here and was largely a pitcher's battle between Davidson and Downing. Davidson allowed two hits and Downing one, which tells the story. The Bennetts scored their two runs in the first inning, never being really dangerous thereafter. Winchester got one man across in the third, but could not repeat the performance. The score was as follows:

MARCH PLAYED BY BOSTON SYMPHONY

At the "Pop" concert on the evening of July 4th the Boston Symphony Orchestra played "Victory March" a piece composed and scored for full orchestra by J. Albert Wilson. Mr. Wilson who is the organist at the Church of the Epiphany, composed this march at the close of the war at which time it was played by some of the army bands.

Mr. and Mrs. John N. Mason of Mt. Pleasant street, have a grandson, John Mansfield, born July 5. The young man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mansfield Mason of Karachi, India.

REGATTA AT MYSTIC LAKE

The Winchester and Medford Boat Clubs combined on the 4th to hold a regatta on Mystic Lake, the event being attended by a large turnout from both organizations. The races and water sports were held at the Medford end of the lake. During the morning a sailing canoe race was scheduled, but owing to the lack of wind it was called off, although there was a good list of starters who succeeded in completing the first round of the triangular course. The afternoon events were run off on a point basis, the entrant taking the largest number of points in the various events winning a fine silver cup, with another cut for second. The Medford Club had the most entries and took most of the points, although several Winchester boys showed up strong.

Arnold Carey of Medford won the first prize and Capt. Arthur V. Donnellan the second, both being Medford Boat Club men. Carey totalled up 21 points and Donnellan 19. Reginald Kibbe took third prize with nine points, and Walster Harlow took fourth with eight.

There were nine entries in the quarter-mile single blade event, which was won by Donnellan, with Carey a close second. These two won the tandem hand paddle race handily, the course being 200 yards off the float. Kibbe and Beach of Winchester were second in this race, about two lengths behind. Third place was taken by Harlow and Munroe of Medford.

Carey was first in the tail-end race, with Donnellan second and Vaughan third. All three were Medford Club entries. In the tandem gunwale race Kibbe and Hovey of Winchester won handily, walking right away from Carey and Donnellan, who took second. Scofield and Tleson of Medford were third.

Vaughan of Medford won the hurry-scurry race handily, swimming the 40 yards by his canoe and pulling it in by his hands. He was followed in order by Donnellan and Kibbe.

The tip-over event included paddling about 50 yards, tipping the canoe over and paddling it over the finish line. Harlow of Medford proved his skill in this event, taking it over water between his nearest competitor, Arnold Carey. Tleson looked like second for a time, but Carey got over the line ahead of him. In the evening there was a large dance at the Winchester Club, the Medford members being guests. The club house and grounds were decorated with colored lights and flags and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

CASSIDY CAPTURES THIEF

Officer William E. Cassidy made an important capture this morning when he took into custody George T. Butler, colored, 24 years old, of 157 Hanover street, Boston. Butler had robbed the store at James F. Kenney's gasoline filling station on Cambridge street of a quantity of cigarettes, cigars, candy and gum.

Officer Cassidy did not know of the break. About 3.40 a. m. he noticed the man walking through the square and accosted him. Not being satisfied with his looks and the bag and bundle he carried Officer Cassidy took him to the station where the goods were discovered upon opening up his packages and he admitted the theft.

Entrance was made by filing the wire screening over a window, which was pried open with a jimmy.

This is the second arrest made by the local police for entering this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Abrahamson of 21 Sheffield road are the parents of a son.

THREE AUTO ACCIDENTS

On the evening of July 3d, about 6.40 o'clock, two Studebaker cars were in a collision at the corner of Grove and Bacon streets. One car was driven by Mrs. Minerva C. Matthews of Somerville, Mrs. Fred Dodson of Somerville riding with her. The other car was owned and driven by Mr. Charles B. Vaughan of West Medford. Both autos were badly damaged and Mrs. Dodson received a ball cut on her lip. The parties were able to go to their homes.

On the morning of the 4th Ernest Forsaith of Arlington, while driving a Ford runabout on Church street collided with a tree at the corner of Wedgemere avenue and wrecked his car. The accident was unexplained and the driver was taken to his home by Sergt. McCauley in the police auto.

Wednesday morning at about eight o'clock, G. W. Rickard of Wakefield, while driving a Franklin touring car on Main street towards Medford ran into a pole at the corner of Mystic avenue, wrecking his car. He received bad cuts about the mouth and face, requiring several stitches. He was at a loss to account for the accident. The large pole was moved several inches by the impact.

COUNTRY CLUB EVENTS

Rainy weather brought the 36 hole medal play at the Country Club down to a smaller number field than usual, the first round being scheduled for Saturday and the second of the 4th. The first 18 hole match play was won by L. W. Barta, who took both the low net and gross with 82-70. The second 18, played on Monday, went to E. C. Smith with a net of 64, A. M. Bond taking best gross with 81. H. A. Peterson won the 36 hole play with a net of 145, his gross being 180. P. B. Elkins was second with a net of 149 and R. L. Smith turned in the best gross with 170. B. K. Stephenson being second with 173. The afternoon play on the 4th was a mixed foursome, selected drive, Mrs. F. A. Wyman and C. P. Whorf taking both net and gross 77 and 93. Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bond were second and Mrs. E. A. Bradlee and D. M. Delehar third.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

July 3, 1921.

The Board met at 7.30 P. M., all present.

The records of the meeting of June 27 were read and approved.

Fire Dept. (Report): The report of the Chief of the Fire Department for the month of June was received and ordered filed.

Memoirs: A letter was received from Henry Cabot Lodge U. S. Senator from Massachusetts in reply to the Board's letter of June 22, 1921 relative to obtaining a captured German cannon. In his letter the Senator states that until the general bill authorizing the War Department to make the distribution of captured German cannon, which has already passed the Senate, and is now before the House, is passed, nothing can be done. If this bill is passed, the distribution will be made by the War Department thereby obviating the need of special legislation in individual cases. Mr. Lodge will be glad to assist Winchester in this matter if the bill is passed.

Dog Officer's Dept. (Warrant): The Chairman signed the Dog Warrant which orders William R. McIntosh as Constable of the Town of Winchester to kill or cause to be killed all dogs within the Town, which are not licensed or collared.

Town Hall Building (Roof): The Board voted to authorize the Town Hall Committee to get bids of cost of putting the roof of the Town Hall Building in proper condition.

Street Widening and Alterations (Fletcher, St.): The Clerk stated that he had sent a copy of the notice of "taking" in regard to the proposed alteration of Fletcher street, to William H. Maynard at 79 Church street, Winchester, Mass., by registered mail, June 23, 1921. Notice and statement of clerk certifying that copy of notice has been sent were ordered filed. A letter was received from the Town Council stating that he has filed the "taking" and the plan for this proposed alteration of Fletcher street, in the Registry of Deeds.

Traffic Rules: The matter relating to Mr. Brown's request for a modification of the traffic rules in the center of the Town in front of his building at the corner of Main and Mt. Vernon streets, was laid over another week.

Highway Dept. Equipment: A report was received from the Supt. of Streets that he had received prices on draft-horses from several dealers and that he would arrange to visit Coleman Brothers and J. C. Keith Company in regard to this matter. The Board took no action awaiting further report from the Superintendent of Streets.

The meeting adjourned at 10.05 P. M.

Geo. S. F. Bartlett,

Clerk of Selectmen.

OPEN TOURNAMENT NEXT WEEK

The regular open tournament of the Winchester Country Club starts next week Wednesday, July 14th. Already there has been received a large list of entries, and Harry Bowler of the local club looks for the largest field this year. The club has ever seen. The play opens Wednesday with a qualifying round of 18 holes, four sixteens to qualify for play first, second and third rounds in all divisions will be played Thursday, with the semifinals and finals Friday. The last day will also see a four ball best ball, one-quarter added handicap match with gross and net prizes. Prizes will also be awarded for the qualifying round, gross and two nets, and also for the winners and runners-up at match play.

The first division will play from scratch and the other divisions on the M. G. A. basis of holes up. All matches start not later than 10.30 a. m. and 3 p. m. or the match will be forfeited to the player ready. Players are to be allowed to start up to 1 o'clock in the qualifying round and in Friday's four ball best ball round.

BASE BALL

Saturday the Town Team will be opposed by the strong Standish Club of Dorchester. This team is one of the fastest teams in the state. Kroeg, the former New Hampshire State College pitcher, is in the box for them and is considered one of the best around these parts. He has won all his games, this season but two, losing to the strong Chelsea K. of C. team 2 to 1 and Woonsocket 1 to 0.

Among the approaching weddings is that of Mr. Norcross Teel, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Teel of Medford, and Miss Charlotte Fish Ramsey. The couple plan to reside at 51 Yale street.

Wise Uncle Jasper.
Speaking of women and logic, a Chicago Tribune correspondent is reminded of a remark of his Uncle Jasper after a verbal barrage with Aunt Hepzibah, finished with retreat. Uncle observed: "There is only one person in the world, son, who is a bigger dam fool than a woman, and that is the man who tries to argue with her."

Dream Lore.
To dream you are at the equator signifies an abundance of the necessities of life. To farmers it is a good omen, as it promises good weather and fine crops. To merchants it foretells a decrease in business. To cross the equator in a ship, either if the ship is North bound; poverty if South bound. To see a line where the equator is denotes good business qualifications, success in commercial life.

GARDEN NEWS STORY

Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture
and
Home Economics
SUBJECT—Preparation of the Garden

PLANTING POTATOES

The success of the potato crop depends very largely upon two important things that must be done at this season of the year. The first of these is the selection and preparation of the seed bed. When it is possible to make a selection and plant often this can be done over, in a very limited area, it is well to select the deep and well drained soil for the potato patch. It is important that this should not be shaded or located on a gravelly knoll that will later dry out. A very thorough preparation of the soil at this time of the year, will save much labor later in the season. It will also give the young plants a much better opportunity to get well established.

The second requisite which should not be neglected is the selection and treatment of the seed. Where one is compelled to go to the local store to get the seed stock, about the only thing that can be done is to see to it that it is vigorous and of the right variety. The vigor can be determined by the size of the sprouts as they now show. It is very unwise to plant potatoes with small, puny sprouts. These should be used for eating purposes and only the ones showing large vigorous sprouts used for planting. The shape is also an indicator of vigor. Select those with a blunt seed end. Discard the ones that are pointed at either end and especially the seed end or the ones that have become elongated.

In order to destroy the fungi which cause scab and rhizoctonia, the seed should be treated with a solution of corrosive sublimate. This is made by dissolving one ounce of the poison in one gallon of hot water then adding six gallons of cold water. Soak the seed two hours in this solution. A formalin solution will destroy scab but will not affect rhizoctonia.

As to the variety for the average small garden, Irish Cobbler are probably one of the best potatoes to plant. If these are planted in the near future, they will mature before the fall rains occur and thus escape blight. Green Mountain is another good variety. This is an excellent winter potato. It requires a little longer season than the Cobbler. If one is growing this variety the vines should be sprayed several times during the season with Bordeaux or some similar preparation. No amount of extra labor put upon the potato crop later in the season will offset these two very important essentials in growing a good crop of high grade potatoes.

At The "B. R. Z."

Margaret, a obligate to spend a night with her mother at the Y. W. C. A., awoke to find upon a drink. Mother was compelled for lack of a glass and fountain to make a drinking cup of her hands. Margaret, very much impressed, frequently repeated the incident and several months later astonished us by asking: "Mother, why don't you ever let me drink out of your hands like you did that night at the B. Boxes of Green Lumber Weaken.
Packing boxes made of properly seasoned lumber are found to resist rough handling six to ten times as well as those made of green lumber. The reason as demonstrated by the forest products laboratory, is that the fibres of the moist wood shrink away from the nails as the stock dries, and so lose their grip.

FORM LARGEST WAR SAVINGS SOCIETY IN UNITED STATES

Postmaster Baker, Assistant Postmaster Hurley and 1476 Carriers and Clerks Sign Application and Receive Charter From Savings Division in Boston

To the Director of War Savings.

Room 522, Federal Building, Boston, Mass.

We, the undersigned, desire to save a portion of our earnings regularly and to take advantage of the National Thrift Movement.

We hereby apply for a charter as "The Boston Postal Savings Society."

We agree to invest promptly in Government Thrift and Savings

Stamps and whenever possible to purchase them from our secretary.

ROLAND M. BAKER
Postmaster

To the above application, as received this week by P. C. Ayres, Government director of the Savings Division, First Federal Reserve District, there were affixed the names of Postmaster Roland M. Baker, Assistant Postmaster W. E. Hurley and 1476 employees of the Boston Postal District. The charter, which was promptly granted, represents the largest single War Savings Society in the entire United States.

When the task of organizing the society was undertaken by Miss Margaret W. Stoddard, one of the field secretaries of the Savings Division, some weeks ago, it was feared that it would prove very difficult. Miss Stoddard went about the work systematically and energetically—and accomplished what she set out to do, surmounting all difficulties, one after another. Postmaster Baker and the different departments under him cooperated splendidly. The Carriers' Association, through its president, John S. Foley, was one of the most helpful agencies. The sub-stations fell in line with surprising speed. The main office was handled by means of mass meetings, after which the canvases for signatures. The canvases was made under supervision of the superintendents.

Following a report covering the result of this organization, the following letter was dictated by Roland M. Baker, Boston, Postmaster:

"Mr. P. C. Ayres, Director
Savings Division,
262 Federal Building,
Boston, Mass."Dear Mr. Ayres:—
I wish to congratulate you on the success of the Savings organization which has been formed among the employees of the Metropolitan Boston Postal District.

This work, which has my unqualified approval, and I consider it an honor to head the list in this Savings Society.

I sincerely feel a great deal of pride in the achievement, and I hope the many other postmasters will follow the example set by Boston.

With best wishes for your continued success, I am Yours very truly,
(Signed) ROLAND M. BAKER,
Postmaster.

The formation of this splendid society has been far-reaching in its effect, for already the post offices in the largest cities in each State in the district have begun to follow suit and have undertaken the formation of Savings Societies within their respective organizations. Among the cities where this work is in progress are: Dover, N. H. (where they have a 100% society), Portsmouth, N. H., Concord, N. H., Manchester, N. H., Lowell, Mass., and Providence, R. I. Reports of sales which are beginning to come in to headquarters from these new societies prove conclusively that the employees of the Post Office Department really believe in the securities which they sell as a safe and worth-while means of investment, for there can be no better evidence of their faith than the fact that they are themselves, putting their savings into them.

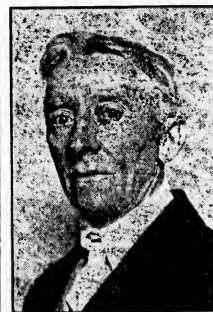

The reports from the Boston Postal Society already show sales amounting to upwards of $1200. Owing to the fact that the work of organizing many of the sub-stations is of so recent a date that they have had no opportunity to report, these figures are most encouraging.

State Association, In Meeting at Lowell on Sunday, Adopt Resolved Endorsing Government Securities and Systematic Saving.

Members of the Massachusetts Letter Carriers' Association, at their meeting in Lowell on Sunday, adopted the following endorsement of the Government Thrift Movement:

Resolved—That the Massachusetts Letter Carriers' Association, in convention at Lowell, Mass., June 12, realizing the safety and soundness of the Savings Securities issued by the United States Treasury Department.

JOHN S. FOLEY
President Letter Carriers' Association
No. 54

endorses the savings plan of the Treasury Department and urges its membership

1.—To adopt the habit of regularly saving a part of their pay.

2.—To invest such savings in Government Savings Securities.

And be it further resolved:

That we call upon the carriers to use every effort to form a Government Savings Association in the office in which they are employed.

Massachusetts Lighting Companies*NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS AND THEIR FAMILIES:

Opportunity is now given, if you are a customer of one of our gas or electric companies, to purchase a few of the new 3- Preferred Shares on the partial payment plan.

It is the desire of the management to have these securities as widely distributed as possible among its customers and their families.

To this end there is available a limited number of these Preferred Shares which are offered at $100 per share and accrued dividend on the following plan:

Customers may purchase for themselves and members of their families.

The price is $100 per share and accrued dividend, payable in cash or in ten 10- monthly payments, 10% of the total amount to accompany the application.

Interest at 6% per annum will be allowed on money paid on installments.

Applications will be accepted until the limited amount offered at this time is exhausted. Allotments will be made strictly in order of their receipt.

No application will be accepted for more than ten 10- shares.

The purchaser may at any time receive his certificate upon payment of the balance due and the adjustment of interest and dividends.

These shares at the offering price yield 3% on the investment. The Massachusetts Lighting Companies has paid quarterly dividends regularly for eighteen years or since 1903.

As only a limited number of shares are available, should you desire to take advantage of this offer, you are advised to do so at once. Application blanks and any further information you may desire may be secured from Mr. F. A. Woodhead, the manager of the Arlington Gas Light Company.

ARTHUR E. CHILDS, President.

May 1921.

The name Massachusetts Lighting Companies is the designation of the Trustees for the time being under a Declaration of Trust dated October 1, 1903. All persons dealing with the Massachusetts Lighting Companies must look solely to the trust property for the enforcement of any contract with or claim against said Massachusetts Lighting Companies. Trustees, officers, or shareholders neither assume, nor shall be held to any personal liability present or future, under or by reason of any contract, order or obligation entered into in behalf of said Massachusetts Lighting Companies.

GLOBE THEATRE

The screen visualization of the immortal story by Vincente Blasco Ibañez, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," moves from the Tremont Temple to the popular Globe Theatre, Boston, next Monday to continue its remarkable run which has been the outstanding photoplay sensation in Boston of many seasons. It is a tremendous tribute to the photoplay's great drawing power that it continues to draw crowded houses at every performance and has outlasted all competitors since it was first shown in Boston.

The broad sweep and comprehensiveness of the picturing is one of its greatest attributes and places it among the three great pictures that the motion camera has produced. Of course, it has the story that has been appraised as the most powerful dramatic and with worthy purpose that this century has seen. But the real truth in combination with this is the photoplay adheres so closely to the plot and thematic spirit of the story that the legions of admiring readers who witness it find disappointment in viewing the picture. In verity, they enjoy with even magnified pleasure the visualization of the story and its characters which so intrigued them in reading.

Moreover, there is true perfection in the picturing, a perfection which embraces the acting, direction and reverent respect for the author's purpose. This in itself is a mighty achievement and goes far to reveal the reason for the photoplay's great popularity. The Globe Theatre has such a cool airy auditorium that even on the warmest days there is a maximum of comfort attending the presence of the spectators. The showings are given twice daily, at 2 and 8 P. M.

WINCHESTER BOY COUNTY CHAMPION

Richard Hildreth, 12 Chestnut street, has been awarded the county championship in Handicraft Club work by Robert P. Trask, in charge of boys' and girls' club work in Middlesex County. The Wadleigh School had one of the fourteen organized Handicraft Clubs in the county during the past season and which was under the direction of Miss Daley. This is one of the best clubs in the county, each member having completed all requirements and receiving a state banner because of the quality of work done. Richard Hildreth was the star member of this club and was judged better than any of the 150 boys and girls throughout the county. He will be given a week in camp at the Massachusetts Agricultural College, beginning July 22nd as a reward for his work.

Depends Somewhat.

The old saying—"If you want anything done, do it yourself," is all right if you do not want too many things done.

ILLUMINATED BOULEVARD SIGNS

In order to minimize motor accidents, particularly at night, and to guide the drivers along their route, the Metropolitan Park Commission is now erecting illuminated signs that may be seen for a distance of several hundred feet in the darkness, and also for quite a long distance by day.

One of them has just been put up at a bad spot on the Revere Beach Parkway, where there is a ditch into which scores of vehicles have dropped in the past.

There is also an intersection there, and many drivers have gone to the right and piled into a lamp post before they saw where they were. Chelsea officials also have ordered some of the signs.

Along the State highways, more particularly where there are railroad crossings, it is expected that some of them will be erected, as the Safe Roads Federation and the Department of Public Works say that such signs would be a great aid to night driving.

Samuel Gibby of Revere, who invented the new sign, developed his idea from the many accidents in his vicinity, and he is pleased that the first sign is going up in his home city. His brother, "Ben" Gibby, heads the company marketing the device, and he is now in communication with officials of the Lincoln Highway regarding them.

The signs are made of metal, with the letters stenciled in sheet metal, backed by white glass. The metal is treated to withstand the action of the weather. Electric bulbs of small candle power give a bright illumination. The letters may be seen farther in the day than ordinary painted letters. Blue lights designate boulevards, and there is a danger signal for sharp curves.

Deadly Germs on Bank Notes.

When one of the one-franc notes, used so commonly in Paris, was subjected to microscopical examination, the chemist's report showed there were more than 250,000,000 germs attached to it, the accumulation from dirty hands and untidy treatment while it was in circulation, many of the germs being of a deadly nature and the bill come in contact with a cut in the flesh.

English Mercy for Criminals.

In England a sentence of life imprisonment is always reviewed at the end of 15 years, and if the prisoner's conduct has been uniformly good, he is usually released. This is particularly the case where a prisoner has been sentenced for murder, for murderers are said to be usually well-behaved prisoners.

First Use of Kerosene.

About the middle of the Nineteenth century kerosene was used in lamps instead of whale oil, lard, olive oil or some other such oil. The change was the result of the development of the wells in the United States.

WM. J. BRYAN SAYS FILIPINO WON THE HONORS

(In a signed, copyrighted article written for the Democratic convention held at San Francisco, for the purpose of electing a President, William J. Bryan said the following remarkable tribute to Jose P. Melenio, the young Filipino who is in charge of the Philippine Independence publicity campaign in the United States.)

By WILLIAM J. BRYAN.
The greatest personal victory yet won in this Democratic convention was scored by a young Filipino by the name of Jose P. Melenio. He has charge of the Philippine Publicity Bureau at Washington.

He is only twenty-six years old and received his education in the public schools of the Philippines under American teachers, and he proudly boasted—and at Georgetown, D. C. He is a remarkably promising young man.

Speaking with grace, using the best language and without a trace of embarrassment, he presented the claim of the Philippines to independence. The audience was astonished at the strength of his argument, the skill with which he marshaled his facts and the high tone of his speech. He captivated everyone and committed and visitors paid him the compliment of rising and cheering when he concluded his plea.

When one of the committee asked him some questions he returned to the platform and answered them with as much logic and precision as if he had taken weeks to prepare his answer. It was a remarkable triumph.

As one who began twenty-two years ago to fight for the promise of independence I was proud of this illustration of what the Filipino is capable of.

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE PHILIPPINES

The University of Santo Tomas is 25 years older than Harvard.

The Filipino people number 10,350,640, of which 9,862,272 are Christians and only 9 per cent non-Christians.

They have been Christians for 200 years and have a culture and refinement that will compare very favorably with that of other nations.

There are only 6,681 Japanese in the Philippines. There are about 10,000 Japanese in California alone, or 15 times as many as in the entire Philippine archipelago.

English is taught exclusively in the Philippine public schools. Two million natives now speak English fluently, and there are 700,000 English speaking children in the public schools. It is destined to be the national language.

Seventy per cent of the inhabitants of the Philippines over ten years of age, according to a census just completed, are literate. This is a higher percentage of literacy than that of any South American country, higher than that of Spain and higher than that of any of the new republics of Europe whose independence is being guaranteed by the Allies.

The Filipino people are unanimous in their desire for independence. Whenever they are called upon to deposit their ballots they have always ratified this aspiration. At every session before adjournment their representatives in the Legislature reiterate their faith in the principles of liberty and the independence of the Filipino people.

The Filipinos declare they have no grudge or grievance against the American people. Their appeal is accompanied by a message of friendship and gratitude for all that America has done for them. They point out that Uncle Sam gave independence to Cuba, and they hope that they, too, will receive that boon without which, they declare, no civilized and patriotic people can enjoy the maximum of happiness and self-respect.

A special delegation of Filipinos, officially representing the Filipino people, attended the Republican and Democratic National conventions, seeking an endorsement of the Filipino desire for independence in the two platforms. Their arguments, briefly stated, were as follows:

First—That the American Declaration of Independence declares that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed;

Second—That the American Congress, in the Jones law, solemnly promised the Filipinos independence upon the establishment of a stable government, and that their claim that the stable government is now in existence in the Islands has been officially confirmed by America's own representatives there; and Third—That America went before the world in the name of the "crowded champion of self-determination," American soldiers having said it was one of the things they were fighting and dying for.

Scents Act as Tonics.
According to the latest medical dictum the man or woman who delights in perfumes is well-satisfied to indulge his taste, providing they don't use heavy odors. It seems that eau de Cologne, and any fresh flower scent, has a slightly stimulating effect upon people, and in the early spring the use of perfume helps one to throw off the feeling of lassitude that is so often a characteristic of the season. In the summer, too, of whatever one is tired, the rejuvenating effect of a bath pleasantly perfumed is marked.

Beauty in Bells.
There is a beauty in bells which is fast losing touch to the modern world. Since we cannot keep them in use as they were hundreds of years ago, we must try to keep up an interest in those which remain, and learn what we can about one of the chief beauties of the Middle Ages. So few many references to bells can be found in great literature. There is one poem which stands out and which we all should know, "The Bells," by Edgar Allan Poe—Brooklyn Eagle.

World's Largest Opal.
Proclaimed as the largest known precious stone in the world, a enormous, absolutely flawless black opal, recently discovered in the United States, is now in the office of a government official in Washington. The gem contains approximately 21 cubic inches and weighs 27,722 carats. It is valued at $12,000 by the owners. The famous Viennese opal, which was without an equal until this specimen was found, weighs 1,958,927 carats.

The Stingy Man.
He was known as the stingiest man in town. The stingy schools were plentiful in a town and every one wondered what he would bring. The leader read of the money and the different members offered to bring this or that. Then one young man said he didn't have anything to offer for him, he would bring the coffee. Then the stingy man spoke up and said: "I will bring the water for the coffee."

Woods That Resist Decay.
The use of woods in airplanes has caused experiments to be made regarding the resistance to decay of various woods. Spruce, which has been extensively used in airplane construction, is not particularly durable. Port or cedar, Southern cypress and California redwood are very resistant to decay.

Keen Analysis of Mankind.
What a chimera is man! What a confused chaos! What a subject of contradictions! A professed judge of all things, and yet a feeble worm of earth, the great depository and granary of truth and yet a mere bundle of uncertainties; the glory and the shame of the universe.—Pascal.

True Friendship.
It is a noble and great thing to cover the blunders and to excuse the failings of a friend; to draw a curtain before his stains, and to display his perfection; to bury his weaknesses in silence, but to point to his virtues upon the housetop.—Robert Southey.

It All Depends.
"Smith must have bought a car," remarked Jones. "What makes you think that?" asked Brown. "He used to talk about the blank-blank automobiles," replied Jones, "but now he is talking about blank-blank paychecks."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Japan Taught by China.
The art of printing and writing were introduced into Japan from China in the year 284. In 633 the Emperor Temmu directed the publication of the first Japanese books, "Kojiki," or Ancient Legends.

They Guessed It.
When the band played "How Dry I Am" at the lounge ball park at Portland, Ore., those Japanese fans stood in their box with hats raised, thinking it the national anthem.

The Age of Death.
One quarter of the people on the earth die before the age of six, one-half before the age of sixteen and only about one person of each 100 born lives to the age of sixty-five.

Hotel for Dogs and Cats.
A hotel for dogs and cats was opened a short time ago in London to care for the pets of persons leaving the city temporarily.

Rowing in Top Hats.
Oarsmen in the early days of the Oxford-Cambridge boat races wore top hats.

Through Difficulty to Triumph.
Many men owe the grandeur of their lives to their tremendous difficulties.—Spurgeon.

Hindus Originated Numerals.
The numerals of today were invented by the Hindu merchants of ancient days.

United States Well Watered.
There are 253 navigable streams in the United States.

Soil Treatment For Better Quality of Food

Nation's Best Dairy Cattle Grazed on Soil Containing Liberal Proportion of Lime; and the Nation's Children of Tender Years Depend Mainly Upon Good Milk

UNCLE SAM'S soil theory is a grand one, because it shows that the quality of the food we eat depends upon the quality of the soil in which it is raised. The Nation's children of tender years are dependent upon good milk, and the Nation's farmers are dependent upon good soil. The soil is the foundation of our food supply, and it is the duty of the government to see that it is properly treated. The best dairy cattle in the world are raised on soil containing a liberal proportion of lime, and the Nation's children of tender years depend mainly upon good milk. The soil is the foundation of our food supply, and it is the duty of the government to see that it is properly treated. ### Died With Their Prey.

In the extraordinary Alton lake at Longue, Santa Barbara county, California, occur untold millions of skeletons of a small herring, while in the upper strata are many remains of predatory fish which had entered what was once a bottle-shaped bay in order to feed on herring. This is evident from the fact that one of the skeletons of a large mackerel has within its stomach.

Talk.
Self is the easiest topic of conversation there is, and usually it is the dullist.

Minds of Lower Animals.

It is generally known that many animals possess in a greater or less degree the same senses that we ourselves have, sight, hearing, smell, touch, temperature, and so on, and that many of them experience such emotions as fear, anger, grief and joy, but it is not quite so certain that they have even the elements of reason as we understand that term. Their minds are like ours only in the degree of their intelligence.

Amendments to Building Laws Town of Winchester, Mass. ADOPTED AT TOWN MEETING ON MARCH 31, 1921

Voted: That the Building Laws of the Town of Winchester being the By-Laws relating to Building, Plumbing, Wiring and Gas Fitting be amended as follows:

By striking out the fractions "1/2" in lines 18 and 20 of page 67; by substituting the figure "2" for the figure "1/2" in line 20 of page 67; and by striking out the phrase in lines 25 to 29 of page 67, beginning with the words "unless such masonry, be at least" and ending with the words "shall be not less than 2 inches."

By striking out the sentence in lines 6 to 8 of section 204 beginning with the words "All ceilings immediately over" and by substituting therefor the following, "All ceilings not made of incombustible material shall be covered with plaster or incombustible material above the door or any furnace or boiler over an area of at least 4 square yards; if the top of a furnace comes within 18 inches of such ceiling, it shall be covered with metal lath and plaster or other incombustible material over an additional area extending 2 feet on each side of the furnace."

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of amendments to Building Laws, being By-Laws and Regulations Relating to Building, Plumbing, Wiring and Gas-Fitting, adopted by the Town of Winchester, Mass., on March 31, 1921 and approved by the Attorney-General of Massachusetts on May 3, 1921.

Yarn of Dog's Eyes.
Here is a story which the collector of true dog yarns might like to add to his list: A gentleman had a dog whose eyes were remarkably different in size. Whenever a stranger dined at the house the dog played a trick on him. He would first get fed at one side of the guest, and then go around the table to his other side and pretend to be another dog.

NEW DRIVE MADE ON TUBERCULOSIS

Mass. Tuberculosis League
Co-operating in Consultant Service Work.

SHOW RESULTS FIRST MONTH

The people of Massachusetts today have within their reach greater opportunities for waging the great fight against tuberculosis, than have the people of any other state in the entire Union.

Massachusetts has long been looked upon as a leader in the nation-wide fight against the great White Plague, and the recent step taken by the newly organized Tuberculosis Division of the State Department of Public Health in the establishment of a consultant service in Barnstable County conducted last year by the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League in co-operation with the Barnstable County Commissioners established the value of such service for rural territory. The Framingham Health and Tuberculosis Demonstration, where Dr. P. Charles Bartlett, the full time Demonstration Physician, has an average of 10 consultations a month, has proved the value of the service for urban territory.

The newly inaugurated consultant service under the direction of the State Department of Public Health, plus the service of the medical staffs of the four state sanatoria at the disposal of the public free of charge. Monthly clinics have been established in 16 cities and towns of the state at the following places: Worcester, Fitchburg, Gardner, Clinton, Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill, Woburn, Taunton, Brockton, Fall River, Plymouth, Pittsfield, Springfield, Holyoke and Adams. These clinics are primarily for the benefit of the physicians of the state, and no patient will be received for examination without being accompanied by his or her physician or without an endorsement by his or her physician consenting to the examination of the patient by the experts.

This plan removes all possibility of interference by this service with the legitimate private practice of family physicians, and, on the other hand, is already securing their co-operation. During September, the first month of this service, clinics were held at all of the above places. At these clinics, 58 cases were presented for examination, 27 or 50 per cent of whom proved to have positive active tuberculosis.

The Massachusetts Tuberculosis League urges the support of these clinics as well as of similar service now being provided by medical staffs of the county tuberculosis hospitals. As a result of a special seventeen day case-finding campaign in Clinton and Lancaster 155 people were examined and 29 active cases of tuberculosis were discovered. A special intensive campaign, conducted by the Tuberculosis Association in co-operation with the state and local boards of health, is also in progress in Hampden County. In Hampshire County similar service is being provided by the county and is being supported by the Hampshire County Public Health Association, and it is expected that this service will soon be extended to Franklin County in co-operation with the Franklin County Public Health Association. Similar service has also been offered by the Commissioners of Norfolk County, provided the offer receives the necessary support from the newly organized County Tuberculosis Association.

There are doubtless 40,000 people in the State of Massachusetts afflicted with active tuberculosis right now. The larger number of them are living on unknown to even themselves and are consequently living their best chances of arrest and recovery. It is expected that this consultant service provided from our state and county hospitals and supported by the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League and its affiliated organizations will go far in the next three years towards the discovery of these unknown cases and the control of the disease in the Commonwealth.

Anti-tuberculosis and public health organization of the state will appeal through the Health Christmas Seal Sale, to be conducted during the month of December, for support for their part in this great work.

Stamp your Christmas mail with Health Seals and thus help to prevent and control tuberculosis.

Much Virtue in the Onion.

No doubt he is a prejudiced witness but there may be something after all in the theory of a diet of grower of onions that this odorous vegetable has a "kick" which could commend it to those who miss their accustomed alcoholic stimulant. It certainly strengthens the breath quite as effectively as strong drink ever did.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Universal Reason.

She was old and gray and was fishing in a little pond near her house. I asked: "Well, Auntie, what are you catching?" She said: "I'm catching nothing." I said: "What are you fishing for?" I asked: "She said: 'Cuz I'm handy.'—Wynne (Ark.) Progress.

Red Cross Is Calling On Women To Mobilize In Nation-wide Sewing Circle

Announces Plans For Great Production Campaign
To Help Clothe Destitute Childhood of Central European Countries

Three Little Warsaw Waifs

They are never happy and always but lack; always cold and always hungry. The mute story of their suffering is read in their faces. The fact that these three children are but a tiny portion of the hundreds of thousands whose position is no better and often worse has resulted in plans by the American Red Cross for mobilizing its workers to make garments for the destitute childhood of Central Europe.

The American Red Cross is calling upon the women of this country, particularly the hundreds of thousands who serve its Chapter and Branch workrooms during the days of the World War, to mobilize again in a nation-wide sewing circle for the greatest production campaign since before the Armistice.

The purpose of the campaign, the plans for which were announced this week, is to provide 2,000,000 garments and 250,000 layettes for a portion of the hundreds of thousands of children and babies in countries of Central Europe who are clad only in ragged and even in newspapers. The conditions, according to authentic information from Red Cross workers overseas and representatives of other relief organizations, are truly appalling.

New England's Share

The production of the garments and layettes asked for will supplement the two principal relief efforts in progress in Europe today, the feeding program of the European Relief Council of which Herbert Hoover is the Chairman, and the medical warfare work conducted by the American Red Cross and now rapidly being concentrated in its Child Welfare Units. The plans to clothe the children are held to be absolutely essential if the benefits of these two operations are to be fully realized.

On the basis of the Red Cross war-time quotas, the national total of 2,000,000 garments for girls and boys up to 14 years old and the 250,000 layettes for babies would mean a quota for the New England Division for the calendar year 1921 of 70,000 garments and 21,000 layettes.

The announcement of this great production effort, decided upon because of the desperate plight of the little ones overseas, was made for the New England Division of the National organization by Arthur G. Welch, Division manager. In a letter sent this week to each of the 116 chapters and 115 branches of the Red Cross in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, Mr. Welch outlined the most important features of the carefully considered plans in his letter, which follows:

"Two million garments for children—

"Two hundred and fifty thousand layettes—

"To be made, for the most part, from used wearing apparel, of every description, remnants and odds and ends, bed clothing, portieres, curtains—anything that ingenuity can convert in a garment—"This is the national quota for the greatest Red Cross production campaign since the days of the World War, which has just been announced to me by Mr. W. Frank Persons, Vice-Chairman of the National Committee. 'The garments and layettes are to help clothe some of the millions of children and babies in Central Europe who are living practically naked. The two million garments will barely suffice to cover a half a million children; an infinitely larger number can be used before the children are even decently clothed.

Must Meet The Emergency

"The situation of the children overseas is literally appalling, according to authentic information gathered by the Red Cross and other relief organizations and we consider this one of the most essential tasks we have undertaken. We feel we must not fail to meet the emergency. Through you the American Red Cross now calls upon the women who served in our workrooms during the war and all other women interested in saving the children to mobilize in a nation-wide sewing circle to produce the required garments.

On the basis of war-time Red Cross allotments the quota for this Division for the calendar year 1921 would be 70,000 garments and 21,000 layettes.

The details of the campaign of most immediate importance to you are:

Supplements Hoover Work

1. The clothing will be used for the children reached by the personnel of the Child Welfare Units now established or to be established by the American Red Cross. The feeding program of the European Relief Council, of which Mr. Herbert Hoover is the Chairman, and the medical welfare service of the Red Cross are the chief phases of the effort being made today for the salvation of Europe's children. The plans to provide clothing supplement these two activities and are held absolutely essential if the full benefits of the two operations are to be realized.

2. The garments and layettes are to be made for the most part, not from new purchased materials, but from used articles of clothing to be collected, cleaned, if necessary, ripped to pieces and remade. Salvage and conservation thus become a part of it.

3. The layettes will be distributed largely by American Red Cross nurses who have general supervision of maternity cases.

4. The garments will be apportioned by countries in order of greatest need as follows: Poland, Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, the Baltic States, the Balkan States.

5. A Chapter may select the country to which it prefers its product to be sent and the Chapter preference will be carried out so far as transportation facilities permit.

6. The work will be under the Volunteer Service and it is essential that organizations that have not already done so immediately appoint a Chairman of Volunteer Service.

7. The production work divides itself clearly into several phases: 1. Collection of material. 2. Preparation of stock collected—sorting, cleaning and, if necessary, dyeing. Children's clothing received in good condition can be forwarded without making over. 3. Sewing patterns, cutting and inspection. 4. Sewing. 5. Packing and shipping.

8. No special make or design is required, but Red Cross instructions and patterns will prove of value.

9. The various kinds of garments needed are: For children one to five years old, dresses, petticoats, undershirts, nightgowns; for girls five to 14 years old, dresses, chemises, petticoats, bloomers, nightgowns; for boys five to 14 years old, blouse suits, undershirts, winter undershirts, nightshirts.

10. A quota for each Chapter and complete instructions will be sent you shortly by Miss Lavinia H. Newell, Director of Volunteer Service. Any inquiries in regard to this production work should be addressed to her.

NO CLOTHES FOR BABY; MOTHER SCANTILY CLAD

Red Cross Commissioner Found Them in Their Cave Home

"Close by the side of the road was a mound of earth with a small opening at one side. I knew that some human being, perhaps a family, called it home, because that kind of home are familiar sights in Poland," said Robert E. Olds American Red Cross Commissioner to Europe.

"I stooped and went in through the narrow opening. Inside was a woman scantily clothed and seated in the ashes left from the last fire was a little child without one bit of clothing on its body. And the ashes were barely warm.

"The woman stood up and apologized for their condition 'there are only enough garments to cover two of us,' she said. 'And my other son has gone out to gather wood for another fire.'

"It is needless to add that that family received a supply of clothing as soon as Mr. Olds got to the nearest Red Cross station but what of the others? Unless American women make 2,000,000 articles of clothing there won't be enough to go around among Europe's children. Red Cross chapter women are now asked to engage in this huge task.

"The suffering of these poor kids simply gets under my skin," was the way George Robertson, former automobile racing driver and winner of the Vanderbilt Cup, who is now chief of transportation for the European Commission of the American Red Cross, summed up his feelings upon returning to Paris from a trip to Vienna.

College Pessimism.
In Heywood Brown's article in the Bookman on pessimism in our colleges, he mentions that when he was at Harvard "there was a pretty general agreement that life was a sham and a delusion." Apropos, we recall, albeit vaguely, a remark by Doctor Jewett, who said, as nearly as we can remember, that while he was at Oxford the students were fond of referring to themselves by the Greek term of "Agnostic," overlooking the fact that its Latin equivalent is "Agnostus."—Boston Transcript.

A WINCHESTER SCHOOL GARDEN

One of the Fine Gardens Being Cultivated by Public School Children at Winchester Highlands.

SCHOOL GARDENS

Great Interest Manifest by Scholars in Growing Vegetables

Under the able direction of Miss Ellen C. Rice, school gardener, the school gardens have taken on great activity this year and the scholars are evincing greater interest than ever before in growing vegetables for the household table.

Besides the many private gardens, or home gardens as they are called, there are now under cultivation three school gardens on land either owned by the town or donated for the purpose by private individuals. These three garden plots supply ground for no less than 41 children, while the home gardens are cared for by an additional 240 more children.

The young gardeners range in age from 9 to 15 years, and their gardens are well worth a visit, several of them yielding green peas for the 17th of June and a number of them now growing their second planting of vegetables. The selection of what is grown is made in consultation with the parents, in order to supply fresh vegetables and green stuff that will be acceptable for the table. The list includes potatoes, carrots, lettuce, radishes, beets, tomatoes, corn, etc.

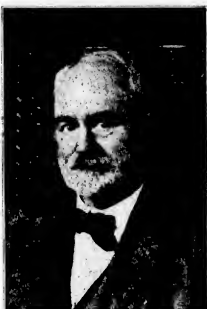

The most flourishing garden is situated on the old Stone Estate, now owned by the town. Here there are some 18 gardens, all flourishing and well cared for. This garden cares for the Chapin School district. Another garden is located on Town land at the rear of the Washington School, caring for that district, while the third garden, at the corner of Clark and Main streets, is on land loaned by Dr. B. T. Church. This cares for the Rumford district. Most of the other school districts have garden space at the homes of the children.

Miss Rice, who is a graduate of the Essex County Agricultural School, gives one day each week to the school gardens unless more time is necessary, the children in most instances working on their plots even on Saturdays. Under her guidance the gardens are weeded and watered, and cultivated, and if any gardener does not care for his or her plot—for many of them are girls, she turns the space over to some other child. The gardens are visited regularly by the police, who keep an eye on them to maintain order and prevent any possible theft.

The gardens will be cultivated until late fall, the usual exhibition of vegetables being held in September. Among the children who have gardens are the following:

Katherine Boston	Arthur Lantry
Isabel Rogers	Douglas Morse
Miss McElroy	Mildred Benson
Ray, Irene	Ray, Wael
Robert McAlams	David Saunders
Daniel Beaton	Robert McAlams
Joseph Beaton	Edith Landgren
Edward Foley	Donald McCarthy
William Vaso	William Brown
William Elliott	Hilda Intravall
Vienna Bell	Frances Adams
Dorothy Smith	Annelia Carrari
Henry Pollock	Emily Tolosa
Helen DeLoon	Isabel Green
Josephine DeLoon	Nellie Intravall
Edith Green	Paul Capone
Edith Green	Thomas Murphy
Harry Benson	George Frothing
Helen Hunt Jackson	Marian O'Connor

A water main in Woburn broke in thirteen places during the big storm. Old, cement lined pipe was the cause. Winchester recently replaced its old cement lined pipe with iron, thus averting such an accident. As a result of the break six hot water boilers in private residences collapsed, and the owners are going to make the city settle for the damage.

JUDGE GEORGE S. LITTLEFIELD Who Retires From the Bench After Almost 50 Years of Service

RETIREES FROM BENCH

Judge Littlefield Gives up Woburn Courtship

Announcement was made the first of the week of the retirement of Judge George S. Littlefield, Senior Special Justice of the Fourth District Court of Woburn. Judge Littlefield retires after almost 50 years of service, he having held the office of Senior Special Justice at Woburn since the establishing of the court there 39 years ago, and previously being trial justice in the old time court in this town for seven years, having been appointed in 1874. The Judge tendered his resignation to Governor Cox, and announcement was made of the fact by Judge Edward F. Johnson, Presiding Justice of the court.

Judge Littlefield was a member of one of the earliest classes graduating from the Sumnerville High School and the first scholar graduating from that school to enter Harvard College. He is 70 years of age and was the youngest member of his class at Harvard, graduating from that institution in 1870. He sat on his last case at Woburn May 15th.

The Judge is one of Winchester's best known citizens, having resided here since he was a young man and having practiced law since leaving college. He will continue in his law business as usual, the firm being Littlefield & Tilden, with offices at 294 Washington street, Boston. For many years the Judge was secretary of William Parkman Lodge of Masons, retiring last spring. He is a well known member of the Calumet Club, where for many years he was active, especially in the bowling, he being known as the dean of bowling in Greater Boston.

The Fourth District Court comprises Woburn, Winchester, Stoneham, Reading, North Reading, Burlington and Wilmington. Governor Cox will make an appointment to the position, probably to a lawyer in one of the towns of the District outside of Woburn, Judges Johnson and Maguire both being Woburn men. Among the possible appointments mentioned are the names of Mr. George B. Hayward and Mr. Curtis W. Nash.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following cases of contagious diseases have been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending July 14: Diphtheria 2, whooping cough 5, chicken pox 2.

TWO BIG STORMS

Winchester Not Hit as Bad as Other Places

The two big thunder storms of Saturday morning and Saturday night struck Winchester along with other places surrounding Boston, but the town escaped with comparatively little damage, the largest damage being in the center, and that of a slight nature.

The first storm hit the town about two a. m. Saturday morning. What is considered the worst effect of several, terrible occasions of this kind, during Friday the night was terrible, and everyone knew that if a thunder storm did show up it would be a good one. It was. During the early evening the sky was negro with heat lightning, the flashes being almost continuous. And when the real storm struck there is no describing it.

As a matter of fact everyone was in bed and beyond the heavy thunder and sharp lightning no one knew of the damage done until morning, although there was no one but knew that the rain was greater than usual. Saturday morning found everything about the center suffered the worst, the drainage system there being unable to cope with the downpour. Water was found in many cellars and the streets resembled lakes. Fortunately no other damage was done.

This water receded during the day, but there was plenty in evidence when the second storm struck shortly before seven o'clock Saturday night. This put everything out of commission. It may have rained harder, but no one has been found to prove it, and according to the weather bureau the downfall was the greatest in a given time ever recorded for the 30 years the bureau has been in existence.

In the center the water overflowed the streets at South Main street in front of the Barnes Dry Goods Store until it stretched in an unbroken lake from building to building. It entered the stores of the Arlington Gas Light Co., Colgate's ice cream store and the Barnes store, the clerks wearing their rubber boots. In the Niles block the water flooded the bowling alleys of Sullivan & McKenzie several feet. It damaged all stock stored in the cellars of this block badly.

WALTER S. WADSWORTH DEAD

Mr. Walter S. Wadsworth, former treasurer of the Winchester Co-operative Bank, died at his home on Lawrence street this morning after an illness of several months. He was 61 years of age.

Mr. Wadsworth was a native of Chelsea, where he leaves a large circle of friends. He was the son of Jesse and Mary Wadsworth. His education was acquired in the public schools of Chelsea, and when a young man he entered the employ of the furniture firm of Irving & Casson. Following the death of his father he took up his real estate and insurance business, which he conducted for many years. Two years ago he became treasurer of the Winchester Co-operative Bank, which office he held up to a few weeks ago, when he resigned owing to ill health. His illness dates back to last fall following a severe case of pneumonia poisoning.

He was a Mason and was affiliated with Chelsea Lodge and William Parkman Lodge of this town, being a K. T. He was also a well-known member of the Calumet Club and for a number of years was president of the Frost Hospital, Chelsea.

He leaves his wife Mary (McElwain) Wadsworth, and four sisters, Mrs. Frederick Hall of Swampscott, Mrs. Herbert Moody, Mrs. Gilman Hall and Mrs. Allan Burns, all of New York.

The funeral services will be held from the residence, 15 Lawrence street, on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery. Friends are requested not to send flowers.

MRS. SIDNEY F. HOOPER

Mrs. Sidney F. Hooper of 15 Foxcroft road died this morning following an operation at the Scobey Hospital, Boston. She had been ill but three days.

Mrs. Hooper was a native of Newton and was the daughter of John W. and Mary (Ewell) Raymond. She had made her home in this town for the past seventeen years, being well known among a large circle of friends. She leaves her husband, mother and three children, Raymond H. Sidney F., Jr., and Marjorie. She was a member of the Church of the Epiphany and of The Fortnightly. The funeral services have not at this time been arranged. The interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

OPEN TOURNAMENT AT COUNTRY CLUB

Final Rounds and Special Play Today

The annual open tournament at the Winchester Country Club started Wednesday with an entry of 125 players, the play being a qualifying round of 15 holes, match play, four sixteen qualifying for match play yesterday. The scores ran high, only two out of the big field turning in less than an 80, these being H. E. Robinson of Old Newbury and A. M. Hixie of Wollaston. They were one stroke under 80. The recent rains, it was stated, made the course heavy and ground rollers were used for embolled balls, although the greens were in excellent shape.

The local players lining up were as follows:

First division—G. W. Elkins, 81; S. Hicks, 81; B. K. Stephenson, 87.
Second division—A. M. Bond, 89; L. W. Barre, 89; H. C. Buckminster, 90.
Third division—G. F. Freeman, 91; R. B. Neiley, 92; R. L. Smith, 43; M. F. Brown, 94; P. B. Elkins, 94.
Fourth division—R. S. Dunbar, 95; H. T. Bond, 96; E. J. Sherman, 96; H. Boyer, 96.

The best net for the day's play went to G. C. Buckminster with 90—21—69, and another Winchester player, George W. Elkins, took second net with 84—12—72 in a tie with F. G. Thayer of Wollaston.

In yesterday's play G. W. Elkins went down before Freeman in the first round in the first division 3 and 2, while Bart Stephenson defeated Crosby of Chestnut Hill 2 up. In the second round Stephenson lost to Lowery 19 holes. S. T. Hicks, a first division man, withdrew from match play. In the second division Bart and Buckminster paired for the first round. Bart (10) winning from Buckminster (21) 10 holes. A. M. Bond (10) also won, defeating Rivers (10) of Oakley 3 and 2. In the second round Bart won from Blaney (14) Plymouth, 5 and 4, and Bond defeated Parker (19) Scarborough, 19 holes.

Among those in the third division are M. F. Brown and R. L. Smith, while R. S. Dunbar is still playing in the fourth division.

Today will witness the semi-final and final rounds, with an open four ball, best ball tournament.

BYRON FARROW DEAD

Promising Young Man Passed Away in Easton

Byron Manton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Farrow, former well known residents of this town, died Sunday at his home, 7 Centre street, Easton Centre, in his 15th year. He had been sick nine weeks. He was a pupil at the Oliver Ames School and was popular in the younger circles of Easton. Besides his parents he leaves two sisters, Luella and Helen, and a brother, John.

Many friends attended the funeral Tuesday afternoon at the home, Centre street, Easton Centre. Rev. D. C. Reid conducted the services. Many flowers, including tributes from schoolmates at the Oliver Ames High School expressed the sympathy of friends. The body was taken to Winchester for interment in Wildwood cemetery.

GARDEN NEWS STORY

Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture

Home Economics
SUBJECT—Preparation of the GardenSUBJECT—CONTROL OF VEGETABLE DISEASES

The weather of the past week has been especially conducive to the development of such fungus diseases as blight, anthracnose, downy mildew and leaf spot. All of these can be controlled only by means of Bordeaux mixture which is a combination of copper sulphate and lime. Some of them can be completely controlled if spraying begins before the disease appears, while others can only be partially checked.

It is very important that potatoes be sprayed regularly every ten days with a solution of Bordeaux mixture, in order to protect them from blight. Other vegetables which may or may not be affected need not be sprayed until the disease first appears. Gardeners should be on the lookout every day for the beginning of these diseases.

Blight is easily detected by the appearance of brown spots in the leaves. It also has a distinctive odor, different from any other disease. This should not be confused with having the leaves near the base of the plant turn yellow and fall off which frequently occurs when there has been a long period of drought. Blight affects seriously potatoes, beans, celery and cucumbers.

Anthracnose is especially serious on beans and is rather difficult to control. It is spread by working among the beans when they are wet, so that this should always be avoided. This disease can only partially be controlled by the use of Bordeaux mixture.

Bacterial wilt which is the sudden wilting of a plant which the day previous was apparently healthy is spread by means of cucumber beetles and flea beetles. It is important therefore, that all insects of this nature be destroyed to prevent the spread of bacterial diseases.

Bordeaux mixture can be purchased already prepared for use either separately or in combination with arsenate of lead which makes it both an insecticide as well as fungicide. This solution is far more effective if mixed at home, taking four ounces of copper sulphate or blue vitriol and four ounces of quick lime dissolving the vitriol in a wooden vessel and diluting with six quarts of water. Shake the lime and add six quarts water, then mix the two solutions.

YOURS AFFAIRS AND MINE

When the gorilla goes into action he bouts upon his chest in an effort to assure himself that he is a bad fellow. He is. But the fact that he finds it necessary to work up enthusiasm does little credit to his reputation for courage. When a boat is sinking and five of the passengers begin to scream, one suspects that they cannot swim. One passenger remains calm, and one infers that he can. When a hard adventure threatens, those of the company who have had to experience with terror make boasts of the things they will do. Their concern is to cheer their flagging spirits. Those of the number who remain silent and grave have been that way before and have learned to care for themselves in time of strife. Poise is consciousness of strength. As great strength makes one tolerant of the weak, so all Winchesterites, who have a reasonable conviction of superiority, are well-mannered and tolerant. Those who pretend a superiority that has no basis in fact are overbearing and rude, in an effort to convince the world of their importance, and thus stupidly defeat their own object. Those who fear and would be thought courageous bluster and make themselves disagreeable, and thus give demonstrations of the yellow streak they would hide. Gold-plated brass may hire a spitter to declare its worth. Pure gold would make no noise. Pose and bluff confess inferiority.

A Winchester automobilist voices a complaint against the inconsiderateness of certain automobile drivers. "No driver of a car would be guilty of disturbing the neighborhood by a loud and continuous honking of his horn, instead of getting out and ringing the doorbell," he said. "Many of them, far too many of them, are too downright lazy to leave the car, to ringing the doorbell," he said. "Many stopped for someone in the residential district, but they honk their horns until the whole neighborhood resounds with the disagreeable racket. It is extremely rude, it is extremely brash, it is extremely inconsiderate and it is a nuisance that is almost had enough to make the police interfere. Many mothers here in Winchester have had small children awakened from their naps by the noise, and the sick and nervous have been disturbed. Why, I never think of using my horn in such a way even if I'm only stopping in front of my own residence. If I want my wife or anyone in the house I go to the door after them, but I don't and do not intend to send the echoes ringing by the lullabays of a motor horn. It is one of the things that make automobilists unpopular with the people who do not own cars and the unpopularity is certainly deserved."

A college graduate here in Winchester has devised a scheme whereby she has a sort of continuous reunion with her college classmates. At this season of the year she motors widely about the country, and in her car she always carries her college catalogue which gives the present addresses of the alumnae. If her motoring permits or requires her to spend an hour or two or a night in a city or town far from Winchester she consults her college catalogue to see if any of her classmates are at present located in the locality. In this way the Winchester young lady has had some really delightful reunions, and she has kept in touch with them as no one else in her class does.

Sometime ago a Winchester school teacher was discussing the simile, "Life is like a voyage." "Now why is life like a voyage?" she asked, believing she would get some sentimental answer. The class was in deep thought for a moment, then one of the practical pupils raised his hand. "Because," said he, "because the people are all going to the same place."

In his novel of "Rodgauntlet" Sir Walter Scott introduces a wealthy smuggler in whose cellar are stored enough kegs and barrels to keep the excise department busy for a long time. The amount of capital involved in the business, the secret approaches to the board, and the strict watch lest anyone should gain admission without pass-words surprise a young lawyer who is bold and venturesome enough for all the ordinary emergencies of life. From the circumstantial description it is a fair inference that the writer who was a lawyer and a sheriff had at his command facts bearing on the extensive smuggling transactions of the time. Within a week a story much resembling that of the old smuggler's cave has been read by Winchesterites who read the daily paper.

The Spectator.

DON'T FORGET P.E.S.

Editor of the Star.

Winchesterites leaving town for the season should be sure and make provision for the care of puss during their absence. There are people who neglect to do this and hunger and suffering fall to the animal's lot. Whatever else you do please do not forget the family cat.

JULY

Delicious feasts are ripening.
On ground and bush and tree;
The spring birds partaking,
High noon now leap with glee.

Spring came with perfumed tidings
To greet our longing eyes;
Now gladly we hear summer,
She's brought her melodies.

At north Main street the water also flooded the street just above the crossing, it pouring in torrents down Turk street and washing out the gutter. At the Mt. Vernon street bridge it flowed up over the sidewalks and damage was only averted by its running directly into the river.

Telephone and electric light crews had more than a job and the service was denominated for hours. No trains came from Boston after nine o'clock, and residents came out either walking or being transported by auto. The train service was held up by a big wash-out and flood at Winter and Prospect Hill.

The lightning struck a big pine tree at the estate of Mr. Josef Sautberg on Wolcott road, breaking it off. Just under the tree a party of boys were camped in a tent, and they had the time of their life—so they said. The pine tree of Myrtle street, the blow of a heavy man hole cover and its six inch covering of gravel at the Wadleigh School playground.

On Church street at the Wyman school the street was flooded and the river was the highest it has ever been since it was widened and dredged. The largest volume of water came down the river Sunday morning, when the water was away up on the grassy banks and down over the dam in almost an unbroken sweep. One could reach the water at the Mt. Vernon street bridge with his foot from the sidewalk.

The market gardeners suffered considerably and many residents had a busy time Sunday replacing paths washed into the street. Of real wash-outs about town there were few, the tide hills standing up remarkably well and the drainage system caring for the water there. There was little wind also, a fact which helped wonderfully, although a big tree limb was blown down on the sidewalk on Washington street between Harvard and Irving streets.

The weather did not moderate after the early storm, and remained as sticky and torrid as before, but after the storm Saturday night there was a little lowering of temperature, which came as a relief. During the early days of this week the weather remained cloudy and warm, but not unseasonably hot.

Winchester was particularly fortunate in coming through the storm with so little damage, for outside the bowling alleys and damage done in the Olympic store, there was practically no loss.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Thursday July 7 from two until five o'clock Miss Cynthia Laraway entertained about thirty little friends in honor of her tenth birthday at her home on Forest street. Although the heat was intense a very enjoyable afternoon was passed, playing games and frolicking about the spacious grounds. Refreshments were served and snapshots taken, after which the little guests departed, leaving many sweet memories of the afternoon just passed, in the mind of the little hostess. Miss Cynthia was the recipient of many useful and pretty gifts.

Among those present were: Betty Kellner, Caroline Thompson, Margaret Kellner, Joseph Thompson, Marjorie Symmes, Lily Fay, Ruth Smith, Oliver Peterson, Keith Kingsley, David McElroy, Barbara Linscott, Robert McElroy, Myrtle Dorn, Roy Ward, Elizabeth Clark, Ray Palmer, Mary McElroy, Paul Ryan, Alice Palmer, Joseph Palmer, Billy Symmes, Elsie Marney, Ernest Smith, Anne Gregory, Alice Pope.

SPECIAL OFFICERS FOR CAMBRIDGE STREET

The State work on Cambridge street is progressing. A large gang of men are at work and all traffic through is suspended. The State put on six special policemen this week, three at the Pond street entrance to the Woburn Parkway and three at the junction of Church and Cambridge streets. These men, who will direct traffic, are Michael McGuire, Fred Fitzgerald, James O'Loughlin, James J. Boyle, Eugene M. Danahy and George Kitchin. As all north bound traffic is sent through Winchester square, our centre is a busy place these days. The detour signs are not well placed and not easily seen, and as a consequence visiting motorists are found in all sorts of places about town, even as far out of the way as the town stubs on Linden street, where two trucks ended up last week.

WAKEFIELD HERE TOMORROW

The heavy rain of last Saturday effectively cancelled the base ball game scheduled on Manchester Field. Winchester meets the Wakefield Town Team here tomorrow afternoon. This team is reported to be a fast organization and to number several top-notchers. A good game is promised.

LIKE LEONARD FIELD

Highlands Playground Most Popular in Town

Augustus J. Leonard Field on Washington street at Winchester Highlands, the Town's new playground, is now completed and in use. Swings, slide, sand box and horizontal bar are in use daily by over 75 children. Since its opening a few days ago the field has been thronged day and evening, and it promises to be by far the most popular playground in town.

A fine ball diamond has been laid out and a new base-out erect, providing excellent space for base ball. Thus far the Park Board has been troubled by young men about 20 years of age frequenting the field at night and doing considerable mischief. Among other things, these men climb to the top of the new base-out and rock back and forth in an attempt to break it down. It has been necessary to erect it twice for this reason. The police are now on the watch to stop this vandalism.

The field is much better situated than Manchester Field in that it has excellent toilet facilities at the Washington school nearby. This provides accommodations and drinking water for all—and especially necessary for the younger children. Manchester Field has absolutely no toilet facilities, the little children being obliged to walk clear to the railroad station across the tracks, a distance from the swings and boxes of the better part of a mile each way. For water they have almost as long a walk.

The Park Commissioners are much pleased over the popularity of the field at the Highlands and predict that it will be patronized by many more children than Manchester Field.

ITALIAN CELEBRATION
AUGUST 13th

The celebration of the Feast of the Assumption by the Italian residents of Winchester will take place this year on Saturday, August 13th.

This has come to be a yearly event. Even looked forward to by residents of Winchester and neighboring towns and cities on account of the unequalled display of fireworks usually given and the splendid band concert in store for all lovers of good music.

A committee composed of the following: Frank Gigliotti, chairman; James V. Barbano, Vice Ralli, Raffaele Del Lago, Marcello Fiocciello, Vincenzo Gigliotti, Dallabasso Asaro, Enrico Fiore, Gaetano Gomara, Frank Battillo; is already at work in connection with the programme for the day and soliciting subscriptions. The committee is sparing no effort to make this year's fireworks display superior to any ever seen in the town. Since this is an event enjoyed by all, it is hoped this year that citizens of the town in general will contribute a share toward making the affair a huge success. Contributions, large or small will be gladly received by members of the above committee.

There will be the usual parade up through the Italian quarter and down to Manchester Field during the afternoon, followed by band concerts from five to six and seven until one o'clock in the evening at Manchester Field.

Further details of the day's programme will be announced in a later issue of the Winchester Star.

prodigies of the Past.

Long before the war it was stated that a man was too old at forty. But now it looks likely that soon the cry will be "too old at fifteen!"

A small boy of eight summers recently tackled twenty or thirty of the best chess players in the world, setting them all problems they could not tackle; another child appears on the scene, who, at the age of seven or eight, puts a diary which the greatest literary lights describe as wonderful; while well soon have quite a small library of juvenile novels.

It was regarded as a phenomenon when Chatterton wrote immortal poems at twelve, when Mozart composed in his fifth year a concerto so difficult that the most practical artists could play it when the infant son of Evelyn, the diarist, could read Latin and Greek at three and one-half, when Macaulay had written a poem as long as "The Lady of the Lake" at eight and when Millais carried off a gold medal for painting at nine! But now it's becoming quite the usual thing.

Revealing Their Worth.

The true historical genius, to our thinking, is that which can see the nobler meaning of events that are near him, as the true poet who detects the divine in the casual; and who somehow suspect the depth of his insight into the past, who cannot recognize the solitudes of today under the disguise in which it always visits us.—Lowell.

Massachusetts Lighting Companies*NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS AND THEIR FAMILIES:

Opportunity is now given, if you are a customer of one of our gas or electric companies, to purchase a few of the new 3 Preferred Shares on the partial payment plan.

It is the desire of the management to have these securities as widely distributed as possible among its customers and their families.

To this end there is available a limited number of these Preferred Shares which are offered at $100 per share and accrued dividend on the following plan:

Customers may purchase for themselves and members of their families.

The price is $100 per share and accrued dividend, payable in cash or in ten (10) monthly payments, 10% of the total amount to accompany the application.

Interest at 6% per annum will be allowed on money paid on installments. Applications will be accepted until the limited amount offered at this time is exhausted. Allotments will be made strictly in order of their receipt.

No application will be accepted for more than ten (10) shares. The purchaser may at any time receive his certificate upon payment of the balance due and the adjustment of interest and dividends.

These shares at the offering price yield 3% on the investment. The Massachusetts Lighting Companies has paid quarterly dividends regularly for eighteen years or since 1903.

As only a limited number of shares are available, should you desire to take advantage of this offer, you are advised to do so at once. Application blanks and any further information you may desire may be secured from Mr. F. A. Woodhead, the manager of the Arlington Gas Light Company.

ARTHUR E. CHILDS, President.

May 1921.

The name Massachusetts Lighting Companies is the designation of the Trustees for the time being under a Declaration of Trust dated October 1, 1903. All persons dealing with the Massachusetts Lighting Companies must look solely to the trust property for the enforcement of any contract with or claim against said Massachusetts Lighting Companies. Trustees, officers, or shareholders neither assume, nor shall be held to any personal liability present or future, under or by reason of any contract, order or obligation entered into in behalf of said Massachusetts Lighting Companies.

KEEP YOUR MONEY WORKING FOR YOU

Idle Dollars "Burn a Hole in Your Pocket" and Tempt the Devil's Hold-Up Men

If the old saying that "an idle brain is the devil's workshop" is true, then it may also be true that idle money is the devil's tempter. Certainly idle money, which more often than not burns a hole in one's pocket, is not of any particular benefit to the owner. It is the wise man or woman who sets his money at work for his benefit. Study the habits of most of your friends who have become well-to-do and even wealthy by the work of their own brains and hands and you will be surprised to discover how few of them carry more than a few dollars in their pockets as "spending money." They have found out that it is best to keep their cash employed, turning over and over and accumulating interest or dividends for their benefit. This is the way they have forged ahead.

Carnegie Carried Little Cash
Few men were thriftier and few accumulated money as did the late Andrew Carnegie, yet Mr. Carnegie rarely carried much money in his pockets. This led to a very amusing situation on board ship one day when the "Laird O' Skibo" was on his way to Scotland to spend the summer at his Scotch castle.

At the request of some of the sailors Harry Lander dressed in his native costume kilt and tartan—gave a concert before the passengers. In keeping with his promise to the sailors at the close of the concert he passed his "tam" to collect money for the "Laird O' Skibo." As Mr. Lander came up to Mr. Carnegie the multi-millionaire felt first in one pocket, then in another, but couldn't find a dollar. Knowing Mr. Lander well, he leaned over and whispered: "Harry, put five dollars in the pig for me." Mr. Lander smiled and seeing a fine chance to have a joke he said in a loud voice: "I'm verra sorry, Mr. Carnegie, I canna do anything for ye, ma breaks are in the cabin." Mr. Carnegie joined in the laughter that followed, as he always appreciated a good joke, even when it was "on him." Nevertheless he did not take to carrying any more money in his pockets; he kept it at work where he was not actually using it.

Idle Money Tempts Thieves
Eighty-four holdups and robberies involving the loss of money in sums ranging from a few dollars to a few thousand dollars were reported to the police of Boston from Aug. 7, 1920, to Mar. 22, 1921, and were verified, while a number of other reports were traced and found to have been false. The report shows one of the dangers of trying to carry idle money on the person or leave it in the house or shop where it is in danger from thieves and hold-up men. Then, also, there is the risk of fire destroying it.

In the same period 155 injured persons were cared for by the police, there were about 25 violent deaths and 60 persons were stricken ill on the city streets.

Birds Seem Attracted by Blue.

A London wall-paper manufacturer suffers considerable damage from sparrows. The sparrows flock down on the dark blue wallpaper in the manufacture of paper and are drowned. It is believed that the color attracts them. The pulp has no odor or taste, but is a canal near by which provides them with drinking water.

streets, all of whom might have had money that could have been taken before the police assistance came to them.

Of course, many of the victims of robbers had their cash restored through the efforts of the police, but many others did not because the robbers escaped or spent the money before they were arrested.

Money Lost Through Hoarding
Here are some examples of idle money falling into the hands of persons who had no claim to it:

Jan. 16 Joseph Peters of 116 Chandler street reported to the police that two men appeared before him in his room and, pointing a revolver at him, took $500 which he had concealed in his bed. They made their escape.

Michael Laidensack of 29 Kirkland street was, on Feb. 9, relieved of $2000 by strangers who played the notorious "handkerchief game" on him.

A dentist and his patient, who was sitting in a chair, were held up by two men in Dr. Louis Kastan's office, 276 Tremont street, Nov. 24, the former losing $3 or $4 and the patient about $40.

Earle Goodnow of 11 Hunter street lost from $20 to $75 to two men who used a gun in holding him up on New England avenue, Dec. 18.

Miss Ellen Cahill of Providence, who was a guest at 14 Hillside avenue, Roxbury, was held up and robbed of $5 in cash, a $50 diamond ring and a $40 fur coat as she was entering the door on Mar. 23.

Fourflushing With Money Foolish
There are only typical instances that go to show the dangers of carrying cash or valuables on one's person, especially at night, when the money might as well be in a bank or otherwise safely invested and earning interest.

"Fourflushing" with a roll of bills may be a favorite diversion of a certain type of person—but it's likely to prove a costly one through loss of the display and, anyway, it costs something if one figures what it might be worth to buy War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates, which do pay interest and which are as safe as anything on earth can be.

If it's worth while to be so careful, it's worth while to pick the safest of all—Uncle Sam—to care for your cash.

Racing Monkeys.

It is true that an active boy could easily outrun most monkeys "on the flat." But there is one species, known as the Putom monkey, which is very swift. Built somewhat like a greyhound, it can gallop at a speed of 18 miles an hour, and outdistance a good pony.

See Us NOW about your Battery

Suppose some queer trick of fate made you the owner of this service station and me the customer.

And I came in some day red hot because my battery had gone wrong—

And I had missed my train—

And I lost out on an important engagement—

And disappointed a good customer—

And stood to lose a lot of money—

You bet your life I'd be good and sore, but I'm mighty sure I couldn't ask for any more courtesy and consideration and square dealing and SERVICE than we are giving right now day after day.

The time to have us look at your battery is before anything happens.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Some men break everything they touch except the record.

No man is truly honest who denies that he ever made a fool of himself.

A man never realizes how high a fence he can jump until he is badly scared.

The man who wins never waits to follow the crowd.

You can't convince a school boy that history repeats itself.

More hot weather.

With all the agitation extending over many years for a comfort station in the square, it seems strange that nothing is ever done. Possibly it is because our Selectmen are all Boston business men and do not experience the nuisances the local merchants have to put up with. It is very possible that such a convenience will cost some money, both for erection and maintenance, but will we ever get it otherwise? The health inspector admits he is powerless to remedy conditions, as does the Park Commission in the matter of the playground on Manchester Field.

The marking of traffic paths in the centre is a big factor for safety. This should have been done long ago, as it affords protection alike to pedestrian and motorist. With the increased traffic due to the Cambridge street closing our centre has jumped over night from a busy square to a downright congestion. The next thing is to set up an illuminated traffic sign or throw a spot light on the office in front of Allen's drug store at night. If, too, is badly needed.

Down in Connecticut the traffic officers are really enjoying this hot weather, for they are permitted to leave their coats off and wear white shirts and trousers, the insignia of their office being on their shirt sleeves. How would you like to be officer Dougherty and stand in the glaring sun in the middle of the asphalt desert of our centre all day this weather? How do you think he feels when he goes home at six o'clock? Would you swap jobs with him? Why is it those in charge demand that they have a full regulation, heavy dark blue uniform? Do you think they would dress that way if they had the option on their uniform? Probably someone is too busy at the sea shore to give the matter much thought—but the officer does.

The detour signs in Winchester centre are an example of the usual signs found throughout this section by motorists. They are present but of little information to the average driver unfamiliar with the country. With the closing of Cambridge street the traffic through the centre appears almost doubled, and everyone who chances to be about the square is called upon to direct autos of every description. The traffic coming from Woburn is particularly unfortunate, almost all of it crossing the tracks and continuing down Main street, where all trace of the detour is lost. Many of these cars are bound for Arlington, Cambridge, Watertown, Waltham, etc. There is certainly room for a new department under the Highway Commission to attend to proper detour directions.

We doubt if Sandy Beach is ever placed on a safe and sanitary footing. It is too good a subject for summer thrills and conversation. Soon we will begin hearing of the near drownings and heroic rescues, together with the vast statistics on the number bathing there daily. Nevertheless, the beach needs an overseer. There is no one there at all this year, and the hundreds who frequent the place need attention, whether it comes from the town or the State. As a matter of fact it is properly up to the State, as the attendance is as large from three surrounding towns as it is from Winchester. There is no reason why suitable bath houses should not be erected and the beach maintained. There is plenty of room there to park autos and it makes an ideal spot for recreation. We would not stop the bathing there for anything, but dressing

The Misses Viola and Alice Bennett of the Parkway are at Larchmont, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Bennett of the Parkway have purchased a cottage at Pausan Lake, Ossipee Valley, N. H., where they will spend the remainder of the summer.

TRAFFIC PATHS MARKED

The police department, aided by the Highway department, marked out and painted traffic paths in the centre. Paths were painted across Main street from Allen's store to the Winchester News Co. from Allen's across to Mr. Vernon street to McLaughlin's store, across Church street from the path on the Common to the National Bank, and at Knight's drug store.

This is a much needed safety precaution. Many people wander at will all over the centre, and if struck by autos the drivers would be blamed. The traffic officer has been in difficulty in directing the autos, owing to persons walking out in the open. With the new paths pedestrians are required to cross the streets in a definite line of travel.

TRADERS' OUTING

Will Go to Canobie Lake on Wednesday the 27th

Plans are now nearly completed for the annual outing of the Winchester Traders, the Board of Trade having held several meetings and definitely decided upon holding the event on Wednesday, July 27.

Original plans outlined a day at Lakeside, but owing to the fact that many of the merchants preferred Canobie Lake, Salem, N. H., as the ideal spot for the outing, it has been decided to hold it at that place. Another feature which was considered and abandoned was the idea of making the trip by special electric cars. Several years ago this form of transportation was particularly popular, and as the ride to Canobie Lake is through very beautiful and attractive country, many of the merchants were in favor of using the electric, and having a real old fashioned trolley ride. The idea was given up on account of the cost, and the trip is to be made by autos.

Many will make the trip in their own cars, and for those who have not got cars, or who cannot fill in with friends, several large trucks will be run. There will be plenty of room for all, and the transportation committee, composed of Messrs. Charles A. Lane, Thomas Quigley, Jr., and Lewis W. Skillings, will make ample provision to carry everyone speedily and comfortably.

It is anticipated that the attendance this year will be the largest yet. Already the largest number of merchants and their friends which have ever before signified their intention of attending the outing have signed up. The committee desire all who intend going to send in their names and receive their tickets immediately, so that there may be no difficulty in arranging for the day's program.

The general committee in charge, from whom tickets may be obtained, is as follows: George T. Davidson, Leming P. Glendon, Charles A. Lane, James Hinds, Harris S. Richardson, J. Albert Hersey, Frank L. Drummond, George F. Arnold, J. Chris Sullivan, T. Price Wilson.

Canobie Lake is known to many through previous visitation, and provides every attraction for the outing. A fine base ball field, restaurant, bathing, boating and dancing, will give the visitors every enjoyment desired.

The base ball game will be the first item on the sports program, which is in charge of Messrs. James Hinds, Albert Soller, Frank L. Drummond and J. Albert Hersey. J. Chris Sullivan will captain one of the ball teams and Frank L. Drummond the other. The lineup of the two teams will be announced next week.

A fine lot of sports has been arranged as follows:

1. Potato race for women and girls.
2. Turkey race for girls under 14.

3. Turkey race for women and men.
4. Three-legged race for men.
5. Three-legged race for boys.
6. 100 yd. dash for clerks.
7. 100 yd. race open for all.
8. Throwing base ball for women and girls.
9. Shoe race open for all.
10. Quots.
11. Race for fat men.
12. Hop, step and jump.
13. Relay race; three men to a team.
14. Pipe race for married men.

First and second prizes are to be awarded in every event, and a most attractive list has been selected by the committee.

It is planned to make an early start. The tickets are to be placed at a popular price within reach of everyone, and may be obtained by any member of the committee. Do not forget to obtain your ticket early.

The Board of Trade extend a general invitation to all residents of Winchester to accompany the merchants on the outing and take part in the day's festivities. Young and old will be welcome.

BASEBALL

By "MAK"

Winchester got off to a good start Friday night in the opening game here with Woburn before a crowd which exceeded our expectations. There was more real excitement and enthusiasm on the field than had been heard there all the season and the crowd took to the local boys in great shape.

Tuesday night the weather was anything but agreeable but at that a good crowd turned out and it shows that twilight baseball will go down with the right sort of teams for opposition. Both of the games should have been won by Winchester, as it was we tied both with 2 to 2 scores in 7 innings.

ANNUAL OUTING

The High Priests Association of the Eighth Capital District, R. A. C., held its annual outing at Ridge Crest, Winchester, the home of the President, W. L. Thompson, on Saturday afternoon, July 10th.

At three o'clock, the members set down to an old-fashioned country feast with suckling pig as the "piece de resistance."

After the banquet an entertainment was enjoyed, a feature of which was an interesting paper by Vice-President Nathan Lombard, on the historical significance of the Trammet and Bagle. Mr. Lombard demonstrated the bugle calls of the various nations and gave some pleasing selections.

There was a good attendance of members, and the outing was much enjoyed. On account of the storm of Friday night and Saturday morning the tables were set indoors, in the spacious sun porch of the Thompson home, but the clearing weather of the afternoon made it possible to hold the entertainment in the open.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

voted to lay over one week for further consideration the request of Mr. Artold Whittaker for the installation of a street light in front of his property at 155 Highland Ave.

Dangerous Corners: A letter was received from Mr. Charles E. Wingate suggesting that the streets be divided in the middle with a painted line at certain corners in Winchester which he considers dangerous. The Clerk was instructed to write Mr. Wingate that the street corners mentioned in his letter the Chief of Police has already decided to care for in this manner.

Surface Drainage: A petition was received from Mr. Newell K. Morton, 18 Park avenue, Winchester requesting the right to connect the drain which conducts water away from the premises at 18 Park avenue to the town surface drainage system in Park ave. In his petition Mr. Morton states that during the spring and seasons of heavy rainfall the surface water from the hill enters the cellar of his residence and that he understands also that it enters the cellars of most of the residences below his property. This matter was referred to the Superintendent of Streets for report.

The meeting adjourned at 10:45 P. M.

George S. F. Bartlett,
Clerk of Selectmen.

OPEN AIR MEETING

An open air mass meeting, attended by about 500 residents, was held on Manchester Field Tuesday evening by the local committee connected with the move next for self determination of Ireland. The committee includes Messrs. James J. Fitzgerald, Charles R. Greco, Patrick Noonan, Francis J. O'Hara, Francis H. Mullin, Rev. Nathaniel L. Morrill, pastor of St. Mary's Church and Dr. Richard W. Sheehy.

Music was rendered by the Everett Brass Band, and following its program, Mr. James J. Fitzgerald, chairman of the meeting, introduced the speakers, who included Peter Golden, Dublin correspondent and National Secretary for the Recognition of Ireland's Independence; William Whelan, exile Sinn Féin soldier, Luke Sheehy, who spoke on buying only American goods; and Rev. Joseph L. Early of St. Mary's Church.

BASEBALL TONIGHT

Tonight Arlington Town Team will make its appearance on the field. These games last season were the best games of the year and more excitement and baseball were crowded into them than in any others. This Arlington team is practically the same as last year and should show to good advantage as it usually does in Winchester.

The usual delegation from Arlington will follow the team and that means a scarcity of seats on Manchester Hill. The game will start at 6.30 p. m. and will go seven innings, the regulation distance for twilight baseball. There will be a change or so in our lineup for the better but as they are now the fans seem to think that they look good for a local team.

The following teams will appear here in the near future. Size them up and see the quality of teams we are going to show you for evening games. There are no stronger teams playing here in Greater Boston than the following and they will appear here in the order named: the St. John's Catholic Club, Beacon C. Company, the regular Riverston of Cambridge and the James S. Hayes Company of Dorchester, the last named played a 2 to 2 tie with the Cornels of Lynn last week.

The big storms of Saturday morning and Sunday night flooded the basement of the Town Hall, the water entering through a drain and filling the offices of the Superintendent of Streets and the Inspector of Buildings to the extent of four feet. The volume of water which flowed down from the side hill was too great to be cared for by the drains, the pressure forcing it back into the basement.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

The Hero and the White Hat

By KATE EDMONDS.

"Now, it's stupid enough around these summer places," jested Perry Gray. "I believe I'll take the little red car out again and see if I can't blow the blues out of my disposition. Wash I was back at the office with the sympathy of the tricker tape in my ears." He sighed profoundly, summoned around to the garage, ran his hand over into the perfect highway and stepped. "Wonder which way I'll go—guess I'll let the wind blow me whither it will." He glanced at a weather-vane and swung the car to the south, "now for my adventure—the hero, of course, and—". He stopped upon a sudden, as a big car shot around a curve without warning, and swept on toward the hotel he had just left. The car seemed to be full of women in summery frocks and hats, but its speed prevented recognition.

As it flew past him something white and filmy floated out behind, hovered over Perry's blond head and then settled like a great white moth over his face. He was conscious of fragrance of flower gardens and perfumes of Araby, as he detached the hat from his face and surveyed the lovely creature of gorgeous ermine and tiny flowers. "Forget-me-nots," he murmured for himself. "Take it back? Not yet!" Perry talked to himself or to his car, which he called "Lizzie".

It was such an extensive, light-colored car that if you could have understood Perry's nickname for it the little gray racer would have simply poured itself on the hind wheels and run over its owner in sheer disgust.

Perry moved down the mountain side and then back again, and somehow his blues vanished forever that day. But it was later in the day.

He happened to be on time for luncheon and was the first one in the hotel restaurant. There was not one girl there who ought to belong to that fluffy white hat.

With the White Hat Perched on Her Pretty Head.

His sister Nan worried him. "What's the matter Perry, child?" she mocked. "Have you been lonely today?"

"Good company," he retorted.

"Who?" She was curious. Perry did know such fascinating men.

"Myself," oddly.

"Don't wonder you look grumpy," said her sister slyly.

"Where's mother?"

"Lunching upstairs. Mrs. Ripley came today. She was tired."

"I like her. Thought she was going to bring her child," said Perry, choosing his dessert.

"She did."

"Must be a horror if she can't bring it down here to eat?"

"Perry Gray, you are too shock-ling!"

"Well, it's the truth. Children are too messy for words."

"Gertrude is a dear," and there was a naughty twinkle in Nan's lovely eyes.

Perry yawned. "Want to play tennis?"

"Can't—got to amuse Gertrude."

"Mother—say, Nan," in a coaxing tone. "Do you know any girl who wears a white hat?"

Nan stared. "Dozens?"

"Well, this is a very white hat—I mean its extraordinarily pretty—all sorts of little blue flowers you know—'periwinkles' with marigolds as accents. 'Yes, periwinkles—little bunches of 'em—smells like a garden—honest, it does!'"

"Perry! Where did you find that hat?" she gasped.

"I found me," he chuckled. "Tell me who owns it and I'll confess."

"I don't tell you."

"I'll find out—I'm going to marry the girl who owns it."

Nan laughed hysterically. "Suppose I told you it was worn by the Ripley infant?"

"It was" the light died out of Perry's face. Heart-whole as he was, he had built up a romance from the coming of the "white moth" as he called the pretty foolish hat. "Well, her mother ought to have more sense than to put such a hat on a child's head. No wonder I loved it."

They were mounting the stairs now, and at the top they met Mrs. Gray. "Have you found the hat, Nan?" she asked.

"I know where it is," said Nan, quickly and, flying past her brother, she slipped into his room and came out with the white hat perched on her pretty head.

"Perry find it?" asked his mother.

"Yes," admitted Perry, feeling rather that "Guess I'll go out and find some one to play a son with me. Do I think you see the Ripley infant?" he pleaded.

Mrs. Gray laughed. "Don't mind me, Perry—you are so foolish."

Perry, in white flannels, was leaning in the air when he saw the white hat coming across the lawn. Nan was wearing it, but Perry saw; saw the hat of the woman. He was looking at the other girl—such a charming slip of a girl, with red hair and hazel eyes. She wore a blue dress and in blue hat covered with little blue flowers. By the time Perry had seen all this his feet had touched the ground again, and he hurried his coat by walking right off the steps to meet his sister.

"I'm going to marry her," Perry said to himself, as Nan introduced him. "This is my brother Perry. Gertrude—remember Gertrude Ripley, don't you, Perry?"

Perry blushed as he bent over her cool little hand. "I couldn't forget," he said warmly, then he added confidentially: "Do you mind telling me what kind of flowers those are, Miss Ripley?"

She laughed and glanced at Nan. "Periwinkles."

Perry sighed. "Forget-me-nots or periwinkles, it matters not—they all mean the same thing to me" and no one but Perry understood what he meant until their wedding day, when he told Gertrude all about it. But Gertrude didn't seem to understand what he meant, even then.

"You have talked about forget-me-nots and white hats and periwinkles," she said a little jealously, "and I don't know what you mean, Perry."

Perry smiled feebly. "On the day I met you—you passed me in a carload of girls and your blue hat—your white hat blew into my face and I said I was going to marry the girl who owned the hat."

Gertrude smiled complacently, but perhaps there was a tiny twinkle in her eye. "That was mother's hat—and I wasn't in the car at all."

"Nan said it was her hat," cried the bewitched bridegroom.

"It was," said his lovely wife. "Mother had just given it to her. Really, Perry, mother is a widow and, that's enough for me."

"That or no hat," interrupted Perry, kissing his bride. "I'm safely married to the only girl I could ever love, and that's enough for me."

WHY THE "KEYSTONE STATE"

Two Explanations for Appellation of Which All Pennsylvanians Are Extremely Proud.

There have been several theories advanced as to the manner in which the appellation "Keystone State" was first applied to Pennsylvania. The one most generally accepted, and most dear to Pennsylvanians, is that Pennsylvania decided the great issue of American Independence. This occurred at the meeting of the Continental congress at Philadelphia, July 4, 1776, when the vote of adopting the Declaration of Independence was taken by the states. Of the thirteen original states, six had already voted in the affirmative and six in the negative, but when the delegation from Pennsylvania came in, John Morton cast the deciding vote in the affirmative. Thus Pennsylvania by her vote decided the great issue, and was named the "Keystone State."

Another reason advanced is, that in constructing a bridge between Pennsylvania and Georgetown, Washington, D. C., a single arch was erected of stones left from building the walls of the capitol. On the 13 "voussoirs," or arch-stones, the names of the 13 states were engraved. The name of Pennsylvania lay in the keystone of the arch, and the state became still more widely known as the "Keystone State."

Wrote His News in Verse.

The most amusing and original newspaper ever printed was the "Blue Horseman," of Jacques Lory, which for fifteen years from 1850 to 1905, was issued weekly in Paris. It was written entirely in rhyme, but undertook to cover all the local news of the French class of subjects being dealt with in verse, some of which is said to have been very good.

Loret was his own reporter, going about the city for news and welcome, although doubtless sometimes feared, by all classes of society. His prolonged and excellent performance has been pronounced unique in the history of journalism.

It's Easier.

"My boy graduates from college this year, and I expect to take him into the office with me."

"You'll start him at the bottom and let him work up, I suppose."

"No, I think I'll start him at the top and let him work down."—New York Sun.

DEMAND FOR PLAYING-CARDS

Manufacturers Report a Tremendous Increase in Their Use, Mostlly in Private Families.

There has been a tremendous increase in the use of playing cards in private families within the last 20 years in this country, the representative of a big American card manufacturer during house says in the New York Times. It may seem strange, but it is the private family that does most of the using of cards. The proportion of playing cards used in the big clubs is small. There is an average of from two to three hundred of playing cards per family each year in the United States. It is estimated, which is a big percentage of the total.

Men's clubs also use the higher priced cards, which are sold at prices varying, according to the club, from $1 to $1.50 or $2 per pack. The government tax on cards since 1917, which was raised last year to 8 cents per pack, with increased cost of production, has practically driven the cheaper cards out of the market, and business has gone to the higher grades, which retail at from 20 to 75 cents. The increased playing of bridge has brought into three hundred of cards, which is more graceful in shape, smaller and a little less bulky.

The bulk of the cards sold have a simple standard design for the back. Among these are the ones with the finest engraved or "blanketed" back, engraved with the lighthouse design. These come in the four colors and now have a lighthouse face.

GREAT VICTORY FOR SCIENCE

Cure Said to Be Assured for the World's Greatest Scourge, the Plague of Leprosy.

The news from Hawaii indicates that science has at last found the cure and systematic way to the cure of this world's most appalling disease. Of the 112 former lepers who have been paroled from the Kala hospital in the last two years none has been sent back.

It is peculiar that the plague which has troubled the world at least since centuries, and probably much longer, should eventually be controlled by one of the oldest remedies ever used for it. To modern science is due the discovery of the bacillus of leprosy, but its cure is accomplished with refined chaulmoogra oil, the essence of an Indian plant, which has been used by lepers in the East for centuries. Science has turned on native practice not only in the oil but in its application.

To a world which has 200,000 lepers the success of the doctors at Kala is heartening. In China, when leprosy first came, can set about the cure of her 200,000 lepers. Japan 20,000. And the United States has had a big leper problem which the developments in Hawaii should soon solve. While the cases of leprosy in the continental United States are few—perhaps not 300—we have thousands of lepers in our island possessions, particularly the Philippines. Now that the way is clear our medical service can go about their work as it has proceeded in Hawaii.

The Home-Run Thrill.

A baseball fan writes to his favorite paper to protest against the undeserved honors heaped upon the "Smuggler." Why, he asks, should a home-run batter be lionized above a fast runner, who uses both feet and brains, or a smart pitcher, who uses both brains and arms?

The answer is easy. The home run is the limit of accomplishment in batting. There is, there can be, nothing bigger. When it comes with the bases full it is catastrophic, and there is enough of the savage in all of us to follow in catastrophes that leave us uncombed. In some this subconscious impulse shows itself in fomenting political revolution. Such people would like to see a universal smashup, the world turned inside out, just to see what it would be like afterward.

In the baseball devotee the home-run with the bases full satisfies this craving. So far as that particular game is concerned, the home-run is the crack of doom.—New Bedford Standard.

Honors for War Birds.

In France many places have been decorated for distinguished war services; one with the Legion d'Honneur. Diplomas with the citations were issued and kept at the headquarters of the French police service, and became prizes rather than medals on their breasts, special honors, with the colors of the decoration, were made for their legs. A bird which will go down in French history just as surely as Field Marshall Foch himself, is the one which carried from Vaux to Verdun the last message for help sent by the Commandant Raynal before the Germans captured the fort. This pigeon flew through a hail of fire and a gas barrage, and was wounded and gassed, dropped dead as it delivered its message. It was awarded the Legion d'Honneur.

Find Old Indian Canoe.

An old Indian canoe, apparently hewn out of an immense log, was found in the middle of the Williamstown of Wright's wharf, between Seaford and the "Ferry" some ground, about three miles below. The canoe is in a fair state of preservation. It was presumably used by the Nanticoke tribe, which inhabited this peninsula more than 100 years ago—Baltimore American.

IT'S JUST CHATEAU THIERRY

World-Famous Village Apparently Is Unaware of Its Immense Historic Importance.

Chateau Thierry has patched its roots, plastered its chimney's, painted its shutters and decided to forget the war. At first every villager dreamed of making his fortune as a tourist guide. They are all back now at their old trades. It is only the good house wife who still pays attention to tourists, and then only to think black thoughts of the dirt raised by the rubber neck cars that plunge without a stop through the village streets.

Over the bridge, our famous bridge, that crosses the Marne come the jolting market carts filled with baskets and cushions going to the farm lands at the foot of Bellou Wood. There is a little dot of greenery just out of the gray wood structure that now spans the Marne, and the peasants tell you that they cannot imagine why the soldiers did not build a wide enough to let two cars pass each other.

In the Cafe des Maronniers they talk no more of the war. Instead one hears only the little gossip that the river bank have picked up. Chateau Thierry is no place for the sentimental who has imagined the scenes of war would live forever in awe of its memories.

A walk through the streets reveals few marks of either the German or the American occupation. In a field on the outskirts stands the skeleton of a "tin lizzie" that once did automobile service. On the door-frames of several houses one can still read the billeting officers' stenographs telling how many soldiers each house would accommodate. In one instance the owner has positively left unimpaired a square around these sacred numbers as a delicate tribute to his departed guests.—George F. Kenney in the American Legion Weekly.

EPH HAD NOTHING TO SAY

Absent-Minded Man Didn't Wait to Make Explanation of Somewhat Laughable Situation.

Old Ephraim Davis had the reputation of being the most absent-minded man in Chelmsford county. One day he went to 8—on various matters of business. At the tailor's he bought a new suit, which he donned, looking at his old one he wrapped up. He directed an to the bank and purchased bonds of considerable value and placed them in the breast pocket of his new suit. After doing several other errands he drove leisurely home. Some time afterward he went to get the bonds from the pocket of his old suit. Naturally, he did not find them there. Greatly perturbed, he put on his new suit and set off for 8—.

There he went immediately to the bank.

"I bought some bonds here the other day," he began in his drawling voice, "and I put them right in this here pocket." His hand went up to his coat. At a sudden rustling there ensued an expression indicative in its mixture of shamefacedness and relief came into the wrinkled countenance. "And, by gosh, here they be!"

Without another word he turned on his heel and walked out, leaving the bank employees convulsed with laughter.—Youth's Companion.

Her Business.

Judge T. J. Moll of Superior court, room 5, sometimes tells a story which runs like this:

In one of the courts in southern Indiana a woman was on trial for the unlawful practice of sorcery. She was being questioned by the prosecution, but her occupation made her sufficiently adept in repartee to effect any humiliating evidence which she might have thrown on herself by a committed answer. Finally the judge became irate and shot this question to her point blank:

"Are you or are you not a sorceress?"

And just as quickly came back the answer:

"Your honor, that's my business."

The judge was on the point of sentencing her for contempt when he realized that she had given a perfectly civil answer.—Indianapolis News.

Britain's Great Sailor.

An admiral's sword, which had been surrendered to Nelson by the Spanish admiral on board the San Josef after the battle of St. Vincent, has just been sold for about $25. The sword was worth more money to Nelson, and to Great Britain. For this victory of 1797 is of peculiar significance in Britain's naval history, in that it first gave the full capacity of Nelson—already well known in the navy—to all his countrymen, and led to his appointment as rear admiral. In this action, when the Spaniards seemed likely to escape, Nelson, without waiting for orders, threw his ship, the Captain, across their bows, a movement which led to their complete defeat. Nelson received the sword of the Spanish officers on the deck of the San Josef and became at once a popular figure.

New Idea in Jelly-Making.

In the jelly-making process patented by M. O. Johnson, fruit juice is concentrated by freezing up a portion of its water, and is then heated to a temperature high enough to cause the suspended matter, though not hot enough to impair the flavor. After separation of coagulated matter, the juice is sterilized by heating to a temperature below that employed for coagulation, then jellyified after sugar has been added. Sugar added before coagulation may give better clarification.

BELONGED TO MEDICI FAMILY

Well-Known Pawnbrokers' Sign Once the Heraldic Device of House Famous in History.

During the Middle Ages the Lombards made a practice of lending money at interest. The Medici family was the first to turn the practice into a profession.

Many years before, Alessandro Medici, a commander who served with distinction under Charles VIII of France, killed the giant Gargano, whose club held three iron balls attached to it in order that it might be a more effective weapon. For this reason the family of the Medici adopted the three balls, which, as the heraldic device on their coat-of-arms, and the appearance of this insignia soon came to be recognized as a symbol for money-lending.

Incidentally, the name of the Medici family has been further perpetuated through the word "meddling," a tribute to the skill of the members of this house in the art of lending.

NEEDED COURSE IN WISDOM

In Ancient Days It Was Well Recognized That the Young Required Proper Instruction.

Instruction of the young by the old was not out of date when "The Wisdom Books" were written, according to Dr. Josiah H. Pentimmon, acting provost of the University of Pennsylvania.

"The people who wrote the Bible were very human," Dr. Pentimmon said, "and he illustrated this with many passages from the Scriptures. The book of wisdom told the people what to do, and most of the people followed it." Dr. Pentimmon said, "There were just many more of these wisdom books, and probably the average has been neglected."

Among Dr. Pentimmon's teachings were the following:

"They offered money to Job when they knew he did not need it."

"To secure your son will find you out," he quoted, and he added, "You know perfectly well a lot of your sons will find you out."

"The tongue has always been one of the greatest misdeeds makers, as witness 'there is no misdeed so common as to tell lies.'"

"I need not explain the fact which with the eye-faithful cannot see."

"Said staff was aptly used in olden days, for Delilah and Samson. I don't last to add into the world's history, but not into mine."

Dr. Pentimmon declared Job was the most ardent of the wisdom books, and in some respects of all the books of the Bible.

WAS CENTER OF INTEREST

Student Took Unwittingly Furnished Amusement for a Large Number of People.

While I was a student in college I think I amused the largest number of people. It was over my fortune to entertain one and the same time. I knew I came nearer to wishing to vanish off the face of the earth at that moment than ever before or since.

The morning schedule in this college consisted of four periods for recitations with five minute periods of intermission between classes. All classes were dismissed after the first period, and to classrooms at the same time by a small bell operated exactly like the ordinary doorbell. This bell was installed in the entrance hall of the building, where most of the students congregated during intermissions.

For the convenience of the students a telephone was likewise placed in this hall. One morning the usual crowd of students was gathered in the hall, waiting for the signal to call them back into classes. When it came, mistaking it for a telephone call, I hastily picked up the receiver and called "Hello!" No answer—so I repeated my "Hello!" louder.

By this time I had the attention of most of the students—they stopped their chattering and were intent on watching me walk up. It was a rude awakening. Exchanges.

With Remarks From The General.

While I was a lieutenant in the army at a western training camp we had a parade and divisional review before a well-known general, and I invited some girls to see it. We were marching along in a column of fours with another company on each side of us. We were to keep on this march with us in front of the column, when we were to turn left and go forward, the command to be "Spigals left." I must have been excited, for I shouted "Spigals right," and, like good soldiers, my company obeyed. There was great confusion, of course. The general saw it all and sent an orderly to get me. When I confronted him I received some cutting comment. During the most heated part of his lecture I saw my friends standing at the fence not five feet away, taking it all in—Chicago Tribune.

Bismarck's Capital Park.

Bismarck, the unique of North Dakota, is to be commemorated upon its plans for the construction of a historical park, adjacent to the state house. It is proposed to employ 15 acres, a feature being a replica of a Mandan Indian village of several days, with other appropriate historical elements. This is an exceedingly commendable idea and its originator is to be felicitated upon it. In various museums, Indian relics are preserved, but nothing is recorded which is comparable to the village symposium carried out as proposed.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Fads Hygienic Necessity.

As Walter Dill Scott suggests, every business youth, on becoming his or her business life, should adopt an avocation, a fad, some outside interest, only less absorbing than his business, and should continuously cultivate it as a fad, a hobby, a social grace to his business. Provided this fad or businesslike interest be one not too narrow and one not too difficult and fatiguing, the recipe is fundamentally an important one for this matter of business hours as well as for personal hygiene in general.—G. V. N. Dearborn, M. D., in the Scientific American Monthly.

RAILWAY INQUIRY IN WASHINGTON

Excessive Labor Costs and Working Conditions Chief Causes of Trouble.

NO CONTROL OVER EXPENSE

Prices and Wages Fixed by Government Leave Little Scope for Managements.

Washington, D. C., in testifying before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce in the general investigation into the railroad situation, witnesses for the railroads contended that:

(1) The cost of operation are abnormal, and, chiefly to wage scales established by the government, which exceed wages paid for similar work in other industries and to wasteful labor costs, often for work not done, enforced upon the railroads by the so-called "National Agreements."

(2) That 1919 cost out of every dollar of operating expenses in 1920 were in excess of 100 percent, and the government, by controlling the railroads, has no control.

(3) That the general business depression was not due to the high freight rates, but to the lack of buying power and credit.

One of the most striking facts brought out in the testimony presented by the first witness, Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Railway, was the following: In explanation of the chief reason for the increase in operating expenses since 1910:

"The labor bill of the carriers in 1910 (which was before the Adamson law) was $1,400,000,000."

In 1920 it was $2,229,315,081, an increase of $829,315,081."

"The increase by years since 1910 has been as follows:

Increase in 1911.....$270,905,748

Increase in 1912.....$221,221,000

Increase in 1913.....$229,315,081

Increase in 1914.....$229,315,081

or an aggregate increase since 1910 of.....$2,229,315,081

Exhibits were placed before the committee showing that for the railroads of the whole country, increased expenses in 1920 over 1919 were as follows:

Actual expenses for 1920.....$6,163,138,341

Actual expenses for 1919.....4,667,774,121

Inc. for 1920 over 1919.....$1,495,364,220

Mr. Kruttschnitt, in showing how little control the railroads had over necessary expenditures, said:

"Sixty-four cents out of every dollar of operating expenses, were, in 1920, paid out to labor, and the wages of labor are fixed by the government."

"The remainder, up to 97 1/2 cents, was for materials and supplies, purchased at prices fixed by general market conditions and beyond the power of the railroads to control."

"The direct labor costs were increased by the 'National Agreements' entered into during federal control, fixing rates and working conditions. The following examples were cited:

1. The Erie Railroad's labor costs were increased by 100 percent in each year for four years because their rates were not increased. The Erie Railroad was a victim of the government's policy of fixing rates and working conditions.

2. The New York Central Railroad's labor costs were increased by 100 percent in each year for four years because their rates were not increased. The New York Central Railroad was a victim of the government's policy of fixing rates and working conditions.

3. The Pennsylvania Railroad's labor costs were increased by 100 percent in each year for four years because their rates were not increased. The Pennsylvania Railroad was a victim of the government's policy of fixing rates and working conditions.

4. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's labor costs were increased by 100 percent in each year for four years because their rates were not increased. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was a victim of the government's policy of fixing rates and working conditions.

5. The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad's labor costs were increased by 100 percent in each year for four years because their rates were not increased. The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad was a victim of the government's policy of fixing rates and working conditions.

6. The Washington and Annapolis Railroad's labor costs were increased by 100 percent in each year for four years because their rates were not increased. The Washington and Annapolis Railroad was a victim of the government's policy of fixing rates and working conditions.

7. The Potomac and Annapolis Railroad's labor costs were increased by 100 percent in each year for four years because their rates were not increased. The Potomac and Annapolis Railroad was a victim of the government's policy of fixing rates and working conditions.

8. The Capital and Annapolis Railroad's labor costs were increased by 100 percent in each year for four years because their rates were not increased. The Capital and Annapolis Railroad was a victim of the government's policy of fixing rates and working conditions.

PREFERRED TO GO UNTAUGHT

Rather Than Learn Hated Language of the Magyars, the Slovaks Remained Illiterate.

Slovak stupidity was as deliberate as the sturdy determination of the Czechs. Forced by the Magyars to learn a hated tongue or go untaught, the Slovaks chose the latter course; hence he is largely illiterate today, his ignorance a tribute to his sense of freedom, one of their number explained it to me in the cafe of a mountain village, he saw me sitting alone and his first sentence explained why he came over to speak to me.

"You are lonely, I think," he said. And we sat there, in the small cafe, he told me how, rather than submit to Magyarization under the Hapsburg regime, he refused to study till the day when his fond dream came true and he set out for America.

After his arrival in the United States he went to night school, and, judging from the quality of his English, he profited well from the privilege.

Suddenly forced me to learn English, he explained: "I did it because I wanted to. English is a very practical language, and I wanted to be an American through and through, so I worked hard at night school. I got my first papers all right, and then I came back for a visit. Then came the war, and I had to stay."

His timber is legion and he is making the most of the atmosphere of Slovakia—National Geographic Magazine.

Say It With Flowers

George M. Cohan's Comedians in the musical comedy, "The O'Brien Girl," has for the past eleven weeks been establishing records for popularity that have never before been approached. The show has proved to be of the quality that provides perfect entertainment always of the cleanest and cheeriest kind. There is always present the evidence of the magic of George M. Cohan's art in staging, an art that reveals itself in a bubbling swiftness of action and breezy fun.

"The O'Brien Girl" has been called the musical sister of "Mary" last summer's great show sensation, and that it is worthy of that honor is revealed by the fact that even the remarkable prosperity enjoyed last summer by the Cohan show has been exceeded by this season's offering. No matter how the weather has been, for outdoor amusements, so powerful is the magnetism of "The O'Brien Girl" that full houses have been drawn in unflinching succession. This is the best testimony of the show's quality.

Next Monday night will be especially observed by the bestowal upon the girl with the prettiest smile of the Cohan diamond ring, and Mr. Cohan will be present to give it to the winner on that evening, the presentation taking place between the first and second acts. It will also be observed as "O'Brien Night," for on that evening a great number of Boston O'Briens will attend in a body.

There never was a musical comedy with such a brilliant array of star players to enact the roles as this attraction can boast. The protagonists of music, fun and dance in "The O'Brien Girl" are of first eminence, and thus the performance is marked with infrequent liveliness and cheerful humor so that the audience obtains the maximum pleasure from attendance.

Out of town theatregoers may be assured of perfect attention to mail orders. The matinees are on Wednesday and Saturdays and are popular priced.

Brown Reflectors

APPROVED BY THE REGISTRAR OF MOTOR VEHICLES OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

After August 15, 1921, every motor vehicle operating in the State of Massachusetts must be equipped with an approved headlight device. BROWN REFLECTORS are second on the list published by the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

BROWN REFLECTORS do not cut off any of the light such as a lens device must do to eliminate the glare. A plain glass lens is used with them. They are so constructed that they keep all the light on the road.

The light obtained not only fulfills the requirements of law as to distance and absence of glare but has, in addition, a side light of such brilliancy that the gutter, the sidewalk, and the fence are clearly illuminated on the darkest night.

This feature has earned for BROWN REFLECTORS the name of ROAD WIDE LIGHT.

Demonstrations arranged on request.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

On Tuesday morning at 12:20 a Ford touring car overturned on Main street in the car tracks near Sheridan Circle. The driver, Edward P. Kelly, of Woburn, was treated by Dr. Cutter for bad cuts and bruises and taken to his home. Two passengers, J. Peppi and Hugh McElhinney, both of Woburn, were taken to the Woburn Hospital badly injured. The car was owned by Martin J. Wells of Woburn.

Keeping garments new by our service means more than mere cleaning. HALLANDAYS, 17 Church st.

Mr. Daniel Kelley of the Kelley & Hawes Co. celebrated his 43d anniversary in the livery business in this town on Tuesday. On the 12th day of July, 43 years ago, he walked from Woburn to Winchester and got a job with the Wiggs, who at that time conducted the livery stable of the town. He remained with that firm and eventually bought out the business, continuing it to the present day.

Two cows and a calf owned by Mr. E. Arthur Tuttle got loose Monday night and took a walk down Cabot street, much to the consternation of residents there. They were captured up by police officer William Cassidy assisted by Mr. N. M. Nichols, and returned to their stable.

FUNERAL OF MR. WALTER S. WADSWORTH

Funeral services for the late Walter S. Wadsworth, former treasurer for the Winchester Cooper-ative Bank, who died last Friday morning, were held at the residence on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock attended by a large gathering of friends and business associates. The services were conducted by Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church.

Among those who attended were delegates from Star of Bethlehem Lodge, and William Parkman, Lodi, and A. E. & A. M., the Winchester Co-operative Bank, the Calumet Club, Rufus Frost General Hospital, Chelsea, of which the deceased was a former president, and the Hospital A. D. Society of Chelsea.

The pall bearers included the three brothers-in-law of the deceased, Mr. Gilman Hall, Dr. Herbert R. Moody and Mr. Allan Burns of New York, and Mr. Waldo E. Pratt of New York. Mr. Fred L. Avery and Mr. Andrew T. Hunnewell of this town.

The remains were interred in Woodlawn Cemetery, Chelsea, where prayers were held at the grave.

METHODISTS MOVE FURNISHINGS

On Saturday the Methodists moved their church furnishings from the property on M. Vernon street. Their church building and land was recently sold to the Winchester Landmarks, Inc., and under the agreement they were to vacate the premises June 1st.

The proceeds from the church were purchased by the Second Baptist Church, which is for use in their building on Cross street, that society recently acquiring the old Washington school house from the town.

Waterbury Hall has been secured by the Methodists as a temporary place in which to worship and work, and the services of the society there will commence Sunday, Sept. 4.

Because of the crowded condition of things for the Methodists, the First Baptist Society has offered their church for the next three Sunday morning meetings. The offer has been accepted, and the services for which the Methodists are directly responsible will be held, as have the last three, in the First Baptist Church.

The preacher for next Sunday will be Rev. Homer E. Wark of Kansas. Mr. Garvin B. Wallron will be the tenor soloist.

It is planned to leave Winchester centre at 8 o'clock sharp Wednesday morning. Upon arrival at Cambridge, the first attraction will be the baseball game between the teams captained by Messrs. Frank L. Drummond and J. Chris. Sullivan. Both captains are carefully guarding their lineup, but as no importations will be made, anyone is privileged to name the list of aspirants for diamond honors. If nine men are selected for the contest think they are superior to the winning team, the question is to be settled immediately after the "big game."

The sports are also to take place before lunch, thus giving all a chance to rest up well after the excellent dinner which is anticipated. As announced in our last issue, the sports provide a program of interest to young and old, fat and lean, married and single, the committee desiring to please all of the people. Valuable and attractive prizes are to be awarded for winners in each of the 14 events in both first and second places.

It is reported that the amusements at Cambridge are the best this resort has ever provided. The bowling alleys are said to be in excellent shape and several matches have been already arranged. A boat race is also said to be a feature that is to be pulled off, one of our younger merchants having just returned from cleaning up all competition at a well known resort and desiring to create the title of champion of Winchester.

The report that there is to be an automobile race on the way down, is wholly without foundation, and officers of the outing are credited with the statement that if any one of the three cars said to be concerned in the race, or any others for that matter, are found to be travelling at unreasonable speed the drivers will be reported without notice to Registrar Goodwin of the Highway Commission. The management is determined that all cars shall travel at a moderate rate.

Tickets for the outing are priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. They may be obtained until the supply is exhausted at any of the local stores in the centre. If tickets are out at the store you apply at, try another or notify the Star office.

Winchester Public Library

At a meeting of the Local Library Group held recently in the Library Mr. Ralph T. Hale of Lloyd street, gave a very interesting talk about the Medici Prints and exhibited some beautiful reproductions of famous paintings.

Fourteen were present including librarians from Arlington and Woburn. A very profitable meeting much enjoyed by all.

Work on National Bank begun

Work was begun this week on making additions to the quarters of the Winchester National Bank in the Lane Building. F. C. Alexander of this town has the work in charge, his first step being to dismantle the store adjoining the banking quarters present bank. It is expected that the work will occupy the next two months, the bank being established in its larger quarters about October first.

Housewives should take notice that next Wednesday is to be observed in Winchester as Traders' Day. On this day all stores in Winchester will be closed. Aid the merchants by making your purchases early in the week.

Handicap vs PAR

Saturday's play at the Winchester Country Club brought out a field of 50 players, the event being won by Thomas I. Freeburn, 1 down. Three-quarters handicap was deducted.

The results:

T. I. Freeburn ..... 1 down

F. E. Skeetop ..... 3 down

B. K. Stephenson ..... 8 down

R. L. Smith ..... 8 down

F. R. Glidden ..... 8 down

H. V. Hovey ..... 10 down

G. F. Freeman ..... 11 down

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Davidson announced the engagement this week of their daughter, Ruth Elizabeth, to Mr. Carroll Strlman Hilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Hilton, 3 Stratford Road.

TRADERS' OUTING

Everyone to Cambridge Lake Next Wednesday

Next Wednesday will be a day in which to show and show off. The entire day will be closed and a Sunday quiet will be observed. Not so, however, at Cambridge Lake, Salem, N. H. for at that place will be found the entire business portion of our population, together with as many more of their friends, wives and families, all assembled for the annual outing of the Winchester Board of Trade.

Already close to ten tickets have been sold, and the demand continues, the committee in charge now making preparations to provide additional tickets to accommodate all who intend attending the outing. While it is anticipated that the bulk of the attendance will make the trip in their own or their friends' cars, the transportation committee has lined up ample transportation facilities to care for all.

It is planned to leave Winchester centre at 8 o'clock sharp Wednesday morning. Upon arrival at Cambridge, the first attraction will be the baseball game between the teams captained by Messrs. Frank L. Drummond and J. Chris. Sullivan. Both captains are carefully guarding their lineup, but as no importations will be made, anyone is privileged to name the list of aspirants for diamond honors. ## BASEBALL

By "Mack"

Winchester A. A. the new twilight team, meet the Stone Woburn Legion Team, Tuesday night before a big crowd and won the game 2 to 0. The crowd went wild with excitement and the rooting could be heard all over town. Many people enquiring the next morning about the cheering. We have a team playing twilight ball, equally as strong as the Town Team and we are bringing here just as strong opposition and some of the teams that are coming are considered in the class among semi-pro teams in Greater Boston. The Woburn Legion Team will no where meet a stronger lineup than the players against.

The Woburn Legion team with no where near as strong a lineup as they played against us, beat Wakefield 6 to 1 and you fans saw what Wakefield did to Winchester. Tonight the Beacon Oil Co. of Everett, a team that has won 11 straight games will be here against the local team. This team 2 weeks ago beat the Baysides of Nantasket which had not dropped a game in 3 seasons. The game will start at 6:30 sharp and Geo. LeDuc will umpire.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Hammond Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Hammond of 30 Mt. Pleasant street observed their golden wedding anniversary on Monday by holding a reception to be at the home of their friends. Flavored by the summer weather and the use of the attractive grounds of their hillside estate, the afternoon proved a most fitting observance of fifty years of happy married life. Guests were present from many surrounding places, and the couple were the recipients of many beautiful flowers, they having asked their guests to omit the other gifts the occasion warranted.

The reception was informal. The lawn and porch were decorated with summer flowers, and the refreshments were served in a large tent, convenient seats placed about the grounds making the out-of-doors feature most inviting.

During the afternoon Mr. Hammond was presented with a fine silver loving cup by the members of Goss-berg Post 191, G. A. R., of which he has been commander for the past nine years. The presentation was made by Mrs. H. B. Whittier of Brookline, and after Mr. Hammond had accepted the gift and it had been filled with punch, he received a great ovation when he recited The Old Canteen. An original poem was read by Mr. John K. Berry of Cambridge and selections were sung by Mr. Augustus Arnold of Boston, a tenor prominent in the Hub's musical circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammond were married in Boston July 17, 1871, the anniversary observed on Monday falling on the day before Sunday. Their wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. D. M. Reeves, pastor of the Bowdoin Square Baptist Church of Boston. Mrs. Hammond was Miss Josephine E. Kemp, youngest daughter of the late Hiram A. Kemp. The couple have made their home in Winchester for the past 40 years.

Mr. Hammond retired from business a year ago last May, he being the head of the firm of Edward A. Hammond, manufacturing stationery, at 294 Devonshire street, Boston. He served three years in the Civil War with Co. A, 38th Mass. Inf. He was made a Corporal at Alexandria, La. At the close of the war he joined the Boston Light Infantry, and was First Lieutenant at Co. 4th Battalion, at the time he resigned. He is a life member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Association and for the past nine years has been Commander of Gettysburg Post 191, G. A. R. 14 members of the Post attending the reception.

NASH GETS JUDGESHIP

Governor Channing Cox sent yesterday to the executive council the nomination of Mr. Curtis W. Nash of Myrtle street to be special justice of the 4th Middlesex District Court of Woburn, thereby filling the vacancy caused by the recent resignation of Judge George S. Littlefield.

Mr. Nash is a Winchester boy, 37 years of age, and although born in Melford, has passed most of his life here. He is a graduate of Tufts College, '06, and of Harvard Law School, '10, and has practiced law both here and in Boston for a number of years, his offices being at 15 Tremont street. For a number of years he has been identified with the Winchester Co-operative Bank, is a member of the Calumet Club, William Parkman Lodge and is secretary of the Laymen's League of the Unitarian church.

FIREWORKS THE 13TH

As announced in last week's Star the Italian residents of this town are going forward with plans which will make their annual observance of the Feast of the Assumption this year the best ever held here. The day falls on Saturday, August 13th.

Contributions will be welcomed by the committee from any resident, those in charge being headed by Frank Gigliotti and including James V. Barbaro, Ugo Ralli, Raffaele Del Lago, Marcelino Ficoletti, Vincenzo Giogliotti, Baldassaro Asaro, Enrico Fiore, Gaetano Comita and Frank Dattilo.

During the afternoon a big parade is planned, being routed through the Italian section of the town. The music will be as usual be a feature, and the local committee is determined that this year's music will be even better than that of preceding celebrations. Concerts are to be given on Manchester Field from six to seven and eight to nine o'clock.

The display of fireworks in the evening, opening at nine o'clock, is always unequalled and draws a large crowd. This year's display is to be even better than its predecessors.

Do you read the STAR ADS THEY PAY WHY NOT TRY ONE?

URGENT APPEAL BY THE RED CROSS

Through the courtesy of the Board of Health and the Health Nurse, garments and materials may be left at the Health Center, every day between three and four o'clock.

The need for clothing for children of Central Europe is far greater than was known when you were informed of the present production program. Later estimates forwarded from our officials overseas double this former estimate. Almost no textiles are being shipped overseas and the people have little money with which to purchase clothing.

Because of this situation the American Friends Service Committee and the American Red Cross have decided to work together in providing garments, and the Curtis publications, The Saturday Evening Post, The Ladies' Home Journal, The Literary Digest, and The Country Gentleman have agreed to cooperate by telling the public about the need in Central Europe and what they can do with their surplus clothing that is in good condition, and which they are willing to give. Articles in these magazines will point out that this is a joint appeal by the two organizations for the people of Central Europe. It will give an indication of the kind of goods wanted and specify that only goods worth the freight charges will be accepted. It will ask for all kinds of warm and serviceable clothing that must be clean and whole, and materials out of which to make garments.

It will carry the single and very simple instructions which the prospective donor is to get in touch with the nearest Red Cross Chapter, Branch or representative.

The American Red Cross, through the Child Welfare Units and other distribution machinery, is reaching the people of Czechoslovakia, Austria, Hungary, Poland, the Balkan and Baltic States. The American Friends Service Committee is distributing in Poland, Austria, Germany and Russia. The two organizations cooperate closely in the countries in which both are active and are careful to avoid duplication of effort.

CREW DAY STARTED

Notice was issued to members of the Winchester Boat Club yesterday that "Crew Day" would be instituted at the club beginning July 24th. The object is to furnish all members an opportunity to enjoy this sport and to develop material for junior and senior crews. There will be paddling for tandems, fours and war canoe. The swimming float for club members will be anchored in deep water off the club this week.

BASE BALL TOMORROW

Winchester meets the Standish Club of Dorchester tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 on Manchester Field. This team has appeared here in past seasons and has always given a good account of itself, and a fast game is anticipated.

GARDEN NEWS STORY

Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture
Home Economics
SUBJECT—Preparation of the Gard.

SUBJECT—CULTIVATION

In spite of all that is said and written about the importance of frequent cultivation, 75% of the backyard gardens in Middlesex County contain tall, vigorous weeds in the rows, and the ground is packed down as hard as it was before plowing in the spring.

Best crops cannot develop properly under these conditions. Corn, beans and tomatoes which make up the remainder of most gardens become stunted in their growth and their products are under-sized and poor in flavor. The best practice is to plan regularly to cultivate the entire garden on a certain day every week. If it rains or other plans intervene, do it the next day, but never allow more than ten days to elapse between periods of cultivation. Under these conditions weeds grow not more than an inch high and the work can be done quickly and easily.

Thinning is neglected in many gardens. When corn is planted in hills it should be thinned to four stalks when the plant is three inches high. If planted in drills the stalks should be six inches apart.

Cucumbers, melons and squash should also be thinned to four plants in a hill. It is well to cover two or three joints of each runner of the squash vine to protect it from damage from the borer. Roots will form at each joint and the vine will continue to grow even if the main stem is destroyed.

Beets should be thinned to one plant every three inches and the thinning used for greens. Parsnips require the same spacing. Carrots need only one and a half inches between plants, and Swiss chard should be thinned to a distance of six inches in order to grow large, vigorous plants.

WAKEFIELD 1-0 IN TEN INNINGS

One of the best ball games of the season was played on Manchester Field Saturday afternoon when the Wakefield Town Team won from the local nine 1-0 after a struggle of 10 innings. It was a pitcher's battle from start to finish, with both Davidson and Ingalls in the form.

The score:

WAKEFIELD TOWN		ab	in	po	er
O'Neals	1	0	0	2	0
Lerback	1	0	2	0	0

Run made by McBride, Touchette hit, Matt. Press, Sacrifice Flys, Walsh, Davidson 2, struck out, Ingalls, by Ingalls 2, Davidson, by Ingalls and Walsh, Time, 20, Umpire, Hardy.

Both teams played a tight ball. The winning run was made by McBride. He got a hit with two out, the ball taking a bad bound over Nelson's head. He advanced to second on a throw by Flaherty when Christy made an error, and squeezed to third before the head boys could recover. Branch's hit to right field came at the opportune time and won the game. McIntire easily scoring.

EX-GOVERNOR McCALL SPEAKER

Ex-Governor Samuel W. McCall delivered the eulogy at Bowe, N. H., Saturday at the exercises held there to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Mary Baker Eddy, founder of Christian Science. James F. Lord, present owner of the Eddy Farm, conducted the service, which consisted of reading extracts from the book of John and from Mrs. Eddy's "Science and Health."

The original farm house in which Mrs. Eddy was born was long ago burned to the ground, but a massive granite pyramid marks the spot, it being erected by the present owner. Among those who attended the service was Mrs. John Baker, widow of a first cousin of Mrs. Eddy, 77 years of age.

GARMENT GIFT WEEK

In co-operation with leading magazines of the country the national Red Cross has issued a request for second hand clothing and again the local Chapter has focused on the word "clothing" in the district.

The first week in May of this year was devoted by the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of the American Red Cross to "Garment Gift Week" and thousands of garments were assembled at that time. It is not planned to have an organized drive to fulfill this second request for clothing for the sufferers of the Near East, and other war stricken countries, but it is hoped that the general public will generously respond to the request and will do all they can to add to the numbers of clean, warm children's garments destined for overseas.

The Production department of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter was planning to close for a short time this summer, but in view of this second urgent call for help it has been decided that all of the workers shall stay on the job and do their utmost to assist in this humane cause. Clothing may be sent to any Red Cross—your local headquarters or to the Boston Metropolitan Chapter at 142 Berkeley street, Boston. It matters not where the materials are sent so long as they reach Red Cross authorities for their distribution.

In this case it means that without making a definite drive, without posters, or the blowing of horns, the Red Cross of Boston and vicinity is going to depend upon the thoughtfulness of the public to answer to this demand without the routine work unavoidable in a drive. The call can be met and will be met and the Red Cross is assured the clothing is needed for this purpose. He who gives quickly gives twice. Cold weather is approaching. The call is now and the need is great.

BASE BALL

Next Saturday the Town Team will play the strong Standish Club of Dorchester. This team is a first class aggregation of ball players and the fans are promised a good game. Keep the New Hampshire State College pitcher will be on the mound for them with Creek doing the catching.

On the following Saturday we will take on the fast Boston Post Office team. This team is also rated as a first class team and will make the town team go to heat them. As they are composed of some of the best Semi Pro players in the State.

How about sending the daughter to a good camp for the month of August? Camp Wuttanoh, Canaan, N. H., will send you an interesting catalogue of its activities upon request.

NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORY AND EXCHANGES

In the new Boston telephone directory, now being delivered, the Cambridge exchange is listed as "University." Medford is listed as "Mystic" and Quincy is listed as "Granite" and Woburn is listed as "Crystal." The exchange numbers have one or more zero prefixes to every telephone number below 1000 and at first glance have an odd appearance.

The reason for this, according to the telephone officials, is that during the early part of next year the first of the automatic machine switching central offices is to be placed in operation in Brookline. Other machine offices, although it will be a good many years before all of the offices, even in the Metropolitan division are changed to that type of service.

Even with one such office to be considered, however, it was necessary to reset all numbers so that calls from that office, when ready for operation, could be made mechanically by the use of the dial attached to the telephone. It was deemed desirable also, to make this change well in advance of the opening of the first mechanically operated exchange, in order that the public might become familiar with the appearance of the listings, and especially with the capitalization of the first three letters of the exchange name, because all letters so capitalized are the ones to be dial when making a call for this particular listing.

The changes in exchange designations bear no immediate relation to the machine switching program. Cambridge is growing so rapidly that in about two years another central office will be necessary to serve subscribers there. The change is made now so that telephone users may become familiar with the name "University" before the second central office is opened. Another reason for the change at this time is that the calls dial for Cambridge for a machine switching exchange would be confused with calls for Canton.

A similar method of procedure was followed in places like Worcester and Springfield when these municipalities outgrew a single office.

Medford is another fast growing suburban exchange. The first three letters of its name would conflict on a machine switching dial with that of another exchange in the Metropolitan Division. "Mystic" the new exchange name for subscribers in the Medford area was deemed appropriate, as it is also the name of a scenic river running through Medford's valleys to Mystic Lake.

The first three letters in "Wakefield" conflict with the first three letters in "Waltham" and the Wakefield exchange in the future will be called after the well known lake in that town.

The letter "Q" is used so infrequently in the names of cities and towns throughout the country that it does not appear on the standard machine switching telephone dial. The name of the Quincy exchange, therefore, has been changed to "Granite," because it is thus identified with one of the city's most important industries.

Neither Cambridge, Medford, Wakefield nor Quincy are to be immediately changed to machine switching offices. The probabilities are that not more than two, or possibly three, exchanges will be equipped for machine switching during 1922, and the indications are that a half score years or more will elapse before it will be possible to equip the entire Metropolitan Division. Nevertheless, even with one machine switching office in operation, it was necessary to change these exchange designations and insert the zero prefixes, in order that subscribers in that exchange could make calls for other exchanges.

Until next year, when the first machine switching office is opened, all telephone calls should be given to the operators as at present, except that the new exchange names, as they appear in the directory, should be used. Until next year, also, the zeros which have been prefixed to numbers may be disregarded and calls made exactly as if the zero prefixes did not exist.

NEW TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

New traffic regulations of importance went into effect in Winchester Monday morning.

Under the new regulations all Boston bound traffic coming from Woburn on Main street is sent across the tracks by way of Knight's corner. In other words the traffic follows the electric car tracks and leaves the gate-men's shanty on the left.

North bound traffic on Woburn travels in a straight line as previously. New traffic markings have been made on the streets all over town, every dangerous corner or intersection being marked.

LOWERY WON OPEN TOURNAMENT

The three day open tournament at the Winchester Country Club, carried through last Wednesday to Friday, was won by E. L. Lowery of Norfolk, defeating S. W. Farnsworth of Essex Country Club in the first division finale Friday afternoon in a heavy shower 3 and 2. A. W. Bond of Winchester won the second division play, defeating J. S. Burns of Scarborough, and J. J. Kerrigan of Scarborough took third division honors by winning from R. L. Smith 19 holes. W. P. Hersey of Woburn defeated J. H. G. MacLure of United Shoe 1 up in the fourth division.

The final matches developed into swimming contests, according to report, the heavy down-pour of rain flooding the course. Under the circumstances the scoring was remarkably good, Lowery doing 16 holes in 74 and Farnsworth in 80.

In the morning Lowery and Fred Thayer had a grand contest for supremacy. Lowery held the upper hand most of the way but he never was able to shake off the Woburnite until he faded out at the 15th, his final margin being 2 holes. Farnsworth had to go an extra hole to beat Clarence "Kid" Cochrane of Bellevue, who was 2 up with 4 to go. Farnsworth squared with a birdie 3 at the 17th in this match.

In the final Farnsworth's tee shots were erratic and he always was struggling. He did not win a hole on the outward journey and he was 4 down when they reached the turn. The Essex player had short puts to win both the seventh and eighth but could not run them in.

As a matter of fact, neither man did particularly well on the greens, but Lowery had the edge in getting there. Both had spells of the three putt disease. Lowery won the first three and the third and turned for home with that advantage.

On the first green Farnsworth made the mistake of lifting from casual water and dropping behind more of it, whereas the rules say he could place his ball away from intervening wet spots. At both the second and third he visited a brook and at the fifth he was out of bounds.

The Essex player also lost the 16th, where he had a weak second, and Lowery a sweet one. Lowery was above the traps to the right and then across the green at the 16th, and Farnsworth won his first hole. A 25-foot putt for 1 gave him the 12th, too, Lowery missing an eight-footer. Lowery made 4 up again with his 5 at the long 13th and they halved the 14th in 3. Farnsworth playing well from a trap and dropping a 12-footer, Lowery was in the rough, then hit a tree and finally was trapped at the 15th and lost it to Farnsworth's good 4. They were short with seconds at the 16th and the match ended when they halved it in 5.

Bond and Burns were out in the worst of the weather for the second final finale and halved in 6's and 7's through the soaked green were frequent. But they had inspiring moments. Bond winning the third and 14th with 4's and Burns taking the 11th with a 3.

The semi-final in which Burns beat L. W. Barta of the home club by 1 up was quite a hectic affair, particularly in the closing moments. Barta was 1 up at the 14th. The 15th was a fine half in 4, then Mr. Burns brought his putter into the picture. He dropped a six-footer for a 3 at the 16th to square, a 20-footer at the 17th for another 3 to take the lead and a 20-footer at the home hole to keep it.

Kerrigan gave a hole to the bad against Smith at the 16th, after being given a 4-hole lead at the start, which Smith had wiped away when they reached the 13th. Kerrigan squared at the 17th, halved the 18th and won the extra hole with a 6, Smith topping his first two shots.

Young Hersey of Woburn uncorked a spurt at the finish to win over MacLure in the fourth flight. The ultimate winner stood 2 down with three holes to play. Then he won the whole works, taking the 17th with a pretty 3.

Fifteen coples played in the open best ball foursome. The gross prizes were won by Clark Hodder and Ted Learned of Commonwealth with 79 and the net by Maurice F. Brown and Roger S. Dunbar of Winchester with 80-7-73.

FIRST DIVISION

Semi-finals—S. W. Farnsworth, Essex County, defeated C. Cochrane, Bellevue, 19 holes. E. L. Lowery, Norfolk, defeated J. G. Thayer, Woburn, 2 up.

Opportunity is now given, if you are a customer of one of our gas or electric companies, to purchase a few of the new 3 Preferred Shares on the partial payment plan.

It is the desire of the management to have these securities as widely distributed as possible among its customers and their families.

To this end there is available a limited number of these Preferred Shares which are offered at $100 per share and accrued dividend on the following plan:

Customers may purchase for themselves and members of their families.

The price is $100 per share and accrued dividend, payable in cash or in ten (10) monthly payments, 10% of the total amount to accompany the application.

Interest at 6% per annum will be allowed on money paid on installments.

Applications will be accepted until the limited amount offered at this time is exhausted. Allotments will be made strictly in order of their receipt.

No application will be accepted for more than ten (10) shares.

The purchaser may at any time receive his certificate upon payment of the balance due and the adjustment of interest and dividends.

These shares at the offering price yield 8% on the investment. The Massachusetts Lighting Companies has paid quarterly dividends regularly for eighteen years or since 1903.

As only a limited number of shares are available, should you desire to take advantage of this offer, you are advised to do so at once. Application blanks and any further information you may desire may be secured from Mr. F. A. Woodhead, the manager of the Arlington Gas Light Company.

ARTHUR E. CHILDS, President.

The name Massachusetts Lighting Companies is the designation of the Trustees for the time being under a Declaration of Trust dated October 1, 1903. All persons dealing with the Massachusetts Lighting Companies must look solely to the trust property for the payment of their claims. Trustees, officers, or shareholders neither assume, nor liability present or future, under or by reason of this obligation entered into in behalf of said Massachusetts Lighting Companies.

"SO THE WORLD WAGS"

An order recently issued by Secretary of War Weeks will permit army men to wear civilian clothes when off duty. This is a sensible rule which might have been made long ago.

Charles H. Johnson, said one time to be the world's fattest man, died at a hospital in Cambridge the other day at the age of 61. His maximum weight was 648 pounds, but a long illness had reduced his weight to about 200 pounds at the time of his death.

Considerable dissatisfaction is expressed over the first mammoth Pilgrim passport, produced Wednesday of this week, because the scene illustrated the discovery of America by Norse sea rovers instead of by Columbus.

William Johnson, a blind man, while asleep in a New York City apartment with $250 beneath his pillow, was awakened by someone crawling over him. He grappled the person and held him until a policeman answered his cries for help. The intruder proved to be a boy of 17 who said he wanted the money to pay his room rent.

Millions for battleships but not a dollar for war bonus to veterans of the world war—for the present. Such is probably the outcome of the bill now before Congress. President Harding in a conference with leading Senators states that the financial situation of the government makes it inadvisable to enact the bill into law at this time. He urged that the matter be postponed to the regular session of Congress.

What a pirate ship off the Atlantic coast! Sounds like stories of a hundred years ago. A mysterious vessel sighted 100 miles southeast of New York thought to be responsible for the disappearance of several merchant vessels along the coast the past few months. Government officials have become interested and wireless stations have sent broadcast warnings to be on the lookout for a "low, rakish looking craft" believed to be a sea marauder.

It is noticeable that a number of churches are using advertising space in the local papers. And why not? The moving picture houses are filled each week by the use of live advertisements, and more ministers will do well to announce the subjects of their sermons as well as musical programs in the advertising columns of their home papers.

A Brooklyn judge suspended the three months' sentence of two men who confessed to robbing the judges' home of silverware and other valuables some time ago. As a result of the confession a great many of the stolen articles were recovered from Boston pawn shops.

Jacob Swan of Revere, proprietor of a tobacco and candy store, was held up and robbed of $1000 by daring auto bandits in Boston last week during the height of the storm. The matter was reported to the police but the victim could furnish only a slight description of the robbers.

A woman and her 13 year old son were shipped by express from Constantinople to Provo, Utah, and arrived at their destination safely the other day.

The Roxbury district court held an outdoor session one day recently when a woman 70 years old answered the reading of a complaint against her by the clerk of the court while propped up with cushions in her auto.

The mayor of Quincy is seeking to recover $62,000 from the national government which, it is claimed, promised to pay the city in lieu of taxes on the government property in the Fox River district.

That New England is hard hit by the new tariff bill is the expression of many prominent business men. Business interests feel that they are being neglected in Washington where lack of leadership in Congress is accentuated by local fights.

Opening in Winchester Tomorrow
Announcement is made of the opening tomorrow of a Winchester office of the firm of S. B. Goddard & Son, insurance and real estate. The new office is in the newly renovated store in the Lyceum Building at No. 2 Mt. Vernon street. This office, newly refurnished and decorated, is one of the most desirable and centrally located in town.

The firm of S. B. Goddard, comprising Mr. Eugene J. Sullivan of this town and Mr. Herbert C. Huntress of Boston was organized in 1884 and has been doing business for the past 37 years. The main office is in Boston and the firm has also a Woburn office. It represents over fifty of the largest insurance companies in the world.

In opening an office in Winchester the firm will be still further enabled to care for its growing list of patrons and provide an increased and more convenient service.

The only time a henpecked man is allowed to lead the procession is when his wife thinks she hears burglars down stairs.

Much is the profit that is made without honor.

These tar and feather parties seem to be gaining favor as an outdoor sport.

No selection of new police ambulance cars has been announced, although the Selectmen are reported to be working on the matter. Perhaps Chief McIntosh may have an idea as to what would fill the bill.

According to a Boston paper, Senator Lewis Parkhurst holds that sawing wood provides the best exercise, while President James H. Eastie of the Boston & Maine Railroad endorses walking as his favorite method of keeping in condition. Both are good, but isn't there an old adage about sawing wood?

Winchester is honored in the appointment by Governor C. W. of Mr. Curtis W. Nash to the Woburn court. There were several applicants for the appointment, including candidates reported as standing close to the Governor. That he should make the appointment from the field at large was to be expected, being in line with his usual fair and just method of conducting the affairs of the State, and distinctly pleasing to his constituents.

We note that Rev. Murray W. Dewar, Rector of the Church of the Epiphany, has been appointed by Governor C. W. to the position of Memorial Day orator for the State of certain churches of the A. E. P. We still have recollections to the effect that Rev. Mr. Dewar was anything but unpopular during the late war himself; furthermore that his part was by no means passive. His appointment is gratifying to a host of friends.

The new and rapidly increasing practice of automobilists driving at night with one headlight lighted, is becoming a matter which needs active attention. The loss of one light through a bulb burning out or some reasonable cause, is of course excusable and unavoidable, but today it is becoming a common practice among many drivers to use but one light. Why this is done is a mystery, and we can find no one who advances any reason for it. The popular term applied to these drivers is "One Eye Mikes." Their practice does much to increase the dangers of night driving and the numbers of cars to be increasing weekly.

With the present traffic through Winchester square, due to the closing of Cambridge street, local officials are going to be able to witness conditions in our centre about two years in advance of the time, it being estimated that under ordinary conditions the traffic would reach its present proportions in a good time to make this in mind it is a good time to make a careful study of the present conditions, not only in view of handling it, but with regard to the elimination of the grade crossing and the possible closing up of that portion of the square in front of the Lyceum Building which is claimed by Mr. Sanderson and to which he holds a Land Court title.

The committee recently appointed to consider a school building program is progressing with its organization. Owing to the summer season, several members are away and it is very probable that active work will not be undertaken for another month, it being felt that the importance of the subject warrants full meetings. Mr. Derby is an architect, and it is understood that he would not desire to hold office in the event of his entering the matter

It is anticipated that complete organization will be effected shortly, and it is the desire of the committee to keep the townspeople thoroughly informed as its work progresses.

The Selectmen turned down the Wolcott terrace acceptance and this week an automobile was wrecked there trying to get over the sewer manhole which projects up in the way. This was petitioned for acceptance over 15 years ago, and was turned down by a previous board of Selectmen because it was a dead-end street. The next year Cliff street, adjoining a dead-end street, was accepted and built by the Town, and any number of other dead-end ways have been accepted. The present board of Selectmen took the ground that the way could not be accepted except under the betterment act, notwithstanding the fact that the petition was before the Town three years before the betterment act was adopted. They now want a guarantee of $800 before recommending the acceptance, a cost of $340 a foot, the way being only 300 feet long with eight houses on it. The way is but a short portion of Wolcott road, long ago accepted and built by the Town without question. It may be a good thing to have a rule, but it is a poor rule that does not work both ways, and it appears a fact with-out question that a developed way accepted by the Town, and only 300 feet long, should deserve the same consideration as their ways undeveloped and not fully occupied. The eight residents have been paying their taxes, as we all do, as they stand, and have never laid up for a collection, and why, then, should they not be entitled this small portion of the benefits the Town of Winchester is supposed to extend to its inhabitants? If no petition had been made until after the acceptance of the betterment act, there might be a reasonable excuse to turn the matter down, but this petition was in long before the betterment act was even thought of. It appears to these eight residents that they have been paying twice for the benefit of all our residents long enough to warrant this slight return.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Word was received last week of the death at Biddeford, Maine, of Everett Donahay, son of William and Nora Donahay and a former well known resident of Middlesex street, this town. The young man, 22 years of age, shot himself through the heart while handling a revolver. The remains were sent to his mother's home in Medford, where funeral services were held on Sunday. He lived in this town up to four years ago.

Thus far this week there have been three suicides and one theft at Sandy Beach, Mystic Lake. All that is necessary to start something in the way of news is to mention this popular resort.

Mr. Patrick T. Walsh is in California attending the Elks' convention. He reports in a letter received this week by Mr. B. F. Mathews that he has also visited Mexico, much preferring the United States for his permanent abode.

After an absence of 25 years, during which time some mighty changes have been made in this town, John Hemmingsway, a former well known resident, is in town on a visit, coming from the West.

A good game of baseball is looked for on Manchester Field tomorrow afternoon when the Standish Club of Dorchester visits town.

A Woburn youth was arrested Monday at Sandy Beach charged with stealing money and valuables from the clothes left by the bathers on the bank and in the bushes. He was in court and held in $500 bail.

Winsor M. Taylor of Lexington has been nominated by Governor Cox as associate medical examiner of this District to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. Charles F. McCarthy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison A. Hatch of East street are enjoying the ocean breezes at Wolla Beach, Maine.

Holbrook Ayer finished fourth in Saturday's "Snowbird" class race at Quincy Saturday afternoon. In the Marblehead races Sidney A. Bezza's class R. Ruwella was third. C. F. Adams in the Regue, the Allen designed boat, won the event. Richard Fenno in the "Dido" was eighth at Duxbury in the 15 feet knockabout class.

AIRPLANE PILOT, "BOB" FOGG. WINS POPULARITY AT HAMPTON

Special to the Lawrence Sun

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H., July— "Bob" Fogg and his "Bear Cat" are making a great hit at Hampton Beach this summer. Fogg is one of the best known airplane pilots in the country and the "Bear Cat" is his powerful passenger-carrying plane. "Bob" has no desire to be known as a "daredevil" flyer, although to the uninitiated his daily stunt flight or exhibition would put him in that class.

Fogg specializes in "safe and sane" flying and the hundreds who have enjoyed a ride among the clouds in his big ship agree that they felt as safe and as "at home" in the roomy front seat of his big red and blue plane as they do in their automobile.

"Bob" charges prices for his rides that are in accord with the back to normal movement which is at least apparent in the country today. Two passengers are carried on a half-flight for the nominal sum of fifteen dollars. One day last week a customer enjoyed the sensation so much that he had three flights in one afternoon.

The "Bear Cat" is a splendid, substantial plane equipped with a 150-horsepower Hispano-Suiza motor. It is the fastest and most powerful machine in New England with the exception of one government machine at Framingham, Mass. The "Bear Cat" has double ignition system and double gasoline feed system so if anything should go wrong with one the other could be switched in for use immediately. Fogg was an instructor in acrobatic flying during the war and one of the few United States Aviation Corps lieutenants, who graduated from the famous Brooks' field at San Antonio, Texas, where the instructors in flying were given their degrees.

Visitors at Hampton beach will have an opportunity daily to see Lieut. Fogg perform a few of the stunts he learned at Brook's. Field over the shimmering white sands of Hampton.

STOLE "GRAVE BED"

Nathan Cogsworth, a marble worker of East Boston, was fined $50 in the Woburn court last week for stealing a "grave bed" from the Hebrew cemetery at Winchester or Highland. The case presented several unusual aspects. The so-called "grave bed" is a three-sided square of marble slabs, the fourth side being completed by the headstone of the grave. These marble slabs are bolted together and form an enclosure six or eight inches high, the inside of which is sometimes filled with flowers and the whole of which rests directly over the grave.

For some time these "grave beds" have been missing from the "Pride of Boston" cemetery, and not long ago Cogsworth was caught by the caretaker taking a "grave bed." He was pushing the marble slabs through the picket fence into the adjoining cemetery, where he intended reselling it. Apparently this had been done previously. The "grave bed" is worth about $30.

BOY SCOUTS CAMP ESTABLISHED

Camp Winchester, Boys Scouts of America of Winchester, is under full swing at Lake Ossipee, Freedom, N. H., under the management of A. E. Butters, Scout Executive, assisted by E. J. O'Brien.

Any scout of Winchester is eligible to attend and it is hoped there will be a large enrollment, as the camp will be run on a first class basis and its success will depend on the interest taken in this movement.

Any scout who feels he is unable to attend through lack of funds may arrange this matter by communicating with Mr. Butters.

Terms, $8.00 per week. All communications should be addressed to A. E. Butters, West Ossipee, New Hampshire.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE

It is a good thing to be independent. But we can go too far on that road. It isn't a mark of strength, as some Winchesterites think, to defy public opinion. It is rather an admission of one's own thoughtlessness or weakness. When we ignore the advice of those who wish us well and give instant rein to our own desires the way to trouble is just ahead and we are galloping toward it. For we're not all good men. Not even the best of Winchesterites. There are evil tendencies and times when our own wishes blind us to the wise way. By-standers often have a clearer vision than we do. The road of desire may look very delightful to us, and no doubt would prove as delightful as it looks for a time. The trouble is that it takes years to win a reputation for honesty and fairness and virtue. It can be taken away in an hour. And the back climb is so hard! Only those who have made it mid tears and humiliation, and painful struggles, can fully realize how hard. The valley at the foot of the hill is numbered with those who have fallen beyond hope. What bears them to the earth is not so much the pain of the fall as the consciousness that comes of failure and mistake. The thought that, though one's own thoughtlessness or folly, friends who might have been blessed are forever lost. The white flower of innocence is forever beyond reach, home or family ties are broken. What avail, as a balance for all this? No other pleasure of life is as great as the consciousness of self respect and the wanted love of others.

One small cottage here in Winchester is better than a dozen castles in the air.

Wonder why so many people here in Winchester as elsewhere have that faculty of finding out things that are none of their business?

No Winchesterite can lay just claim to being well-bred till he has learned to enquire another's plight as if it were his own; to put himself in the place of one who sues or is baffled or is cornered by the facts. Fortunately, the number of those who are hard all the way through is small. We meet one of the people whom nothing can work now and then one who listens with a dirty face and eyes of steel from which no fire is to be struck. Campaigners for the various drives here in Winchester have met them, and have wondered if the fault lay with the solicited or the solicitor. Most people have a kind vein, a generous instinct, which we discover the hidden spring to disclose it. They would do the kind thing and say the inspiring word if their attention were called to the want of it. Imagination, like the memory, is susceptible of training. Those who say the tactful and ingratiating thing were not born with the full accountant of winning ways. They had to learn how to bring the cup of cold water to parched lips or to touch with a magic hand the fevered brow even though the elemental instinct was there from the first. The trained nurse felt the impulse to minister that led her into her noble calling; but the technique she had to acquire. With the best will in the world to bring first aid to injured feelings we may blunder, and take the wrong way. The briefing word must be spoken in a language sure to be comprehended.

No matter how good a bluffer a Winchesterite may be he has to give in when his money gives out.

The Spectator.

GOT JOHN BURROUGHS' 'GOAT'

Great Naturalist Admitted That Iron Wall of Treasury Vault Had Bad Effect on Him.

It was while sitting in front of the iron wall of the treasury vault at Washington that John Burroughs, guardian of the $50,000,000 vault, wrote his first book, "Wake Robin." In that book it has been thought that he got closer to nature than in any of the others. "Perhaps I did," he said of it. "I know I was closer to it in looking. That iron wall acted on me."

Mr. Burroughs realized, of course, the necessity of money to procure the comforts of existence, and his books brought him a handsome return. And this recalls an incident of a fox hunt in which he and his brother, Eben, joined about a dozen years ago. Eben Burroughs lived at Hildur, in the Catskills, and on this particular hunt the hounds went to Eben, who shot the fox. At that time fox skins were worth about $5, and the successful brother relished telling of his success. Once when heading of it to a party of friends he was halted by this from Brother John: "You have bragged about that fox hunt long enough. You shot the fox and sold the skin for $5. I wrote a little memoir of the hunt and sold it to a magazine for $75. So there you are."

Canada's Animal Parks.

The three animal parks in the Canadian West—Buffalo Park, Elk Island, and Fortuost reserve in southern Alberta—have a combined area of 184 square miles, or 117,700 acres. They have fenced inclosures, and they contain about 5,200 buffalo, 100 antelope, and a large number of moose, elk, deer, and cattle.

NEW GUINEA HEAD-HUNTERS

Periodical Forays Were Until Comparatively Recently a Regular Thing in the Island.

Until six years ago head-hunting was in full swing along the coast of New Guinea, writes Roy E. Chappin in Catholic Missions, and describes one of these expeditions by the tribe of the Marinku or Kaya-Kayas. The practice, he says, has been considerably checked by military expeditions. Nevertheless head-hunting is still quite frequent in the interior. On the appointed day men, women and children would hasten to the point of embarkation. At the approach of their god the boats were anchored, and the entire party stealthily entered the forest, taking care not to give the alarm. Extra care was needed once the designated spot had been reached. On the day before the attack the hunters kept hidden in the bush, and during the night they advanced far enough to launch the attack early before dawn. Accordingly, the hunters were heavily armed, but most of the time the intended victims were roused from their sleep by the sudden warcry of the whole attacking party, and had no time to defend themselves. Victims were killed by the blow, many of them pierced through by the sharp-pointed arrows.

The victors yelled their war-cry and repaired to their native huts, where days and nights of feasting awaited them with song and dance around the gruesome trophy.

Dog Lover Never All Bad.

He who loves a dog may not be all he should be in the qualities of manhood, but you may safely bet money on it that there is, nevertheless, something in him that merits respect, albeit sometimes to be searched for. The dog gets nearer to the human heart than any other of earth's unhuman animals.

Keeping Down Mine Dust.

The presence of dust in mines is disagreeable from many standpoints, besides being a positive menace from its explosive qualities. Efforts are being made more than ever to keep the mine dust down, and it has been discovered in the case of one mine in Kentucky that excellent results were obtained by sprinkling the empty coal cars. The operation is performed automatically as the cars are moved along after being dumped, and the difference in the atmosphere of the mine was apparent to all.

Age of Petroleum.

The age of petroleum is here. From an humble beginning in 1850 it has now reached a point where it is consumed in ever increasing quantities until the problem of its production has become one of the most absorbing of international questions, to that country which controls the output heeds the power of the world.

The standard tire likes nothing better than to prove its service

PEOPLE used to be secretly envious of the young fellow who came tearing up the street and stopped his car with a jerk.

Now they are inclined to criticize such abuse of tires. A mark of the growing consciousness about tires—their service, their work, their value.

This same respect for a good tire is the reason why the four-square tire dealer has passed up odds and ends, "job lots", "seconds", "cut prices"—and come out squarely with the standard quality service of U. S. Tires.

He is getting a bigger, and also better, tire business than he ever had before.

He is dealing now with his own kind of people. The substantial citizen. The man who knows that you can't get something for nothing. The steady customer—not the bargain hunter.

To the man who has not yet learned the standard tire service he is entitled to we say—

Go to the dealer in U. S. Tires and make him show you.

The U. S. Tire you buy is a tire built for current demands. No overproduction. No piling up of stock. No loss of mileage by hanging around on the dealer's racks.

Every way you look at it, a par quality tire at a net price.

Haled as the oldest man in Winchester, Barnum A. Locke of Cambridge street observed his 95 birthday at his home on Sunday. He is widely known among Winchester's older residents. Born in the house now occupied by Ex-Secretary Herbert Cox on Ridge street, Mr. Locke has lived his whole life on the West Side hills. He has lived in his present home for nearly 60 years, that portion of the town being South Woburn at the time of his birth. He was the son of Betsey Russell and John Locke. His children, Miss Bessie and Miss Elsie Locke, and Mr. Fred Locke, reside with him.

Why wait until August 15th before making that change in your headlights. There are approximately 200,000 cars that have to change. Your chance for getting your correct size will be lessened. The work of remodeling the stores in Lyceum Building, formerly occupied by Piccolo Bros. and soon to be taken by E. C. Sanderson and the Edison Co., is progressing rapidly. These two stores will, when completed, be among the most attractive in the centre. The new occupants expect to go into them the first of the month.

In connection with Winchester's school program, calling for fire proof buildings and fire protect on for all present buildings, it is of interest to note that the recent Arlington High School fire is the third school house fire in this vicinity since the committee was appointed to consider our problem.

Two automobiles were caught on the railroad crossing during the week under the new traffic regulations in the centre, one Monday noon and another Wednesday night. The cars were obliged to stop when crossing the tracks, and before they could proceed the approach of a train made it necessary for them to back out.

PLAYGROUND SPORTS BEGIN

This year an innovation is to be enacted in holding the usual playground competition sports on Manchester and Leonard Fields, and in place of the one big athletic meet it is proposed to hold a series of trial events at the two playgrounds, ending in a meet scheduled only for the finals. The increased attendance and the time necessary in running off the events from start to finish on one day has made the old form unworkable.

It is therefore announced that beginning Wednesday, August 3d, the following events will be run off on each of the two fields: Girls' 50 yd dash, 75 yd dash, egg and spoon race; boys' 50 yd dash, 100 yd dash. The girls' events will be run off in the morning and the boys' events in the afternoon.

On August 10th the following additional events will be run off: Girls' standing broad jump, high jump; boys' running broad jump, standing high jump.

On Friday, August 19th, the finals in the whole list of events will be run off on Manchester Field, together with a relay race for both girls and boys, and a base ball game between two teams of boys.

Mrs. J. A. Goodwin is spending the summer at Brattleboro, Vt.

Officer Noonan found a small boy Saturday who had wandered from his home in Somerville. A passing party of automobilists, who lived in his neighborhood agreed to take him in and deliver him to his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morey were at their home on Oxford st. over the week-end, returning to their summer home at Poland, Me., Monday, taking back as their guest Mrs. Charles T. Fortis of Dix terrace.

Mrs. John E. Hanlon and children of 50 Cutting at are at Quaker Point, Bath, Maine, for the month of July. Mr. John E. Hanlon has returned from a week's stay at Quaker Point, Bath, Me.

A spot light directed on the traffic officer at Winn and Pleasant sts., Woburn, has proven very satisfactory. This would be a good thing to try out here, throwing the light on the officer in the center during the evening hours.

Mrs. George B. Byrne and family are stopping at Rockport during the hot weather.

Mrs. Harry J. Pickering and son have been enjoying sea breezes at York Beach, Me.

Baseball teams have been organized at the playgrounds on Manchester Field and Leonard Field. In a match game last week the Manchester Field nine, with Keering and Jackson as the battery, defeated the Leonard Field nine 7 to 2. Smith and McElhinney handled the box work for Leonard Field.

Miss Katherine Dooley held a lawn whist Tuesday evening at her home on Pickering street.

It is a regular float with ladder and diving board.

Mr. John Milne, a former resident of Mt. Pleasant street, writing to Mr. Thomas H. Barrett, says that he has purchased an estate in Santa Barbara, California, and expects to locate there. With all the beauties of California, he writes, he would rather make his home in Winchester.

BASE BALL

Boston P. O. team will be the attraction at Manchester Field next Saturday.

This team is a fast team and has some good players in its line up. The Town team is out to beat this combination.

Matthews and Flaherty will be the battery for Winchester, and Shea will pitch for the P. O. team. Davidson will go to Pittsfield next Saturday to be gone for two weeks. Some new player will also be seen in the Winchester line up.

RICE ESTATE SOLD

The Rice House at 534 Washington street has been sold to Miss Mary Hanlon of this town. The property was purchased in 1872, by Martha W. Rice and was a part of the late Samuel Richardson estate, being known as "Orchard Lot." Miss Hanlon buys for a home.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

WINCHESTER PARTY ON BOARD MR. E. ARTHUR TUTEIN'S YACHT "KITTIWAKE"

PRESIDENT TUTEIN OF THE WINCHESTER NATIONAL BANK TAKES THE DIRECTORS FOR A RIDE

July 25th will long be remembered as a "big day" by the group of Winchesterians who attended Mr. Tutein's personally conducted tour along the North Shore. The festivity marked the fact that the Winchester National Bank has advanced steadily to a point where it now stands among the leading financial institutions in the town, and Mr. Tutein made the occasion memorable by entertaining the Board of Directors. The F. F.'s (meaning Frenzied Financiers), left Winchester in the best of spirits and automobiles, and arrived at the Corinthian club at Marblehead about noon.

After a luncheon complete in every detail, they boarded Mr. Tutein's yacht, the "Kittiwake," and set sail for the best time they ever had. The genial captain welcomed the F. F.'s as they swarmed up the gang plank. He steered a course along the picturesque North Shore where the scenic beauties were a delight to the eye, while the smiling steward took most excellent care of the inner man. The "Kittiwake" is a commodious and well equipped yacht and the F. F.'s were as much at home as they will be within the spacious confines of their new banking quarters. The cares of state were laid aside; "shop" talk was prohibited, and joy was the order of the day. Not one among those present realized as they swept along wind cooled shores that the thermometer off on dry land was doing its utmost to register one of the hottest days that have been wished on humid humanity during the present sizzling season, and one and all, they hated to come back to earth. They landed late in the afternoon, were once more parked in their respective cars, and started back for their native town, voting Mr. Tutein all kinds of a "regula" follow, and the party an unequalled success. Among the notable F. F.'s attending were: A. Burnham Allen, William H. Bowe, Felix J. Carr, Wallace F. Flinders, Francis J. O'Hara, Harris M. Richmond, Hollis L. Riddle, Edward S. Foster and Edward R. Grosvenor.

BASE BALL

By Mack

The twilight team is drawing good crowds to Manchester Field every Tuesday and Friday evening and the fans are well repaid with the brand of ball the boys are playing. Last Friday we won from the Beacon Oil Co. 2 to 1 and Tuesday we played a 0 to 0 tie game with the Regular Riverside team of Cambridge. Tonight we meet Manning, Maxwell & Moore team that has won 13 out of 15 games. Next Tuesday, St. Johns C. C. of Cambridge will be here and Friday August 5th Arlington Town Team will be on deck. Tomorrow we go to Reading and play the Reading Town team at this place. One or two trucks will leave the square at 2:15 for Reading.

And it is expected quite a delegation of the royal rotters will go over with the team. To those people who have not seen this local team in action we extend a cordial invitation to visit Manchester Field any Tuesday or Friday night and see what we are producing in the way of baseball. We do not claim we can trim any team around but if you notice we are making them all to hold us. Geo. Le Due is umpiring these games and giving first class satisfaction to all visiting teams.

Mrs. George S. Tompkins and family are spending the month at Sabbath Day Point, Lake George, N. Y.

BOARD OF TRADE OUTING

Annual Event Enjoyed by 125 at Canobie Lake

Old General Humidity took full charge of the annual traders' outing at Canobie Lake this year, the first outing of this nature held under the auspices of the Winchester Board of Trade. All efforts to dislodge this disagreeable old director failed miserably, and it was a rather warm crowd of merchants, business men and friends who endeavored to carry out the ambitious and what promised to be the most enjoyable program ever arranged.

The party left Winchester centre shortly after 8 o'clock. There were two big auto trucks, who took care of most of the younger element, and some 50 or more automobiles who took the older members of the party. Many coming in at the eleventh hour made active work for the transportation committee, who did some hustling to provide passage for them, but everyone was cared for.

The run to Canobie Lake, Salem, N. H., was made without incident and in good time, the slight breeze created by the passage being most welcome to everyone.

At Canobie the chief attraction in the forenoon was the base ball game, started on the ball field shortly after arrival and the time necessary for the fat men to take a swim. Seven innings were played, the first five being very snappy and full of pleasant base ball incidents. The last two were very slow, and it looked first as though one team, and then the other, would remain at bat indefinitely. The Piccolo brothers pitched a remarkable game and Charles Cragwell caught until he came near being carried off the field.

The teams were considerably mixed up one way or another, as none of the big players could stand the heat continuously. Messrs. Skillings and Drummond put up exceptional ball during their periods of playing, and Chris Sullivan deceived everyone by his speed on the bases. President Davidson also displayed much brilliant headwork during the game.

Of course the younger boys were right up on their toes, and none of the errors which their bosses made counted in their figuring. Home runs were made by Cummings and Callahan.

The score finally closed at 20 to 11 in favor of Captain Drummond's team, although runs were coming in so fast it is very probable that Captain Sullivan's team would have been ahead if the game had been continued longer. As it was, everyone had a ball he could stand—sit.

The teams lined up officially as follows:

Capt. Drummond, Cummings, Tansey, J. Callahan, Dolan, Miskell, Callahan, Buchanan, Gray. Runs on this team: Cummings 2, Tansey 4, J. Callahan, 3, Dolan 3, Gray 4, Miskell 2, Callahan 1, Buchanan 1—20. Home run, J. Callahan; 3 base hit, Gray; 2 base hit, Tansey.

Capt. Sullivan, F. Piccolo, Holbrook, J. Piccolo, Davidson, Shaughnessy, Cragwell, Croto, Tansey. Runs on this team: Shaughnessy 2, Cragwell 1, F. Piccolo 2, Davidson 1, Sullivan 1, Croto 2, Tansey 2—11. Two base hit, Tansey; Special feature—Croto's fly catching.

Umpires—C. A. Lane, L. P. Gleason, Edgar Leak.

As a matter of fact the above lineup does not give half of the players on either team. Through modesty these gentlemen asked that they be omitted from the line-up. It should stand—sit.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Reported Thomas F. Hoban Left $60,000 to Winchester Nephews

It is reported that Thomas F. Hoban, who died at Lowell last Friday, left $60,000 apiece to his two nephews, Luke J. and Thomas F. Hoban of Kendall street, this town. He was a brother of Joseph M. Hoban.

He was taken ill about two years ago but rallied from two operations well enough to be out and around until the final turn which confined him to his death bed. He was one of the most likeable characters in the city and held a favorable reputation among hotel men and sporting men of New England. At the time he was a member of the old city council and also of the state legislature.

Mr. Hoban was born in Winchester and went to Lowell at the age of 16 years. For several years he worked at White's tannery and later he bought an interest in a drug store in Beverly, remaining at that work for two or three years. Later he purchased the Lowell Inn and remained as proprietor for a number of years.

In 1903 Mr. Hoban took over the Richardson Hotel and retained an active interest in its affairs up to the time of his death. He supervised personally the hotel management while he was able to be around, and while in vigorous health he maintained its policies in a capable and efficient manner. His likeable disposition gathered him a host of friends and more than once he was a cheerful host to large parties of friends.

It was perhaps as a lover of sport and horses that Mr. Hoban made his greatest friends. He took an active interest in horse racing and at one time owned several first class stephens. He was also an ardent follower of the rod and gun, and his hotel was always at the disposition of the sporting associations of the city for their meetings and gatherings. Mr. Hoban was also a great baseball fan and followed the national game keenly. At one time he owned and managed a baseball team named Hoban's Pets and became the centre of admiration of the youngsters of the city. In his younger days Mr. Hoban was himself an athlete of no mean reputation. He was a prominent participant in all track and baseball events and at bat was held in high repute by the prominent pitchers of the city league. Mr. Hoban had a great liking for children and this happy faculty gained for him hundreds of young admirers in all branches of sport.

He was a member of the Lowell Driving Club, also of the Lowell Fish and Game Association, the Lowell Lodge of Elks and the Lowell Council Knights of Columbus. Mr. Hoban leaves a wife, Harriett M. (Hogan) Hoban; three brothers, Henry and Joseph of Winchester and John of Wilmington; also several nephews and one niece.

The Winchester Town Team again won on Manchester Field Saturday afternoon, defeating the Standish Club of Dorchester to the tune of 5 to 3. The game was played in excellent style, Davidson showing up in fine form in the Winchester box and allowing but five hits, all of which were scattered. The local boys were slow at the start and the visitors made two of their runs in their first inning, Winchester trailing them clear to the sixth, during which time, while holding them, they could only put one runner across. In the sixth, however, by taking advantage of excellent conditions, three runs were put over, followed by another in the seventh. Standish succeeded in scoring again in the eighth. Davidson struck out 10 men and Walsh and Hevey were both credited with two baggers.

CAMP WINCHESTER

This year's Boy Scout Camp, Camp Winchester, is located in an ideal spot in a beautiful pine grove on the shores of Lake Ossipee, N. H., three miles from the nearest town, West Ossipee. The camp is excellently situated in regard to its facilities for bathing and mountain climbing, the boys leaving Tuesday for a hike to the top of Mount Cocoon. They report that the Winchester camp is to play basketball and base ball during the week with Camp Ossipee.

There are at present 11 Winchester boys in camp and Mr. A. E. Butters, well known as one of our High School masters, who has charge of the camp, wishes to extend a cordial invitation to any Scouts in Winchester to attend. He reports that they need only to write him and he will meet them upon arrival at West Ossipee or Mt. Whittier, as the railroad station is called.

REV. FRANCIS E. ROGERS TRANSFERRED

Rev. Fr. Francis E. Rogers, for 18 years assistant at St. Mary's parish of this town, has been transferred to St. James' parish of Salem. Rev. Fr. Rogers will leave Winchester for Salem today. He has been an assistant at St. Mary's Church since he was ordained to the priesthood, and was very successful in the work of the parish and in directing many of the most successful parish reunions and other affairs held for the purpose of raising funds to meet the debt on the parish property, including the new St. Mary's parochial school. The St. James parish of Salem is one of the larger parishes of the Essex County section of the archdiocese of Boston, and Rev. Fr. Rogers' transfer is regarded by his many friends in this section of Greater Boston as well deserved promotion.

KNIGHTS START TO REBUILD

The Knights of Columbus have taken steps for the rebuilding of their club house on Vine street, almost destroyed by fire some time ago. For a long time it had been undecided whether to attempt to rebuild the burned structure, only the walls of which were left, or to dispose of it. It is now decided to rebuild, with a large assembly hall on the second floor and billiard rooms and meeting rooms on the ground floor. Work is to start at once.

BASE BALL TOMORROW

Boston Postoffice Clerks here tomorrow.

Tomorrow afternoon we will receive a visit from the Boston Postoffice Clerks, who come to Winchester to cross bats with the Town Team on Manchester Field at 3:30. This team is new to our diamond, but is credited with being a fast and snappy organization, capable of putting up a good game of ball and furnishing a strong representation of its department.

NEW HOPE BAPTISTS TO HAVE NEW CHURCH

The New Hope Baptist Church (colored) is to have a new edifice at the Highlands. The present edifice on Cross street near Washington street, is to be moved and two small additions added, making practically a new church.

The Messrs. John Collins and Edward Martin of the local postoffice, are enjoying their vacation at Old Orchard, Me.

The meeting adjourned at 9:40 o'clock P. M.

NOT MANY FEEBLE-MINDED

Authority Shows That Only Two Per Cent of the Population Can Be So Classed.

The idea that we are menaced as a nation by illiterates and feeble-minded is all wrong. We have illiterates and feeble-minded in our midst, but they are a relatively negligible force numerically. The reverse idea, or idea in the reverse, that we are short on genius, also is wrong, according to Dr. George G. Chambers, director of admissions at the University of Pennsylvania, and the educators who co-operate with him. Doctor Chambers says genius as a national crop is statistically as strong as the more discussed feeble-minded and that each represents a mere 2 per cent of the population.

But genius, says Dr. Chambers, is not the mere possession of a talent swollen to phenomenal degree, perhaps so hyperbolic that it is useless. He denies genius to the man, however great his talents, who cannot and does not exercise them. Genius in his definition is high intelligence followed by actual use of that intelligence in life. And intelligence is the ability to adapt one's self to new circumstances, to one's surroundings—in a word, to be able to know something and make use of one's knowledge. Under this definition, it is surprising that the adaptable Yankee should not hold a higher record for genius than 2 per cent.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

BROUGHT ALL HE COULD FIND

Evidently George Had Had Quite a Serious Spill From Bicycle He Had Rented.

Bill Spokes, a second-hand bicycle man, was a just man and usually slept the sleep of the just, but one night his saintly slumbers were disturbed by a voice halting him below his window. "What's wrong?" he called out, drowsily.

"You remember lending George Smith a machine this afternoon?" piped the voice.

"That's right," said the bicycle man; "but I ain't going to give this time of night. George will have to keep the machine till mornin', and pay by the hour."

"Yes, of course," agreed the voice from below; "that's fair. But George had a bit of a spill through running into a motorcar, and he don't want to pay for the hire of mornin' he can help. I've brought round all we can find of the machine so far."

At that the second-hand bicycle man jumped from his bed and rushed angrily to the window.

"And what have you found?" he shouted.

"It's coming up!" piped the voice, and an all can sailed into the room.—Boston Globe.

SUBJECT—GROWING TOMATOES

In order to get early tomatoes and have them of extra fine quality it pays to train the vines to stakes. The plants should be pruned to one or two stems. A good substantial stake should be driven into the ground near the plant so that it will stand at least two feet, high. Care should be exercised in trying the plant to the stake so that it will not be injured by the string. A good plan is to loop the string around the stake and tie it under a leaf stem.

In order to keep the plants properly pruned, it is wise to go over the patch once a week and remove all shoots starting from the axils of the leaves. The stems should be entirely bare of leaves and shoots up to a height of ten to twelve inches from the ground. Training plants in this manner should not be attempted if the vines are well grown and the fruit has begun to set.

It is probable that larger yields can be obtained if the tomato plants are allowed to grow unchecked, but the fruit will ripen much more slowly. When plants are not pruned and tied to stakes, it pays to keep the vines and fruit up off the ground by nailing a barrel hoop to three stakes driven into the ground just high enough to support all the stalks. Another similar method is to support the vines by driving stakes at intervals along each side of the row near the plants and nailing narrow strips of board to the tops of the stakes so as to hold up the vines and the fruit.

Some gardeners keep the vines off the ground by spreading a heavy mulch of lawn clippings, straw, or sawdust under the plants so that nothing comes in contact with the ground. This method has the further advantage of doing away with the need of cultivation by destroying weeds and conserving moisture in the ground. Tests carried on by different experiment stations seem to prove that yields have been increased and diseases prevented by this method of protection.

SOBERING MOTOR DRIVERS

The policy which State Registrar of Motor Vehicles Goodwin has adopted is likely to have, in a double sense, a sobering effect upon reckless motor drivers. As The Herald has stated, Mr. Goodwin announces that any licensed operator complained of by the police or the inspectors of the highway department for operating his machine while under the influence of liquor will lose his license, even though he may not be intoxicated enough to be prosecuted in court; and Mr. Goodwin gives a special warning to automobilists who are in the habit of taking a drink before starting to drive their cars.

There are degrees of intoxication; and a motor driver does not need to be completely overcome by liquor to make his driving a menace to the public. This is especially true of the kinds of "booze" now widely in use. Mr. Goodwin rightly feels that his first duty is to protect the public; and he intends, as far as possible, to prevent accidents rather than to wait until after they occur to punish those who are responsible for them.

That Mr. Goodwin means what he says is plain from the figures of his department. These show that last month 448 operators' licenses were revoked or suspended, as against 266 for the previous month and 277 for June, 1920. And, of the cases acted upon in June this year, the largest number were for operating while under the influence of liquor, 129 being revoked or suspended, while 95 were for improper driving and 66 for being involved in accidents from which deaths resulted.

Stern adherence to this policy may make the motor registration department unpopular with a certain type of automobilists, but it will promote the safety of the public and will materially reduce the death toll.—Boston Herald.

The Phoebe, of the Flycatcher Family.

The phoebe, a small, grayish-brown bird, belongs to the flycatcher family. It takes its name from its monotonous call, "pewit, phoebe; phoebe, pewit," continuously repeated, as it flies about in search of a habitation. The phoebe preys on insects, which it captures while on the wing, and is therefore of benefit to farmers. The common phoebe is also known as pewee and as pewit. It, however, should not be confused with the wood pewee, which is a different species of flycatcher.

Realist Thought of Illness.

Refuse to be ill. Never tell people you are ill; never own it to yourself. Illness is one of those things which a man should resist on principle at the onset.—Lytton.

Watch Your Papers.

Look out for the broom and dust pan. Many valuable papers may be swept out of existence if you do not have a good system that insures these papers and records being properly cared for. No one should make a transaction on a slip of paper and carelessly put it into his pocket. A good system of accounting will do away with memoranda pads of recording and consequent danger of loss by the broom and dust pan route.

World's Largest Snake.

The python is considered the largest snake in the world. It is found in the East Indies and in the Philippine Islands. Specimens thirty feet long have been seen. All the various species of pythons lend themselves easily to captivity and taming.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Strange but true, that rust soon collects on the man who is not a good collector.

Leaving any job half done is as bad or worse than leaving it undone.

The income tax may not be any less for some time to come but incomes will be less.

Some men's honesty is the result of lack of opportunity.

The helping hand is seldom empty.

The epidemic of new store signs in our centre is actually startling. It certainly does dress things up.

An example of what the heavy auto trucks are doing to the streets may be seen on the Myrtle turnpike. This fine stretch of road still holds good on the inward side, but on the outward side it is rapidly getting into very bad shape. This is because the trucks going to Boston are either empty or lightly loaded, while coming out they carry heavy loads and pound the roadway to pieces.

It is reported that by the breaking in-two of a freight train about 9:10 last Friday night some 150 automobiles were held up in the centre. Fortunately we did not have a fire. If this crossing were closed, the only way of reaching either side of our town would be to take a mile trip to North Winchester on one side, or Wedgemore on the other. The auto traffic through our centre this summer is tremendous. Let us profit by the conditions as they are illustrated.

As usual in years past, several of the so-called chain stores in town refused to cooperate with our Board of Trade this week in the annual Traders' Day outing. These firms, controlled and operated by out-of-town interests, kept their stores open and contributed in no way to the outing. Their action created this year a little more than the usual comment, especially when it was found that in the town of Stoneham, which also observed its Traders' Day, these same stores were closed. This is the usual example of the hearty cooperation these outside stores give in town affairs generally, including all local contributions or any storekeepers are called upon to aid. It is also an example of the difficulties our Board of Trade has to contend with in its endeavor to assist in town affairs. The stores of local merchants were all closed save one.

SOME HOT WEATHER

Relief from the present hot spell is promised by tonight. This last hot spell is by far the worst experienced this summer. Warm weather started in last week, Saturday and Sunday being well up in temperature. Monday saw the mercury steadily climbing and Tuesday made another record. Wednesday, with the glass in the center at 101 during the whole afternoon, was a sizzler. Yesterday saw the glass practically at the same height, but a fair breeze tempered the atmosphere somewhat. Today is still warm, but relief is promised.

The beaches, both Sandy and others, including Nantasket, were crowded during the week, and at Revere at least, were even hotter than some inland places—Candle Lake excluded. At Revere it was at times impossible to find parking space at any place along its entire length. The official reading here was 94 Monday, 98 Tuesday, 101 Wednesday and 99 yesterday.

It is reported that Aviator Bobb Pogg, who is flying at Hampton Beach, N. H., was taken in this week by an Englishman representing himself as a flying ace. According to report the Englishman came to the beach in a big French car with a chauffeur and engaged Bob to take him on a flying tour. He settled for the pleasure by paying two checks, both of which were phony. It also appears that he borrowed the car and chauffeur.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB PROGRAM OF RACES

There will be canoe races and other events for club members on every other Saturday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, beginning July 30th,—that is, on July 30th, August 13th and 27th, September 10th and 24th, and October 8th, as follows: Fours, Tandem, Singles, Tilting, Tail-end, Tip-over and rescue or as otherwise arranged by the fleet captain.

All canoes used in contests shall be canvas.

Fours, tandem and single races shall be one-quarter mile.

Tail-end, tip-over and rescue races shall be one-eighth mile.

There shall be at least three contestants in each event, except fours, in which there may be two.

Prizes for the different events will be awarded at the close of the season to those having the highest number of points, in each event, scoring to be in accordance with the Corinthian system of racing, as follows:

Points in each event will be based on the number of contestants. The first to finish will receive the highest number of points,—corresponding to the number of contestants, and in order to the last,—receiving one point. (For example. In a race with five contestants,—First will receive 5 points; Second, 4 points; Third, 3 points; Fourth, 2 points, and Last 1 point).

ARE THE PEOPLE WITH US?

Winchester, Mass., July 25, 1921. Editor Winchester Star:

I trust you will continue to keep before the good people of Winchester the unusual status of Wolcott tor. It was put in good condition about twenty years ago, and has been maintained since that time at the expense of the abutters, who meanwhile have paid their share of taxes for the streets of other citizens, as well as for a great many newer ways only partially developed.

I consider the recent decision of the Board of Selectmen an act of injustice, and am confident the voters of Winchester would feel the same if they knew the facts.

In the name of decency to the delivery men, to say nothing of the residents, you will be doing a public work, if you inform our fellow citizens of past and present conditions there.

At the hearing, which the writer attended, the Board laid great stress on the Betterment Act and it was not until practically all the arguments had been presented that the Town Counsel said that this act did not apply to the terrace. I cannot understand how five men elected to the high office of Selectmen and sworn to equal justice to all could arrive at the decision announced in a recent edition of your paper.

Respectfully yours, Clarence E. Hill.

Brown Reflectors

APPROVED BY THE REGISTRAR OF MOTOR VEHICLES OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

After August 15, 1921, every motor vehicle operating in the State of Massachusetts must be equipped with an approved headlight device. BROWN REFLECTORS are second on the list published by the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

BROWN REFLECTORS do not cut off any of the light such as a lens device must do to eliminate the glare. A plain glass lens is used with them. They are so constructed that they keep all the light on the road.

The light obtained not only fulfills the requirements of law as to distance and absence of glare but has, in addition, a side light of such brilliancy that the gutter, the sidewalk, and the fence are clearly illuminated on the darkest night.

This feature has earned for BROWN REFLECTORS the name of ROAD WIDE LIGHT.

The Right Man for Molly

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD.

Mrs. Brayton was tremendously disturbed. Never since Molly's babyhood days with their anxieties attendant upon scarlet fever and measles combined had she been so exercised. For she knew that her winsome daughter, now arrived at the witching age of twenty, was facing a crisis, the outcome of which would affect Molly's entire life. Molly, in short, was about to choose a husband.

Now, some girls are not in a position to choose. They must wait and be chosen. Not so with Molly. Her long, lashed eyes of a radiant blue, her sunning waves of hair, her provocative laugh, had brought various applicants to her hand. But apparently only two were still in the running—Tom Hall, fairly poor, unquestionably solid, and Bates Schuyler, fairly rich, unquestionably insecure.

Some mothers would have preferred Bates. Mrs. Brayton, ranking rather above prosperity alone, preferred Tom. While Molly herself—but at this point we arrive at the reason for Mrs. Brayton's disturbance. Molly apparently loved Bates. Mrs. Brayton detected as much from a brief colloquy she had overheard. Bates had brought Molly home from the theater and Mrs. Brayton, partially sitting up by her daughter, had assistingly caught Bates' parting words and Molly's response as they stood together a brief moment in the hall.

"To have you say you love him, Molly, is more than any man deserves," Bates had said. And even as Mrs. Brayton's heart beat a beat she murmured that Bates, whom she considered insufferably spoiled, could speak so humbly.

"But, remember, Bates," came Molly's whisper, "nobody knows it yet, and I haven't really said 'yes'!" Their silence and the closing of the door.

With Mrs. Brayton's disappointment for herself mingled her sorrow for Tom. During the long night she pondered.

Paused in Astonishment.

dored. By Molly's own admission she wasn't as yet irrevocably bound. Suppose it was not too late—suppose a removal from Bates' undeniably fascinating personality would lessen the attraction! It was worth trying.

Over their toast and grapefruit the following morning Mrs. Brayton sprang her scheme. "We leave for Highland lodge this afternoon, dear," she said quite casually.

Molly, a bit of toast halfway to her mouth, paused in astonishment. Then she slipped the morsel between turning red lips. "Lovely, mother," she acquiesced. And Mrs. Brayton, braved for opposition, relaxed, relieved but surprised.

While her mother was packing, Molly said good-by to Bates over the telephone and wrote to Tom, who was away on a business trip. Three hours later she and her mother were on the train.

The letter which Molly had written found Tom in a stuffy little hotel in one of the smaller cities of a Western state. The top of his table was strewn with papers containing estimates of the project for which his firm had sent him away. He brushed them aside and bent his well-set head over the written words of the girl he had loved for twenty years—he being two years older than she. It wasn't a long letter. It wasn't literary. It had two misquellings words.

But at the end Tom paused as if he could not believe the words he read. Then, like a released spring, he jumped to his feet, pulled out his watch, seized a timetable, swept the papers into his grip, closed it with a snap, seized his hat and was out of the door.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Brayton, in spite of an inherent dislike for platitudes, reminded herself frequently that if there was ever a case of "out of the frying pan into the fire," she was the illustration. Bates Schuyler was bad enough, but the young man Molly annexed the third seat in the dining room at Highland lodge was a great deal worse. His having graduated from high school with Tom Hall was not in her eyes sufficient pretext for allowing him to take her daughter canoeing, rowing and walking all hours.

"Molly," and Mrs. Brayton's tone had a ring of despair, "to go around so exclusively with this—this person doesn't seem quite fair to—"

"To whom, mother?" asked Molly innocently.

"To me!" said poor Mrs. Brayton—and then she had the grace to look confused at the surprise in the eyes of her daughter.

The day came when Mrs. Brayton, desperately feeling the need of assistance, decided on a bold stroke. If Molly could enjoy so greatly the companionship of a comparative stranger, her feeling for Bates could not be very deep. A word to Tom and his arrival at the right moment—again Mrs. Brayton's hopes mounted. A telegram, equivocally expressing the situation in few words, went over the wires—and elapsed Tom for some distance across the continent.

Highland lodge was at its liveliest on the night that Tom arrived. A silver moon, shining from the Highland mountain shrouded with radiance the lake and lawns and porch and bathed with its glow the white-clothed figure which sat on the steps waiting.

Molly was waiting for Jack Penrod. But when she saw Molly had finished—vanished into the arms of a tall stranger who turned as Jack approached, then held out his hand and cried: "Jack Penrod, as I live!"

And Molly, murmuring shyly, told him a slim hand, too. "Mr. Penrod has helped some tedious hours pass, telling me about the things you used to do in school, Tom," she said.

After Mrs. Brayton received the explanation which was certainly the best. "I don't see," she complained, half-winded, "how you can love Bates Schuyler and Tom Hall at the same time, Molly!"

"Neither, what an idea!" cried Molly indignantly. "What do you mean?"

"But I overheard you tell Bates you loved him, even if you haven't quite said 'yes,'" explained Mrs. Brayton, patently.

For a moment Molly looked blank. Indebtedly so did Tom. Then she laughed joyously. "Oh, mother, I see it all! You carted me off to this place because you heard me tell Bates, who had just asked me to marry him, that I couldn't because I loved another man, although I hadn't told him so yet."

"Well," said Mrs. Brayton, after a moment, "so much is clear. But how did Tom finally discover that you loved him? He came here because I telegraphed."

"Not altogether," smiled Tom. "When your telegram reached me I was spending this way as fast as express trains could carry me. You see before your telegram I received a letter from Molly in which she said—" he looked at Molly for permission to go on and Molly, in spite of a self-conscious blush, allowed him to continue:

"Mother is carting me off to Highland lodge and I'll marry the first man who comes to my rescue." So I took no chances, but came at once."

"There wasn't much chance involved!" laughed Molly. "You were the only man to whom I wrote of my predicament."

And Mrs. Brayton, reading the look in Tom's eyes, considerably walked out of the room.

KEEP THE MACHINERY OILED

Little Things That Irritate May Be Banished From the Well-Oiled Household.

Assuredly the hundreds of little things making up everyday life rasp the family nerves. Whether they be out of order, grating and squeaking, or whether they run smoothly, well oiled by wise oversight, is up to the keeper of the house.

There is the story of Mandy to illustrate what the constant drip, drip of one small irritation can do.

"Mandy," said her mistress, "come in and see my new outfit board. Don't you want to talk to your dead husband on it?"

"Good laws, no, honey!" said Mandy, shrinking back. Then she added, with a tired sigh: "I done heah dat man talk fo' twenty years. He didn't say much, jes' 'Got any money, Mandy?' but I don't wanna hear him no more."

Worry along with the small irritations "no mo." Use common sense; get rid of them and smile, because nature is smiling.—Boston Globe.

Earth's Oldest Living Thing

With full appreciation of its beauty, and recognition of the majestic size of the giant cypress of Mexico, exception must be taken to the supposition that it is the "oldest tree in the world."

The honor of being the "oldest living thing" belongs to the General Sherman tree in the Sequoia national park in California.

The Mexican cypress grows to enormous size, and is believed to attain an age of over 2,000 years. It must be remembered that the General Sherman was "a lusty youth of 1,500 summers when Christ was born." Its exact age cannot be determined without counting the rings, but it is probably well in excess of 2,500 years. The General Sherman, greatest of all the celebrated Sequoias with stupendous proportions admitting of no exaggeration, stands unassailed as the largest and oldest living thing—American Forestry Magazine.

SEEMED FUNNY TO PERUVIAN

South American Unable to Understand Why Republicans Did Not Seize the White House.

One day a Peruvian friend came to me in great excitement, waving a newspaper.

"Señor," he cried, "there is a revolution in the United States."

"What do you mean?"

He showed me the paper. It contained a brief account of the Republican convention in Chicago, in which Senator Lodge said several uncompromising things about President Wilson.

"You see," explained the Peruvian, "the President's enemies openly attack him. Is the army disloyal? Why do they not suppress the demonstration?"

I explained to him that in the United States it is any citizen's privilege to abuse the Chief Executive to his heart's content, that no effort is made either by the army or by the President himself to check such demonstrations, and that the Republican party would wait patiently until March 4 instead of descending in a body upon the White House and forcibly electing Mr. Wilson.

He smiled in polite incredulity. "What funny people!" he laughed.

His own President had gained office by the more simple expedient of first winning the good-will of the army, then walking into the official palace and taking the former incumbent a ticket on the first steamer out of town.—Ladies'

AIR GLIDERS IN COMPETITION

Remarkable Speed Attained at Recent Meeting in the Rhine District of Germany.

A German gliding and soaring competition was recently held in the Rhine district by the League of German Model Aircraft and Gliding Clubs. The meeting was marked by an unfortunate accident, resulting in the death of the well-known pilot, Von Loessel.

This was due to breaking in the air at the start of his glider. A number of monoplane and biplane were entered, reports the Scientific American, some of very novel design. Many of the entries had comfortable seats and landing gear as distinguished from the old-time gliders in which the operator's legs swung from below the planes, ready to take up the strain of hard landing, often at the price of serious injuries. The longest distance covered by the gliders was 1,530 meters, with a duration of 1425 seconds. That record was made by Klemperer, with a height of 330 meters. The apparent gliding angle of Klemperer's flight was one in thirty-one.

More Than Two Years En Route.

In June, 1918, some Canadian soldiers, crossing the Atlantic to join the forces in Europe, threw overboard in mid-ocean a sealed bottle with a note inside to the effect that they were on their way to the war and asking the finder of the bottle to forward the note to the Toronto Sunday World.

The bottle has just been washed ashore at St. Ives in Cornwall and the request has been carried out. What would be interesting to know would be where the bottle has been during the last two years and a half, and what is the drift that brings so much flotsam and jetsam into the harbor of the little fishing town on the Atlantic. There are many theories, one of which credits the Gulf stream with a memory for the old smuggling days and an intention, in the case of the Canadians' bottle, to show awareness of these good new days which find fresh uses for things of unlovely repute.

HINT FOR OWNERS OF PETS

Mystery of How Spitz Was Kept White Is Solved—Secret Learned From Washwoman.

Another secret process was unwittingly betrayed at a street discussion between two women recently. The women, elaborately dressed and securely of the "sheltered life" type stood, pots in hand, as they gossiped. The one with the Japanese spangle spoke first:

"I have an awful time with Togo; he is such a little aristocrat," and she jerked at the chin as her substitute for a child showed a desire to greet a passing stranger. "The detests castle soap, and I always use facial for his bath, but he just adores lilac-scented talcum powder afterward and I have a spray with lilac water that the both of us use. How's little Snowball now?" (referring to the other woman's Spitz).

"We heard he was ill. You must have been worried sick. I often wonder how you keep him so white."

The other woman's turn, as pampored pets might ask: "It was terrible. Snowy had colic; ate too much sugar—we have to get them especially for him, the little darling—but we got the best doctor we could find and he was all right in two days. Oh, yes, how do I keep him so white?"

Bluing. Always after his bath I put him through bluing; learned it from watching a washwoman once. She put her fine white clothes into bluing and it works just as well with Snowy."

—Portland Oregonian.

DISPUTE ACCURACY OF CLOCK

Heirs of Danish Nobleman Stand to Win or Lose Large Amount of Money by Decision.

What time was it when the castle clock struck twelve?

Ten thousand pounds, normally about $20,000, hinges on the answer to this question, which the London Express correspondent in Denmark, which has been the subject of lively argument in the eastern civil court, Copenhagen.

The clock in question is in the tower of Lystrup castle, the seat of one of Denmark's greatest landowners, the late Count Moltke, a life member of the noble house of lords.

Count Moltke died on the night of December 10, 1910, a few minutes after the castle clock struck twelve. The Danish parliament recently approved a new and increased scale of death duties, applicable to the estate of all persons who died after midnight on December 10, 1910.

It is contended by the count's heirs that the castle clock was fast and struck a minute too soon. The count, they say, died on December 10, and therefore his estate is exempt from the increase in the death duties.

Weavers.

A typical Scots crofter weaving with the old-fashioned hand weaving loom sits by side with the very latest power-loom, giving an idea of the great gain in output and quality achieved in mechanical invention will be an interesting item at the efficiency exhibition in London, where the use of invention and effort will be shown to be of greater value than mere personal application. Not only will the productions be seen to be more quickly executed, but the worker will find the process less mechanical, strange as this may appear. What will doubtless strike all visitors is the enormous increase in efficiency in the weaving industry brought about by labor-saving machinery. It seems strange, too, that more work is required to keep up with the efficient power-loom.—Christian Science Monitor.

Danger in Too Close Shave.

According to the statement of a New York physician, shaving increases the liability of the individual to pneumonia and other nervous troubles of the face, and close shaving of the upper lip each day often has been credited with weakening the nerves that affect the eyes, causing acute eye trouble that disappeared when the mustache was permitted to grow.

Whole Truth About Genius.

A great idea grows like a flower. It changes. In its evolution it leaves crudity and imperfection behind. It assumes a new form, more pleasing in its outline and more striking in its beauty, as it is molded into a thing of deathless energy. An idea which is different to all else is a thing of wonder—if it is true. It is original thought, and this is all that genius is.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Saturday evening about 8:15, the Winchester police were notified that a Buick touring car, the property of Walter T. Kenney of 59 Pine street, Arlington, was stolen from that town. The police kept a sharp lookout on all cars passing through and about 9:29, a citizen notified Officer Cassidy in the square that he saw a car which two men had abandoned on Swanton street, near Beggs & Colby. He followed the supposed two men and when they got to the center they were detained at the police station and questioned by Sergt. McCauley, being finally turned over to two of the Arlington police, who had arrived at the station. They were taken to Burlington for further questioning but gave satisfactory replies to all questions and were finally released as the identification was not complete.

WINCHESTER MEN IN AUTO-MOBILE GOLF

Several Winchester Country Club members were winners in the mid-summer golf tournament of the Bay State Automobile Association at the local club on Monday. There were 95 golfers present and most attractive prizes were awarded, a beautiful silver cup presented by Lt. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller to have been awarded to the day's low net scorer, being held for the next tournament, at which the best 16 net in Monday's play will again compete.

Winchester players figured in the guest prizes, W. L. Barta taking best net with 81-10-71, and R. L. Smith, 82-8-74; R. M. Clough, 86-12-74 and I. S. Hall, 91-17-74, holding a tripple tie for second best net.

The players were divided into two classes for this tournament, A. M. Hoxie took best gross with 80 and tied with W. R. Nicholson at 78 for best net in class A. J. W. Jackson, with 103, took low gross in class B, and J. T. Sullivan took high gross with 191.

The tournament was in charge of Messrs. F. E. Skeetop and A. L. Danforth, the committee being ably assisted by Harry Bowler.

FATHER AND SON TOURNAMENT

The annual Father and Son open tournament at the Winchester Country Club, it is announced, will be held this year on Wednesday, August 10th, at which time all family ties in golfing circles will be off, and more than one head of the house will learn who swings the best club.

The play announced is a Scotch foursome, selected drive, 18 hole medal play, with prizes for best gross, first and second net.

The entries close on Monday, August 8th at 5 p. m., and the course will be open for practice August 8th and 9th.

JEREMIAH F. MALONEY ACTING POSTMASTER

Mr. Jeremiah F. Maloney of Cutting street, assistant Postmaster at the Winchester office, now becomes acting Postmaster through the death of Postmaster John F. O'Connor. Mr. Maloney has been identified with the local office for the past ten years, he entering the office as a clerk and rising to his present position.

POSTMASTER O'CONNOR DEAD

End Unexpected After Long Illness

Postmaster John F. O'Connor died at his home on Nelson street Monday afternoon after a long illness. Although at times his condition had been regarded as very grave, he had, during recent weeks shown a decided improvement, and his sudden passing away was unexpected and a great shock to his family and many friends.

Born in Winchester, Mr. O'Connor had always made his home here, for many years engaging in the retail drug business. Through his genial ways and unflinching cheerfulness he made a host of friends, well liked and respected by all whom he came in contact with. His death will be mourned by a quantity of friends.

John Felix O'Connor was the son of Patrick and Mary (Churchill) O'Connor. He was born on White street, this town, 36 years ago, and attended the public schools, graduating from the High School. Following his graduation he entered the employ of the late Frank O. Covell in his drug store at the corner of Main and Mt. Vernon streets, the present store of Mr. A. B. Allen.

At the death of Mr. Covell he purchased the drug store conducted by Joseph B. Colbert at the corner of Main and Thompson streets, which he conducted for over 15 years. In March, 1917, he was elected a member of the Board of Selectmen and during the summer he was appointed Postmaster of the Winchester office to succeed Mr. Patrick E. Fitzgerald. He resigned from the Board of Selectmen September 8, 1917, upon assuming the duties of Postmaster.

Early this summer he was taken ill with a head trouble of an undetermined nature. His illness contracted a case of hiccup, and eight weeks ago his condition became so serious that he was sent to the Homoeopathic Hospital for observation. He returned in much better condition, but two weeks ago his head again became very bad and he was again confined to his room after two weeks of out-door.

Monday noon his headache left him, and he expressed the thought that he might be able to again resume his office duties next week. Later in the afternoon, however, his pain returned in an exaggerated state, and he rapidly sank to the end. The cause of his death still remains unknown, although during his illness he was examined and treated by a number of specialists.

He married in November, 1907, Miss Katherine Sullivan of this town, who survives him, together with his parents, one sister, Miss Ellen O'Connor of White street, and two brothers, Dr. James H. O'Connor of this town and Dr. Edward M. O'Connor of Cambridge.

Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Mary's Church on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, attended by about 800 persons, including members of the Board of Selectmen, Fire Department, Police Department, A. O. H. K. of C., Edison Electric Illuminating Co., and many town officials and business men as a mark of respect the flag was flown at half-mast on all the public buildings, and the business houses were closed during the service.

Frank Boyle, Hugh McElhenny, Peter Shapchinsky, Daniel O'Leary, Joseph Donaghy and Dennis Collins. Also as honorary bearers were the following members of Woburn Lodge of Elks: Walter W. Carter, exalted ruler; Warren Cox, Charles Farrar, Michael McCarron, James Brine, John Costello, James V. Haley and David H. DeCourcy.

The burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Montvale. He was a member of Woburn Lodge of Elks, Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus and St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

BASE BALL

By Mack

Winchester AA is still going along a good clip managing to hold our own with the majority of the teams in this section. Tonight we play the Arlington Town team on Manchester Field and tomorrow we play in Woburn against the Woburn Legion. We are one of the few teams who have beaten Woburn this season and we should make them go Saturday, to hold us. All the regular fans will go to Woburn tomorrow to see the local team in action, as the brand of ball we are playing is as good and better than what the fans thought we could produce. It only goes to show that if you give local players the opportunity, they can produce the desired results. We are satisfied with the crowds that are coming down Tuesday and Friday nights and each game some new fans all agreeing that we bring good snappy teams here and play a good game ourselves. We are able to get the best teams in this section on a percentage bases and these are the only kind we will bring here. Next week Statham and Reading will be on hand; these teams are rivals and our neighbors, all of which goes to make an interesting and enjoyable evening on Manchester Field. So don't forget two live games next week and a hot hot one in Woburn tomorrow.

A UNIQUE BIRTHDAY PARTY

The League of Women Voters in the city of Boston have just enjoyed a unique experience. They were invited to the home of Mrs. Frederick P. Dooly at Duxbury, Mass., to celebrate the one-hundredth birthday of Mrs. Judith Smith, one of the pioneer suffragists who has lived through practically all of the generations which contributed women to the suffrage campaign. She responded to the greetings by the advice that suffragists should never stop going. They should remember how much work and effort and years of sacrifice it had cost to secure the vote for women. They should particularly remember it on election day, and go to vote no matter what the weather or other hindrances might be. Mrs. Smith is one more evidence that reform work with its exalting hopes produces longevity.—The Woman's Citizen.

EDWARD F. BOYD

Mr. Edward F. Boyd died at his home, 55 Mystic Valley Parkway, on Tuesday. He was 45 years of age, and was a 32nd degree Mason, affiliated with William Parkman Lodge of this town, Hugh DePayens Commandery and Aleppo Temple. He was a member of the Calumet Club, Winchester Country Club and Boston City Club. His death came as the result of a shock received last winter while attending a social function at the Calumet Club.

The funeral services were held from the residence yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Murray W. Dewart of the Church of the Epiphany. The interment was in Wildwood cemetery.

ACREE—WAIT

Miss Marjorie Fiske Wait, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Wait of Felsdale, was married on Saturday afternoon at four to Ensign James Thomas Acree, U. S. N. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Murray W. Dewart, rector of the Church of the Epiphany.

The couple were attended by Mrs. Rufus C. Clark, who was matron of honor, and the groomsmen was Mr. Philip E. Wait, brother of the bride. Mr. Acree will sail on the 10th for Shanghai, China, where he is to be stationed for the next two years. Mrs. Acree will join him in the Fall.

BARRON—WITT

Mr. George A. Barron of this town and Mrs. Lottie Perkins Witt of Windsor, Vt., were quietly married at the home of Mrs. C. Sherman in the home-town of the bride on Monday, August first, at 10 a. m. by Rev. H. S. Putnam.

After a motor trip through northern New England, Mr. and Mrs. Barron will be at home after October 15th at 26 Winthrop street, Winchester.

POP CONCERT

A pop concert is to be given next Friday evening, Aug. 12 on St. Mary's parochial school grounds by the Northern Lights in aid of the school fund. An interesting feature of the affair is to be the selection of "Miss Winchester 1921."

ACTIVE WORK ON CAMBRIDGE STREET CONSTRUCTION

Steam shovels biting their way through the hills and mounds along Cambridge road on the construction work for the state, in which the road will be entirely rebuilt for three miles, is an interesting sight for any visitor at this time.

The big fill at the junction of Cambridge road and Lexington street, where the road will be diverted through the Philip H. Doherty farm to the top of the hill at the Hanson and Foster place is now being done and it is a scene of intense activity. One of the big steam shovels is chopping off the crown of the hill while heavy motor trucks are depositing the excavated soil in the valley on the Doherty place.

A bridge will span the valley at the lowest point of the grade and the roadway will shoot across in almost a straight line from the Maroon greenhouses on the hill to the south. The trees on the triangle at the intersection of Cambridge road, Lexington and Russell streets have been chopped down because the road will cut through the triangle.

Starting at Church street in Winchester the first grades have been reached and the steam road rollers are getting the foundation into shape for the stone courses. As one makes a trip along the road there is a variety of every description. The first big section comes at Pond street where the contractors are cutting away the ledge at the blacksmith shop.

This ledge will be cut away for a distance of thirty feet. In places it is more than thirty feet high, giving a fair idea of the magnitude of the task.

Steam shovels have bared the ledge at this point and it is now being made ready for the drills and the dynamite. In a short time there will be no evidence of the sharp corner that has for years caused motorists danger and inconvenience. The little old blacksmith shop in the shelter of the ledge must go before the progress of the work and the sharp turn will be entirely eliminated. Powers Brothers of Brockton are building the road on the state from the Winchester line to the Burlington line, a distance of about three miles. They will receive about $100,000 for job and they are snapping it through with speed. This concern has handled many similar jobs, but few have offered the obstacles that the Cambridge road work presents.

Swampy sections along the line are being filled and in one point near the Woburn-Winchester line a fine colony of trees were obliged to move when the big trucks commenced to fill the swamp with the excavated material from other points. A number of big trees were in the path of the new line have been chopped down and the big roots and stumps pulled up and carted away.

Few can realize the immensity of the job without going to the place to see it. There is hardly a hundred feet of the roadway at any point that has not some construction work. New culverts are being put in where the old ones were located and arrangements are being made for the proper drainage to keep the road in shape.

When the job is done the motorists will revel in the straightened lines, reduced grades and generally much improved course.

While visitors are welcome at the job it is not desirable that motorists attempt to traverse the course because it is practically impassable for automobiles. The most spectacular points are at the Doherty place, at Cambridge road, and Lexington street, where the visitor may leave an automobile and walk a hundred yards and see the work or he may go to Pond street and leave the machine while he walks to the junction on there.

DOWNING—DRISCOLL

The marriage of Miss Laura Driscoll and Mr. Patrick J. Downing took place Sunday afternoon July 31st at 3 o'clock at St. Mary's Rectory, Rev. Father Quigley performed the marriage. Miss Mary Lee-cousin of the bride was bridesmaid and Mrs. Thomas Downing brother of the groom was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Downing will make their home at 675 Saratoga street, East Boston.

NOTICE

If there are those in Winchester having a surplus of fresh vegetables or fruits in their gardens who would care to remember the Old People's Home during the coming weeks, their donations would be greatly appreciated. There are still preserving jars and classes at the Home which may be aided by the owners.

RIDDLE TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Richard Riddle of 17 Fairview terrace was struck by an automobile at the Black Horse turnout on Main street at 11:30 Wednesday night. According to report the young man was on an electric car which was running onto the turnout with its door open. He jumped off and ran in front of the car directly in the path of a passing auto driven by Paul McCall of Woburn. McCall stopped his machine and took Riddle to the Hospital, where he was treated by Dr. Sheehy. He was found to be suffering from a bruised leg and a cut arm, together with other bruises about the body.

WOBURN JUMPS ITS TAX RATE TO $33.80 FOR 1921

Depression in Leather Business Causes Heavy Loss

Announcement was made in Woburn Saturday that the tax rate in that city this year will be $33.80, an increase over that of last year of $7.80, due largely to the industrial depression as affecting the leather business. In addition to the general falling off of business, two large tanneries burned during the year. In all the city suffered a slump in property valuation of $322,205. The present total valuation is $16,054,597.

BIRTHS

A daughter was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy of 16 Clark street.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McCall of 74 Middlesex street are the parents of a daughter, born last week at the Winchester Hospital.

A son was born at the Winchester Hospital last week to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carboneau of 77 Harvard street.

GARDEN NEWS STORY

Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture
and
Home Economics
SUBJECT—Preparation of the Garden

Nearly all plants of the garden may be attacked by some species of aphids or plant lice. They are usually so small and feed in such protected places that their presence is unknown until they have done considerable damage. They feed by sucking the plant juices from stems or leaves by means of a jointed beak which penetrates the surface and pierces the cell beneath. These lice reproduce themselves very rapidly, having from ten to fifteen generations during the season.

Because of their method of feeding they cannot be controlled by stomach poisons. Spraying must be done which will kill them by contact. As lice almost always feed on the underside of the leaves, spraying must be directed toward that surface. Only those lice which are actually hit by the spray will be killed.

Nicotine Sulphate 40 percent, which is frequently sold under the trade name of "Black Leaf 40," is the most satisfactory spray for destroying aphids. This should be used at the rate of two teaspoonfuls to one gallon of water. In order to make this spray stick well to the foliage it is a good plan to dissolve one ounce of laundry soap in a little warm water and add it to the solution. This spray may safely be used in combination with other sprays, such as Bordeaux Mixture and Arsenate of Lead. In such cases soap should not be used. Whale or fish oil soaps are very effective in destroying plant lice, using one half pound to three gallons of water.

All weeds in the garden should be destroyed in order that they may not offer breeding places for the aphids. Certain kinds of weeds are known to be food plants for many species of plant lice.

WINCHESTER LOST TO BOSTON POST OFFICE

A close device on at first base cost Winchester Town Team its game with the Boston Post Office nine here Saturday afternoon, many fans claiming that by the tied score resulting from the run lost in the eighth inning, the local boys would have won out. As the game finished, honors went to the visitors 4 to 3, Roach's three-lagger clinching the win. Winchester scored hardily in the second, putting three men across. They held the visitors to one run until the eighth, when the Post Office men got three more across, Winchester being unable to score in the ninth.

The game was a good one from start to finish, the double play of Hovey, Christoforo and Walsh showing quick head work. Matthews occupied the box for Winchester during Davidson's absence and struck out three men.

LEONARD FIELD TO BE MARKED

It is planned at the official opening of Leonard Field at the Highlands, which will take place some time in the fall, to dedicate a suitable marking tablet in memory of the late Augustus M. Leonard after whom the playground is named. At present the plans call for a large field boulder with a suitable bronze tablet to be placed at the entrance.

Miss Isabel Andrews has returned from a stay at Newport, R. I.

LAUNDRY ORCHESTRA TO PLAY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

No concern in its line is better or more favorably known than The Winchester Laundries, Inc., operating in the Greater Boston Metropolitan District, with branch plants at Lowell and Waltham.

In the development of the company's business, covering a period of twenty-three years, the management has devoted no little time and attention to social welfare work among its 250 employees.

Aside from considerable athletic chitling manifest among the company's working force; baseball nine—both male and female; bowling team, etc., the aesthetic taste of the employees has not been permitted to go unnoticed. Today as a culmination of recognized musical ability The Winchester Laundries, Inc., has a splendidly equipped orchestra of twenty pieces. It is this orchestra that will furnish the music for the forthcoming Costume Party and Ball to be held at the Contosook Inn, East Jaffrey, August 6th, for the benefit of the New Hampshire Children's Aid and Protective Society.

The management of The Winchester Laundries, Inc., has very graciously furnished free transportation for the members of the orchestra, and the members themselves have donated their services free of charge for this worthy charity.

A splendid musical program has been arranged for a grand promenade concert to precede the Ball.

BOAT CLUB SPORTS OPENED SATURDAY

The schedule of fortnightly sports at the Winchester Boat Club opened Saturday afternoon, the first round in the series of events being run off in the bay in front of the club house. A list of six events is to be contested through the summer, closing October 8th, points each fortnight to be counted toward winning the silver cups offered as prizes.

On Saturday afternoon, owing to the absence of several of the paddlers, it was decided to postpone four of the events until a later date, and only two quarter-mile races were run off. Both events were, however, closely contested. The single blade quarter mile was won by Ted Clifton with Bob Moffette second and Kenneth Pratt third. Pratt and Moffette won the single tandem, quarter mile, with Clifton and Conant L. Boyer second, while President C. H. Eastwick and V. P. Clark were a close third.

The next contest in the series will be held on August 13th.

Among the Winchester people on automobile tours are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Murphy and daughter Mary. With them are Messrs. Joseph Blackham and Joseph McCauley.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE

The public prints chronicle the death of an infant who swallowed the strychnine pills she had taken for candy. A youngster in a community not far remote from Winchester experimented with strychnine. Almost as soon as he had swallowed the pills he mentioned the fact, and the physician was summoned. It was not a case in which any time could be lost, and the medical decision was "Keep him walking all day long." The father, the mother, an aunt and a grand father took turns, and walked the floors holding the hands of the four-year old boy and keeping him to his paces. He never complained though he nearly fell to the ground from fatigue. Stumbling along he would say "If I go to sleep I'll never wake up," and this would give him new vigor.

But science tells us that perpetual motion does not work, and at last the little fellow was so exhausted that he could not drag one foot after the other. The physician pronounced that he might safely go to sleep, and he was in fair condition the next morning. Naturally this drew attention to the child, who was an unusually intelligent little fellow. The family soon left the community in question. Some time ago The Spectator learned that the boy was a graduate of the Boston Latin school and that he had entered the office of a well-known corporation. He is, The Spectator presumes, a man and a voter by this time. Memory brings before us a woman who imprudently ate some food which the physician had placed on the forbidden list, and nearly died in consequence; tried the experiment again and had even more distress than the first time.

A school mate of The Spectator broke his arm one afternoon, and went the same night to a popular place of amusement, risking a second fracture in the crowd. A list of foolhardy exploits can easily be made by any Winchesterite who has a long roll of acquaintances, and the recklessness of many grown persons emphasizes the intelligence of the child who followed the physician's directions so long as his tired little feet could move.

Our idea of a strong-minded Winchesterite is one who never talks about the weather. Two many men here in Winchester or elsewhere talk an hour for every minute they work.

Does every person who changes his residence publish a statement or seek an interview? Health, business, desire for fresh fields and pastures new, a wish to go back to the localities of old long syne, a longing to join Kinsfolk, a yearning to get away from them, trouble with editors, aversion to neighbors—there are only a few of the motives that impel man to pack up his goods or sell out and pitch his tent elsewhere. It is more than likely that hundreds of persons change their residence simply because it is so easy a matter to do it. Perhaps in half or more than half the cases we know, several motives acted on the incoming or the departing family. It is not certain that the man who lived next door to us and is now on his way to Seattle has analyzed his first, second and third reasons for going to the far West, nor are we absolutely sure that he considers it any of our business. It is some times amusing, but hardly enlightening to hear old gossipers explain the arrivals and departures in the minds of a community the size of Winchester. They rarely agree, and are liberal in assumption. Some of their conjectures are brilliant guesses. If they are kindly disposed towards somebody they ascribe a credit motive for his incoming or out-going; if otherwise the reverse. Frequently they know nothing about the real motives of action. It is not unworthy of notice that biographers often express their doubts as to the reasons inducing a celebrity to close one home rather than another. A Forster does not understand or pretend to understand the impulses of a Dickens, so well as a gossip understands those of everybody in the town.

Do Yours Comply With the State Laws

Acting in pursuance of the authority conferred by section thirty-one of chapter ninety of the General Laws the rules and regulations relative to lights on motor vehicles made by the Massachusetts Highway Commission under corresponding provisions of earlier laws, are hereby rescinded, and the following are declared adopted in lieu thereof, the same to be effective August 15, 1921.

Section 1—If and when, during the period when motor vehicles are required to display lights by section seven of chapter ninety of the General Laws, and amendments thereof, there is not sufficient light within the traveled portion of the highway to make clearly visible all vehicles, persons and substantial objects within a distance of at least one hundred and sixty feet, no automobile shall be operated unless it is equipped with two lighted headlamps of approximately equal candle power which shall throw sufficient light ahead to make clearly visible all vehicles, persons or substantial objects upon the roadway within a distance of one hundred and fifty feet.

Section 2—Every lens or other device designed to prevent glaring rays, the use of which on motor vehicles has been approved by the registrar, as provided in said section seven, shall be applied and adjusted in accordance with the requirements of the certificate approving the use thereof. Every lamp bulb or light used in any headlamp on a motor vehicle shall be of twenty-one mean spherical candle power. Every reflector which is used as a part of such headlamp shall have a highly polished silvered or glass reflecting surface and shall be free from dents, rust and other imperfections.

Section 3—The operator of every motor vehicle shall permit any police officer or motor vehicle investigator and examiner to inspect the head lighting equipment of such motor vehicle and to make such test as may be necessary to determine whether the provisions of section two are being complied with.

All motor vehicles operated on the ways of Massachusetts, during the period from one half an hour after sunset to one half hour before sunrise, shall be equipped with an approved device, excepting that motor trucks of carrying capacity of two tons or over equipped wholly or in part with hand roller tires may display acetylene lamps equipped with a lens or device designed to prevent glaring rays to be approved at a later date.

Regulations covering the use of said approved lenses or devices shall become effective August 15th, 1921.

The following is the approved list of headlight lenses to be properly adjusted:

Approved Headlighting Devices
Brown Reflector.
Conaphone Type F (colorless glass).
Holophone No Tilt.
Leo Knight.
Legalite M 111.
Liberty Type D.
Macbeth Type D.
Patterson.
Universal.
Wills—St. Claire.
Alphoec.

Holophone.
Liberty.
National.
Primo-type Type B.
Synchro-type Type A.
Violet Ray.
Shaler Roadlighter.
Fractolite.

Special attention is called to the fact that the Macbeth lens is not legal unless the name "Macbeth Type D" is molded in the glass; the Legalite lens is not legal unless the name "Legalite M 111" is molded in the glass; and the Conaphone is not legal unless it is made of colorless glass and has the name "Conaphone Type F" molded in the glass.

FOUR BALL BEST BALL

Saturday's play at the Winchester Country Club was a four ball, best ball, one-quarter handicap. There was a large field out, the event going to R. B. Neely and S. T. Hicks on net figures of 67.

The scores:
R. B. Neely and S. T. Hicks, 67-67.
E. A. Bradlee and D. M. Belcher, 69-70.
P. W. Dunbar and L. W. Barlow, 69-70.
E. E. Boney and G. W. Boney, 69-70.
N. H. Seelye and G. L. Russell, 69-71.
P. A. Hendrick and C. M. Crafts, 69-71.
E. C. Starr and W. S. Fairchild, 69-71.
A. M. Bond and H. T. Bond, 69-72.
C. P. Whorf and D. K. Stephenson, 69-80.
C. F. Ordway and J. R. Ordway, 69-80.
E. A. Kelley and C. H. Hall, 69-84.

Last Thursday evening two autos came together at the corner of Swanton and Main streets, both being badly wrecked. One car was a Maxwell touring, driven by Bernard Greenberg of Somerville, and the other a Ford touring, driven by Paul Howard. No one was injured.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

August 1, 1921.

The Board met at 7:30 P. M., all present.

The records of the meeting of July 25 were read and approved.

Town Hall Engagements 1921 (School Dep't): The School Department was granted the free use of the Town Hall for the purpose of conducting a Garden Exhibit on Friday and Saturday, September 16 and 17, 1921. A police officer for whose services no charge is to be made must be in attendance.

Fire Dept. (Fire Alarm): A report was received from the Chief of the Fire Department stating that all fire alarm boxes had been tested, and found to be in good working condition. Same was ordered filed.

Invitations: An invitation was received from the Allie Committee of the Medford Post 15, A. L. and General S. C. Lawrence Camp, 39, U. S. W. B., to attend the Mardi Gras festival and jubilee to be held on Medford Common August 1-6, 1921 inclusive. On Monday evening August 1st the affair is to be public official and city organization on night. The letter was ordered filed.

Town Hall Building (Reports): A report was received from the Division of Inspection of the Department of Public Safety of Massachusetts stating that the rating of the Town Hall Building in Winchester is good.

Licenses 1921 (Town Hall): The special hall license relating to the Town Hall in Winchester was received from the Commissioner of Public Safety. This license is effective until August 1, 1922.

Road Tar-Cold Patch: The Board voted to authorize the Superintendent of Streets to purchase Tarmac, KP for cold patching at 17 cents or less per gallon in such quantities as are necessary, same to be delivered by auto tank truck and dumped into the town's containers at Winchester.

Sidewalks Gravel (Stone Avenue): The Board voted that the Superintendent of Streets be instructed to build a gravel sidewalk penetrated with tar on the northerly side of Stone Ave.

Pole Locations Lawrence St: A report was received from the Town Engineer suggesting that in connection with the relocation of certain poles in Lawrence and Harrison sts., Mr. Knodell of the Edison Co., has informed him that the pole in Harrison street nearest Lawrence street is a Telephone Company pole, and that this pole if changed in location, must be moved to the Telephone Company. The Town Engineer suggests that the Telephone Co. be asked to make the pole relocation. The Clerk was instructed to write the Telephone Co. and ask them to make the proposed pole relocation on Harrison street, said location to be made according to instructions to be given by the Town Engineer.

Board of Survey: The Clerk was instructed to insert the following notice in the Winchester Star of a hearing to be held in the Selectmen's Room on August 15, 1921 at 8 o'clock P. M., relating to a Board of Survey matter.

NOTICE*IN BOARD OF SURVEY

Winchester, Mass., Aug. 1, 1921.

Massachusetts Lighting Companies*NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS AND THEIR FAMILIES:

Opportunity is now given, if you are a customer of one of our gas or electric companies, to purchase a few of the new 8 Preferred Shares on the partial payment plan.

It is the desire of the management to have these securities as widely distributed as possible among its customers and their families.

To this end there is available a limited number of these Preferred Shares which are offered at $100 per share and accrued dividend on the following plan:

Customers may purchase for themselves and members of their families. The price is $100 per share and accrued dividend, payable in cash or in ten (10) monthly payments, 10% of the total amount to accompany the application.

Interest at 6% per annum will be allowed on money paid on installments.

Applications will be accepted until the limited amount offered at this time is exhausted. Allotments will be made strictly in order of their receipt.

No application will be accepted for more than ten (10) shares. The purchaser may at any time receive his certificate upon payment of the balance due and the adjustment of interest and dividends.

These shares at the offering price yield 8% on the investment. The Massachusetts Lighting Companies has paid quarterly dividends regularly for eighteen years or since 1903.

As only a limited number of shares are available, should you desire to take advantage of this offer, you are advised to do so at once. Application blanks and any further information you may desire may be secured from Mr. F. A. Woodhead, the manager of the Arlington Gas Light Company.

ARTHUR E. CHILDS, President.

May 1921.

The name Massachusetts Lighting Companies is the designation of the Trustees for the time being under a Declaration of Trust dated October 1, 1903. All persons dealing with the Massachusetts Lighting Companies must look solely to the trust property for the enforcement of any contract with or claim against said Massachusetts Lighting Companies. Trustees, officers, or shareholders neither assume, nor shall be held to any personal liability present or future, under or by reason of any contract, order or obligation entered into in behalf of said Massachusetts Lighting Companies.

KATTOWITZ: THE SCRANTON OF SILESIA

"Kattowitz, besieged for weeks because of the fighting between Poles and Germans of Upper Silesia, is one of those cities which blossom on the long stems of mining shafts, deep rooted but exotic," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

It is one of the most fascinating phases of geography, this matter of why cities are born, flourish, and sometimes perish. From ancient times ocean harbors and navigable rivers, forts and crossroads of trade routes have been magnets for human population. But Kattowitz and its close-clustered sister cities of Silesia are modern phenomena, sprung up like mushrooms among coal and iron mines.

"Quantity production and standardization also seem to be modern attributes of cities. Kattowitz is akin to its neighbors, Konigsbush and Beuthen, along a straight line to the northwest, and to Gleiwitz, Zabrze and Zaborze to the west. Zabrze retains that name on the map through some of its Germanic inhabitants, at one stage of the World War, thought it would sound sweeter if it were called Hindenburg, and they petitioned for that change.

Once in "Wild and Woolly" East Kattowitz is about one hundred miles to the southeast of Breslau, mother city of Upper Silesia. Once Breslau was the frontier city of European civilization. Even in the century that Columbus sailed westward, all of Europe beyond Breslau was the wild and woolly east of the continent.

"When railway and waterway improvements, telephone and telegraph bound Europe into a new economic unity Breslau emerged in another role—that of a railroad center, shipping place at the navigable head of the Oder, and focal point for a rich mining and manufacturing province. Even in the century of America's war of independence Upper Silesia was a wooded, sparsely populated no man's land that no nation would have expended energy to fight for. Now it is the western Pennsylvania of Europe. Silesian Cities Weaned from Breslau

"If you will draw a triangle on a map of Silesia, with Gleiwitz, Myslowitz and Tarnowitz at the apex points, a triangle which would include Kattowitz, you will mark off an area about one-sixth the size of Rhode Island in which three-quarters of a million people had their homes before 1914. Nor was this region affected by the war.

"As these Silesian cities along the borderland of the New Poland have developed they have ceased clinging to Breslau's skirts. They have been made more self dependent by railroad lines and by a canal which meets the Oder at Kosel to which point the river has been able navigable."

REVERE K. OF C. HERE TOMORROW

Tomorrow's base ball game on Manchester Field will be with Revere K. of C., a strong semi-pro team which has been putting up good ball since the start of the season and which has also been a previous visitor to Winchester. A fast game is expected.

Shoes Wear Out So Do Batteries!

When a pair of shoes wear out you have been notified in advance by the thinness of soles or cracking of the uppers—or some other easily recognized sign.

But when a battery wears out you may be taken by surprise, because batteries often go strong until the last minute.

The way—and the only way—to cut trouble and worry and cost to the limit is to buy the best battery—the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery. Its Threaded Rubber Insulation gives you the most miles of uninterrupted service per dollar.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Many who think they will be chosen are not even called.
Many a man has repented at leisure who never married at all.

Fully two thirds of what the average man says is of no consequence.

No matter how young you are, you are probably old enough to know better.

"Bone dry" is a good thing it keeps men from going to the dogs.

Did you ever receive an income tax bill with a correct on in your favor? (Herald). No, but we have heard of a man who had to spend $2500 to prove he was unjustly taxed $8000.

Now that the headlight matter has been brought to a head, are definite laws established, why not take up the horns? Some of the signaling devices carried can hardly be heard two feet from the car, and with all the arrests for not blowing horns at intersecting streets, it might be a good idea to examine the cars and see how much, if any, noise they can make as a warning.

Another bunch of motorists were in court this week for not observing traffic regulations at Main and Lake streets. This place has long been a point of controversy. It is very dangerous, unquestionably, but many out-of-town drivers claim the signs are not easily seen. It has been suggested that a transparent sign might be easily placed in front of the electric light which could be read at night as well as during the day, thus eliminating this complaint.

The practice of electric car motormen, especially those operating one-man cars, of opening the car doors before stopping should be recognized and stopped. It is very common, and hardly a motorist could get on a trolley or motor car without striking some one alighting from such a moving car. If motorists are required to stop and allow passengers to alight from the cars, the motormen should not open their doors until their car is at a standstill.

Winchester is becoming very much decorated with the new traffic markings, hardly a street in town escaping the circles, arrows or lettering. Even the hydrants are encircled in circles. The idea is good. It calls attention to the parking and driving regulations and silently and instructively gives the auto driver information and warning. With the grace and variance in city and town ordinances met with throughout this section the average motorist does not know where he is at half of the time. Plenty of signs is better than doubling the traffic snarl. The next improvement should be in our directing signs. Road maps show the entrance to a place, but not the route through the congested parts, and those places with plain, simple directing signs are welcomed by every driver.

We print this week an interesting article on local conditions on the West side of the town as they existed in 1855. Written by a resident who has passed all his life in Winchester and who has seen our town grow from a small village, the part of a neighboring city, to its present proportions, it should prove interesting reading to newer residents. Our older citizens are gradually passing on. In past years the STAR has printed many interesting historical facts as contributed by old settlers, but of recent years we hear little of former conditions. With the more recent growth of the automobile it should prove an interesting venture for some of our residents to drive over our roads, note the old landmarks and the rapid growth we have made—and possibly picture the conditions as they will be in the future.

There appear to be many people who are arriving at the conclusion that the so-called "Betterment Act" under which our Board of Selectmen are refusing to recommend the acceptance of private ways, is not working out in a very satisfactory manner. Under this act the Selectmen have the power to arbitrarily demand any construction they see fit before agreeing to recommend acceptance. If the Board is willing, it may recommend acceptance as a street stands; if not willing, it may demand the finest macadam. The acceptance of streets therefore, becomes simply a question of how the Board is feeling. To demand a specific form or type of construction on new development may be all right, provided such demand is made along uniform and established lines. If this is done the rules should be the same year after year. One street should not be recommended under one construction and another under a different form. As regards established private ways, used and maintained for many years, it might appear that still other established rules might be followed. We have in town one such private way, maintained and open to travel for at least 75 years. This is Wolcott terrace. It was refused recommendation for acceptance about 18 years ago by one Board of Selectmen because it was a dead-end street, notwithstanding other dead-end streets were accepted by Boards following in office. It does not seem right that this street should be placed in the same class with new construction, which the present Board demands, and the residents upon it hope that following Boards will not consider it under this head, for a fully developed street is a different proposition from a new development, opened for private use. Under the old method, streets were accepted or not, just as the Selectmen in office regarded them. Where then, is the objection under the Betterment Act except to provide an excuse for turning a street down? Surely a street 75 years old should not be ranked with a street three years old; a street completely built up should not be classed with a plowed furrow through a field. How many of our streets were macadamized 75 years ago; how many were dead-end ways; how were they accepted by the Town? It looks as though new development in Winchester is to be still more retarded, for prospective residents may turn from our building laws to our street acceptances. If a man finds he has to build his house and then, years after, build his street in a manner set forth by no definite ruling, but simply as any Board of Selectmen demand, he may choose to make his home elsewhere.

Are you ever at a loss what to get for a favor for the end party? Wilson the Stationer has just received a line of novelties which will please both yourself and your guests.

Rev. Fr. Nathaniel J. Merritt of St. Mary's Church was celebrant of the mass, with Fr. Joseph H. Fitzgibbons deacon and Fr. Joseph A. Quigley sub-deacon. Seated in the sanctuary were Fr. Eugene Mazuire of Walpole and Fr. Francis E. Rogers of St. James Church, Salem, formerly of St. Mary's. Gregorian mass was sung by a trio.

The ushers for the service were Messrs. Joseph McCarthy, William P. Callahan, Thomas Farrell and Howard S. Cosgrove. The active pall bearers were Messrs. Jeremiah Mahoney, Charles F. Harrold, Joseph Foley of Cambridge, Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, Daniel E. Hurley and James E. O'Connor.

The honorary pall bearers included the carriers and clerks of the Winchester Post Office as follows: Thomas Harkins, John McNally, Joseph O'Connor, Frank Valley, Charles Flaherty, Charles Keating.

10-10 TIE

The first of a series of games between the Highland Hustlers and the Never Sweats of Harvard street was played on Leonard Field last evening, resulting in a 10-10 tie. The hitting of Barksdale featured the playing of the Never Sweats, and the fielding of Carroll and catching of McElhinney carried the Hustlers into the line light. The next game in the series is scheduled for next Thursday night.

The score:

BUILDING PERMITS

The Inspector of Buildings has issued the following permits for the week ending August 4th:

Frank E. Welch of 785 Main street, Wood frame garage at same address, 10x11 feet.

Walter F. Cladin of 200 Forest street, Alterations to store front in Norris Block, 532 Main street.

S. Walter Taber of Andover, Mass., wooden dwelling on Pierpont street, 31x21.

Melons, 2 and 3 for 25c; bananas 45c doz.; oranges 75c doz.; plums 25c doz.; peaches 50c doz, 90c basket; lemons 55c doz. W. O. Blaisdell, 612 Main street, Tel. 1271.

Mr. and Mrs. Avard L. Walker and family are at Freedom, N. H. for the month of August.

The new Legion headquarters on Washington street has been equipped with a flag pole, and the flag was flown for the first time this week, it being at half-mast out of respect to our late Postmaster, John P. O'Connor.

Mr. George Harrold of the Water Department was credited with stopping a runaway horse on the west side Wednesday. The animal was attached to a wagon and took fright near Pond street, running nearly a mile before Harrold stopped it in the vicinity of Foxcroft road.

Brown Reflectors

ONLY SEVEN DAYS

Left in which to change your head lights to comply with the new State Law.

After August 15, 1921, every motor vehicle operating in the State of Massachusetts must be equipped with an approved headlight device. BROWN REFLECTORS are second on the list published by the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

BROWN REFLECTORS do not cut off any of the light such as a lens device must do to eliminate the glare. A plain glass lens is used with them. They are so constructed that they keep all the light on the road.

The light obtained not only fulfills the requirements of law as to distance and absence of glare but has, in addition, a side light of such brilliancy that the gutter, the sidewalk, and the fence are clearly illuminated on the darkest night.

This feature has earned for BROWN REFLECTORS the name of ROAD WIDE LIGHT.

Demonstrations arranged on request.

30x3 1/2 STANDARD NON-SKID

The Fastest Selling Tire In America

The increasing popular demand for the Firestone Standard 30x3 1/2 inch tire over a period of years has given us big volume. Our Plant No. 2 devoted wholly to this size tire with a capacity of 16,000 tires and 20,000 tubes per day cuts costs on every operation.

On May 2, we dropped our price to $13.95 passing on to the car owner the full benefits of this big sales volume and this labor-saving plant. This tire has been our standard for years—four plies long staple fabric—extra gum between plies—heavy non-skid tread. The greatest value ever offered car owners. Insist on Firestone.

Our Cord Tire Values

Firestone Cord tires are made exclusively in Plant No. 1. Our process of double gum-dipping each ply of cord gives thicker insulation. The massive non-skid tread, with extra thickness where wear is most severe, gives real effectiveness in holding the car against slipping and adds many extra miles of service.

Firestone Cord tires are sold at the lowest prices in cord tire history: 30x3 1/2, $24.50; 32x4, $26.50; 34x4 1/2, $28.50.

HEATLESS MANGLE

The Heatless Ironer Co. of 10 High street Boston, is about to place on the market an interesting and unique machine, which will do the greater part of the household ironing without heat, thereby saving time, gas, coal and money.

The machine is simple, operating by means of rollers, weights and springs, and the price much lower than any mangle now on the market. It is attractively painted a French gray, and easily moved about. The accompanying cut shows the machine under construction with the front left open. Similar ones are motor driven, and can be attached by cord to the electric light fixture.

The Ironer can be seen in operation at the above address. The patents have been allowed and a company incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts for $10,000. The officers and owners are: Roland E. Titcomb of Ipswich, President; Frederick N. Kerr of Winchester, Treasurer and James M. Kerr of Quincy.

MUSEUM GETS RARE RUGS

Once Used to Wrap Around Pillars in the Orient, They Are Now in Philadelphia.

Six Mongol rug pieces, recently purchased by the Philadelphia museum, have been hung in the Memorial hall, Fairmount park, in the north corridor; one pair at the entrance to the Wilkes gallery, one pair at the entrance to the Silver room and the third pair at the entrance of the section devoted to musical instruments. These rugs were once found about the wooden pillars of Mongol huts or tents, and in several of the museum examples the wooden lozenges which bound them are still there. The silk textile-decoration for pillars followed carving, which would account for persistence of design, as these rugs could have been used for no other purpose. In one pair, at least, the design becomes meaningless when spread flat, for the dragons which coil about the pillar appear cut off in three separate pieces, which meet exactly when the edges are joined.

The Chinese Hsiao Tsung, traveling to India in the first half of the seventh century, says that the pavilions of the monastery of Sancha were adorned by pillars ornamented with dragons. The burial chambers of the kings, with their interlacing, have been uncovered from the mounds of earth which were heaped about them, and on the stone walls are fresco paintings. The doorway from the outer to the inner chamber of one of these royal tombs is flanked on either side by an octagonal column on which are painted coiled dragons, no doubt in reminiscence of earlier carved capitals. The next step, for particularly favored people, was to render the entire design for a similar purpose in textile fabric to be hung to the post.—Philadelphia Record.

FRENCH CITY IN THE DESERT

Little Township of Ishmailia Has Been Made Place Where Beauty Abides Beside Desolation.

Sir Ian Mabelson, British government representative on the Suez canal board, gives a charming description of the luxurious little township of Ishmailia, which is the headquarters of the company. The executive of the undertaking is perfectly entirely French, and therefore it is not surprising to learn that behind a broad belt of tall trees and waving palms one finds a town that is purely French in atmosphere and maintenance.

There is the residence, where I am now staying with M. Jomart, the president; buildings, schools, shops, are all French, in fact you feel that you are living in a smart French seaside resort, where roses, violets and strawberries abound throughout the year, but if you go a mile in any direction from the lake you come to the end of civilization and are faced by the desert.

This lake, the Large Bitter lake, is about ten miles long, and was at one time part of the Red sea, but for centuries it has been dried up and had become part of the desert. Across this depression the canal was dug the sides, and bottom were prepared, and when all was ready the waters of the Mediterranean were allowed to flow in. It took four months to fill this ancient bed of the Red sea.—Christian Science Monitor.

Girl Has Real Grievance.

Girls with an appetite that permit them to relish leather pocketbooks and shoe laces may be ordinary, but a girl with a sense of humor should be unmitigated. This was the opinion offered to the Venice (Cal.) police one afternoon by a young woman, visiting in Red Key from Ohio, when she appeared at police headquarters for help in finding the owner of a "billy" that she caught chewing her purse. She laid the pocketbook on the bank of a canal with her anal with stockings, and while she pulled her feet in the water. She said that the animal had eaten two $5 bills that were in the purse, besides devouring her shoe laces. "When I came running toward him," she explained, "he kind of smiled and kicked my shoes and stockings into the water, so that I was forced to walk home barefoot. I would like to have my $10 made good to me."

Removing Moss From Canals.

When moss grows in canals, it soon causes trouble. Yet how to remove it? George E. Stratton of the United States reclamation service offers several suggestions. If there is plenty of time, the canal can be dried out, the sun will kill the mossy growth. When the moss is stiff, submarine saws will cut it. Dredging the bottom with a barrow is sometimes resorted to, but a chain is more effective. Thirty-five miles of canal were dragged with a chain at a cost of $9 a mile.—Popular Science Monthly.

Clever Trick.

Golden saucers were used by relief workers to carry money in parts of Asia Minor where bandits are at work. One of the best methods adopted was the taking of money from Constantinople to the interior of Anatolia by extracting meat from a string of sausage and substituting gold. The ruse succeeded because the robbers are mostly Turks and have the Moslem abhorrence of the pig and its products. The worker in charge of the golden saucers was held up several times, but the hidden gold was never touched.

CAMBRIDGE STREET IN 1853

Editor of the Star:

As we glide over the five-minute ride between the Country Club and the village I often think of the road as it was then. Beginning at Mornington, instead of the thirty modern houses, there were only Joseph Wyman's old farm building; a long house on the west side and a large barn opposite, cutting off all the view, both buildings right on the street line. From there the road was what is now known as Old Mystic, climbing up and down a rough stony hill by a great yellow barn set right on the street and a watering trough. Nearly down the north hill was a little schoolhouse which had been made over into a two-room cottage, where lived many years a good-natured Frenchman, Peter Le Duc, and his wife.

At the brook the bridge was not the whole width as now, but was open at the roads so the cows used to drink there. The Stephen Swan farm buildings as they were, have been shown in the Star in an article on the Country Club.

Arlington street did not exist. Where the Downs estate is was the Luke Wyman farm, and year after year the earliest peas came from that hillside. The stretch of country along the road north from there was Luke Wyman's cow pasture. It included Myopia Hill. There was no Myopia Road. Where the Langley estate is was a barren pasture except for a fringe of oaks along the lake. None of the evergreens were there. There was a little black cottage about where the house is now and near it a place where a well had been partly dug when it caved in and killed the owner. Children used to go there and look down fearfully as they heard the story.

The water did not come near the road at all. It was before the dam was raised, and the Aberjona was a winding river all the way to the large Mystic Pond. All that is now water by the Winchester Boat Club was a wet marsh of coarse grass and hummocks, where boys risked a wetting to fish for pickers.

Every Thursday a great drove of cattle went by from Brighton Market; frequently a drove of pigs; occasionally a lot of sheep and once a man driving a flock of turkeys.

On Church street there was no building until near the Canal, where there was a small house which is still there.

All the Stillfield road section was a pasture. The line of the Canal where it had crossed Church street was plainly visible and usually there was quite a little water in it. There was no Fletcher street and toward the village on that side the roads do path ran through a little pine woods entirely shut off from the road. I remember passing through it in hot days when the shade was very welcome. I have sometimes found a tramp taking advantage of it for a noon nap. From there north there were only two houses all the way to beyond the Prince School lot. The trees on the opposite land were so thick that looking from the road there was no indication of the rising ground where the Rangleys mansion was later built.

The old High School house was on Dr. Mead's corner, and the Common, then a pasture, was our playground. At recess we rushed out for a game of old-fashioned football, returning so heated up that it was some time before we could settle down to business.

There was no house on the east side of the road between the little old schoolhouse and what is now Everett avenue. That street had not been thought of, but there was a lane in to where traces of the old canal locks remained and an old black mill where a family named Comel lived.

On the west side there was no house north of the Stephen Swan farm until we came to Samuel Gardner's very old house, about where Myopia Road starts.

Between there and Church street there were only two houses on the east side; the John Swan farm house and another Gardner house, where Sarah and Patience Gardner lived. There was no Glen road. On the west side were only two houses; one owned by Mr. Field was on the first elevation close to the road, corner of High street.

The roadside in summer was delightful with a great variety of bushes and wild flowers, but it was a dirt road, very muddy and rutty at some seasons, very dusty at others. There was a bad, sharp curve at the foot of Stump Hill, the road there running in close to the foot of the hill, where the trees were thick on both sides. There were no lights. It was much improved later by taking land from the Everett place and making an entirely new road.

The Ashland A. C. of East Woburn played an eve time ball game with the Leonard Field nine here Monday afternoon, the local team winning 35 to 15. About 200 enthusiastic fans watched the game.

LEGION NOTES

The new quarters of the Legion will be opened a week from next Monday, August 15th. The house has been tastefully furnished, a steward has been employed, and everything made ready for the comfort and enjoyment of the former service men.

With the opening of this new club house, it is hoped that more men will avail themselves of the privileges and opportunities which membership in the Legion affords. Doubtless many men have awaited the opening of the Legion Quarters before making application to join. Anyone eligible to membership may secure application cards from the Post Adjutant, Louis E. Goddu, of from Mr. William Hevey at Allen's Drug Store. The executive committee will hold a special meeting in the near future to act on any applications which may be received. At this meeting, some adjustment of dues will doubtless be made, so that men joining at this time will not have to pay for the full fiscal year.

The local post is planning to give another play during the later part of October. The show will be in charge of of the following committee: George Barbato, Terrence Cullen, James Flinn, Louis Goddu, Henry Harris, William Hevey and George Le Duc.

THE U. S. NOBBY TREAD
Where the going is specially heavy with snow, mud or sand, in hilly country where maximum traction on the road is a factor, no other tire tread yet devised is quite so effective, or so wholly approved by meeting opinion, as the U. S. Nobby Tread.
Its very simplicity—three rows of diagonal knobs, gripping the road—is the result of all the years of U. S. Rubber experience with every type of road the world over.

If every one listened to experience, how much they'd save

STOP and talk to the next man you see with U. S. Tires on his car. Ask him why.

Most likely you'll hear an interesting story about his tire experiments—before the answer was found. Money wasted. Promises unkept. Trouble on the road—humorous to every one except the man who went through it.

Finally U. S. Tires. And U. S. Tires ever since.

Perhaps it's the experience of U. S. Tire buyers that makes them more emphatic in their preference than ever this year.

When these men have tried most everything by the way of "staggering bargains," "hurrah discounts," "discontinued lines at less" and so forth they know what not to get.

They want a fresh, live tire. With a good reputation. That's everything it says it is. With the people behind it who back it up.

There are 92 U. S. Factory Branches. Your local U. S. Dealer is drawing upon them continually to keep his stocks sized up, complete—to give you service.

Whenever he gets one or a hundred tires from a U. S. Factory Branch, they are newly made this season's tires.

Sold to you at a net price. Full values. Square-dealing. A reputable maker. A reputable dealer. The whole transaction as befits the leadership of the oldest and largest rubber organization in the world.

Edmund C. Sanderson, electrical contractors, moved into their new quarters in Lyceum Building Saturday morning. This makes one of the finest places of business in the centre. Finished in two tones of gray, equipped with new fixtures throughout and set up expressly for electrical service. The Sanderson company is carrying a full line of electrical appliances, lamps and fixtures on display ready for immediate delivery.

Friday forenoon five-year-old Ruth F. Collins of 985 Main street stepped from behind a furniture truck which was standing in front of her house loading up to move her parents to a new home, and was struck by the rear fender of a Ford truck owned and driven by Michael Queenin of 755 Main street. She was bruised about the arm and shoulder, and was attended by Dr. A. L. Brown.

Officer Farrell took into custody three young colored boys, aged 10, 9 and 8 years respectively. Saturday night about 9:30. The boys claimed to live in Brockton, and stuck to their story of walking from there to Winchester until Chief McIntosh accused them of running away from an institution in Cambridge. Then they surrendered. They were State boys, Graham Hicks, Charles Cudworth and John Bean, and were turned over to Cambridge authorities.

Mr. Michael J. Queenin of Main street received a broken arm this week cranking his automobile.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Winchester had a lively shower with plenty of rain and hail Sunday evening around five o'clock. Much water fell and again parts of the centre were flooded. Water ran over the sidewalk on Mt. Vernon street at the bridge, and south and north Main street near the centre was flooded. Limbs were blown from trees on Lake street and Cambridge street, the wires being down on the latter street at the Arlington line. The storm did more damage in washing out streets than the big one earlier in the month. Among the streets so damaged was Eaton street and Winthrop street, the rush of water on the latter street displacing two manhole covers.

Miss Annie C. Gorman leaves tomorrow for New York, where she will remain for two weeks.

Robert Winchester of 141 Washington street, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. MacDonald, was struck and knocked down by an automobile in the square Wednesday afternoon. The auto was driven by Ralph Sylvester of Medford. The boy ran directly in front of the auto, which was travelling at a slow rate of speed. He was taken by Mr. Sylvester to a doctor and later to his home. He was only slightly bruised.

Marriage intentions have been filed with the Town Clerk by Philip Cotton and Bichita Galuffo, both of 11 Harvard street.

Among the approaching weddings is that of Mr. Oliver Francis Freeman of 12 Mystic avenue and Miss Ruby Smith Hopkins of Wellfleet.

SAD ACCIDENT

Diving Injury Kills Jackson Barnes at Gloucester

Andrew Jackson Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Barnes of Wildwood street, died at the Addison Gilbert Memorial Hospital Sunday morning of injuries received the morning before when diving at Fernwood, Gloucester. The young man broke his neck when he dove into three feet of water.

Mr. Barnes, a Junior at the Winchester High School and well known to Winchester young folks, was 17 years old on the day he died. On Saturday morning he went in swimming with John M. Watters, his chum. The boys went out to the channel and had about completed their swim. Watters having gone to shore to dress and Barnes lingering for a few more dives. They had turned a flat bottom boat upside down, diving from it into the channel over three feet of shelving bank.

Watters saw Barnes dive and come to the surface, and then sink. He rushed in and saw him floating off in the deep water. Swimming to him he succeeded in bringing him to shore and then notified a party of men who were camping on the beach nearby. Barnes was paralyzed from his chest down and was immediately taken to the hospital, where specialists were summoned all everything possible done to save his life, but he passed away the following morning.

The young man was conscious, and said in diving he slipped and struck the shallow water at the edge of the boat. He said he could not swim, but held his breath and tried to float until rescued by Watters. Doctors said his neck was broken and that he lived he would in all probability have been paralyzed.

He went to Fernwood, Gloucester, on Friday to visit the Watters family at their summer home. His mother, Mrs. Barnes, is a sister of Mrs. Watters. He was a particularly bright and likable boy and widely known about town, and the sad accident has cast a gloom over a host of friends. Besides his parents he leaves a sister, Miss Marietta Barnes, and one brother, Frank T. Barnes, Jr. He was the eldest of three children.

The funeral services were held from the residence, 41 Wildwood street, Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock. Rev. Frank Oliver Hall, officiating. There was a large attendance of young friends and a profusion of beautiful flowers. The burial was in Wildwood cemetery.

COMPLAINT REGARDING RENT INCREASE

The Housing and Renting Committee, appointed by last year's Board of Selectmen, held a meeting in the Town Hall on Friday evening, August 6th, to consider the complaints of Frank M. Newell, of 627 Main street, and Leigh S. Roberts, of 629 Main street, regarding the increase of rent of the double house, made by the owner.

The evidence showed about the rental of these two houses, which are assessed for about $5000, was $20 until 1918 when it was raised to $22 and later in January 1919 to $25 per month for each apartment. In February of this year the rent was again raised to $28 per month, and the owner had recently given notice that on August 1st it would be raised to $35 per month for each apartment or an increase of more than 25 per cent, within one year, which is the limit that the recent Act of the Legislature has set as reasonable under ordinary conditions.

The facts also show that the property is in need of very extensive repairs to make it inhabitable and sanitary.

The Committee, which consists of William A. Kneeland, as chairman, Chief of Police McIntosh, Percival Metcalf and Mr. George B. Whitehorn, unanimously recommended that, in its opinion, a proper rental for each apartment, after the necessary repairs to put the property in a tenable condition had been made.

NOTICE

The Boston League of Women Voters cordially invites the members of the Winchester League to join them in a clam bake to be held August 20th on the estate of Mr. King, Shore avenue, in the Merry Mount section of Quincy. For further information call Mrs. Louise V. Bernard, tel. Winchester 807.

Mr. Henry Weel, who has been absent during the past two months on a trip to South America, returned home the first of the week.

EDWARD F. BOYD

Edward Field Boyd died at his home, 55 Parkway, Winchester, Mass., on Tuesday, August 2nd. For two years Mr. Boyd had been in poor health, but his death when it came was quite sudden and unexpected. He was born in Bangor, Me., November 5, 1874, the son of Archibald L. and Martha (Eustis) Boyd. For six years he lived in Waterbury, Conn., returning to Bangor in 1899, when he was an accountant with T. R. Savage Co., later with the Union Iron Works. For a time he was a partner in the S. L. Crosby Co., dealers in sporting goods, but finally settled in Boston as a Public Accountant in business for himself, very successfully. He had made his home in Winchester since 1913.

Although an unusually quiet and unobtrusive man, he made many friends by his geniality and friendliness. Since the time of his first slight apoplectic shock two years ago, he knew of the probable outcome of his disease and he won the admiration of everyone by the quiet courage with which he faced the future. He took an active part in the work of the parish of the Epiphany. He was a member of the William Parkman Lodge, A. F. and A. M. of Winchester, and the Hugh de Payne Commandery of Melrose, and Korea Temple of Lewiston, Me. He was a member of the Winchester Calumet Club, the Country Club, and the Boston City Club. He is survived by his wife, Eva L. Hovey of Bangor, whom he married in 1903, and a daughter, Eleanor, and three brothers, J. Herbert and A. Willard Boyd of Bangor, and George E. Boyd of Waterbury, Conn., and an aunt, Mrs. Addie B. Farrar of Bangor.

The funeral services were held at his home Thursday, August 4, at 2 o'clock when the simple Episcopal service was read, the Pilgrim quartette rendering the music. The interment was in Wildwood cemetery, Winchester, Mass.

MARRIED AT BERKELEY, CAL.

Friends of Mr. Richard Hunt (Winchester High School 1905, Harvard College 1909), son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin L. Hunt of Woodside road, will be interested to learn of his recent marriage at Berkeley, Cal., to Miss Bertha Aylsworth of Portland, Oregon.

Mr. Hunt is Assistant Curator of the Museum of Vertebrate Zoology of the University of California. His bride is a graduate of the same university. He takes many field trips in the interests of the museum and has just returned from a six weeks' tenting trip in which he was accompanied by Mrs. Hunt.

SERIES OF THREE DANCES AT BOAT CLUB

A series of three subscription dances is announced at the Winchester Boat Club beginning this Saturday evening and continuing on the following Saturday evenings of August 20th and 27th. The dances have been very popular at the club this season and it has been found that the large attendance warranted increasing the program.

RACES AT BOAT CLUB TOMORROW

The second of the series of water sports and races at the Winchester Boat Club is to be held tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon in the bay at the clubhouse. These races began two weeks ago and will continue until October 8th, the points won in each series to count for cups to be awarded in the fall. Seven events will be run off.

PLAYGROUND SPORTS

The second in the series of elimination matches for the playground on Manchester Field, the events being the first round to qualify for the annual athletic meet, was held on Wednesday. The events this week included standing and running broad jump.

All those children whose names appeared in last week's STAR, together with the winners named herewith are eligible to compete in the finals on Friday, August 19th, at 1:45 o'clock. Standing Broad Jump—1st, Dorothy McKenzie, 5 ft. 4 1/2 in.; 2d, Theresa Lynch, 5 ft. 2 in.; and Alice Bennett, 5 ft. 2 in.; 3d, Elizabeth McFeeley, 5 ft. 1 in. Running Broad Jump—1st, Dorothy McKenzie, 9 ft. 4 in.; and Gertrude Wilberger, 9 ft. 4 in.; 2d, Dorothy McFeeley, 9 ft. 2 in.; 3d, Alice Bennett, 8 ft. 9 in.

Dr. Benjamin Lewis is stopping at Taunton.

MANDELL-PLUMMER

Northampton Girl Married to Winchester Banker

The marriage of Miss Florence Dwight Mandell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dwight Mandell, of 16 Columbus avenue, Northampton, and Wallace Vincent Plummer, son of Mrs. Martha E. Plummer of this town, took place at 7:30 Saturday evening, July 30th, at the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. H. G. Smith, pastor of the Unitarian church, and was witnessed by the immediate families. After a wedding trip of three weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Plummer will live in Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of the Northampton high school and Mount Holyoke college, in the class of 1914. She took a commercial course at Simmons college and then became secretary to Schuyler F. Horron, superintendent of schools at Winchester, and former superintendent at Northampton. For two years she was secretary to Dean Florence Purrington, of Mount Holyoke college, and then was employed by the National City Company of Boston in the statistical department, becoming head of the department.

Mr. Plummer graduated from the Winchester high school in 1914 and Harvard college in 1918. He studied in the Harvard Law School a year, and is now manager of the statistical department of the Old Colony Trust Company at Boston.

PRIV. CHARLES H. LYNCH BURIED

World War veterans, members of George A. Campbell Post, A. L. of Woburn; Winchester Post, A. L., and Woburn Post, V. F. W., formed the escort at the military funeral Monday morning for Private Charles H. Lynch of Company F, 101st Infantry, A. E. F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Lynch of 995 Main street, one of the first and probably the youngest native son and resident of Woburn to give his life in the World War in France. Private Lynch was 18 years of age when he was killed at Fliry on May 27, 1918.

The body was escorted to St. Mary's Church from the residence. The escort was headed by Capt. Frank Kean, formerly of 3d Pioneer, A. E. F., and commander of the old Woburn Phalanx, formerly Company G, 5th Infantry, N. G. M., in which Private Lynch enlisted. A firing squad of marines from the Charlestown Navy Yard also marched in the procession and fired three volleys over the grave in Calvary cemetery, Montvale.

The solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Orlan Bouchere of New Bedford, formerly a chaplain of the 101st Infantry, A. E. F., with Rev. Fr. Joseph M. Fitzgibbons, assistant at St. Mary's Church, as deacon, and Rev. Fr. Nathaniel J. Merritt, pastor of St. Mary's Church, as subdeacon. Werner's Gregorian Mass was sung by the choir, with Mrs. J. Roy McGrath soprano and Mrs. Mary Quinn Delaney of Arlington, contralto. Mrs. McGrath sang the offertory solo "Pie Jesu" during the mass.

The pallbearers were those members of George A. Campbell Post, Woburn: William Carroll, William Mitchell, John Sullivan, Henry Murphy, Fred Noyes, Patrick Foley, Thomas Flaherty and Charles McGonigle. A brother of the dead soldier, Daniel W. Lynch, is vice commander of the post and was present with the parents, five sisters and another brother.

POLL LIST BOOKS ARE OUT

The "List of Persons Residing in Winchester," more commonly known as the "Poll Book," are printed and ready for distribution. A charge of 50 cents a book is to be made this year, the books being over double the usual size through the addition of new names and the complete list of women voters.

This book makes the most complete and up-to-date directory of Winchester ever published, containing as it does, the names of both men and women arranged both alphabetically and by streets, and giving ages and occupations, and a fine map. It is the most sought for publication in town next to the STAR, and through the edition being limited, the copies are usually exhausted within a short time.

Copies may be obtained at the STAR office at 50 cents each. For postage within 200 miles add 15 cents. Safe delivery not guaranteed. The books will be sold only for cash.

ITALIAN CELEBRATION MONDAY

Monday, August 15th, the Italian residents of Winchester will conduct their annual observance of the Feast of the Assumption.

This year's committee, headed by Mr. Frank Gigliotti, has been especially active, and the generous manner in which the citizens of the town in general have responded by substantial contributions gives every indication that this year's celebration will far surpass all previous efforts. Over $900 has already been subscribed for the afternoon and evening concert, to be followed by an unusually excellent display of fireworks at Manchester Field.

The committee has been fortunate in securing for the occasion the D'Avino Band of thirty pieces, conducted by Signor Alfonso D'Avino, and reputed to be one of the finest aggregations of musicians in the State. The following program of selections cannot fail to gain the approval of even the most fastidious lovers of good music.

Program

1. Triumphant March—"Ida".....Verdi
2. Overture—"The Barber of Seville".....Rossini
3. Selection—"The Serenade" (Band and Chorus).....Grieg
4. Dance of the Hours—"Gipsyland".....Ponchielli
5. Grand Selection—"Meditation".....Boito
6. Waltz—"Blue Danube".....Strauss
7. Selection—"Carmen".....Bizet
8. Overture—"William Tell".....Rossini

Star Bandmaster
Signor A. D'Avino, Conductor

It is expected that this year's attendance from the neighboring cities and towns at the fireworks display in the evening will far out-number any attendance of previous years.

As the committee has gone to considerable expense to make the fireworks display a grand success, it is hoped that citizens of the town and visitors, who have not already done so, will help out by purchasing tags to be sold on the field and adjacent grounds by little girls. No contribution will be considered too small.

There will be a procession during the afternoon from the Catholic Church up through the Italian quarter, and down to Manchester Field, followed by a band concert from five until six o'clock.

From seven until nine-thirty in the evening there will be another concert on Manchester Field followed by what will undoubtedly be the finest exhibition of fireworks ever witnessed in Winchester.

ATTEMPTED TO STEAL AUTO

Officer Donaghey arrested two youths yesterday morning charged with an attempt to steal an automobile. The boys, Francis J. Kieley and Hugh W. Coffee, both live in Cambridge and are 16 years old. They will appear in the Woburn court this morning.

The car they attempted to steal was a delivery truck of P. H. Randall. As it was parked in the alley between the Randall and Brown & Stanton blocks, and when Mr. Denton Randall went to get it he found one boy on the seat and the other in the act of starting the engine. When discovered the two ran towards the Parkway.

Mr. Randall notified officer Donaghey, who chased the two in the police diver and caught them, taking them to the police station. It is said that one of the two has a court record.

LEGION OPENS HOUSE MONDAY

Winchester Post, American Legion, opens its house on Washington street Monday for its members. The formal opening to the public will take place in October.

The house will be open daily from 6:30 a. m. to 11 p. m. and Saturdays from 1:30 to 12 p. m.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following cases of contagious diseases have been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending Aug. 11: Whooping cough 1, tubercular meningitis 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moulton, together with Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLean, whom they have been entertaining at their summer home at Scituate, left this week on an automobile trip to the White Mountains.

The work of cutting the new turn and tripping at the corner of Wildwood and Fletcher streets is progressing. When completed this improvement will be a fine addition to the neighborhood.

BAD WRECK

Freight Train Piled Up in Centre Last Night

A heavy south-bound freight train was wrecked in the centre last night at about 8:22 when the wheel on a heavily loaded tank car either broke or jumped the track at the switch just north of the crossing. Four cars, three loaded with strips of hard pine flooring, were left in a tangle at the south end of the crossing, the gates and standards at the crossing were swept away as with a broom and one of the large maple trees at the walk on Common street cut down as though by a knife.

That no one was killed or even injured was a miracle. All who were in the path of the wreckage saw the crash coming and had time to run, even the passengers of three autos standing at the gates jumping from their cars and reaching safety.

The train contained about 35 heavily loaded cars. It was travelling fast, being hauled by locomotive 2340, one of the big freighters, and was in charge of conductor Jack Daniels and engineer Arthur Thomas. The tank car was off the track when it struck the crossing, carrying three following cars with it and leaving the three remaining cars on the track.

At the gates were Michael Crampton and Patrick Dempsey. Crampton was standing back against the shanty and saw the tank car as it struck the roadway. He had just time to run to safety. Dempsey had gone to the centre of the south crossing to warn a couple of boys to keep away from the gates. He sent them off and turned just in time to see the first gate standard go up in a flying spray of broken iron and wood. He waited to see no more. At the gates were three autos, one driven by Frank (Chick) Meehan of Woburn, the ball player, being badly dented up with flying wood and metal. All of the occupants of the cars jumped out and ran to safety. Seated on the iron railing at the foot passage was an unknown boy. He, too, had time to run, while the seats on the common were never emptied so quickly before.

As the tank car reached the foot path it plowed into the walk, making a furrow waist deep and cutting off one of the fine maple trees at its base. A following car of pine flooring was split open and turned at right angles to the track, it wrecking the outward track, and behind this two other cars piled up. Both tracks were blocked and electric car service stopped for the night. Trains on this division were sent around by the Arlington branch.

Many saw one of the heavy car wheels fly through the air over the top of the first maple tree at the foot path, and the hole in Common street where it struck, together with the wheel itself, still remain. A car truck struck the gates at the southeast end of the crossing and was piled up in a tangle across the foot path. The whole centre was littered with broken iron, splinters, car parts, dirt and cobble stones.

The police officers were immediately called in from their beats, red lanterns procured from the Highway department, and the south crossing and Common street roped off. Edmund C. Sanderson rigged up two powerful searchlights, one on the top of Lyceum Building and the other on the top of the foot bridge, which brilliantly illuminated the wreck and greatly aided the wrecking crew.

The wrecker reached the scene shortly after 9 o'clock and immediately pulled the broken top off the car of lumber, a big gang of men piling the boards up at the side of the track. At midnight it was generally thought the wreck could not be cleared before this forenoon, but this morning little of last night's appearance remained. All of the wrecked cars except the big tank car, which was filled with whale oil, her been removed, new rails laid, car trucks and iron removed and things generally cleaned up. The first train went through before seven o'clock.

Thousands were attracted to the scene, the streets and square being thronged until after midnight, with automobiles parked on all streets a half mile in all directions.

How such a wreck could have taken place without someone at least being injured is what is being asked by everyone, and a most fortunate thing was that the north bound milk train had passed the spot but a few seconds before. The following Montreal express was flagged at Wedgetown.

Miss Hester Harrington of Warren street, returned this week from North Falmouth, Mass., where she has been visiting Miss Elizabeth Kimball.

WINCHESTER BOY IN WINNIPE-SAUCKEE ACCIDENT

Stephen Ryan of this town, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Ryan, of Cliff street, a counsellor at Camp Winnesaukee, near Woburn, N. H., had a narrow escape from drowning in the lake Tuesday morning when two of the boys at the camp lost their lives.

Three canoes of boys were on a trip on the lake with their counsellors when the high wind capsized the canoe containing Ryan and Nathaniel Rice of Worcester, 11 years of age. Another canoe, in charge of Kimball Sayles of Belmont, 18 years old, went to the rescue. In taking Rice into the Sayles canoe it, too, was overturned, and both Rice and Sayles were drowned.

The boys had almost succeeded in the rescue of Rice when the second canoe went over, and Sayles attempted to swim to the shore, 200 yards away. He was exhausted by his struggles, however, and sank before reaching land.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL VISITING HOURS

The visiting hours at the Hospital have been changed in order that the nurses may have more opportunity to give care and attention to the patients before the hours of supper and bedtime. With the exception of the private patients, visitors will be allowed only from 3 until 4, and from 7 until 8 o'clock P. M. Ag 5-3t

POST OFFICE CANDIDATES

Already several names are mentioned as candidates for the position of postmaster in Winchester. Mr. Harry F. Lunt, who previously announced his candidacy, is actively in the field. It is reported unofficially that Mr. William Adriance, who has been mentioned as a candidate, is not seeking the position. Mr. George H. Lochman, assistant cashier at the Winchester National Bank, is a candidate, as is Mr. Charles A. Adams.

BASEBALL TOMORROW

It is announced that this Saturday's baseball game on Manchester Field will be the first in a series of three games between the town team and a team managed by "Connie Mack." Rivalry between the two organizations runs high and an interesting contest is promised.

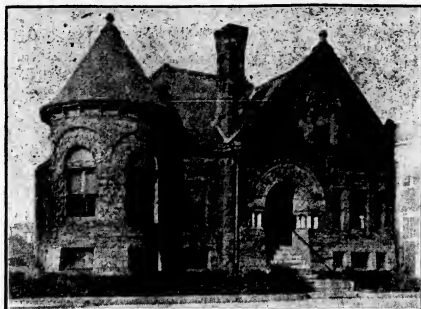

Miss Bessie Waters returned home Sunday after a week's stay at Ocean Park, Me.

GARDEN NEWS STORY

Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture

Home Economics
SUBJECT—Preparation of the Garden

One of the most persistent enemies of the home garden is witch grass or quack grass. This seed propagates by means of root stalks as well as by seed.

The first principles that are recognized in attempting its eradication, are to prevent the plants from maturing seed and starve out the underground root stalks by preventing them from sending up any stems or leaves above the surface. This purpose can only be accomplished by means of thorough and frequent cultivation. Occasional string of the soil only serves to stimulate and spread the growth of the witch grass.

To kill the root stalks, as many of the roots as possible should be exposed to the sunlight by turning the ground over with a shovel or hoe. A thorough job of cultivating should follow this process just as often as green shoots begin to appear above the surface of the ground. This should be continued until long after the garden crops are harvested, in order to discourage the plants from getting a start late in the fall.

Next spring, even before plowing, it is important to continue the surface cultivation to stop the green shoots from appearing above the ground. This should be followed by very deep plowing and a continuation of the frequent cultivation. Witch grass makes vicious growth in late fall and early spring and it is the surface cultivation which is carried on after the harvest and before the planting that does more than anything else to prevent its getting a start the second year.

It is also important to watch quack grass which may be growing near the edge of the garden. This should be prevented from developing seeds to the point where they will germinate so that it should be cut frequently. This statement applies not only to witch grass but also to every other garden weed which sometimes flourishes along the edges of the garden. They should be cut off several times during the season before they go to seed, in order to prevent spreading into the garden to grow next year.

NEW YORK WRITER PAYS TRIBUTE TO CHARLES H. LYNCH

A glowing tribute was paid to Private Charles H. Lynch, in a recent issue of the "America," a weekly Catholic publication, by Mr. Sumner of the New York Vice Commission. The story is as follows:

In March, 1917, the war-clouds began to gather. It was apparent that we would soon "have to go in." The hard-pressed Allies had sent their representatives to Washington. They had sought and secured material aid, but what they needed more than all else was the human contribution; men, fathers, brothers, sons. People began to realize that the war was near, that it was coming into their very home, into the family circle.

In a modest home in the little town of Massachusetts, Wolgarn, a mother was thinking about these things. She was a Christian woman, deeply religious, and she had reared her children in the knowledge, the worship and love of God. Her son Charlie was only seventeen years old. But she knew and he knew that when the call came he would volunteer for service abroad. He was that kind of a boy, one who would perform his whole duty, saving himself not at all. So he waited and the days passed, and the time of parting came nearer.

Well, little Charles Lynch, blue-eyed, light haired, cheerful, and morally straight, did all of that, and paid the glorious price. Charlie Lynch, true to the standards of duty which his good mother had instilled in him, had volunteered for military service. He was accepted, and became a member of Company F, 101st Infantry, of the famous Twenty-sixth Division of the New England militia.

I met him first at Vertuezy in France, on the Toul front. On May 14, 1918, his battalion came back from their tour of duty in the trenches for a few days' rest. He was a great favorite in the company. His character impressed itself upon his comrades. His best friend was a Catholic priest, the chaplain of his regiment, and when impromptu services would be held in the old French village church, his clear, boyish voice led the others in the sacred music of the volunteer choir. For only nine days I knew him, but I knew him intimately, for we were together almost continuously during that brief space. He assisted me in my work, trying to help maintain the morale of the command. And then on May 22, he went forward again, bearing his heavy pack, his rifle and all the other paraphernalia, but light-hearted and cheerful. Generous and helpful, he was an inspiration to all.

On May 27, I was at Grosrouvres. At two o'clock in the morning heavy firing began, which lasted until a quarter to four. There was some gas. It was apparent that something serious was on foot. About nine o'clock word came that the trenches, just taken over by Company F, had been shelled. Among the dead were Sweeney, Rupp and Lynch. Still volunteering, Charlie had taken a tour at patrol which he did not have to take, and a shell bursting directly overhead had killed him and his two companions. On the following evening the supply company brought back the pitiful evidence of the violence of their death: a broken gun, a helmet pierced, and other pieces of damaged accoutrement, stained with the lifeblood of these unmentioned heroes.

It was a wonderful division, that Twenty-sixth. I came in contact with thousands of men of the 101st, 102nd and 104th Infantry regiments, but none so impressed me for manliness, soldierly deportment, and Christian character as little Charlie Lynch, who at the age of eighteen gave his life for his friends and for his country. I have never visited Woburn, but Charlie Lynch, through his character gave me an impression of that New England town, of its life and soul-satisfying religious training that will never be effaced. In fancy, I can now see his mother kneeling before the figure of her Crucified Savior, praying with all her heart to God for the repose of the soul of her little soldier-son.

JOHN S. SUMNER,
Secretary, New York Society for the Prevention of Vice.

Studying Smoke.

"Smoke" is perhaps the chief enemy of firefighters. It chokes and may kill. The United States Bureau of Standards has newly built what it calls a "Smoke-house," for experiments which are expected to be of practical usefulness to the fire departments of our cities. It will be used to determine exactly what is required to make "smoke masks" a safe and sure protection for men engaged in subduing fires.

Patience.

Patience is the choicest fruit of study; a man that strives to make himself different from other men by much reading gains this choicest good, that in all fortunes he hath something to entertain and comfort himself withal. Seneca.

Superstition of Sailors.

Old sailors believe ill luck will surely follow if anyone even accidentally counts the number of persons on board ship.

STROMBOLI: BOLCANO-LIGHT-HOUSE OF THE MEDITERRANEAN

The constantly active volcano, Stromboli, on Stromboli Island in the Mediterranean, seems to be rebuilding its efforts lately, and the three thousand terrified inhabitants are holding themselves in readiness to flee at almost any moment should the danger from the molten rocks and sulphurous gases issuing from the crater threaten their lives and their homes, dispatches state.

"The circular cone of the volcano which forms the island of Stromboli, and the six other islets of the Lipari group, comprise a connecting link between Vesuvius on the mainland of Italy and Etna on Sicily. The volcanic wrath of these three mighty mountains is partially responsible for the terrific earth-shaking at Messina and in other parts of Sicily and Italy," says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society from its headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Volcanic Forge of the Ancients
"The situation of the Lipari group on a map suggests the idea that they are the stars which Sicily saw from a terrific light in cosmic times from the tip of her nose, reflected by the wrathful host of Italy. Stromboli is living up to this figurative excuse for her existence by keeping her fires burning night and day, and throwing her lurid light on the Italian and Sicilian horizon.

"On this mountain which rises about 3,000 feet above sea level and about 6,000 above the floor of the sea, according to the Ancients, was one of the forges of Vulcan on which he hammered out the scepter of Jove and the shields and spears of the gods. On its precipitous slopes Aëolus, the god of the winds, in company with his six sons and six daughters was supposed to have held his revels and in the cavernous sides of the mountain to have confined the blasts.

"In medieval times the belching crater of Stromboli was believed to be the entrance of Pandæmonium. About a thousand feet from the top of Stromboli there is an opening from which steam constantly issues and hangs in a smoky-looking cloud above the mountain. Ordinarily it is possible to climb up to the opening and look over upon the black floor through the cracks of which smoke issues and the red-hot lava hisses, boils and spatters, the 'boiling' of the earth's interior resembling more than anything else the boiling of a large pot of mush. As the huge bubbles burst, lava is thrown high in the air. Sometimes the fire of the earth quickens, as it has been doing recently, and then the hissing of the steam may be heard many miles out at sea and the lava boils over the side of the cone.

Flashes Like Man-Made Lighthouses
"Stromboli, unlike the volcanoes that experience intense paroxysms of activity followed by long periods of repose, offers one of the best examples of the continuously active volcano. Standing alone in the sea, it is visible for almost a hundred miles, its ever-lighted fires tinting the clouds and the sky with a rosy glow, which has led to its being known as The Lighthouse of the Mediterranean. Its light, however, is not constant in its intensity; first the sky is almost a bright red, which then decreases to a faint glow, only to be followed again by the bright light.

"In this respect it resembles the flashing lighthouses which are common to coasts the world over, and in reality it is used by sailors in the Mediterranean. In lighthouses of the man-made kind the flashes come at regular intervals, one of the beacons being differentiated from another by the length of time between the flashes. Stromboli, in this respect maintains its individuality, for its glowings are very irregular, varying between one and twenty flashes per second, the intensity also varying from time to time.

"Scientists, in studying the flashes of the light of the mountain have found that as the steam accumulates below, the lava in trying to force its way out pushes back the steam on the cauldron and leaves the surface of the molten mass exposed to view; when that bubble has burst with a roar the steam again darkens the surface, in consequence of which the sky glows and fades.

"The little town of San Vincenzo on Stromboli is about sixteen miles from the Straits of Messina. The surrounding country is fertile and cotton, wine and figs are raised. The mountain sides yield sulphur and pumice stone."

SOUTH CHINA: WHERE CIVIL WAR SMOLDERED

Hostilities have broken out between the two Kwang provinces of Southern China, Kwangsi remaining loyal to the Peking government, while Canton in the Kwangtung province is the stronghold of Dr. Sun Yat Sen's party according to recent dispatches.

"These two provinces of the former Celestial Empire, criss-crossed by a dragon-trail line across the south of the country from a point just west of Formosa where they begin to skirt the China Sea west to the reaches of little-known Yunnan and Siam. They are interesting in the very antitheses of some of their characteristics," says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.

Pauper and Prince Among Provinces
"Kwangsi is usually considered the pauper province and is the least densely populated portion of China, while Kwangtung which contains Canton, one of the largest cities in the East, is the most ambitious of the divisions of the republic.

"From ancient times, Kwangsi, however, has been a mysterious region. It will mountain fastnesses and forest-clad hills have been the haunts of robbers, rebels and revolutionists. The natives have peopled its grottoes, caves, and crags with fairies, devils, dragons and elfin sprites, and nature has populated the hills with wild beasts that wander unmolested through the sparsely settled mountain districts.

"The hill regions, due to their steepness and lack of soil, drive the people of the province to a floating existence upon its rivers, the picturesque and typical native junk gliding past the queer flat-bottom craft and the salt boats, on all of which at night the people, having cast anchor, sleep to the lullaby of the ceaseless roar of waters and the weird calls of the natives to frighten off the evil spirits.

Prophets Cherished at Home
"Kweilin, the capital of Kwangsi, like the capitals of most of China's eighteen provinces, is located on the banks of a hospitable river—the Kwei, a large tributary of the West River. Here in a city which cherishes the memory of Shun who lived in 2200 B. C., and to whom three thousand years later was built a temple which is standing today, the Governor of Kwangsi resides. The lake region between Pango and Kweilin does not leave the traveler guessing how the fairy stories originated, but makes him wonder why the more appreciative tourists have not made a beaten trail to some of the elfin haunts.

"Just within the eastern boundary of the province stands Wuchow, the commercial capital of Kwangsi.
"The Chinese province name Kwangtung we have Anglicized into Canton, just one of the many names which that city has worn since the days of ancient Imperial Cathay. Its cosmopolitan character, the fact that it was won by five immortals once rode with its limits before the end of the Chou dynasty in 250 B. C. upon five goats, and their traditional mounds, which it is explained, were turned into Stone, are pointed out to this day.

Seat of Progress
"The sleek Chinamen of Canton resemble closely the types which one sees in various parts of the United States as the progressive Cantonese are ready to leave their country to try their luck in other climes. The native Chinese skyscrapers of the city, which have been modeled after those of New York, would give the homesick American a lump in his throat for a sight of the skyline of Manhattan. But out beyond the city in the rural districts of Kwangtung he would probably forget his pangs in the charm of the low stone houses of the villagers tucked behind fields of plum, millet, near their sweet potato terraces and rice swamps, over which flutter long lines of white streamers to scare away the magpies. The violet-spangled meadows, the luxuriant ferns, the mystic purple lotus, the fragrant Chinese narcissus, which almost grows before his eyes, the heavily cultivated bougainvillea, and the giant bamboo make it a land of beauty and delight.

"Kwangtung raises large numbers of mulberry trees from which the worms spin some of our best silk, and since the return of many of Kwangtung's people from Manila where they have learned the secrets of expert tobacco culture, this product is being added to the list."

OTHER INDEPENDENCE DAYS

On July 4, 1776, from the tower of Independence Hall in Philadelphia, the new famous and beloved Liberty Bell which had been inscribed 23 years previously with the words, "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof," tolled out to the world its message that the independence of the Thirteen Colonies had been solemnly declared. "That day stands not only as the day of freedom of the original Thirteen Colonies, but as a prophecy of the forthcoming independence of practically every portion of the Americas, as well as of liberty-loving peoples in other parts of the world. Today most nations celebrate a day which has a particular significance in marking the time when the light of liberty broke upon them," says a bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society from its Washington, D. C., headquarters.

Bastille Day in France

"On July 14 the French celebrate their Fete Nationale, or Bastille Day—the day in 1789 on which the mad, frenzied, half-starved, and persecuted mob of wretched and miserable humanity which haunted the hovels in the Faubourg Saint Antoine pulled down almost with their bare hands the prison which has grown to mean to them the symbol of their oppression."

"Today on the site a bronze column marks the spot where this huge fortress shut away thousands of prisoners, many of them in dark cells and dungeons to which they had been consigned without trial and from which they were dragged at intervals for exquisite torture. The mob killed the guards, carried the prisoners on their shoulders in triumph through the streets, and scattered the prison records to the winds. Thomas Paine secured the key of the Bastille and sent it to George Washington, whose fight for liberty had served to help kindle the spark of freedom which had already been struck in France."

"When Napoleon put such a decided kink in the doctrine of the divine right of kings, the feeling of unrest manifested itself in the colonies of most of the European nations. One of the mightiest reactions came in the colonies of Spain to the south of us.
Mexico's Liberty Bell
"Miguel Hidalgo, curate of the little village of Corralejo, Mexico, rang the bell of his parish church early on the morning of September 16, 1810, to tell his compatriots that they must take from the moment their stand in the cause of freedom. That day is now celebrated as the Mexican Independence Day, though the emotional and volatile followers of the priest deserted him by the thousands and allowed him to be taken prisoner, his head to be severed and suspended for ten years upon a spike from a corner of the Alhondiga de Granaditas in Guanajuato where during his earlier successes he made a spectacular stand.

"The Independence Day of the Central American Countries is just one day before that of Mexico, though the actual drawing up of the Acta de Independencia occurred eleven years later. Pronouncements had begun to appear in various cities in Central America as early as 1811, and though Spain, on account of her wars elsewhere was unable to send armies to Central America, a blow was struck for freedom whenever it was possible and many of the natives and creoles

Peak of the Load

It comes at the breakfast, luncheon and dinner hour. The demand is sudden, tremendous.

"Peak of the load," says the gas engineer. "What a convenience," comments the housewife. And both refer to the biggest service problem in the public utility business.

To get gas service when, where, and how you want it without warning, without telephoning for it, means that we must have "peak of the load" equipment to meet "peak of the load" demands.

This equipment is costly. It takes a lot of money to keep it in good condition, ready at all times to serve you. And the maximum number of men must be employed to operate it whether the call comes or not.

Vital things, these. And they must be paid for if you are to get the gas service you demand, in the way you demand it.

Think it over.

in the cause of liberty. Finally, in 1821, the representative of Spain in Guatemala joined the rebels and on September 15 independence was declared. The other countries immediately followed suit in a few days, but all of them observe the earlier date.

Bolivar Liberator of Five Nations

"Before independence was gained in Central America, revolution was rife in practically every portion of South America. The royal Governor of Venezuela was deposed on April 19, 1810, and a popular council was selected to rule. The next year Bolivar, the creator of five of the South American nations, was instrumental in getting a formal declaration of independence drawn up and a republican constitutional form of government was declared on July 5, Venezuela decrees a holiday on each of these days.

"When Ferdinand VII tumbled down off the throne of Spain upon the coming of Napoleon, the Chileans, too, seeing that their chance for national freedom had come, organized on September 18, 1810, a government to control as long as France should hold Spain, and they now consider this the date of the independence. The other Spanish-owned countries had caught the epidemic and lined up as independent republics, Peru and Bolivia being among the last to resist the authority of Spain.

"Brazil, wary of the temperaments and tempers of Portuguese princes, proclaimed its independence of the mother country on September 7, 1822, although it submitted to several of them thereafter as Brazilian Emperors. Cuba claims as her independence day that on which the American Governor-General withdrew from the island and left the little country to conduct its own affairs untrammelled by a foreign power. Czechoslovakia came into positive existence on October 28, 1918, and this day has since been a national holiday. The new republic of Germany celebrates the day on which the Kaiser abdicated."

The battery that is more than "Good Enough"

WHEN Prest-O-Lite entered the car-equipment field, all automobile manufacturers were using other makes of storage batteries as original equipment. And they were good batteries.

To displace these batteries, Prest-O-Lite had to demonstrate not merely a better battery, but a battery and service such a lot better that its superiority justified replacing the other makes. Manufacturers were naturally reluctant to charge such a vital unit of their car. This preference for Prest-O-Lite is tremendously significant to you as a car owner.

The Prest-O-Lite Battery uses less than one four-hundredth of its power-reserve for a single start—and the generator quickly replaces that. You naturally think of this high-grade, high-powered battery as high-priced. The prices which we will quote you will correct any such impression.

Prove this today. Ask also about the definite guarantee whose letter and spirit say, unequivocally, that you, the car owner, Must Be Pleased!

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman E. Snow of 26 Glenwood road are the parents of a son. The youngster has been named George Lyman Snow.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hilon of 6 Bridge street are the parents of a daughter.

A son was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Martin of 10 Forest street.

The City of Medford has announced a tax rate of $35.20, the highest in its history, and an increase of $5.40 over that of last year.

The gates on the east side of the south crossing in the centre were out of commission yesterday through the breaking of the operating chain.

It is reported that James McEue of Sheridan circle, who is in the aviation branch of the Navy, has received an advancement in rank.

There were two alarms of fire on Wednesday, the first being a telephone call for burning brush on Bacon street near the residence of Mr. George A. Fernald, which came in during the afternoon, and the second a call from Box 44 at 6 o'clock for a fire in a furniture truck on Main street near Canal. The latter fire was among some burlap wrappings and is thought to have been started from a cigarette which some boy had been smoking who had been enjoying a ride on the rear end. There was no damage.

Police officer John Hogan is enjoying his vacation, he having left this week with his family by auto for a stay at Morrisville, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Callahan of Eaton street suffered the death of their infant daughter this week.

Mr. Charles A. Lane is exhibiting to his friends this week two of the finest specimens of salmon yet to be seen in town. One weighs 8 1/2 pounds and the other 7 pounds. They were caught by Mr. Lane at Kezar Lake, Maine, last spring. Both are exceptionally well mounted and are well worth looking over. They are hung in the office of the Parker & Lane Co. in the Lane building.

Cards are out this week announcing the engagement of Miss Maude Frances Gurney and Mr. Henry Harold Dover.

Miss Julia Fitzgerald, cashier at Piccolo Brothers, returned this week from Hampton Beach, N. H., where she has been spending a much needed vacation.

ALTAR USED BY COLUMBUS

Relic Intimately Associated With Great Discoverer Has Recently Been Brought to America.

Angel Carras of Coruna, Spain, and Gonzales Blanco, noted Spanish artist, have brought to Brooklyn the original small altar presented to Christopher Columbus by Queen Isabella and used by Columbus on his first voyage of discovery on the flag ship Santa Maria. The antique was obtained by Carras after several years of endeavor, and is to be delivered to Perkins, Collins & Co., an exporting firm. The authenticity of this altar and a number of other antiques which Carras brought is certified to by authentic mail before Ralph C. Houser, American consul at Coruna.

The altar was originally a gift from Queen Isabella to Christopher Columbus, according to the account given by Mr. Carras, and besides eight carvings in bone depicting scenes in the life of Christ, contains also small portraits in carved bone of King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella. The small shrine is about sixteen inches high and fourteen inches wide, and the longest ever found over the top, making a compact cabinet.

Each of the doors has a hanging from knoth used to unfold the shrine. According to the documents in Mr. Carras' possession, this shrine is one of a collection of twenty antiques he is bringing to this country. On inspection by customs officials, the shrine was ordered sent to the inspectors' stores, that a valuation might be put on it.

SEEMINGLY 'T WAS EVER THUS

Example of Eternal Triangle Will Soon Be Presented to Another Judge and Jury.

Not so very long ago there lived together in Indianapolis a certain man and woman. They were well past middle age, and their children were reared and gone. One evening the man of the family nervously marked the passing of time. His suspicion gripped the heart of the woman. The husband explained that he would have to be away from home that evening on business. The wife explained that she did not wish to stay at home alone and would go to a neighbor's house. She left the house first, but she did not go to the neighbor's home. Instead she slipped into the rear seat of the car and drove away. The husband, who was waiting for her, saw the car and took a position in the shadows nearby. After a few minutes' wait the man came out of the house with another woman on his arm. The eternal triangle was complete. Now they are getting ready to tell it to the judge.

New Smoke-Burning Device.

A new water-cooled boiler-plate device for installation in the firebox of a conventional up-draft furnace has the effect of converting it into one having some of the characteristics of the down-draft type. It is described in Popular Mechanics. Its construction is simple, consisting of two low steel compartments of different heights, arranged crosswise of the firebox, at a point somewhat to the rear of the center, with the higher one at the back, thus dividing the firebox into two distinct combustion zones. As the two chambers are separated by a few inches and the higher one reaches to the boiler by the cross-bolt, the gases and smoke induced by the forward portion of the fire are forced to pass over the top of the low forward section, down between it and the rear section, under the latter, and over the hottest part of the fire, where they are consumed.

Esperanto a School Course.

Esperanto, the artificial international language, has been ordered introduced as an elective course in the commercial schools controlled by the Paris chamber of commerce.

The language was studied by a commission, whose members reported favorably upon it after several tests. One test was the translation of three complicated documents into French and then translation of the French texts back into Esperanto. It was found there was no change in the sense.

The introduction of Esperanto in all schools was recommended, not a substitute for any other language, but as a means of communication.

Dogs Vaccinated Now.

Professor Marie Remlinger of the Pasteur Institute, Paris, who is having wonderful success with the new service developed by Professor Balle of the government veterinary school at Alfort, promises absolute immunity for dogs from rabies. This new vaccine is a mixture of the old Pasteur serum for rabies and of the virus of the disease. It acts quickly, is easily applied, is inoffensive, and costs little. It is curative as well as preventative. Eighteen dogs vaccinated with the new serum two months ago have been rendered absolutely immune.

AFGHANISTAN: WHERE RAILROADS ARE OUTLAWED

The arrival in Washington of an envoy from Afghanistan, now perhaps the most mysterious country in the world, seeking the recognition of his home land and the establishment of diplomatic relations with the United States, seems to indicate that the policy of absolute isolation from the rest of the world long followed by this Moslem kingdom is to be modified. Light on conditions in this little-known region is thrown by the following communication to the National Geographic Society from Frederick Simpson and Hajj Mirza Hussein: "The buffer State of Afghanistan, historic shock-absorber between Great Britain and Russia in middle Asia, years ago put up a 'Keep Out' sign, 'This Means War' warning to all who would enter. The land is 'posted' to use a poacher's phrase—posted against trade and concession hunters, against missionaries, and against all military and political hunters in particular.

"Keep Out" Sign Up

"And the 'Keep Out' sign is still up. Today the foreigner is no more welcome in Afghanistan than he was a hundred years ago. Forbidden Lhasa itself is no more exclusive than brooding, suspicious Kabul, the capital of this isolate, unfriendly realm of fanatic tribes, of rocks, deserts, irrigated valleys, and towering unsurveyed ranges.

"For reasons of foreign policy, the Amir has long felt the necessity of sealing his little-known land to the greatest possible extent from the outside world. Only a few Europeans, mostly British, but occasionally also an American and now then a few Russians or Germans, have had permission to come into this country and to sojourn for a while in its curious capital. But even on such rare occasions as when a foreign engineer, or a doctor whose services are badly needed, is admitted by the grace of the Amir, the visitor is subject to a surveillance that amounts almost to imprisonment.

"No ambassadors or ministers, not even missionaries, are permitted to reside in this forbidden Moslem land. 'Splendid isolation' is a sort of Afghan tradition, a conviction that the coming of the foreigner will spell the end of the Amir and his unique, absolute rule.

Amir's Whim Is Law

"Today no undisputed authority or is in closer touch with the every-day life of its subjects. He personally runs his country's religion, its foreign affairs, and he even supervises much of its commerce. He also owns and controls the only newspaper printed in all Afghanistan. Incidentally, he keeps no automobiles, and he never walks. Even from one palace to another, he goes by motor over short pieces of road built especially for his pleasure.

"From the World War, though he took no active part in it, the Amir emerged with singular profits. He is old and once rival neighbors, Great Britain and Russia, drawn together as allies in the world conflict, left him a free hand, and in 1919 Great Britain officially recognized the political independence of this much-buffed buffer State, to whose rulers he had so long paid a fat annuity.

"With an area of 245,000 square miles, Afghanistan is, next to Tibet, the largest country in the world that is practically closed to the citizens of other nations. But political life at wary, alert Kabul is in sharp contrast to the meditative seclusion and class aloofness of the pious lamas at Lhasa. Amir Amanullah Khan, through his agents in India and elsewhere, is in close touch with the world's current events; and, as the last remaining independent ruler of a Moslem country, now that the master of the Caliph at Stamboul is broken, he wields a far-reaching influence throughout the Mohammedan world; also, because his land happens to lie just as it does on the map of the world, it is plain that for a long time to come he will be an active force in the political destinies of middle Asia. Like Monelik of Abyssinia, Queen Lil of the Hawaiian Islands, or the last of the Fiji kings, this Amir, remote and obscure as his kingdom is, stands out in his time as a picturesque world figure.

Wives Distributed as Gifts

"From the Persians the Afghans got the idea of marrying more than one wife; but, like the Persians, too, they have found, to their dismay, that polygamy is nowadays more expensive than ex tending.

"Sometimes, when the Amir wants to favor his faithful officials with presents, or perhaps to play practical jokes in certain cases, he distributes women among them; but these 'gifts' often prove so troublesome that no great degree of gratitude is apparent among the recipients.

"Amir Habibullah Khan (who was assassinated in 1919) had a harem of over 100 women, and among these, strangely enough, were a few Europeans. The present Amir, Amanullah Khan, has but one wife.

"The women of Afghanistan are kept in more rigid seclusion and are more closely veiled than the women of any other Moslem land.

"Like the Arab, the Afghan considers it unnecessary and even unwise that women should learn to read or write. No girls are admitted to the hazaar schools, and no mullahs are employed to teach them, and Afghanistan knows nothing of women teachers.

Independence Brings Changes

"The trade of Afghanistan is moved entirely by caravans and is largely in the hands of Hindus and Tajiks. There is not a mile of railroad in the kingdom, the Amir fearing that steel highways would make isolation impossible.

"Apart from rugs, a few xylographs, some crude adornments for women, a little silk and felt, and a few simple woven tissues, no products of native skilled labor are on the market. And even much of what is produced in these few lines is merely an imitation of Western and Eastern art. Small industries supply only the most urgent needs of the lower classes. The rich people buy their luxuries from abroad, and the poor make shabby shift with the cheaper fabrics.

"The Amir keeps at Peshawar a political agent, who occasionally pays a visit to the Viceroy of India; and, since Afghanistan's formal independence of 1919, envoys have been sent to Persia and one is perhaps now in Soviet Russia."

Trees' Peculiar Growth

Trees that grow with a spiral twist, concealing a rope-like fiber under a straight bark, are not unknown, but are generally regarded as arboreal curiosities. A recent instance in which a pine tree of this curious formation, discovered through the agency of a lightning stroke, is reported by W. M. Kern, of New York city. The bolt, in its downward course, cleaved the trunk seven times, leaving a spiral channel in which a man's arm could be laid, and disclosing the fact that the grain of the wood followed the same helical lines, though the bark and limbs appeared normal.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

FINE CELEBRATION

Italian Fireworks Make Magnificent Display on Manchester Field

The annual display of fireworks by the Italian residents was given Monday night on Manchester Field, the show being by far the finest ever witnessed in this town, already noted for its fireworks. The display was witnessed by the biggest crowd which has ever gathered here.

The fireworks constituted the final number on a program covering the afternoon and evening in observance of the Feast of the Assumption, an anniversary important in the Italian religious life. This year's committee was headed by Mr. Frank Gigliotti, and was especially active, not only the fireworks display, but the musical end of the program being given particular attention.

The program opened with a procession during the early afternoon, the Italian marching band, the Catholic Church up through the Italian quarter and then to Manchester Field. During the marching the band played a program which was greatly enjoyed by those residing along the route, and from five to six o'clock a program was given at the band stand on the field.

The music was exceptionally fine. The L'Aixino Band of 50 pieces rendered the program, that of the evening, which was given from seven until nine-thirty, being wholly of operatic selections, and time and again the applause was so great that additional numbers were given for encore.

Program

1. Triumphant March "Aida"..... Verdi
2. Overture "The Barber of Seville"..... Rossini
3. Selection "The Serenade" (Band and Chorus)..... Schubert
4. Dance of the Hours "Gilda"..... Donizetti
5. Grand Selection "Mefistofele"..... Boito
6. Waltz "The Danube"..... Strauss
7. Selection "Carmen"..... Bizet
8. Overture "William Tell"..... Rossini

Star Spangled Banner
March A. Evans, Conductor

The fireworks opened at nine-thirty and were by far the finest ever seen in this town. Not only were all of the pieces magnificent, but many new novelties were introduced which had never before been shown here. Many set pieces were shown, all very beautiful, especially the waterfall and the crossed flags, while the pin wheel effects were such as to excite universal admiration. The sky pieces were along the same line, bombs being sent into the air one after another with hardly a second's interval.

The colors, too, were exceptional. Beautiful blues and greens were combined with orange and red in particularly pleasing blending.

The crowd which attended the fireworks was without question the largest ever seen here. Automobiles were parked on the Parway from the police station down on Mystic Lake to Highland avenue. All of the streets about the centre contained cars also, while the vacant postoffice site at the corner of Waterford road and Thompson street was filled.

Visitors arrived by electric, trains and trucks, the latter means of transportation being very popular, and many trucks were parked about the centre.

The crowd on Manchester Field was equally enormous, the light from the fireworks revealing a throng which surprised even those who knew that an exceptional number was present.

BRITISH FLIER ARRESTED FOR BAD CHECK

"Col." Charles F. L. Scott, alleged British flying ace, was arrested and sent to the Concord, N. H. jail this week, charged with passing worthless checks. It is claimed he passed two worthless checks drawn on the State Street Trust Co. on Aviator Bob Fogg, whom he engaged to take him on an air tour of Northern New England. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $800 bail.

When Scott arrived at the jail he was greatly surprised by meeting an old friend, Robert J. Jassby, who is awaiting the October grand jury on a charge of stealing an automobile at Boscacon. Jassby said Scott and he served together in the Royal Air forces in Canada during the war.

Rev. Alliston Gifford and family, who have been spending the summer at Westbrook Beach, Ivoryton, Conn., left this week for two weeks at West Falmouth.

WRECK ALL CLEARED BY SATURDAY

Thursday in the centre was all cleared away by Saturday morning.

The big freight of last week Thursday in the centre was all cleared away by Saturday morning, the wrecking crew from Boston working continuously from about 9 o'clock Thursday night until last Friday night. The rapidity with which the debris was cleared away was a source of wonder to everyone who saw the wreck in its early stages, many who were present Thursday night declaring the line could not be opened up before noon Friday. As a matter of fact the line was opened up before seven Friday morning.

Undoubtedly the two powerful searchlights erected by E. C. Sanderson, one on the little balcony at the top of Lyceum Building and the other on the foot bridge at the station, aided the work tremendously; for they illuminated the mass of twisted wood and iron like daylight. The wreckers had flairs and portable searchlights themselves, also, which gave much assistance.

The first work of removing the wreckage consisted of pulling the wrecked car of hard pine flooring around straight on the outward track and ripping off the top and side, which portion was pulled back down towards the station. This gave access to the lumber, which was piled up behind the tracks by a big gang of men.

The wrecker from Lowell had little difficulty in straightening out and replacing the two box cars on the inward track, and with this removal the track gang went to work on the rails, the big tank car which caused the wreck being so far away that it did not interfere.

The tracks were in pretty bad shape, some of the wreckage plowing under the outward rails, raising them waist high and twisting and turning them all out of shape. This wreckage had to be removed. The cars also took down a considerable portion of the iron fence dividing the tracks, which was twisted into the wreckage, while the broken iron from the gates and the car trucks torn off, added to the mess. This small stuff, however, was the easiest part the wreckers had to contend with, for with their big crane they lifted it onto flat cars in no time.

The big tank car was a whopper and brand new, being made all of steel. It was loaded with whale oil and had come from Vancouver, being consigned to a soap manufacturing firm. It was said that its contents reached a value of $46,000. The box cars contained fir doors and hard pine flooring. They, too, were very heavy, being loaded to the roof.

The tank car was not touched until after daylight Friday morning. It was first turned over and then brought out an end at a time, along side the inward track. During the night the big under-frame was cut in two and then tied with chain, trucks placed under it, and it was slowly dragged away. While the car had a small hole punched in one end, it leaked but little during the night, but on Friday the hole opened up and it was necessary to plug it and make a dirt dam to hold the whale oil from flowing over the walk and tracks. Many persons wondered what the substance in the car was, it resembling a frothy white syrup or thin paint. William Richardson at the gate shanty got a pail full of it, taking it home to grease boots and spray his potatoes with it.

A considerable portion of the wreckage was taken up the tracks and burned beside the pond, this including parts of the car bodies. It was also necessary to cut away a lot of the twisted steel on the tank car by acetylene gas.

The work Friday was watched by a big crowd all day, autos being parked about the common and police officers being necessary to handle the jam.

A number of people claim to have seen a blazing hot box on the freight as it crossed the pond, and it is possible that this caused the wheel on the tank car, which was a new car, to give way. The wreck did not make much of a noise, hardly anyone out of sight of it realizing what had happened. Persons sitting by the open windows in Lyceum Building thought that nothing more than a couple of flippers coming together had occurred.

The tree which was cut off at its base was not by any means one of the best in the row. It had a large cement patch on the side and was not so flourishing as some of the others. Whether the flying wheel which several claim to have seen go over the trees really did so or not is a question. The trees were not damaged.

MISS WINCHESTER CHOSEN

Miss Mildred Branch Judged Prettiest Girl

Miss Mildred Branch of Main street was chosen as "Miss Winchester" at the pop concert and dance given by the Northern Lights, an organization of six young local men, at St. Mary's parochial grounds Friday night. So many pretty girls attended the affair that the judges were obliged to give very careful consideration to their choice. The officials were Mayor Bernard J. Golden and Alderman William J. Farrow of Wolcott, and Mr. James P. Maguire of this town.

The Northern Lights are Messrs. John P. Cassidy, Jeremiah McCarron, Frederick Boyle, Charles Haggerty, John Rogers and Joseph McHugh. The organization held the pop concert for the benefit of St. Mary's School. It was a great success, between 150 and 500 persons attending.

A concert program was given from 9:30 to 10:30, which included dancing and singing by little Miss Irene Golden, the hit of the evening; popular songs by the Melody Quartette, composed of Messrs. Donald Walsh, William Noyes, Frederick Noyes and Robert Noyes; buck and wing dances by James Horn; cornet solos by Leo McHugh and the Tennessee special, "I am missing Mammy's kissing," by Mrs. James P. Maguire and Mrs. Alfred L. Studley.

The program was particularly good, especially the singing of Irene Golden and the Melody Quartette.

The grounds were most attractively decorated with Japanese lanterns and colored lights, and the young ladies who waited on the tables were the Misses Mary McCarron, Elizabeth Kelley, Winnifred Vayo, Margaret Cassidy, Molly Pollard, Katherine Murphy and Evelyn Brown. Messrs. William H. Vayo, Charles Shaw and John McCarron assisted, and aiding the young ladies at the tables were Mrs. William H. Vayo, Mrs. John Cassidy, Mrs. George Poland, Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. William McDonald and Mrs. Bernard Cullen.

ARTHUR LITTLEFIELD

Arthur Stevens Littlefield, son of George S. and Georgianna (Stevens) Littlefield of Highland avenue, died at Baltimore, Md., Sunday morning of heart trouble. He was 41 years of age.

Mr. Littlefield was born in Winchester and attended the public schools here, graduating from the high school in 1908. He attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and went West about 15 years ago, settling for a time in South Dakota and later in St. Paul, Minn. For a little over a year he had been in the employ of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at Baltimore.

He is survived by his parents and one sister, Mrs. Samuel F. Perry of North Wilmington.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. George Hale Reed, pastor of the Unitarian Church. The burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL VISITING HOURS

The visiting hours at the Hospital have been changed in order that the nurses may have more opportunity to give care and attention to the patients before the hours of supper and bedtime. With the exception of the private patients, visitors will be allowed only from 3 until 4, and from 7 until 8 o'clock P. M.

Mr. Charles A. Gleason leaves today for a trip to Shelburn, N. S.

POLL LIST BOOKS ARE OUT

The "List of Persons Residing in Winchester," more commonly known as the "Poll Books," are printed and ready for distribution. A charge of 50 cents a book is to be made this year, the books being over double the usual size through the addition of new names and the complete list of women voters.

This book makes the most complete and up-to-date directory of Winchester ever published, containing as it does, the names of both men and women arranged both alphabetically and by streets, and giving ages and occupations, and a fine map.

It is the most sought for publication in town next to the STAR, and through the edition being limited, the copies are usually exhausted within a short time.

Copies may be obtained at the STAR office at 50 cents each. For postage within 200 miles add 15 cents. Safe delivery not guaranteed. The books will be sold only for cash.

BOYS IN WATER TWO HOURS

Further particulars were received here during the week of the sad drowning accident at Lake Winnepesaukee, N. H., when a camper and a counselor lost their lives and one Winchester boy, Stephen Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Ryan of Cliff street, was rescued in an exhausted condition. The two boys who were drowned were Nathaniel Rice, 11 years old, of Worcester, a camper at Camp Winnepesaukee, and Kimball Sayles of Belmont, a counselor.

It appears that three canoes filled with boys left the camp at four o'clock in the morning on a four-day canoeing and camping trip, intending to visit various points about the lake. One canoe had come around a headland, The canoe in charge of Ryan, with three boys in it, no sooner got around the point than it ran into very rough water, the wind coming down the lake with a full sweep. It was impossible to keep the canoe up in the sea and it capsized.

Ryan got his boys to the canoe and tried to push it towards shore, a mile distant, but the wind was off-shore and they were being blown out farther into the lake.

The third canoe, in charge of Sayles, attempted to come to their rescue, but it, too, went over, and for some reason sank so low in the water the boys could not use it for a float. This canoe contained four boys, leaving the eight with their only support the capsized Ryan canoe and their packs. These packs kept the boys up for a long time, but they finally became water logged and useless as a float.

By the time the packs became useless the boys had been in the water nearly two hours, and when it was seen that the canoe could not support the whole eight of them, the two counselors and a larger boy by the name of Chase decided to swim to shore. Bear Island being the nearest point. They left the canoe and swam towards the island, the rough water soon separating them.

Sayles sank before reaching shore. Chase reached the island and landed. Ryan, during his swim, sighted the seamer Fox, which had been blown off its course by the high wind, and tried to attract its attention. He did not succeed at first and was about giving up when the captain sighted him. He was nearly unconscious when taken aboard.

The steamer had hard work to locate the rest of the party owing to the big sea, but finally found them and took all on board except Rice. The boys said they held Rice up for a long time, but finally they became so exhausted they could not hold him longer, and he sank. They were in the water, which was very cold, for over two hours.

Attempts were made to recover the bodies of the two boys by grappling and diving, divers from Portsmouth having been summoned to the lake. All efforts have thus far proven unavailing.

A memorial service was held at the camp on Sunday.

SAVES FIVE LIVES IN THREE DAYS

During the past three days William R. Richardson, gate tender at the centre crossing, has pulled no less than five persons from the tracks in front of approaching trains. Two of the rescues were made Wednesday, two Tuesday and one Monday. They included two men and three women. Of these people were elderly persons who walked on the crossing, not noticing the approaching trains, and they were all very narrow escapes for all concerned. Since the accident last week the south crossing has been wholly without gates, and although men stand with small white signs marked "stop," people are continually walking onto the tracks as trains approach. It would seem that a red flag would give better warning in our congested centre, the small placards being hardly noticeable.

MR. MALONEY OUT FOR P. M.

Mr. J. F. Maloney, for 12 years connected with the Winchester Post Office, has announced his candidacy for the position of Postmaster. He has been Assistant Postmaster for some time and present is acting Postmaster.

Another local man who has been mentioned for the position is Mr. George E. Morrill. Mr. Morrill for many years conducted a grocery store here and is widely known among Winchester people.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Root are visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Brando at Beachwood, Me.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

August 15, 1921

The Board met at 7:00 p. m. Present, Messrs. Dolben, Blackburn, Bond and Willey.

The records of the meeting of August 8 were read and approved. Town Hall Engagements 1921 (First Church of Christ Scientist): The First Church of Christ Scientist was granted the use of the Town Hall for the purpose of conducting a Christian Science Lecture on Tuesday evening, October 8, 1921.

Moving Buildings—Tanks: A request was received from Beggs and Cobb, Inc., asking permission to allow J. M. Ellis & Co. the privilege of moving 12 empty tanks. These tanks will go on Swanton street, almost opposite Loring avenue, continuing down Swanton street, to the lower gate which is almost at the entrance to the freight yard, a distance of about 100 yards. The Board voted to grant Beggs and Cobb, Inc. permission to have these tanks moved provided they are moved under the direction of the Chief of Police and Superintendent of Streets.

Laurel Street: The Board decided to have Laurel street scarified.

Copley Street: It was also decided to have Copley street scarified.

Signs: A letter was received from the Metropolitan District Commission stating that the Commission has ordered danger signs to be placed on the bridges of the Mystic Valley Parkway to Bacon street, and the Bacon street bridge in Winchester warning automobilists. In this letter the Commission also suggests that the Town of Winchester erect signs for the same purpose on the approaches of Bacon street to the Parkway and the bridge. This matter was referred to the Chief of Police for report.

Board of Survey: As advertised the Board acting as a Board of Survey held a hearing on the petition of Samuel S. Symmes for the approval of a certain plan accompanying said petition for the location and construction of Pierpont road or way running easterly from Highland avenue over land of the trustees of Marshall Symmes Land Association and ending at Franklin road so-called as shown on said plan. Present at the hearing were Mr. Samuel S. Symmes, the petitioner, Mr. Edward E. Wait, representing William W. Thomas of Portland, Me., Messrs. Pond and Rowe of the Planning Board and Mr. Hinds, town engineer. No objection was raised by any one present to the proposed layout of Pierpont road.

The meeting adjourned at 8:45 p. m. GEORGE S. F. BARTLETT, Clerk of Selectmen.

MRS. NOEL B. NUTT

Mrs. Jennie Draper Nutt, aged 72 years, died August 15th at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Gilpatrick, 62 Bacon street. She was actively interested in church work of late years in the Unitarian Church of Winchester; also was a member of the Fortnightly Club. Mrs. Nutt attended the Wheaton Seminary at Norton, Mass., and after her marriage lived some years in Eastport, Me.

Her early life was at Canandaigua, N. Y., where her father, John C. Dwyer was a well-known banker. She is survived by her husband, Noel B. Nutt, three daughters, Mrs. Frank W. Jones and Mrs. W. H. Gilpatrick of Winchester, and Miss Elsie Clark Nutt of Portland, Me.; also a sister, Mrs. D. H. Evans of Boston, and two brothers, John C. Draper of New York City, and Edward P. Draper of San Diego, Cal.

MRS. ADALINE J. GODFREY

Mrs. Adaline Jewett Godfrey, widow of the late Benjamin F. Godfrey and mother of Mrs. Arthur F. Dow of Main street, formerly of Salisbury road, died on Wednesday at West Roxbury at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Morton Getchell. She was 69 years of age and had made her home with Mrs. Dow for a number of years, visiting her daughter at West Roxbury during Mrs. Dow's absence from town. She is survived only by her two daughters.

The funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at the Unitarian Church at two o'clock and will be conducted by Rev. George Hale Reed. The burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

Last night another set of gates on the crossing were put in operation, now leaving only the set on the west side of the south section out of commission. These are expected to be working during the day.

Cliff street, a dead-end street, is being rebuilt by the town.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Edward T. Harrington reports having sold the following Winchester real estate during the last few weeks:

Sold for Willard T. Carleton, his property, No. 5 Francis circuit, comprising a modern dwelling of 10 rooms and 2 baths and about 6000 sq. ft. of land. The purchaser was Mr. F. A. Whitney of Medford who will occupy.

Sold for Jennie A. Lawson estate the property, No. 366 Main street, comprising a dwelling of 14 rooms and 3 baths, stable and about 41,000 sq. ft. of land. The purchaser was Mr. Ralph P. Sylvester of Medford, who will improve the property.

Sold for Jennie A. Lawson estate the property, No. 345 Main street, comprising a dwelling of 11 rooms and 2 baths, stable and about 22,000 sq. ft. of land.

Sold for Henry W. Edgerton his property on Woodside road, comprising a 7-room dwelling, garage and about 15,000 sq. ft. of land. The purchaser, Mr. Arthur E. Rowe, Jr., of Arlington, will occupy.

Sold for Charles Bruce, a lot of land on Chesterford road, comprising about 17,000 sq. ft. The purchaser, Mr. A. W. Laurie of Brookline, will erect a house there in the near future. All the above sales were made through the office of Edward T. Harrington Co.

RAMSDELL—GRAVES

Announcement was made this week of the marriage on Wednesday afternoon of Miss Marjorie Pollard Graves, of Exeter, N. H., and Mr. Charles Josiah Ramsdell of this town. The ceremony was performed at the bride's home at Exeter at three-thirty. It was private. Mr. Ramsdell is vice-president of the Batchelder-Snyder Co. of Boston and his bride has been hostess at the graduates house at Exeter. They will make their home in Winchester and will receive after October first.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

No cases of contagious diseases have been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending August 18.

Henry Healey received a bad cut on the head Wednesday when the handle on the gasoline engine of the cement mixer at the town yard flew off when he was cranking it. It was necessary to take several stitches to close the wound.

NEW POLICE AUTO HERE

The new police auto arrived in Winchester yesterday afternoon. It is a snappy Reo touring car and looks like silk. By a division of the back of the front seat, the side opposite the driver lets down and a special stretcher fits in, allowing for the removal of an injured person. The old Ford car will be used for ordinary occasions and the new Reo kept for best.

Mr. George Barton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. S. Barton, was operated upon Wednesday at the Winchester Hospital and is critically ill.

FORTNIGHTLY REGATTA

The second afternoon of the series of fortnightly regattas, which are being held at the Winchester Boat Club, brought out a very good number of contestants and proved to be a highly successful water meet last Saturday afternoon.

The singles, the first event, had six starters. Teddy Clifton won it, and Francis Randlett crossed the line second, with K. Pratt third.

There were four teams in the tandem. They finished in the following order: T. Clifton and H. Riddle, first; John Ordway and P. Hart, second; K. Pratt and F. Randlett, third; N. Begien and R. Kibbe, fourth.

The club fours were next on the program and it proved a very exciting race. Two crews were selected according to the standing received in the tandems. Crew No. 2, composed of P. Hart, stroke; J. Ordway, No. 2; F. Randlett, No. 3, and K. Pratt, helmsman, drew the larger, heavier boat, while Crew No. 1 made up of T. Clifton, stroke; R. Kibbe, No. 2; H. Riddle, No. 3, and N. Begien, helmsman, took the light fast shell. Both crews were a little over-eager at the signal to "go" so that starter "Edgie" Ginn had to call them back on a false start. The second get-away was good. In the first few lengths Crew No. 2 drew ahead, but Crew No. 1 surged up on them fast and from then on it was first one boat ahead by inches only and then the other. As they approached the finish line it was nip and tuck, but an extra heave by Crew No. 2 sent that boat over the finish line not over a foot ahead of Crew No. 1.

The fourth event was the tail-end race. There were six entries. The wind was blowing quite strong which added to the amusement for the spectators, but was not so funny for those paddling. F. Randlett won, Reg. Kibbe was second and Pete Hart, third.

Next in order came the tip-over. Pete Hart by very remarkable luck in striking bottom won this race by a wide margin. K. Pratt finished second, and R. Kibbe was third.

The tilting finished the program. Four teams took part: R. Kibbe, tilter, F. Hayes, paddler, vs. K. Pratt, F. Randlett; T. Clifton, tilter, H. Riddle, paddler, vs. P. Hart, Edw. Barton. In the preliminaries the combinations, Pratt and Randlett and Hart and Barton won respectively. In the finals were Pete Hart, tilter, Edw. Barton, paddler, vs. K. Pratt, F. Randlett. Pratt and Randlett came off victors.

TOWN TEAM BETTER IN THE FIRST

Winchester Town Team proved the best organization in the first game in the series of three to be played with the Winchester A. A., defeating the latter organization 2 to 1 before a big crowd on Manchester Field, Saturday afternoon. Errors told the story, the Town team totaling but one to three for the A. A. Neither team scored until the seventh, when the Town team put two runners across to their opponent's one. The teams were evenly matched and excitement ran high, the rivalry being intense. Many thought the game the best of the season.

THEODORE N. VAIL MEDAL

Seven employees of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company have been awarded Theodore N. Vail bronze medals and citations, which recognize unusual acts or services illustrating Mr. Vail's policy as to public service and loyalty and devotion to telephone service.

The persons thus honored are: Mary A. Abley, supervisor, Winthrop, Mass.; Albert C. Archer, central office repairman, Randolph, Mass.; Fred J. L. Bayha, combination man, East Providence, R. I.; Bessie G. Blodgett, toll operator, Palmer, Mass.; Elizabeth G. Carlisle, supervisor, Main Exchange, Boston; Margaret L. Casey, operator, Fort Hill Exchange, Boston; Mary A. Duffy, toll operator, Pittsfield, Mass.

The Theodore N. Vail Memorial Fund was established by Mrs. Vail and the directors of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company. Instead of perpetuating his memory in a mausoleum or a statue, they decided to have this memorial take a more intimate form, and make it an annual incentive and reward for acts representative of the ideals for which Mr. Vail so definitely stood during his lifetime.

Each of the associated companies in the Bell System is entitled to a limited number of these Vail Memorial medals in bronze, which it is privileged to present each year to its employees who are selected by a local committee of award.

These cases are then reported to the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, which reviews them through a committee of award, and, if it finds some worthy of recognition from a national as well as local point of view, it will issue supplementary awards. These supplementary awards consist of eight silver medals, similar in design to the bronze medals awarded by the associated companies. With each of the eight silver medals there is a cash award of $250. There is also at the disposition of this national committee two gold medals with which there are associated cash awards of $500. Provision is also made for a special Distinguished Service Medal of $1000, which may be presented for a very exceptional act of service. These national awards will be announced later, after all the associated companies have reported.

The committee of award for the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company consisted of Vice President E. W. Longley and C. T. Howard, Chief Engineer G. C. Manson, Mary E. Harrington, principal of the Boston division school for operators and Thomas J. Feeney, assistant to the president.

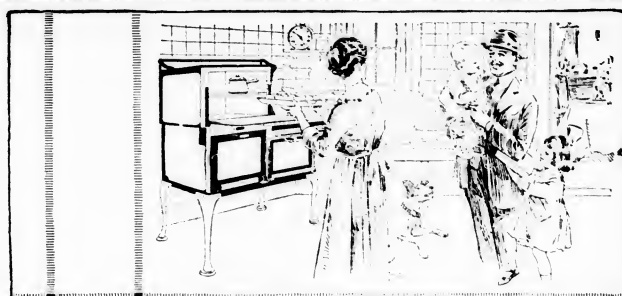

The seven awards for special acts or services during the year 1920 are announced as follows:

Mary A. Abley, supervisor, Winthrop central office, Winthrop, Mass., for prompt and resourceful action in helping effect the rescue, on June 17, 1920, of a man being blown to sea in an open boat during a high wind. Information operator reported his predicament to Miss Abley, explaining that a subscriber had just notified her about it. After vainly trying to get assistance in Winthrop, Miss Abley called the Nahant life saving station, which sent out a boat and crew and effected a rescue.

Albert C. Archer, central office repairman, Randolph, Mass., for faithfulness to the service on February 5-8, 1920, when he saved Randolph from complete isolation by his resourcefulness and energy in supplying temporary storage battery. A heavy storm had broken the power circuit connecting the central office batteries with the electric light station at Weymouth. Archer called, hauled by sled and set up thirty-six cells of automobile storage batteries, and for three days and nights remained almost constantly on duty. By his forethought, energy and watchfulness Randolph was enabled to have continuous service and to maintain uninterrupted communication with the outside world.

Fred J. L. Bayha, combination man, East Providence, R. I., for brave and intelligent action on January 28, 1920, while out testing for trouble on a subscriber's line, in rescuing a child from suffocation at 209 Fall River ave., East Providence. He not only entered at burning house and saved a helpless child from a room already ablaze, but by directing first-aid treatment by neighbors helped to relieve a woman's sufferings, although unable to prevent her death from burns. Incidentally, he extinguished the fire.

Bessie G. Blodgett, toll operator, Palmer, Mass., for devotion to the public service on February 15, 1920. Miss Blodgett was at her home in Monson, five miles from the central office. There had been a very heavy snowfall all that day (Sunday) and Miss Blodgett realized that she would not be able to be present for duty at the required hour, 7 a. m. Monday, unless she started before dark. She

Peak of the Load

It comes at the breakfast, luncheon and dinner hour. The demand is sudden, tremendous.

"Peak of the load," says the gas engineer. "What a convenience," comments the housewife. And both refer to the biggest service problem in the public utility business.

To get gas service when, where, and how you want it without warning, without telephoning for it, means that we must have "peak of the load" equipment to meet "peak of the load" demands.

This equipment is costly. It takes a lot of money to keep it in good condition, ready at all times to serve you. And the maximum number of men must be employed to operate it whether the call comes or not.

Vital things, these. And they must be paid for if you are to get the gas service you demand, in the way you demand it.

*Think it over.Arlington Gas Light Co.

set out shortly after 5 o'clock to get a street car, but at 5:45. When she reached the street car line, she found that the storm had stopped all transportation. Realizing that these conditions would cause an unusual pressure of telephone calls, and a probable shortage of operators at the switchboard, she resolutely continued her journey on foot, consuming five hours in reaching the central office and spending the night there in order to be in readiness to answer calls when her regular tour of duty began the following morning.

Elizabeth G. Carlisle, supervisor, Main Central Office, Boston, for resourceful action and intelligent persistence, on the night of December 24, 1920, in summoning aid for a watchman in the storeroom of Waldo Brothers & Bond, 202 Southampton street, thereby relieving his suffering and perhaps saving him from death. The watchman fell down stairs and the fall caused the accidental discharge of his revolver which severely wounded him in the leg. Stunned by the fall and weakened by the wound from his revolver, the watchman could only knock over a nearby telephone and at first only incoherently cry for help. As this telephone was an extension connected to the branch exchange in the main office of the company employing him, nearly three miles away, only Miss Carlisle's persistence and resourcefulness in locating him and notifying the police saved him from an extended period of suffering and possibly from death.

Margaret L. Casey, operator, Fort

Hill central office, Boston, for devotion to the public service, on February 6, 1920. Miss Casey arose that morning with a pain in her side so severely that she considered remaining at home on sick leave. Knowing that the severe storms and heavy snowfall had almost wholly blocked transportation and was causing serious absenteeism among operators, and consequent difficulty in properly handling the abnormal volume of calls, she determined to make an effort to report for work if possible. She reached a street car line after wading through deep snow for a half mile, and although badly shaken up by a fall over an icy embankment, which aggravated the pain in her side, doggedly continued on her way to the central office, where she did an exceptionally heavy day's work. That night she was taken to a hospital and operated on for appendicitis, from which she had been suffering all the while.

Mary A. Duffy, toll operator, Pittsfield, Mass., for loyalty to the service on various occasions, but especially typed on February 6, 1920. On this morning the worst storm of the year was raging. All transportation was blocked. Miss Duffy's sense of duty prompted her to start on foot from her home in West Pittsfield at 6:30 a. m. for the central office, five miles away. Residents along the route urged her to turn back, but she refused to do so and, after a three-hour effort, reached the central office almost exhausted but ready for work.

Mrs. George L. Ralston and son, Junior who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Hartley, 2 Kendall street, have returned to her home in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Miss Gladys Foley of Cambridge and Miss Mildred Foley of Wakefield are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Anna Davis, Loring avenue.

Mr. David N. Skillings is much recovered from his recent illness, and is now up and about the house.

The battery that is more than "Good Enough"

WHEN Prest-O-Lite entered the car-equipment field, all automobile manufacturers were using other makes of storage batteries as original equipment. And they were good batteries.

To displace these batteries, Prest-O-Lite had to demonstrate not merely a better battery, but a battery and service such a lot better that its superiority justified replacing the other makes. Manufacturers were naturally reluctant to change such a vital unit of their car. This preference for Prest-O-Lite is tremendously significant to you as a car owner.

The Prest-O-Lite Battery uses less than one four-hundredth of its power-reserve for a single start—and the generator quickly replaces that. You naturally think of this high-grade, high-powered battery as high-price. The prices which we will quote you will correct any such impression.

Prove this today. Ask also about the definite guarantee whose letter and spirit say, unequivocally, that you, the car owner, Must Be Pleased!

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

It is much easier to borrow $10.00, worth of trouble than it is to negotiate the loan of 10 cents in cash.

Before marriage a man has a theory about managing his wife—but after marriage he discovers that it is a fact and not a theory that confronts him.

Be good, but also be good for something.

It is very much easier to boast than it is to make good.

That tank car loaded with whale oil certainly made a "whale of a wreck."

Out in Natick there is a private way which is being repaired by the Town upon a 50-50 basis with the owners. One way to settle a controversy where it looks as though arbitration was brought into play.

There is still need to talk about our grade crossing elimination. It long ago appeared certain that it will never be eliminated in our time by legislation, but all the more the pity that it must need some fatal accident to remove it. Not one time in a thousand could such an accident occur as that of last week Thursday night without a person being even injured. Is not such a warning enough?

A summary of Monday morning's news: "Marco Robino of Somerville was shot last night by Angelo Pavia of East Cambridge; John Butulis of Lawrence was almost instantly killed this evening when struck by an automobile driven by Daphnis Desilites of Franklin, N. H.; Roland R. Bocheur and a five-month-old daughter of Mrs. Bernice Boisvert of Manchester were killed by a north-bound Boston train; Frank Simoda was shot and killed in a game with between adherents of Tony D'Andrea and Alberman John Powers; Joseph Heron was captured on a small tower on the Williamsbridge Bridge after giving battle to two policemen," etc., etc. Is European news as interesting?

When the boys of Winchester Post, American Legion, entered their new quarters provided for their benefit by the Town of Winchester on Washington street, Monday, they found that other friends had been active besides their appointed committees, for at every window were hung well fitting and attractive curtains. These were made and hung by members of the Women's Auxiliary, and the act was most highly appreciated by the boys. Although the Legion has attended to its own furnishings and renovation of the new quarters, there are still many things to be desired, including pictures, cushions for the window seats, etc. They start their house out of their own funds, of course, but as much money as could be spared was put into remodeling the house and in necessary furniture. There appears to be an opportunity for others to follow the example set by the Auxiliary. Magazine subscriptions, for instance, would be undoubtedly most welcome by the boys. They have a graphophone, therefore it goes without question that records would not be unwelcome. To those inclined there are many ways that the new house may be made attractive and a source of pride to its members, especially so with the added interest that such outside gifts convey.

DEAD WRONG

"The Attorney General of Massachusetts has rendered an opinion that women are ineligible to sit in the legislature. The word male is not used to define the qualifications of members of the Assembly. The qualifications of candidates are described under the caption of the Senate and also the House of Representatives. Such candidates must be possessed of a small amount of property, but they are described as persons and inhabitants, and nowhere does the word male occur. Under the caption of the Senate occurs the following:

"And to remove all doubts concerning the meaning of the word inhabitant in this constitution, every person shall be considered as an inhabitant for the purpose of electing and being elected into any office or place within this State in that town, district or plantation where he dwelleth or hath his home." Electors, however, are described as male inhabitants of twenty-one years and upward. That word male was eliminated for all practical purposes by the Federal Amendment. That the Attorney General can twist the Massachusetts constitution into a denial of the right of women to sit in the Assembly, is only another demonstration that lawyers invariably disagree.

The right to hold office has always been considered to be a liberty included in the right to vote, and although the Fifteenth and Nineteenth amendments do not specify that voting includes office holding, it has been so interpreted in all states in respect to the Fifteenth amendment and in most in respect to the Nineteenth.

The women of Massachusetts should not accept the ruling of the Attorney General. He is dead wrong. Listen: "The citizens of each state shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities of Citizens in the several States" (Article I, Section 1). Yet the Attorney General proposes to enforce a law which will abridge the privilege of citizens to hold office. It cannot be done legally.

"The United States (that is, the Federal Government), shall guarantee to every State (that is, the people of every State) in this Union a Republican form of government." (Article 4, Section 4). What is a Republican form of government? One wherein citizens elect and may be elected representatives. Yet the Attorney General of Massachusetts denies to half the citizens of the state a Republican form of government.

"This Constitution and the Laws of the United States . . . shall be the supreme law of the land; and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding." (Article 6, Section 2). Yet the Massachusetts Attorney General finds a little adjective in the constitution of the state which he declares makes the Federal constitution in that respect not the supreme law of the land.

Women of Massachusetts, your lawyers need education. The summer is hot and you are tired with your long struggle for freedom, but one man denies you the fruit of your effort. Do not allow it.—From the Woman Citizen.

50-Yd. Dash for Boys—Howard Leonard, Dean Delorey, George Cromwell.

15-Yd. Dash—Douglas Munroe, Harold McElhiney, Charles Stewart.

100-Yd. Dash—Wm. by Curry, McElhiney, O'Connors, Dotson, Murphy, Franson, Donald.

Standing Broad Jump—Howard Seward, 1st; Walter Kirby, 2d; Curtis Hunt and Paul Jordan, 3d.

Basketball Throw—Helen Delorey, 1st; Marjorie Bryan, 2d; Anna Saunders and Madeline Seward, 3d.

Standing Broad Jump—Elizabeth Russell, 1st; Evelyn Cromwell, 2d; Effie Poole and Lucy Kirby, 3d.

Running Broad Jump—Helen Delorey, 1st; Alice Smith, 2d; Elizabeth Russell and Madeline Seward, 3d.

The result of the sports automatically makes the following two teams to compete tomorrow in the relay race: Leonard Field—Marjorie Bryan, Anna Saunders, Helen Delorey, Clara Truchart, Manchester Field—Annie Child, Dorothy McFeeley, Margaret McKee, Isabel McKenzie.

The finals in the sports are to be held this Friday afternoon on Manchester Field. The relay race will be a special feature, as will a baseball game between teams of boys from each playground.

TAMPIO: WHERE THE WAR PRICES DIED HARD

"Americans who saw prices skyrocket at home and who saw themselves and their neighbors nearly lose their sense of money values, would have felt thoroughly at home in Tampico, the great Mexican oil town during the last few years," says a bulletin issued from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

This was the port to which United States gunboats were sent recently when the closing down of American oil wells and refineries because of heavy Mexican taxes threw thousands of men out of work, and disorders were feared.

Floated to Prosperity on Oil

"Tampico, long a port of no great importance, has had a mushroom growth in the last fifteen years," continues the bulletin, "its population increasing from less than 17,000 in 1900 to well over 100,000 today. And the explanation for this great stride forward can be given in one word—oil. The biggest 'rush' the world had ever known was drilled near Tampico in 1908 and scores of other huge streams of oil have been opened up in the same vicinity since. Hundreds of millions of gallons of oil have passed through Tampico, and the town has been the financial and business headquarters for fields many miles away.

"Money flowed easily into the pockets of a large number of American managers and technical workers who were brought in, and into the hands of Mexican landowners, merchants and day laborers. The World War raised the demand for liquid fuel to unheard-of heights and it seemed that everyone in Tampico was becoming wealthy. Conditions closely paralleled those in the oil towns of the United States. Silk shirts were not the vogue that they were among the loungers along every American Main street, but in their way Tampicans became equally as proficient spenders. There was little inclination to 'count the change.' The cost of all articles of food and apparel rose tremendously. Rents soared until ordinary accommodations for Americans could not be obtained for much under $200 to $300 per month.

"Because the after-the-war industries of the world required petroleum no less than did the navies of the fighting nations during the war, Tampico's prosperity continued after most other communities whose business was quickened by the war were experiencing a setback. Now, lately, the city is undergoing the readjustment that came to the rest of the world. Handles More Freight Than Vera Cruz

"Although Tampico owes its prosperity predominantly to oil, it has other factors that contribute to its importance. Thanks to a railroad from Monterrey, connecting it with the mining region of north-central Mexico, and to excellent harbor improvements, the town is an important port of entry and export. It has surpassed Vera Cruz in the bulk of commodities handled, though the latter city probably is the port of entry for products of greater value.

"The city of Tampico is not directly on the seacoast but is situated a few miles up the Panuco River, which is broad and deep and affords anchorage for a large number of ocean-going ships. At the mouth of the stream at La Barra is a supplemental harbor. Near the latter place is one of the finest sea beaches to be found.

"Until Tampico found its buried treasure and shook off its lethargy it was an exceedingly unhealthy place, often being subject to epidemics of yellow fever. Drainage and the application of other modern methods of sanitation have greatly improved the health conditions. The families of numerous American and English employees of the big oil companies have moved in, and a thriving English-speaking colony exists in the higher western part of the city."

temptation Windwa.

In a small Indiana town the Methodist church has stained glass windows on the bottom panels of which are printed verses of Scripture. One that six-year-old Willie has been able to decipher, and from the effort remembers well, goes: "And lead us not into temptation."

Not long after, his mother took him to visit an old friend who had built an expensive new home. Now, in the hall there were two high windows and both of them were made of orange-colored glass. When they entered that room Willie stared and stared but said nothing. But that night when he told his father all about the new house he remembered the orange windows and said: "And oh, dad, they're awfully religious. They've got those windows that keep out temptation."

Back to Medicine of Mayas.

Prof. William Gates, president of the Maya society, states that in Central America there have recently been discovered the evidences of an ancient race of people, with a civilization as old and as cultured as that of the ancient Egyptians. They were of a lofty mental attitude and of high metaphysical qualities.

Among the most important discoveries expected to be made there are the unearthing of native medical works, some of which are already in the hands of the Maya society, that will add valuable specific pharmacological and medical knowledge to that science in this country.

Plenty of Hair.

After studding in a dark theater for a few minutes I fell into a slumber behind a young woman, wrote a correspondent, I could not see the screen well, as the girl in front hid most of it from my vision. I could see only the outline of her head against the screen and I thought she had her hat on, so I politely asked her to remove it.

She turned half way around and said: "You flatter me."

As I got a better look at her I realized that she had her hair bobbed and pulled out so far it made it appear that she wore a hat.

STRANGE KINSHIP OF WORDS

"Degree" and "Degradé" Had a Common Origin Centuries Ago, but That Signifies Little.

It is not easy to understand how there should be any relations between the words "degree" and "degrade," but such kinship both appear if one but consider the facts. "Degree" has several phases of meaning. There is the degree of temperature, the degree of circular measure, the degree of consanguinity and propinquity, the degree of excellence, the degree of master of arts, bachelor of arts, doctor of divinity, and all degrees of degree.

The word came out of the Latin, passed through the French and was introduced into English by the Normans-French and here we have it with us? It started from the word "gradus" which meant a step. "Gradus" and "graduation" are kin-words. "Degradus" would be to step down, for "de," "di" and "dis" are forms of a word meaning "down" or "below" or "separate from." Thus, to "degrade" is to "step down, or cease to step down."

Now, "de" and "gradus" were the parents of "degree" and "degrade." At first, "degradation" meant a reduction from one grade or rank to another, and then it came to mean the withdrawal of any rank in office or society. In some way we have come to think that a man of degree is a high-up sort of fellow, and that a degraded man is a low-down sort of chap.

Though these words had a common origin many centuries ago, it signifies little. Avoid anything that tends to degrade and struggle to be men and women of degree.—Kansas City Star.

"Poker" From the Persian. Poker is known as an American game, but it is undoubtedly an adaptation of the Persian game "pashu."

It seems that this game came to the United States by way of New Orleans. It was in some ways similar to a game already in vogue there which was called "pique" a variation of an Italian game or its French derivative. Our present word "poker" is a mispronunciation of the French term, dividing it into two syllables, "po que" and adding the "r," which is sounded only in some sections of the country.

While standing along the coast of Panama one night, the Cartago was set on fire by an overheated motor.

The blaze seemed to threaten the safety of those on board, and an alarm was sounded. The passengers gathered on deck and were ready to enter the boats, when Miss Kitty discovered she had left her parrot behind in her stateroom.

She refused to enter the boat until Capt. George A. McVie sent for the bird. Frightened men and women paused to laugh at the calmness of the child and her concern over the safety of her pet, and when the steersman brought the parrot to the deck he also announced the fire had been brought under control by the chief engineer.

ISMID: WHERE GREEK HAS MET TURK BEFORE

"The name of the town of Ismid, where the recent retreat of Greek forces made possible an attack on Constantinople by the Turkish Nationalists and raised the first grave threat of drawing other European powers into the fray, would have appeared many times in heavy black headlines if the modern newspaper had existed throughout historic times," says a bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society from its Washington, D. C., headquarters.

"Ismid's once important harbor is now silted and its population is barely 20,000. But before Constantinople was enlarged by Constantine the Great, Ismid—then Nicomedia—was for a time the capital of the Roman Empire and the metropolis of the Near East.

Once Great Caravan Port

"Situated at the head of the Gulf of Ismid, which forms the sharp Asiatic end of the Sea of Marmora, and with high ground behind it, the town lay in the route of the natural highway from Syria, Persia, Mesopotamia and the entire Near East to the Bosphorus and Europe. In the old days camel caravans innumerable carrying the riches of the East plodded around the end of the gulf, paused to pay commercial tribute to the strategically situated city, and continued west along the low coast of the gulf for the 50 miles that separated Nicomedia from Byzantium and now separates Ismid from Constantinople. And when the steel highway and iron horse that were to connect Berlin and Bagdad came to replace the more picturesque but less efficient camel and his dusty road, the same natural path was utilized and Ismid became a railway station.

"During and his hosts swarmed through the site of the present Ismid five hundred years before Christ, to bridge the Bosphorus and conquer Thrace and Macedonia. Xenophon and his ten thousand Greeks passed through the place in their memorable retreat from Persia to their homes. Near there the defeated Hannibal, a refugee from the Romans, committed suicide; and in a villa close by Constantine the Great died. Force after force of Crusaders held the town during the middle ages.

Seat of Constantine the Great

"From Nicomedia Diocletian directed his implacable campaign of persecution against the Christians and later the first Christian emperor, Constantine, governed from its palace. Barely twenty miles to the south at Nicea the Church council sat which framed the Nicene Creed; and only a short distance to the west on the Is-mid peninsula in 451 A. D. was held the ecclesiastical assembly from which the Armenians bolted to form the separate Armenian Church, which, with the Roman Catholic, the Greek Catholic and the Protestant churches helps make up the four major divisions of Christianity.

"History is closely repeating itself at Ismid. Just as the Turkish Nationalists drove the modern Greeks from the town in recent wars, so in 751 the Moslems, pushing far into the Asiatic territory of the Byzantine Greeks, defeated their armies at Nicomedia and camped on the east bank of the Bosphorus. The Empress Irene ransomed the city and the other occupied territory. But the Mohammedans slowly encroached, and in 1358 Nicomedia fell permanently into the hands of the Turks. It remained a threat to Constantinople until 1453 when the threat was made good, and Constantinople became Stamboul and the church of Sancta Sophia a Mohammedan mosque.

"The Ismid of today has little to remind the observer of its glorious history. An old Greek acropolis flanked by Roman and Byzantine towers is about the only remaining link with its opulent past. The iron and wood caravans of the Bagdad railway do not need to pause in Ismid as did the camel trains, and its toll from commerce has dwindled away. To it the world no longer looks either for creeds or the treasures of Arabia—only for a modest supply of silk cocoons, tobacco and forest products."

SIVAS: THE NEW TEMPORARY CAPITAL OF ASIATIC TURKEY

"If the so-called 'Angora Government of the Turkish Nationalists has left Angora and shifted its capital to Sivas, as dispatches state, following the defeat of its armies by the Greeks in Asia Minor, it has truly moved into the Turkish back country," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. "In fact it might almost be said to have moved from the twentieth century into the thirteenth. Angora is the rail head of the only steel highway that penetrates northern Asia Minor. Beyond this outpost of the age of machinery the country is wholly dependent for transportation on the camel and other beasts of burden, operating over roads that are far from good. Sivas lies more than 200 miles east of Angora and over 100 miles south of the Black Sea.

"The city exists, however, in a region that reached a very high state of development long before the smoke of pulling locomotives ever darkened an Asian landscape, and it is no mean city, as cities go in its part of the world. It is credited with a population of 65,000, and is therefore of about the size of Little Rock, Ark., and Sacramento, Cal., cities with which it has the further point in common that it is the capital of a 'state' or vilayet.

May Be Turkish Ruhr

"Sivas is situated on a high plateau which is bleak and even frigid in winter when the blasts from the steppes of central Asia swirl around and over the Caucasus and give the region a climate comparable to the snow-swept plains of Russia. But it is by no means a waste country. The grain of the plateaus of the Vilayet of Sivas and the fruits from its valleys help to feed the less favored sections of Turkey. It is rich in copper, iron, coal and other valuable minerals, and if an industrial Turkey ever rises Sivas may be its Silesia or its Ruhr.

"When Rome was the ruling power in the world, Sivas (then Sebastia) was one of its chief border cities. Armenian kings ruled it for a while, and under the Byzantines it was the second most important city in Asia Minor, being surpassed only by Caesarea to the southwest.

"If in a 'union station' for camel caravans in the Bagdad of Harun-al-Rashid's day there was the counterpart of the train-crier of today, Sivas must have been often on his lips, for it lies in a strategic position between Bagdad and 'points west.' A few years later it became the metropolis of the Seljuk Turks' Empire in Asia before they moved westward and captured Constantinople.

"When Marco Polo visited the city in the thirteenth century it was one of the show places of the Near East and had a population of about 100,000. At that time the city was noted for its fine rugs and carpets, but now that industry has passed further west.

One of Most Heartless Acts in History

"When the Seljuks had the seat of their empire in Sivas their architectural arts flourished, the colleges which they built there in the thirteenth century are among the finest remains of Moslem art to be found in Asia Minor.

"Perhaps the most despicable act of cruelty ever perpetrated on a sacked city, even in a part of the world where cruel tyrants have been numerous, was inflicted on Sivas in 1400 by the notorious Timurhe-Lame. He caused a thousand children to be crampled to death under the hoofs of his war horses, and followed this monstrous proceeding by having 4000 of the defeated Armenian defenders of the city buried alive. Since it went through that harrowing experience the city has never risen to a position of any great importance."

A collection of gladioli from Mrs. A. F. Woodside's garden was used by a Boston florist who was awarded first prize for his display at the recent annual exhibit by the New England Gladioli Society in Horticultural Hall. Miss Ruth Hall has returned from a visit to North Woodstock, N. H. and the White Mts.

Here is the U. S. Usco Tread, with a long-established standard of service among motorists who have an eye to value, as well as to price. While selling for less than the other tires in the U. S. "Giving to the fabric tire user fresh, live tires. Being made now. Being shipped now."

In all of modern merchandising the biggest conundrum is the fabric tire situation.

Around 70% of all car owners use fabric tires.

Their instinct for quality is as strong and insistent as any one else's.

Why, then, are they offered such hodge-podge stocks of "discount tires," "odd lots," "seconds," "retreads" and other so-called bargains of uncertain origin?

Sooner or later the public always seeks out quality. As a matter of self-protection—if for no other reason. The out-and-out opinion in favor of U. S. Fabric Tires has spread more this year than it ever did.

People have gotten very close to the U. S. policy. Felt it. Benefited by it. And passed the word along.

It's a policy settled to one standard for all U. S. Tires. Whether fabrics or cords. Small sizes or large.

Giving to the fabric tire user fresh, live tires. Being made now. Being shipped now.

All the original U. S. vitality and service comes through when you buy a U. S. Fabric Tire.

"Usco," "Chain," "Nobby." Three different trends.

Built by the same brains, the same policy, the same quality ideals that have made U. S. Royal Cords the standard measure of tire worth.

PROBATE AND OTHER COURT NEWS

The will of Edward F. Boyd, who died August 2, 1920, and names his wife, Mrs. Eva L. Boyd as executrix. No valuation of the estate was filed.

The will of Michael Donovan, who died June 29, has been filed. It is dated April 21, 1920, and names his son, Timothy J. Donovan of Roxbury, as executor. No valuation of the estate was given.

The T. D. Whitney Company of Boston has been sued for $5000 by Emeline H. Eave of Winchester. She alleges that on October 8, 1920, while in the company's store on Temple place, Boston, she was injured and coming to the sudden starting of an elevator.

Frank E. Crawford of Winchester has been sued for $20,000 in an action of tort by Ralph Kemery of Cambridge, a minor, who sue through his father Charles H. Kemery. He alleges that while walking on Brattle street, Cambridge, he was struck by the defendant's automobile and was severely injured. Charles H. Kemery, the boy's father, sues Crawford for $20,000 for the loss of his son's services and medical expenses.

NO CHARGE FOR LADIES TO LEARN THEIR AGES

Editor of the Star.

I was astonished when I learned through the columns of the last issue of the STAR that the tax payers of this wealthy city will be called upon in the future to spend 50 cents for each poll list book that they purchase.

We men folks never had to pay a cent to ascertain how old Joe was or whether Percy sold riddions in a military store or cigarettes in the third bay bleachers, and to think that Hannah, Julia and Minnie will be obliged to pay 50 cents to ascertain whether Maude is a manicurist or whether Jane has yet reached the age of 50 is astounding. Now Mr. Editor, this is the first year that Martha has had the opportunity to determine Sarah's age and occupation, to my mind she should not be called upon to pay 50 cents for the desired information, for one believe that the town Fathers never should charge 50 cents for a poll list book unless they were instructed by the majority of the voters assembled in town meeting or the majority of our finance committee.

We, the tax payers, paid for the poll list books like the books that are in our library. Our annual town report contained hundreds of pages of valuable information is delivered at our door gratis. Why, because when we paid our taxes we helped pay the book and the police officer who delivered the book, and yet some of our town Fathers inform us that we must pay 50 cents for a poll list book not delivered at our door.

I believe Mr. Editor, that the inhabitants of this town should protest against this injustice that some of the town Fathers have forced upon us. I for one trust that the Winchester League of Women Voters will read this article carefully and do all they possibly can to inform our town Fathers in order that they may see the light and deliver our poll list book the same as our annual town book is delivered; and remember we have already paid for the book—why tax us 50 cents?

I remain yours very truly,
Patrick H. Crauchwell.

LEGION BOYS LIKE NEW QUARTERS

It was a gratified crowd of Legion boys who visited their new quarters on Washington street Monday night on the occasion of the opening. The house is now in use by the members of Winchester Post, 97. To those who had not previously visited the house, and even to those who had not been in since the new furniture had been placed, the sight of the comfortable rooms was most gratifying. Over the entrance an attractive light with the legion design announces the nature of the house. The rooms have comfortable leather chairs and couches, plenty of tables for games, a fine big reading table and open in one another in an inviting way. A billiard board is placed in the game room, on which the children play. The adjacent office is on the second floor and is very business like with its desk and typewriter. A fine bath room and a room for executive meetings completes this portion. The town fathers make a billiard room out of the kitchen type up, and when they have their meetings, they have announced that rooms for the year 1921 are ready. The billiard room, however, is open to the public, and Thomas McKee is captain of the billiard team.

This function was given by the Winchester Legion, and was a most successful one. It was held at the Winchester Legion, and was a most successful one. It was held at the Winchester Legion, and was a most successful one.

You know how much easier it is for you to overheat after you have overeaten.

Batteries are almost human. The battery that overheats and puts you to a lot of trouble, due to warped or buckled plates, is the battery that has been allowed to over-charge.

There is a mighty simple remedy for overheating of batteries. If you haven't tried it you'll be surprised to find how well it works. Here it is:

Several spectators at the fireworks Monday night wondered why the display did not start earlier. The delay was due to the completion of the band concert, the program starting late, owing to the fact that the "music tools," so-called by the Italians, were locked in a local hall. It appears that the musical instruments were left in the hall while the band went to supper. When the members returned it was found that the janitor had departed, locking the hall after him. Some time was consumed before the keys could be obtained and the hall opened.

At the conclusion of the fireworks on Manchester Field Monday night a still alarm called the combination truck out for some sparks which lodged in a tree on Mystic avenue. The sparks had burned out when the apparatus arrived.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Winchester centre was a pretty congested place Monday night after the display of fireworks finished. Just as the big crowd was pouring into the centre a freight train was stopped on the crossing while five hoboes were taken from the cars by officer Roland Sanborn of the railroad's police force. The train was stopped across the centre for about ten minutes while the hoboes were entered on the blotter and assigned beds at the police station.

William Fallon, the little five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Fallon of Highland avenue, fell on a mowing machine last week and cut off the little finger on his right hand. The adjoining finger was badly cut, but it has been sewed up and the doctors expect to save it.

The police arrested a young man on Manchester Field during the display of fireworks Monday night, charging him with fighting. He was in court at Woburn Tuesday and explained that a group of boys from Stoneham were throwing stones at the many toy balloons carried by children. One of these stones hit someone, who started after the Stoneham group. In running away one Stoneham boy knocked the Winchester youth down and a fight resulted. When the police appeared the offender ran away and the local boy was arrested. The explanation satisfied the court and the case was filed on file.

PLAYGROUND MEET

Manchester Field and Leonard Field Children Compete

The finals of the athletic carnival held annually for the playground children were run off on Manchester Field last Friday afternoon before a large gathering of children, parents and friends. The contest, which was more interesting than usual, both in numbers taking part and in the fact that the new playground, Leonard Field, at the Highlands, came into the games.

Owing to the fact that two playgrounds were represented, there were many more entries this summer, it being necessary to hold separate preliminary events at each field. The winners in these events took part Friday.

The results were as follows:

50-Yard Dash for Girls—Gertrude Kelley, 1st, Leonard Field; Lucy Kirby, 2d, Leonard Field.

50-Yard Dash for Boys—Edward Quill, 1st, Manchester Field; Howard Leonard, 2d, Leonard Field.

75-Yard Dash for Girls—Gertrude Wilberger, 1st, Manchester Field; Alice Smith, 2d, Leonard Field.

75-Yard Dash for Boys—Joe Cohen, 1st, Manchester Field; William McNeil, 2d, Manchester Field.

Egg and Spoon Race for Girls—Alice Bennett, 1st, Manchester Field; Theresa Lynch, 2d, Manchester Field.

Standing Broad Jump for Boys—Flavi Rolli, 1st, 5ft. 3in., Manchester Field; Francis Tansey, 2d, Manchester Field.

Standing Broad Jump for Girls—Elizabeth Russell, 1st, 5ft. 6in., Leonard Field; Evelyn Cromwell, 2d, 4ft. 4in., Leonard Field.

Running Broad Jump for Boys—Francis Tansey, 1st, 15ft. 4in., Manchester Field; Flavi Rolli, 2d, 14ft. 5in., Manchester Field.

THIRD REGATTA TOMORROW

The third in the series of Fortnightly Regattas will take place at the Winchester Boat Club tomorrow afternoon, Saturday the 27th.

The committee hopes that there will be no contestants in these events who will think it too late to go into the races now. There are still four more to come, and it is quite possible for a person to win any or all of the events. The highest points so far only total 23, second 20½ and third 18. It is not unreasonable to say that a few can make 25 or 30 points in one afternoon. More courage to your ambitions, boys. Just hop into the swim and dig.

The prizes will be on exhibition Saturday come look 'em over; then "step-out" for 'em.

BUILDING PERMITS

The Inspector of Buildings has issued the following permits for the week ending Aug. 25.

Mrs. Geo. G. Kellogg, 86 Church street. Wood frame garage at same address, 20x20 feet.

Leslie L. Hartwell, 37 Calumet road. Wood frame garage at same address, 24x28 feet.

Ellis C. Perkins, 39 Cross street. Relocation of barn at same address.

Glen Lockwood, Hampton Hall, Cambridge. Addition and alterations to wood frame dwelling at 33 Walnut street.

TRUCK RIDE

On Tuesday, the 23rd, through the kindness of Mr. Erskine, who let them have the truck at cost, some of the girls from the Manchester Field Playground and their mothers spent the most delightful day at Lynn Beach. On the way home the party stopped at Revere Beach long enough to "ride on the flying horses." Miss Bowman wishes to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Erskine for his kindness on behalf of herself and all who participated in the day's outing.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following case of contagious disease has been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending Aug. 25: 1 measles.

AUSTRALIAN CHAMPION TO BE SEEN HERE

Announcement is made this week by the Golf Committee of the Winchester Country Club that Joe Kirkwood, Australian golf champion, will be seen here on Wednesday, September 7th. On that date he will give an exhibition at the Winchester Country Club.

Joe Kirkwood, Australian golf champion, is a veteran of the World War and has risen to prominence in the golfing world within the last few years. As a master of trick shots he is unquestionably the world champion today. His exhibition includes an entertainment of over an hour and a half wherein he performs all manner of trick shots, such as teeing balls on top of each other and hitting whichever one is named, various ways, and hitting a full mashie shot straight in the air, catching the ball without moving.

The exhibition will prove very interesting to club members and their friends as any entertainment which has been produced at the club this season. It is announced that the dining facilities at the club house will not permit the serving of meals to other than club members and special guests on this day. The exhibition opens at 4:45 p. m.

THE COOPER CUP

A special half mile single canoe race will be run off to start the Regatta, at the Winchester Boat Club on the afternoon of Labor Day Sept. 5th.

Ed. Cooper, the popular steward at the Club has offered as a prize, a very attractive cup to be raced for in canvas canoes, single blade, over the long course, which starts near the boulevard shore in Medford, passes thru the gut and ends off the Winchester Boat club float. Entrants in this event are limited to members of the Winchester Boat club only.

Medford Boat Club is the guest of the Winchester Boat club for the day. Mixed races will follow the Cooper Cup Race and a dance for both clubs will be held in the evening.

A feature of the regatta which will be of particular interest is the anticipated visit of Sam Richards, the famous long distance swimmer, and some of his fellow members of the Puritan Canoe Club. They will paddle up the Mystic River to the club house in the morning, and in the afternoon will give an exhibition of swimming. Mr. Richards will demonstrate the evolution of swimming strokes, beginning with the dog paddle, breast, under-arm side, over-arm side, trudgen and crawl strokes.

TWO FIRES OVER WEEK-END

The barn of Burton C. Caldwell on Pond street near the Woburn Parkway was gutted badly by fire on Saturday afternoon, Box 51 being rung for the fire at 2:05 p. m. The fire was all in the upper part of the barn and the top was badly burned. How the blaze started is not known.

Sunday morning at 9:27 an alarm from Box 411 was rung in for a blaze on the roof of a small shed at the rear of Murray's hotel, 407 Main street. This fire was insignificant, evidently being started by a cigarette carelessly thrown a window. The damage was slight.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

The following intentions of marriage have been filed with the Town Clerk during the past week:

Walter Prescott Keyes of Hull and Elisabeth Synnnes of 7 Sanborn street.

Joe Kanton Billingsley of Shelbourn, Ind., and Georgiana Brown of 29 Calumet road.

Michael Joseph Hardy of South Boston and Abbie Christina Connolly of 19 Clark street.

VACCINATION CHARGES

Parents who cannot pay for the services of a physician to vaccinate their children, are requested by the Board of Health to send them to the Health Center Monday, August 29, between the hours of 3:15 p. m. and 4:15 p. m. Drs. Cummings and Simon will be in attendance.

All children must be in the Health Center promptly at 3:15.

Board of Health.

Mrs. Herbert L. Cox spent Sunday flying with Lieut. Robert Fogt at Hampton Beach. Mrs. Cox is most enthusiastic over flying, and it wouldn't surprise her many friends if she becomes a "flier." Mrs. Cox has driven all makes of cars since 1910, and it is always a pleasure to watch her drive in heavy traffic.

COUNTY HANDICRAFT CHAMPION

Richard Hildreth Wins Recognition For Wireless Work

Richard Hildreth, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Hildreth of Chestnut street, has been awarded the county championship in handicraft club work by Robert P. Trask, director in charge of the boys' and girls' club work in Middlesex county.

The Wadleigh school had one of the 11 organized handicraft clubs in the county during the past season, and was under the direction of Miss Daley, instructor in manual training. The Winchester club received the state honor because every member fulfilled every requirement. Hildreth was the star member of the club, John Gifford second and Henry Bridge third.

At his home on Chestnut street Hildreth has an excellent wireless outfit, over which he receives nightly the police reports from the Medford station and the weekly Wednesday night musical concerts. The loose coupler which he uses with his outfit tunes up to 2500 meters, and was made by himself, being one of the articles which won him the county championship.

On his wireless he has been able to hear Arlington, Vt., Annapolis, Key West, Marion (on Cap Cod) and at the one time caught a message from the Lafayette station in France. He expects to become expert enough to obtain a sender's license from the State next year.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS WILL OPEN WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 7

The High School session will begin at 8:50 a. m. and continue until 2 p. m. The Wadleigh, Prince and Wynant schools will hold sessions from 8:45 a. m. until 12 m. and from 1:30 p. m. to 3:15 p. m. All other school sessions will be from 8:45 a. m. to 12 m. and from 1:15 p. m. to 3:00 p. m.

Pupils four years and nine months old will be admitted to the Kindergarten and pupils five years and nine months old will be admitted to the first grade. Pupils who are a little younger than these ages and whose parents think them mature enough to do school work will be examined to determine their mental age. Pupils who upon examination are found to be five years old mentally will be admitted to the Kindergarten and pupils to be six years old mentally will be admitted to the first grade. The examination will be conducted by representatives of the Harvard University School of Education at a time and place to be arranged for by the parents with the Superintendent of Schools. Parents having such children should communicate with the Superintendent in writing before the opening of school. Ag-26-2t

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL VISITING HOURS

The visiting hours at the Hospital have been changed in order that the nurses may have more opportunity to give care and attention to the patients before the hours of supper and bedtime. With the exception of the private patients, visitors will be allowed only from 3 until 4, and from 7 until 8 o'clock P. M. Ag-5-3t

Mr. Francis J. Powers, local distributor of the well-known Brown reflectors, took a trip to Kennebunkport over the week-end, installing new reflectors in three cars there, thus confirming our often repeated adage that "it pays to advertise in the STAR," for all three orders came through this paper.

POLL LIST BOOKS ARE OUT

The "List of Persons Residing in Winchester," more commonly known as the "Poll Books," are printed and ready for distribution. A charge of 50 cents a book is to be made this year, the books being over double the usual size through the addition of new names and the complete list of women voters.

This book makes the most complete and up-to-date directory of Winchester ever published, containing as it does, the names of both men and women arranged both alphabetically and by streets, and giving ages and occupations, and a fine map. It is the most sought for publication in town next to the STAR, and through the edition being limited, the copies are usually exhausted within a short time.

Copies may be obtained at the STAR office at 50 cents each. For postage within 200 miles add 15 cents. Safe delivery not guaranteed. The books will be sold only for cash.

TAX RATE $24.20

Increase Only $2.20 Over Last Year

Loss of taxable personal property is largely the reason for a rise in this year's tax rate of $2.20 a thousand over last year, but at that, Winchester's rate of $24.20 is very modest when compared with surrounding cities and towns.

The total valuation of land, buildings and personal property is now $23,180,275, an increase over last year of $1,006,400. On the other side of the books is a loss in personal property of $146,700.

The total valuation is divided as follows: Land, $5,762,900; buildings, $14,895,000; personal, $3,022,375. The value of real estate in town is $20,157,900.

The town expenses by appropriation are $640,291.01. There is a County tax of $23,001.58, and a State tax of $16,900, also the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. tax of $312.05. The special State tax amounts to $221.00, Metropolitan Park tax $10,958.10, Metropolitan sewer tax $17,629.92, State highway tax $1,730.97, Charles River Basin tax $2,661.57, fire prevention tax $11,712. War poll tax $7,698.00 and special County tax of $1,792.98.

The Town receives from the State from the Income Tax the sum of $24,713.78, and from the School Fund about $13,413.50. Miscellaneous receipts amount to about $120,000, and in addition some $12,830.00 will be received from poll taxes. This leaves $563,665.15 to be raised by taxation or revenue, making the tax rate $24.20.

The real estate increase is $905,525 and the personal $27,740, making a total increase of $933,275. The loss in taxable personal property is due in part to the removal of several wealthy residents, the failure of one large factory and the closing up of several business enterprises since the end of the War.

THIS YEAR'S STREET LISTS

August 23, 1921.
Editor of the Winchester Star.

Dear Sir:

In order to correct any possible misunderstanding regarding this year's issue of the Street List, the Assessors wish to make the following brief statement.

Last year's book contained approximately 2900 names. This year there were nearly 7,000. Last year the book cost $78. This year the estimates were over $1,000. The amount of the appropriation this year for this purpose was $100, the same as last year.

The number of books published by the City of Newton is 100, Arlington 300—many other towns in this vicinity a like number. Published by the Town of Winchester for public distribution, 300.

On account of the great value which the Assessors of Winchester believe this book to have, we have made arrangements with Mr. Wilson, the editor of the Star, to publish at his own expense such a number of books as he thinks will cover the demand. By allowing him to do this the Town gets its own copies much cheaper, and is the only way in which we could get it out this year.

The Board of Assessors wish to state emphatically that none of the 300 copies belonging to the Town, have or will be sold.

If the citizens desire more books given away then they should vote us the money and we will carry out their wishes. The issue is squarely up to last year's Finance Committee as the Assessors asked for more money for this purpose and were turned down.

Very truly yours,

Board of Assessors.

EDISON COMPANY TO MOVE

The Winchester store of the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. will be transferred into its new quarters in Lyeum Building at the close of this week, opening on Mt. Vernon street next Monday morning. The new quarters of the company will constitute the most desirable in town.

The work of installing fire escapes on the school building is nearly completed and all the escapes will be in position by the time school opens.

ITALIANS EXTEND THANKS

Committee on Celebration Makes Financial Return

The committee of Italian residents in charge of the recent celebration and display of fireworks desires to express through the STAR its appreciation to the residents of Winchester for their generous contribution towards that affair. Though the idea of outside contributions is an innovation and has never been done here before, the subscriptions enabled the committee to give what is universally admitted to be the finest display of fireworks ever seen in Winchester. In addition, the musical programs given on Manchester Field both in the afternoon and evening, were exceptionally good, affording pleasure alike to young and old.

It was the desire of the committee to publish in the STAR the entire list of contributors, but as this entailed compiling and printing over 1000 names, it is not possible. Those in charge therefore, are printing here with the list of contributors of $5 and over, at the same time extending their thanks to all who aided.

The larger contributors were as follows:

Rev. N. J. Merrill $20.00, T. Davidson, 10.00, P. H. Rindholm, 10.00, A. L. Brown, 10.00, D. R. Rogers, 10.00, Miss M. Richards, 10.00, R. S. Whitney, 10.00, G. W. ## 18 YEARS MARRIED

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Donahue of 4 Maxwell road observed the 18th anniversary of their marriage last evening by holding a reception at their home. The affair was largely a family reunion, it being the first large gathering in many years of all the members of the two families. A most enjoyable evening was passed, opening at six by a supper served by a well-known caterer. Mr. and Mrs. Donahue came in for many congratulations and a number of very attractive gifts. Mrs. Donahue was before her marriage, Miss Mary F. O'Hara. They have three children.

STONES PLACED ON RAILROAD TRACKS

H. L. Pollard, agent at the Winchester station, reported that the engineer of the train due at Wedgemere about 6:30 last evening was obliged to stop his train near the Bacon Feed Mill and remove stones from the track. Investigation by the police resulted in the finding of stones and a large piece of iron beside the rails. It is thought the obstruction was placed on the track by boys who desired to see a train wreck.

A Cadillac sedan owned by Eugene S. Hyland of Lowell was wrecked in front of Hersey's store at 8:45 this morning by being struck by the tail-end of an electric. Another auto standing in front of Knight's store was overturned the Lowell car from crowding close to the sidewalk. It stood awaiting the electric to start and when the rear end swung out it caught the sedan just back of the front wheel, smashing the wheel, mud guard, lamps, etc.

LONG WITH JOHN GILBERT, JR. CO.

Albert Addington Wadleigh Associated with Old Boston Grocery Firm for Over Forty Years

Albert Addington Wadleigh died suddenly Tuesday morning at the home of his son, Herbert A. Wadleigh, 9 Sheffield road. He was born on March 11, 1874 at Brentwood, N. H., the son of Oliver and Maria Holbrook Wadleigh, and was educated at the Academy in Kingston, N. H. He was associated for more than 40 years with the old Boston firm of John Gilbert, Jr., grocers, becoming connected with the same when it was located at Tremont row and Howard street during the Civil War this concern was of great benefit to the Government in outfitting ships with provisions to be shipped to points South, for the consumption by the Northern troops. Mr. Wadleigh retired from the establishment about fifteen years ago, at which time he was vice president and treasurer.

He was long a member of the Unitarian Club and was one of the proprietors of the Second Church of Boston, once located at Copple square and now on Audubon circle. Mr. Wadleigh was a cousin of William, Moses and Pole Wadleigh, pioneer builders and capitalists, formerly of Brentwood and later of Macon, Ga., who during the Civil War began the development of the State of Georgia in building railroads and steamship lines, including the Georgia Central Railroad and the Savannah Steamship Company.

Besides his son and widow, Caroline Barton, he is survived by a brother, Elwell Wadleigh, and a sister, Eliza Wadleigh, both of Brentwood.

The funeral services are to be held this Friday afternoon from the residence on Sheffield road at three o'clock. The burial will be at Wildwood cemetery and will be private.

BASEBALL

Considerable interest is centered upon the baseball game scheduled for Saturday at 3:30 p. m. between the Town Team and the Woburn Town Team. A large attendance is expected due to the recent victories of the Town Team and the steady playing of their rivals from Woburn. A good game is promised to the fans. Matthews and Flaherty will be the battery for the Town Team with Rungde and Jobery composing the battery for Woburn.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Pratt are spending a week at Alton, N. H.

GARDEN NEWS STORY

Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture

Home Economics

SUBJECT—Preparation of the Garden

INSECT PESTS AND DISEASES

This is the month when late blight begins to attack many plants of the garden. Warm, moist weather is especially conducive to the development of the spores which spread very rapidly by means of insects or tools.

For potatoes, the regular spray should be made every ten days through August and early September, whether the blight has already appeared or not, as a protective measure. Beans, celery and vine crops it is not necessary to spray until the blight first makes its appearance. On the leaves, the individual spots are small and round but they later unite into irregular blotches, sometimes covering the entire leaf. There is a distinctive odor which differentiates late blight from any other disease or insect injury. It is most important that careful observation be made once or three times a week in order to detect trouble just as soon as it appears. After much of a start is made, it is almost impossible to check it completely.

Bordeaux mixture is the only means of control and if properly made and applied, both to the under and upper sides of the leaves, late blight can be completely checked. The squash vine borer is causing almost as much trouble this year as last. The first evidence of the presence of the borer will be the wilting of the leaves, which is sometimes mistaken for blight. At the base of the stalk near the root, will be found a small hole, near which will be a sticky substance like sawdust. By taking a knife and slitting the stalk from the point of entrance toward the tip, the borer, or more than one will be found somewhere within one foot of the ground.

If the damage is not too great, the vine may be wound with tape or cloth, after the borers have been removed, and covered with soil at several points where leaves and stems meet where the vine will take root and continue to grow. If vines are killed they should be pulled up and destroyed by fire, in order that the borers may not go into winter quarters and start more trouble next year.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

The fourth annual summer camp of Troop One was held at Rockport. While the number of boys was smaller than usual, the spirit of the camp was excellent, especially the perseverance shown.

The boys cooked a considerable part of their food, turning out savory messes like veteran cooks. They kept steadily at their scout work and if at first they were not able to pass, kept on trying until they did.

Albert Horn, Jr. and John Clifton passed their "carpentry or use of the ax" test by each chopping down a dead pitch pine tree, making it fall in the direction directed, and trimming off the branches, finishing the job with grins in spite of the appearance of large blisters.

The same two boys also passed their fourteen-mile hike test, going through Dog Town Common in Gloucester, and drew excellent maps of the trip which are being preserved in the Troop records.

Wellington Toppan, when helping other in semaphore signalling decided that he would try that test, and to his surprise passed it with flying colors. He only needs to pass three more tests to become full first class.

John Tucker passed his merit badge life-saving swimming test in all but one thing—when it came to diving down and bringing up a 10-pound weight to the top of the water. He did it, but owing to a miscalculation on account of the rough water, the depth was not seven feet. In passing that part of the test where he had to take off shoes, trousers and jacket after swimming fifty yards in them, he did so all right, but the trousers and shoes now lie at the bottom of the sea, only the jacket being saved.

TOWN TEAM TOOK DECIDING GAME

The Winchester Town Team met and easily defeated Mack's Winchester A. A. team in the second and deciding game of the series Saturday afternoon to the tune of 3 to 0. The Town Team hit Flynn hard and timely in the fifth inning, scoring three runs and clinching the game. Joe Matthews pitched his usual good game, holding the A. A. to six hits and striking out four. Charlie Flaherty caught him in fine style. Balboni played a good game at short, as did Valley in the field, he making a spectacular one-hand catch of a long fly from McKenzie's bat. Murphy and Rogers of the A. A. excelled for their team.

The game decided the question of the superiority of the two teams, the Town Team winning handsily in the first match. The timely bunching of four hits in the fifth, two of them doubles by Charlie Flaherty and Caniffie, for a total of three runs, definitely settled the series.

This Saturday the Town Team takes on Harold McDonald's Woburn team at the usual time on Manchester Field.

Will you kindly insert the following correction in an early issue? I shall be grateful.

Yours truly,
John Robertson Milne.

Mr. J. R. Milne, a former resident of Winchester, is quoted in a recent issue of the Star as having said in a business letter to Mr. T. H. Barrett that he had "purchased an estate in Santa Barbara, California." On the extreme contrary he has bought a small bungalow. He is also misquoted as preferring to live in Winchester. Without being ungrateful to the biographer of Winchester life, he has decided preferences for Santa Barbara as a place of residence, the climate being so equable. Eighty-six degrees was the highest temperature in July.

Medford police recovered the bicycle stolen from the yard of Mr. Charles Hinnan of Fenwick road August 9th in that city last week. As a result, John F. Sheehan of Malden was in the Medford police court Monday morning charged with taking it.

POLL BOOKS OUT

The List of Assessed Polls, more generally known as the "Poll Book," is out for 1921, and copies may be obtained at the STAR OFFICE at 50 cents each. Purchasers desiring copies mailed must add 15 cents additional for postage up to 200 miles. Safe delivery not guaranteed.

No books delivered except for cash.

This year's book is over double its usual size, the addition of many new names, together with those of all women voters, greatly increasing it in volume of the town.

The edition is limited and those desiring copies are urged to order at an early date. Purchase your books at the STAR office.

THINK! What Would It Cost You

IF

the plumbing in YOUR house or shop burst? (Poor workmanship will do it; freezing will do it.)
the window in YOUR home or factory was left open during a storm? (Employees are frequently careless.)
the roof of YOUR building should develop a leak? (Practically all kinds of roofs are likely to become leaky from age.)
one of YOUR workmen forgot to shut the faucet off after closing hour, or YOU YOURSELF left the water running some night.

the tanks or the elevator cylinder on the roof should break?

Prudence, thrift and ordinary carefulness tell YOU that the protection of a WATER DAMAGE POLICY IS NECESSARY, in any home, in any store, in any factory.

It costs nothing to find out how little the protection costs.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE

Descending a flight of stairs with a basket filled with plaster figures on his head, an Italian image vendor made an unlucky trip when about three steps from the bottom, and pitched headlong, man, Madonnas, poets and all landing in one promiscuous heap. Leaping wrathfully to his feet, the unhappy son of Italy surveyed the wreck in a sort of blind fury, till suddenly his eye lighted on a single figure that had miraculously—for it was a saint—escaped destruction, and lay there intact, salable as ever. It was good for a quarter anyhow and a quarter is just 25 cents better than nothing. And so no doubt—it would surely be thus in improving story books—a gleam of comfort stole over his desolate soul, as he thought that here was enough for bread and milk at least for his family. Alas! for faked reality! No sooner did he see the unlucky image than, swift as a hawk, he swooped down, grasped it with fingers like talons, and in a sudden frenzy, smashed it into a thousand pieces. Most of the bystanders laughed heartily at the act and turned away ejaculating "ass," "crazy fool of an Italian," "half a loaf better than no bread," while one of them, of a more literary and contemplative turn, quietly remarked that it made him think of Shakespeare and of the scene in Richard II, where the miserable King, overwhelmed by one piece of evil news crowding in on top of another, breaks out—

"By heavens, I'll hate him everlastingly.

That bids me be of comfort more."

Now, this swift identification, on the part of the literary bystander, of the feelings shared in common by an Italian image seller, whose stock, all but one piece, is smashed to smithereens, and a king, whose promises have been wrung from him, all but the little one on which he stands, showed that he belonged to the clan of minds that look an inch or so beneath the surface, and yet at the common base of human nature underlying, no matter which, royal mantle or coat of shoddy. Work any Winchesterite to the pitch of passion in which his rational self is lost, whether in the way of rage, grief, abuse of wrong or abuse of right, and nothing as a general rule is so hateful to him as little crumbs of consolation. It is a wonder indeed, that some ministers who go into households here in Winchester, half crazed with afflictions, and in the first wild desperation of grief, offer commonplace of comfort, do not get seized hold of and flung as wrathfully to the ground, as the image of the unhappy Italian's stock that contrived shamelessly to escape, and was smiling in saintly serenity when all the others had been dashed to pieces.

The mind of the average Winchesterite loves imaginative completeness. There is a wild pleasure in self-abandonment to rage, grief or despair, any interruptions of which rouses the whole nature to assail whatever lies in the way of indulging it. It is not true to the mind in such a state that half a loaf is better than no bread. No, the whole loaf or not a crumb. A Winchesterite, carried away with wrath, does not want to listen to any mitigating circumstances, the mother frenzied with grief over the love of her child, feels it as a cruel attempt to divert her from the one sense of utter desolation, of course, all this is utterly irrational, but the precise thing with passion is that it hates reason. More fuel and fire, not checks and dampers is its cry. Rule or rum is no motto of today; it is as old as human nature. And it attests how much of the ungoverned wild beast is still rampant in man. Indeed, here society is brought face to face with a principle of world wide significance. In the world of labor we hear, "If I cannot get all I demand I will take nothing. I had sooner starve or pinch with cold than content myself with what would buy more coal and food! Bad times or not, dead loss in manufacturing goods or not, laws of political economy or not. I won't listen to such informal stuff and had rather stand out mad with a sense of wrong, see my wife and children suffer, or smash the machinery on which we depend than take up with the miserable crumbs of comfort offered!"

All this sounds heroic in a heated meeting. But it is none the less part and parcel of that wild tendency in man to hate and reject partial solace in misfortune that has been commented on. This is the dynamite—the dynamite in human nature—that is today causing so much trouble. Countless the families whose happiness is embittered or stricken mad by some father or mother desperately refusing to see anything to love, enjoy or like for, so long as some one thing on which the mind is set cannot be had. Countless the churches and social and literary and political clubs that are broken to pieces by the like "rule or ruin" spirit of certain of their members. No tongue can tell the barrenness, ugliness, gloom, sourness and fierceness to which multitudes of lives are doomed by the survival of this old barbaric frenzy in them.

The Spectator.

HELIGOLAND WOULD BECOME AGAIN BRITISH

"Because Heligoland became under Germany as truly a synonym for fortitude strength as Gibraltar, most persons probably think of the little island in the North Sea as being an essentially German as Hamburg, the goose-step or the Lorch," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. "But this bit of land was such a newcomer in the German family circle when the World War began in 1914," continues the bulletin, "that the greater part of its adult population had been born under an alien flag and was watched like spies by German secret agents during the hostilities."

"This rather tenuous relationship between Germany and Heligoland is recalled in the light of recent dispatches stating that the people of the island have sent a petition to the League of Nations asking for neutralization under protection of the League or for reannexation to Great Britain. For it was to Great Britain, strangely enough, that Heligoland belonged for nearly two years prior to 1890 when it was ceded to Germany."

A Geographical Orphan

"Heligoland lies about 40 miles off shore from the mouth of the Elbe river, and geographically might belong either to Holland to the southwest, to Germany to the southeast, or to Denmark to the northeast. As a matter of fact the little island, at one time or another has belonged to each of those countries and to England besides. Its people were originally Frisians as were the inhabitants of the entire adjoining coast. Their language, still in use on the island, is closer to the old Anglo-Saxon than any other existing tongue."

"The Frisians fought as stubbornly as any people in Europe against the encroachments of great kingdoms and empires, opposing successively the Romans, Franks, Dutch, Spanish, Germans and Danes. The people of isolated Heligoland maintained their independence long after their brothers of the mainland had been subjugated, and have kept alive even today, in the face of intensive efforts at Germanization, something of the Frisian spirit."

"A Republic—one of the tiniest in Europe—from 950 until the fourteenth century, Heligoland then came under the control of the dukes of Schleswig. This was a semi-independent duchy under Danish influence. The island was taken over by Denmark at the beginning of the eighteenth century and was in turn captured by Great Britain about a century later during the Napoleonic wars. Germany came into possession of the island as the result of a political trade, not entirely pleasing to the inhabitants, who were thus thrown under German control. The cession took place in 1890 in return for the recognition by Germany of a British protectorate over Zanzibar, on the eastern coast of Africa."

The Eye of the Empire

"No sooner had Germany come into possession of Heligoland than she began fortifying the island on a gigantic scale. The Kaiser planned to make the crag 'the eye of the Empire,' and its guard. Turrets of powerful, long-range guns were placed on all sides, dominating the lines of approach to the mouth of the Elbe, the Weser, the Elbe and the Kiel Canal. Practically the entire surface of the island, about a fifth of a square mile in area, was made bomb-proof. Underground passages ran in every direction through the solid rock and commodious underground barracks and scullery hangars were constructed beyond the reach of bombardment. It is believed that more than $50,000,000 was spent in this creation of 'the Gibraltar of the North Sea.'"

"By the Treaty of Versailles it was required that Heligoland be stripped of all this expensive equipment. For months allied experts have been supervising the tearing down of the concrete and armor-plate fortifications and the cutting of the great guns by means of the oxy-acetylene flame into sections like gargantuan metal doughnuts. But so well did the Germans build their North Sea fortress that it is estimated that another year and probably two will pass before the last of the war machinery will be dismantled."

"The few thousand inhabitants of Heligoland are fishermen. Their only ambition, they say, is that militarism shall give them a wide berth in the future and that they shall be permitted to resume the making of their living from the turbulent North Sea."

Peak of the Load

It comes at the breakfast, luncheon and dinner hour. The demand is sudden, tremendous.

"Peak of the load," says the gas engineer. "What a convenience," comments the housewife. And both refer to the biggest service problem in the public utility business.

To get gas service when, where, and how you want it without warning, without telephoning for it, means that we must have "peak of the load" equipment to meet "peak of the load" demands.

This equipment is costly. It takes a lot of money to keep it in good condition, ready at all times to serve you. And the maximum number of men must be employed to operate it whether the call comes or not.

Vital things, these. And they must be paid for if you are to get the gas service you demand, in the way you demand it.

Think it over.

NEW STRAND THEATRE

Only the last few finishing touches are now required to put in readiness for the opening on Saturday evening, September 3, Belmont's newest enterprise, the Strand Theatre, one of the finest moving picture theatres in suburban Boston, located at 376 Trapelo road, Waverley, in the heart of one of the fastest-growing sections of the town.

The theatre has been leased for a long term of years to the Waverley Amusement Company, a subsidiary of some of the largest producing companies of the country, and will be open every evening, with three afternoon performances on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. There will be an entire change of pictures Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. It is the intention of the proprietors to exhibit only the best pictures obtainable from the world's best producers and to exhibit two big features at every performance.

The theatre itself, with its appointments and a seating capacity of over 700, is all that could be desired by a discriminating public and will meet the requirements of the town for a long time to come.

Located at the corner of Trapelo road and Beech street, it is easily accessible from all parts of the town and from neighboring towns as well. It may be reached by the greater part of its clientele by a five-cent fare on the Boston Elevated.

Entrance to the theatre is from Trapelo road through a wide vestibule and lobby, the walls and ceiling of which are marble finished.

The interior decorations of the auditorium are in two shades of brown. Indirect lighting fixtures give a soft, diffused light.

Particular attention has been given to the ventilation of the theatre, the system being one of the most scientific ever installed, insuring a cool auditorium even in the hottest summer weather.

The seating arrangement cannot be improved upon, the comfortable leather upholstered chairs being arranged on the inclined floor in such a way that from every seat a full view of the stage may be had. There is not a post in the entire house to obstruct the vision.

The stage, while designed particularly for moving pictures, is of good width and has a sufficient depth to be used as a speaker's platform or for vaudeville acts if the occasion requires. In front of the stage is a pit for the piano player or a small orchestra.

The operating booth equipment is the latest word in film projection. Two Simplex motor-driven machines eliminate the necessity of wars between reels and represent the best and most modern apparatus obtainable.

The safety of its patrons has been in mind throughout the construction of the theatre and five exits, three on Trapelo road and two on Beech street, afford ample opportunity to empty the house in a minimum of time should an occasion require it.

Opening from the rear of the lobby are two toilet rooms and in the basement is the boiler room and a paper room for the storage of advertising material, etc. In front of the lobby is the ticket booth, equipped with an automatic ticket vending apparatus.

The scale of prices will be twenty-eight cents for evening performances, with the exception of a few reserved seats, which will be sold by subscription, and seventeen and eleven cents for matinees, including war tax.

Taken all in all, the new Strand Theatre represents a type of playhouse that Belmont may well feel proud of and the proprietors assure the townspeople and those of the neighboring towns as well that it will be their aim to serve quietly and efficiently; to be at all times solicitous of your comfort; to present a program of motion pictures representing the highest art of the greatest producers and to maintain a standard to which adverse criticism can never be directed.

BASEBALL TOMORROW

Tomorrow afternoon the Winchester Town Team will play Harold McDonald's Woburn Town Team here. The game will open on Manchester Field at 2:30, and a close and exciting contest is looked for. Rundize, who beat Reading last Saturday 9 to 2, will be on the mound for Woburn. Winchester will have its line-up of last week, and as the boys played smoothly and took in every opportunity to score, they should give a good account of themselves.

Wanted His Money's Worth.
The Newly-Riches were seated in their handsome drawing room. Mrs. Newby-Riches, at the grand piano, laboriously picked out hymn tunes with one finger. "Hanging it all, missus," said Mr. Newby-Riches, impatiently. "I buy you a piano that size, I expect you to use both fists."

The battery that is more than "Good Enough"

WHEN Prest-O-Lite entered the car-equipment field, all automobile manufacturers were using other makes of storage batteries as original equipment. And they were good batteries.

To displace these batteries, Prest-O-Lite had to demonstrate not merely a better battery, but a battery and service such a lot better that its superiority justified replacing the other makes.

Manufacturers were naturally reluctant to change such a vital unit of their car. This preference for Prest-O-Lite is tremendously significant to you as a car owner.

The Prest-O-Lite Battery uses less than one four-hundredth of its power-reserve for a single start—and the generator quickly replaces that.

You naturally think of this high-grade, high-powered battery as high-priced. The price which we will quote you will correct any such impression.

Prove this today. Ask also about the definite guarantee whose letter and spirit say, unequivocally, that you, the car owner, Must Be Pleased!

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Men should take advantage of their own opportunities and not take advantage of other people's necessities.

Training up a child nowadays in the way he should go is as the boys say "going some."

It takes a lot to live these days, usually a house and lot, besides some other things.

One of the worst things in defeat is the sympathy that goes with it.

The Town Team seems to have earned its title.

Perhaps Mr. Craughwell might tell Hannah, Julia and Minnie about Maul and Jane.

Have you noticed in this issue of the STAR what the Italian residents paid for the privilege of carrying the flag?

Winchester has been passed by in the matter of band concerts, none being held here this summer. Woburn still has concerts on its parkway, and possibly the Metropolitan Park Commission feel that there are enough auto here to make the Woburn concerts serve both places. In that case, why not place a life guard or swimming instructor at Sandy Beach to care for our visitors?

We notice with regret that the activity created last summer and fall in the police department by last year's board of Selectmen in allowing revolver practice by the officers at the old Twombly lodge has subsided. This was a good feature, as was shown by the results of the two or three periods of practice indulged in, when few of the officers could hit the target, to say nothing of the bulls eye. Lawlessness is not on the decrease by any means, and thieves and other ruffians are likely to give a place a wide berth if it is known that its police officers are handy with a gun. Why not lay in another stock of cartridges and hold regular competition shoots?

The Water and Sewer Board replied this week to the request made last Spring by Wolcott terrace residents for the lowering of the man hole which marks that street. The Board has decided that it will not lower the man hole, and in view of the fact that the Selectmen turned down their application to have the street accepted by the Town, the eight families residing there have no redress other than to rebuild the street, filling it up to the man hole cover. Meanwhile Cliff street, next door, is being rebuilt by the Town, and as the latter is a dead-end street serving eight houses, the Wolcott terrace residents are inclined to feel that they have been passed by, since one of the chief objections raised to the acceptance of their way was that it was a dead-end street.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. Frank Leonard of Harvard street has been notified that the body of his son, Augustus P. Leonard, who was shot in France in September, 1918, may be expected to arrive here at any time. It is thought that the body is at present in Hoboken, N. J.

Mrs. William McCauley has returned from a visit to relatives at Brantwood, N. J.

A surprise party was tendered Miss Katherine R. Kileyne, at her home, 21 Chester street, on Thursday evening, August 25th, in honor of her birthday, about 35 guests being present from Waltham, Malden, Reading, Stoughton, Somerville and Winchester. Miss Kileyne was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, among which was a gold wrist watch from her mother. A folding camera was presented to her by Hollis L. Riddle, Jr. in behalf of those present. The party assembled in the dining room while Miss Kileyne cut the birthday cake, and the cheese were led by Frank L. Martin. Songs were rendered by talented members of the party, and a very enjoyable evening was passed until a late hour.

SOLVING HUMAN PROBLEMS

A banker recently called at the office who said: "The faith I have in the Northwestern has led me to ask you to solve a problem that has kept me awake nights. I have a beautiful wife and a seven year old boy. If I should die today my estate would be considerable. BUT THEY MIGHT LOSE IT. It happens every day. If you know what the love of a good woman means or have ever had a baby's arm around your neck you can appreciate my frame of mind. What can you do to help me to protect them as long as they live?"

When we told him about Options A, B, and C, in his Northwestern contract he said "That's the solution."

THOMAS H. BURTON

THOMAS H. BURTON

Former Town Auditor Dead

Mr. Thomas H. Burton, auditor of the Town of Winchester from June 25, 1917 to February 1, 1919, died on Monday at the Cambridge Hospital following an operation for appendicitis. He was 40 years of age.

Mr. Burton resided in Winchester for a period of about ten years, making his home on Highland avenue with his mother. A little over a year ago he was married and both his wife and mother survive him. He was a high type of citizen and greatly liked by all who knew him. He was a native of Boston and at the time of his appointment to the Auditorship by the Selectmen was assistant secretary of the State Street Trust Co., having been connected with that firm for over 16 years. He resigned office here to take the position as assistant treasurer of the Hood Rubber Co.

The funeral services were held at the Mt. Auburn chapel on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. As a mark of respect the flags on the common and public buildings were flown at half mast during the early part of the week.

PUPILS TO RECEIVE PRIZES

Mrs. Annie Soule Lewis will meet her piano forte pupils, socially, in her home, No. 1 Maxwell road, Saturday, September 10th at 3 o'clock.

On this occasion, pupils will receive the prizes won for the best recitals made during the last season, and will select dates for their lessons for the coming season. Now pupils will be assigned dates after September 10th, in time for the first days of the term commencing September 15th and 16th.

For information, address Mrs. A. S. Lewis, 1 Maxwell road.—Advertisement. Aug. 26-27

WINCHESTER BOY IN CHARACTER DANCE

"Last Saturday evening, Ormsby L. Court of New York and Boston entertained the dancers of the Winthrop Yacht Club for a few minutes with a very clever character dance which brought forth much applause."

He responded with an encore which greatly pleased his audience. This young man, whose father is Ormsby A. Court of Winchester, the well-known producer and playwright, is to appear in several other character dances very soon at the Winthrop Yacht Club.—Winthrop Star, Aug. 18

Mr. I. P. Renet has become associated with Mr. Walter L. Cladin at the local Chevrolet automobile agency. Mr. Renet will have charge of the show room on Main street for the present.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

August 22, 1921.

The Board met at 7:30 P. M. Present Messrs. Dolben, Blackham, Bryne and Willey.

The records of the meeting of August 15 were read and approved. Testimonials—Thomas H. Burton: The Board voted that in respect to the memory of Thomas H. Burton former auditor of the Town of Winchester, all Town flags under the jurisdiction of the Board are to be lowered to half mast until after the funeral. (Mr. Burton will be buried on Wednesday afternoon at 2 P. M. at Mt. Auburn.)

Building Lines: Consideration of the establishment of building lines recommended by the Planning Board was laid over until the next meeting of the Board.

Board of Survey (Pierpont Road): The Board approved as a Board of Survey the plan of Pierpont Road filed August 5, 1921, and drawn by Parker Holbrook, Engineer. A Board of Survey hearing was held in regard to this matter on August 15 at 8 o'clock P. M.

Signs: A letter was received from the Department of Public Works, Division of Highways of the State of Massachusetts submitting for the Board's consideration application for street signs from the following concerns: Buchholz Company, O. J. Gule Co. (3 applications), J. Donnelly & Sons (6 applications). All these applications are for old signs. The Board passed the following vote:

VOTED: That the Selectmen of Winchester, being the officials in charge of licenses in said Town disapprove of the applications made by the O. J. Gule Co., J. Donnelly & Sons and Buchholz Co. to the Division of Highways of the Department of Public Works, for the erection of signs.

Signs: A report was received from the Chief of Police in regard to the placing of signs on Bacon street as suggested by the Parks Division of the Board of Public Works. In his report the Chief states that a sign has been placed on the parkway opposite the Wolcott Station which reads as follows: "Slow, Dangerous Crossing." The sign is 18 by 24 inches with red ground work and white letters. The Chief states that he thinks it would be desirable to have a similar sign on Bacon street just east of Dr. Gilpatrick's house, and another on Bacon street southeast of the corner where the parkway joins Bacon street on the east of the railroad track. The exact location of these signs he suggests be given by himself. The Board voted to have the Sup't. of Streets place the signs in the location recommended by the Chief of Police and that the signs be placed under the direction of the Chief.

Kenwin Road: A letter was received from Mr. Frank W. Winn asking the Board if possible to have something done about completing Kenwin Road. The Board voted to lay this matter over until budget matters for next year are being considered. The meeting adjourned at 10:05 P. M.

George S. F. Bartlett,
Clerk of Selectmen.

GREAT UNIVERSITY WILL OPEN DOORS TO WOMEN VOTERS

In cooperation with Yale University, the Connecticut League of Women Voters will conduct a citizenship school at New Haven during the week of October 24 to 28.

This is the first time a great eastern university has recognized the general demand of new women voters for fundamental training in the art of active citizenship. The school has been brought about through the courtesy of the Yale faculty and trustees who will give the use of university facilities. Members of the faculty who will give instruction are as follows:

Ex-President William Howard Taft; Prof. Irving Fisher, Prof. William Lyen Phelps, Prof. F. R. Fairchild, Prof. E. M. Rouchard, Prof. Clive Day, Prof. H. W. Farnum, Prof. Arnold Deane, Prof. Allen Johnson, Prof. Charles Seymour, Prof. C. E. A. Winslow and others.

Miss Catherine Lindington, Director of the Fire Region, Nat. League of Women Voters and Miss Mabel C. Washburn, Connecticut President, are stimulating attendance from all parts of the country and especially invite Massachusetts women to enroll. Several have already done so.

For information about terms, prospective students should write to the State Headquarters of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, 19 Arlington street, Boston.

Miss Frances Fitzgerald has been enjoying the month's travelling with friends in Maine and New Hampshire. At present the party is enjoying the fine August weather at the Weiss.

Friends of Miss Edith Flaherty of Middlesex street tendered her a shower at her home this week. Miss Flaherty is soon to marry Mr. Matthew Donlon.

BANKING SERVICE

A National Bank is in the position to be a good asset to any neighborhood. Its customers have a right to expect liberal treatment. No one should expect Banking Service without reasonable compensation—but the Bank that does not endeavor to cover every financial requirement within safe banking rules of its customers is not rendering the best Banking Service.

WELCOME APPRECIATION

August 16, 1921.

The Winchester Star, Winchester, Mass.

Gentlemen: I am enclosing check to pay the subscription of the Star.

We certainly do enjoy reading the paper, as it seems to be up to date and gives to a citizen of the town a glimpse of what's going on through the week.

Very truly yours,

Charles E. Fish.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Besse and daughter, of Washington street have returned from Swampscott, where they have been spending the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Mott A. Cummings are home from a stay in the Maine.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. Henry B. Winn, formerly of this town and son of Mrs. M. L. Winn of Elmwood avenue, has one of the finest fruit farms in this section in his property at Marlboro. A tomato sent here this week from his place just lacked one ounce from weighing two pounds. He has some very fine peaches, plums and apples which are also well up to record size.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hildreth have returned from Monhegan Island, Me., where they had been spending the summer. It is reported that on Labor Day the local baseball team will play the Woburn Legion team, two matches being pulled off, one here in the morning and the other at Woburn during the afternoon.

Mrs. Raymond Himes and family have returned to their home at Wednesday after a stay at Great Chebogue Island, Me.

Mrs. Horace W. Ash and family returned this week from Mirror Lake, N. H., where they spent the summer, and have opened their home on Fairview terrace.

Mr. Ash returned Tuesday from a seven-weeks' trip to California and Oregon.

Frederick Cobb of Lloyd street exhibited some fine tennis in the tournament at Hedding, N. H., last week, when he won the final match in the 14-year-old class.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall J. England and daughter Nancy, have returned home after spending a larger part of the summer in Zanesville, O.

Mr. Daniel Kelley of the Kelley & Hawes Co. attended the annual convention of the Massachusetts Undertakers' Association at Mechanics Building, Boston, this week.

Rev. R. W. Thompson of Bolton, England, is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dreier. He filled pulpits in New York and Philadelphia, August 14 and 21 and next Sunday will preach in Boston at the New Old South Church. Last year Mr. Thompson was a member of the British delegation that attended the big Congregational Conference in Boston.

ESTHONIA: FOOTBALL OF NORTHERN EUROPE

"World attention has been focused so closely upon storm centers of Central and Southern Europe that comparatively little has been heard of the new nations carved from Russia along the Baltic Sea," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"But with the gradual resumption of commerce between Russia and the outside world Estonia and Latvia will assume a more important aspect, either as barriers or gateways to interior Russia."

"Much, too, has been written of the oppressions of other subject peoples. The Estonians might well claim to be the peers of any national sufferers since medieval times because they have been so beset both by Germans and Russians."

Beset by Russians and Germans. "From the eighties of the last century until the world war period Estonia bore the double yoke of Tsarist law administered by German officials. As one writer exclaims, 'Heaven preserve us from Russian law as interpreted by Germans! The Russian official may not take a Russian law very seriously, but one can be sure that the German official will."

"One must go back into Estonian history to trace the origin of this duplicitous despotism. And to the student of human geography the emergence to a sudden independence of a people so long submerged will make an experiment worth watching."

"The Esths are an aboriginal people of northern Europe who once terrorized the Baltic by piracy, and later clashed often with Swedes and Danes."

"Tradition has it that the oldest flag of Europe, that of Denmark, dates from 1219 when the Danish Waldemar II, who may be likened to Alfred the Great, was conducting a campaign to subdue Estonia. A great silver cross appeared against a fiery background in the Heavens as an omen of success. This same Waldemar, in the same year, founded the town of Reval, now capital and seaport of Estonia."

Conquest in Guise of Conversion

"Few nations can show so consistent a record of conquest under the guise of conversion as the Estonians. The Danes came to baptize them at the point of the sword; then entered the Knights of the Sword, coming in the role of Crusaders and remaining for some six centuries as overlords. During the long era of German ascendancy the country became thoroughly protestant."

"Within the past half century the Russians undertook strenuous methods to gather the Esths into the fold of their Orthodox church. Long experience taught these people the wisdom of accepting 'conversion' and then returning to their fold. But when they tried this expedient after the visits of Russian priests they found it a civil crime to withdraw from the Russian church after having entered it. Moreover for a Protestant clergyman to marry a man or woman who belonged to the Russian church was punishable by imprisonment."

"The rugged endurance of this northern people, their vitality and spirit, is sufficiently shown by their bearing up under oppression that was both religious and political, and from the political standpoint both Prussian and Russian. Perhaps their Mongolic descent helps account for that."

Nations and Nature Unkind

"Before the World War Estonia was accounted one of the most progressive regions, agriculturally, in Russia. Nature is scarcely kinder to the Esths than nations. They live in a low swampy country, nowhere as high above sea level as the base to top height of the Washington monument. Their summers are hot; their winters cold."

"The people have an especial love for song, are industrious and progressive, and their struggle to gain a livelihood from the soil rather than a lack of enterprise accounts for that fact that some of their smaller villages have been described as being among the most indescript and least lovely in all Europe."

"It should be noted that the free Estonia recognized by many European governments comprises more than the old Russian Estonia. A part of Livonia is included in the new state, while the southern part of Livonia, along with Courland, goes to make up Latvia. The Estonians and the Letts have less in common than one might expect of two neighbor peoples who have suffered for centuries the same slings of outrageous national fortune."

For Love of a Clown

By JANE OSBORNE

(Copyright, 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

People were walking slowly, sometimes stopping in front of the main window of Dugan's house furnishing store. There was an occasional puzzle, sometimes a burst of laughter and such comments as: "Isn't he too impudent?" "He's looking right at me—now he's beckoning?" "Such a thing for an able-bodied man to be doing!"

Sarah Taylor made it a principle never to stop to look in store windows. Moreover, she never lingered with the crowd. When she came by today to downtown every Saturday morning from her farm, she knew just what she was doing. She was never inclined to buy anything that was not on that list.

She kept on walking as she turned to see what the lotterers were gazing at in Dugan's window. There she saw a long, dark clown in the usual voluminous clown suit, in wide red and white stripes. His face was chalked white and he had a triangular patch of red to define his nose. He was pushing a vacuum cleaner with one hand over a small piece of carpet on which he had sprinkled sand. With the other he was beckoning to the lotterers outside, beckoning and grinning invitingly, now looking straight at this one and now at that.

As Miss Taylor turned to look, the clown looked right at her, grinned and beckoned.

"The idea!" exclaimed Miss Taylor, his grinning and apparently unable to take her eyes from the eyes on the other side of the glass that fixed her so intently. She colored with something akin to anger as she saw that the antics of the clown were directing the gaze of the lotterers on her.

"Well, I won't go in and buy one of his sweaters," she told whoever wished to listen, as she made for the entrance of Dugan's store, "but I'll just go in and see Mr. Dugan and tell him what I think of having a fellow standing in his window there making fools out of people passing by."

The clown met her at the door, eagerly.

"I want to let Mr. Dugan know what I think of letting a fool like you—," began the irate Miss Taylor. Then Didn't Want to Talk About Himself.

the color suddenly left her cheeks and she felt limp all over. "Sam," she whispered, "I never dreamed it was you."

Samuel Warren, who had not recognized Sarah Taylor until she entered the store, felt almost as unmoved as she, but he had presence of mind to lead her into a corner of the store set aside for his use in receiving prospective customers.

"I always thought," said Sarah, "that I might meet you again, but I never thought it would be like this. I'm sorry you've had such bad luck. When I heard that your uncle had taken you into business with him, I thought maybe you'd have the chance you needed."

But Sam didn't want to talk about himself. He wanted first to hear of Sarah Taylor. Eagerly he seized upon the facts she divulged. She had not married, she had gone to live on a farm left her by an uncle. She had an old farmer and his wife who helped out, but it was clear that she did much of a man's work in making a meager living out of the worn-out land.

"It was ten years ago, too," she said with embarrassment. "I was twenty and you were twenty-one—I didn't think we would be like this when we met." She looked down at her shabby coat and gave a little tug at her hat, which was not of a recent vintage.

"And that night when you sent me off—do you remember what you told me?" rounded Sam. "You told me I could go and stay until I made good. You told me I was a clown—and it is as a clown that you find me!" Sam laughed with genuine amusement.

"I was so young," Sarah defended. "You were all the time reading and I thought you ought to be getting out and making money. I didn't know how hard it is to succeed then. Sam—"

"Then you wouldn't be so hard on me now?" Sam asked, and he was leaning so close to Miss Sarah Taylor that the sales force at Dugan's who chattered to be looking on thought he had surely "landed another order." One of them approached and Sam changed the tone of his voice. He stood up and extended the cleaner to Miss Taylor.

"So you think this medium size will be satisfactory?" he said briskly. "Let me see—what was the address?"

Barlow's lane, the first place on the right as you turn from the main turnpike," said Sarah in a frightened tone, and then, "but I'll take it on the one condition—that you deliver it personally and give a demonstration at my own house. Come tomorrow some time if you can."

"I'll come tonight, say at seven o'clock," announced the clown, who appeared to be entirely the eager salesman. And as the salespeople at Dugan's were still staring, Miss Sarah Taylor went away without any further explanation to this man to whom she had once been engaged and from whom she had now been separated for ten years.

"Well, I'm interested," exclaimed one of the saleswomen who had looked on. "That was Miss Sarah Taylor, lives out in the country five miles from any electric cleaning. What's she doing ordering an electric cleaner? Believe me, it's some salesmanship that can make folks do a thing like that."

Samuel Warren carried a heavy vacuum cleaner when he walked into the main driveway at first, and then on the right as you turn from the main turnpike on Barlow's lane. But he did so only as a matter of form. He had carried it from his room, which he had looked a few hundred feet back in the lane.

"You had to carry that all the way from the trailer?" queried Miss Sarah Taylor. "And I don't know as I'm going to buy it after all. I haven't any electricity. I just said I wanted you to bring it so you would come out. I wanted to talk to you."

"What did you want to say?" queried Sam in a tone that made Sarah feel very young again. It was only after some false starts on the part of Sarah, and much encouragement on the part of Sam, that she was finally off with her little speech.

"Only this," she faltered at last. "I have learned to judge men differently from the way I used to. I sent you out that night because I thought you didn't care about getting ahead in the world, and now I don't care if you haven't, Sam. The farm here needs a young man and so would at least get on living from it. It would be better than having to stand there in the window and look such a fool. I respect you for doing it, but I know times must have gone hard with you before you accepted of that proposition. So, Sam, if you want to, there is a place waiting here on the farm—"

Sam listened as she slowly developed her little speech. Then he laughed and took her in his arms and kissed her. "You've got it, Sam," he said, "exactly what he had done. He had been taken in by his uncle in the electrical appliances company and had been instrumental in making that company one of the largest in the country. He was now trying to add new force to their selling department. He wanted to see what a live man with imagination could do to get the small town sales, which their company had not usually been able to wrest from competitors. He had decided that the first thing the small town people needed to get them to buy one of the cleaners or washing machines, his company produced was to get them talking of the idea of using a method out of the ordinary in window displays. A good-natured looking clown would attract attention. He could look straight out at the people and beckon to the people as a man in ordinary guise could not do. What these people needed was that bit of personal contact."

The sales department said their demonstrations held up at such a proposition. They said they couldn't sell vacuum cleaners that way. But Sam thought they could. So he had started out trying it for himself. He had been doing the territory adjacent to Woburn for two weeks, and now orders had come in and there were more prospects than had ever been known in that territory before. Sam hadn't known that Sarah had moved to Centerville. He thought of her still in another state.

"I am so confused," was all the distressed Sarah could say. "Please feel that I have never said what I said."

"But why?" urged Sam in the convincing tone that had been one of his big business assets. "If we forget that, then I'll have to take time to tell you how much I want you to marry me and come with me. But if we let your proposal stand, then we won't have to waste time on such preliminaries. We can hop right into my little roadster stowed away down the road and make tracks for the nearest marriage license bureau."

Dubious Honor.

"Why didn't you let Scrivens deliver his new book to you?"

"I regret Scrivens' book as a literary crime," said the prominent lawyer.

"Well—"

"I didn't want to be made parties criminals."

Honors Were Even.

She (tossing her head)—A kiss? Certainly not! I never kissed a man in my life.

He—You're nothing on me. I never did either.

MAYBE SHE SAW THE POINT

But, Whether or Not, Clergyman Had Decidedly "Batt of Fussy Old Lady."

A rather fussy old lady in New England once called upon her pastor with a grievance. The good man's hands were too long for her ideas of ministerial humility, and, after a long harangue on the sin of pride, she intimated that she had brought a pair of scissors with her, and would be pleased if her dear pastor would permit her to cut them down to her notions of propriety.

The pastor had not only listened patiently, but had handed over the offending hands to be operated upon. She had cut them down to her satisfaction and returned the bliss; it was the pastor's turn.

"Now," he said, "you must, if you please, do me a favor."

"Certainly, doctor. What can it be?"

"Well, you have something about you that is a deal too long, and that causes me no end of trouble. I should like to see it shorter."

"What is it?" asked the old lady. "There are the scissors; use them as you please."

"Come, then," continued the pastor, "open your mouth, and cut your tongue!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

SMOKE JOGS HUBBY'S MEMORY

Mrs. Wisacre Pung Effective Reminders to Her Forgetful Spouse's After-Lunch Cigar.

"My husband never forgets anything any more," said Mrs. Wisacre, beaming upon her friend, Mrs. Boomer. "Did you tie a string around his finger?" asked Mrs. Boomer.

"No, dear, no," returned Mrs. Wisacre, an air of pity for her friend's old-fashioned idea quite plain in her manner. "That's quite out of date, you know. Why, half the time our husband is apt to forget what the string was around his finger for when he finds it there. So, my dear, the really effective way is to buy you a little stock of cigars all your own. Whenever you have a mission for your husband, write it on a note and pin it in the cigar." Place the cigar in the pocket with his own stock and when he goes to take his after-lunch smoke he's bound to find it there. He'll do the job on the spot, and with the note right before him he really can't forget a single item. It's most effective, my dear."—New York Sun.

Japanese Tea Drinking.

Tea is associated in the Japanese mind with the cult which has grown up in connection with tea service. As to the origin of the tea ceremony, or Chawan-yu, as it is called in the native language, there are two theories. One of them is that in the early times the Buddhist priests drank tea in order to keep awake during the night services, and that from this habit the drinking of tea became closely connected with silent meditation and thereby elevated to a canon of ceremony. Another hypothesis attempts to explain the origin of the cult, not in religious but in psychological terms. It states that the original seed of the tea brought from China was planted in the various provinces of Japan and produced slightly different varieties of tea. Now the court nobles, from their characteristic fondness for dilettantism, started the gentle amusement of competing in their ability to discriminate the different varieties of tea and in tracing their origin. The practice thereafter developed into an elaborate system of etiquette.—East and West News.

Birds Moving Day.
It is now a well-established fact, says the American Forestry Magazine, that when the female woodcock for any reason desires to remove her young from one place to another, she takes them out, one at a time, between her feet, and holding them so securely, she flies off with them to a place of safety.

We Like to Give Service

Or, to put it differently, has it ever struck you that it isn't the ease of the job, but your liking for it that makes it attractive? We're in the battery business because we like it.

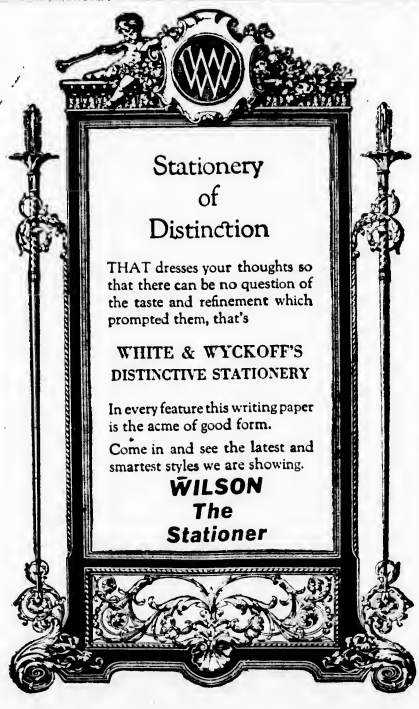

If we can give you service that you didn't know we had, we are particularly pleased. We don't stop with merely filling, charging and testing your battery, and selling you a new one when you need it. The Stationer

"Why didn't you let Scrivens deliver his new book to you?"

"I regret Scrivens' book as a literary crime," said the prominent lawyer.

"Well—"

"I didn't want to be made parties criminals."

UNCLE SAM'S GATE TO THE PACIFIC

The interchange of some of the largest battle-ships in the American Navy between the Atlantic and Pacific fleets through the Panama Canal shows that the big waterway is functioning along the lines laid down for it when the United States undertook the task of constructing a seaway between the two Americas," says a bulletin just issued from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"When the work of building the Canal was undertaken," the bulletin continues, "no one dreamed what a tremendous amount of material would have to be moved to make it a usable waterway such as it is today.

"At that time it was figured that the total excavations for the Canal proper would be 101,000,000 cubic yards. But by reason of enlargements and dikes the task continued to grow until approximately a quarter of a billion cubic yards of material had to be removed. The rail distance from Union Station, Washington, D. C., to the Pennsylvania Terminal, New York, is approximately 228 miles. Imagine instead of the roadbed a canal with vertical banks, 45 feet deep and 121 feet wide—deep and wide enough to accommodate the biggest ship that floats, and connecting the Nation's metropolises with the country's capital, and you will have a picture of the amount of material that had to be removed to make the great Isthmian highway a completed project.

Dirt Dug Would Make 100 Cheops

"Nor does this remarkable comparison include either the excavations by the French in the Canal nor those of the Americans for the auxiliary port works, coaling stations, etc. These were vast enough to widen the imaginary Washington-New York shipway to 154 feet. On the bottom of this ditch could be laid eleven standard American railway tracks. "You can get an idea of the immensity of the task by reflecting on the fact that the total spoils which had to be removed to unite the seas, divide the continents, and shorten the sea lanes of the world at Panama were equal in volume to more than one hundred pyramids of the dimensions of Cheops, two such pyramids for every mile of the big waterway from deep water in the Atlantic to deep water in the Pacific.

"The saving effected by ships using the Canal has more than justified the hopes of the Government in undertaking its construction. In prewar days the cost of maintaining a freighter in commission was approximately ten cents per net registered ton per day. Thus, a 10,000-ton steamship cost for maintenance, about $1000 a day. Its average speed was around 250 knots a day. On the trip from New York to San Francisco there is a saving of thirty-two days. With such a ship, this extra distance would cost, on the basis of prewar prices $25,000. On the basis of present prices it would cost about $50,000. The vessel, by using the Canal in prewar days, paying $120 per net registered ton, or $120,000, saved its owners or charterers $21,000. On the basis of present day prices, the saving amounts to nearly $40,000. If, as is now planned, the coastwise shipping using the Canal is exempted from the payment of tolls, a 10,000-ton steamer will save $12,000 every time it passes through the Canal, in tolls, and at least $18,000 in distance eliminated.

Saves Many Thousands of Dollars

"While it looks rather high to think of a 15,753-ton ship like the ORCA paying $18,000 for an eight hour trip through the Canal, yet to choose that route between the East and West coasts of the United States, over the Magdalena route, would save upward of $52,000 on the trip.

"Another interesting thing about the toll rates at Panama is the comparatively low rates at which cargo moves through the Canal. A net registered ton in shipping practice is 100 cubic feet of cargo space. Now, it happens that most cargo doesn't require so much room, and that for some commodities three tons can be put in each net register ton space. For instance cotton takes much more room than nitrates. A cargo of the latter has moved through the Canal for 37 cents a ton, while a cargo of lumber might cost a dollar a ton. The average rate for bulk cargoes ranges around 67 cents a long ton.

"The rate of $120 per net registered ton, or $12,000 for a 10,000-ton ship is no higher when viewed from the standpoint of cost of operating the Canal than when looked at from the angle of knot-miles saved.

Canal Costs $18,000 a Year in Interest

"The present income from the Canal is barely sufficient to pay the mere costs of operation, with no allowance whatever for depreciation or interest on the investment. As the Canal cost $97,000,000, and as the Government has to pay at least 5 percent for money borrowed today, it will be seen that interest charges alone would amount to $18,000,000 a year.

"In other words, if Uncle Sam operated his Canal on the basis that the railway companies operate their roads, he would have to make a rate of about $300 a net registered ton instead of $120.

"With the tremendous decline in ocean freight rates in the past two years and the large increase in trans-continental railroad rates the competition of the Canal-via-ship lines for trans-continental freight has hit the railroad a very hard blow. Much tonnage that in prewar days moved from seaboard to seaboard by rail is now going by sea, with the result that hundreds of freight trains are moving no more."

PROBATE AND OTHER COURT NEWS

Mrs. Nora T. McCarthy of Winchester has been appointed as administrator of the estate of her husband, Charles F. McCarthy of Winchester, who died May 19, by Judge Lawton of the Probate Court. She has given a bond of $1000. The estate is valued at $2000; all in personal property.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Miller of Winchester has been appointed as administratrix of the estate of her daughter, Katherine E. Miller of Winchester, who died June 2. No valuation of the estate was filed.

Big Irrigation Project.

In the state of Washington there is under way a gigantic irrigation project which is unprecedented. It is designed to serve 1,755,000 acres with 20,000 second-foot of water at an outlay of $300,000,000. That is what has been done by the Columbia basin survey commission with a state appropriation of $100,000. In fact, the project is unprecedented as a whole as also are some of its elements compared with irrigation works heretofore executed, while in point of cost and general magnitude it is second to but few public work projects either carried out or planned. The daily capacity of the main canal and other trunk-line conduits is 1,728,000,000 cubic feet, or 12,270,000,000 gallons, which is twenty-five times the carrying capacity of the Catskill aqueduct.

Woman Has Done Good Work.

Miss Gertrude Miller, the compiler of the tumor history of Mesopotamia, which has been issued by the British Government in the form of a white paper, is regarded as one of the greatest authorities on the East. She has an unusual knowledge of the people, customs, language and political history of Syria, Asia Minor and Arabia, and during the war was attached to the British secret service. At times she vanished for months into the desert, and became known as the "Mystery Woman of the War."

Remarkable Australian Trees.

Among the many peculiar trees of Australia are found the flame-trees rising to nearly one hundred feet; the fire-trees, the only tree that blossoms scarlet red, resembling a tree on fire; beef-knobs, leafless trees with drooping, rigid branches of the color of beef and the Indian figs, a wonderful, lofty tree of graceful form and brilliant color.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

August 29, 1921.

The Board met at 7:30 P. M. Present: Messrs. Dolben, Blackman, Bond and Brine.

The Records of the meeting of August 22 were read and approved.

Meetings (Public): A letter was received from Mr. James A. Cullen, 10 Loring Ave., requesting permission to hold an open-air music meeting on the Irish Cause on Friday evening, September 2, at 8 o'clock, the meeting to be held on Vine street about 100 feet from Church street. The clerk was instructed to write Mr. Cullen that the board does not approve of the use of public streets for gatherings of any character when public parks are available. The Clerk was instructed also to write to Mr. Cullen that application for the use of Manchester Field, the Common or Play Grounds may be made to the Winchester Park Commissioners.

Street Lights (North Main street): The Board voted that the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Boston be instructed to re-arrange the street lights on North Main street from Winchester Centre to the Woburn line in accordance with the plan and recommendations submitted by the town engineer.

Upon the request of Mr. Bryne a "yea" and "nay" vote was taken. The vote showed Messrs. Dolben, Blackman and Bond voting "yea" and Mr. Bryne voting "nay."

Building lines (Nelson St. & Calumet Rd): The Board voted as follows in regard to establishing building lines on Nelson street and Calumet road: VOTED: That in the opinion of the Selectmen, public convenience and necessity require that a building line be established on each side of Nelson street, it entire length.

VOTED: That in the opinion of the Selectmen, public convenience and necessity require that a building line be established on each side of Calumet road, its entire length.

The Clerk was instructed to write the Town Counsel and ask him what is necessary to be done in regard to re-locating Symmes Road before a Building Line is established on this street.

Gas Mains (Central street): An application was received from the Arlington Gas Light Co. for permission to excavate on Central street a distance of approximately 250 feet in order to extend its gas main to supply gas service to a new house being built by Mr. Harry Norton. Upon the favorable recommendation of the Supt. of Streets and the approval of the Board by the Town Engineer, the Board voted to grant the Arlington Gas Light Co., permission to extend its main as requested in its application. The location of this extension of the main is to be in accordance with the Town Engineer's recommendations.

Street Lights 1921 (Sheridan Circle North): A petition signed by Mr. Frank Prue and eleven others was received requesting "that a suitable light be placed on a pole that sets in about fifty feet back of Main street on Sheridan Circle North." This matter was referred to the Street Light Committee for report.

Outside Work (Winthrop street): Mr. Leon P. Tuck appeared before the Board in behalf of Mr. Geo. F. Parker of 2 Winthrop street and requested that a concrete apron be laid leading into the street at 2 Winthrop street. This matter was referred to the Town Engineer for a report and an estimate of the cost of doing the work.

The meeting adjourned at 10:25 P. M.

George S. F. Bartlett, Clerk of Selectmen.

BOY STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Carl Hill, a State ward living on Harvard street, was struck by an automobile last Friday forenoon and badly injured, receiving an exceptionally bad broken leg and contusions on the back of his head. The boy was walking in the middle of Main street near Swanton, according to witnesses, when he stepped directly in front of a south bound Chevrolet touring car driven by Edward Winn of Marion road. He was struck by the mud guard and thrown to the street, the wheels passing over his ankle. Mr. Winn stopped his car and the boy was picked up and a doctor and the police called. He was taken to the Winchester Hospital by officer Donaghy in the car of Ernest Roland, a Medford policeman.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following cases of contagious diseases has been reported for the week ending Sept. 1: Chicken pox 1.

FORTNIGHTLY REGATTA

The third contest in the series of six regattas took place at the Winchester Boat Club, Saturday afternoon August 27th. Although not widely attended by Spectators, and with fewer entries than the previous Saturday, still each event was warmly fought for.

A number of Medford sailing canoes rode into the bay in front of the club, adding to the picturesque of the spectacle, probably their purpose being to look over the Winchester boys to see how they sized up for the Labor Day races in which they are to take part.

The Singles, the first event, was a very close race between Ted Clifton and "Bob" Moffette; the former won by a narrow margin. This gives Clifton three wins in successive Saturdays and needs but one more win to clinch the cup.

The Tandems event, went to K. Pratt and Moffette. The combination 17, Randlett and Teddy Clifton crossed the line second.

The Fours were composed of the following: 1 crew, in the heavy shell, Alan Howe stroke, John Ordway 2, 17, Randlett 3, Ted Clifton, Helm.

2 lighter shell, K. Pratt stroke, S. Eldredge 2, Geo. B. Cummings 3, Bob Moffette, Helmman.

It was necessary to have two heats to decide this race. In the first heat, the boats fouled. Crew 1 had a wide edge on 2 but the Judges called for a new race. This second heat proved the undoing of crew 1 and the event was won by Capt. Moffette's crew.

The tail end race was easily won by Geo. B. Cummings. He paddled mightily well, not allowing his boat to swing around in a circle, as usually happens in this event.

K. Pratt crossed the line first in the tip-over, Bob Moffette and Ted Clifton staged a thrilling finish. Bob just barely nosed out Teddy for second place. The feature of the event was Clifton's rescue of his hat without getting it wet.

"The titling was won by T. Clifton, Pole; F. Randlett, Paddle. The other contestants were Bob Moffette, tiller; Randlett, Paddle; A. Hovey, tiller; K. Pratt, Paddle.

President Chas. H. Eastwick of the club has offered a cup to the winner of the greatest number of points in all events for the six regattas.

The standing to date is as follows:

POLL LIST BOOKS ARE OUT

The "List of Persons Residing in Winchester," more commonly known as the "Poll Books," are printed and ready for distribution. Each copy is charged 50 cents. The book is to be made this year, the books being over double the usual size through the addition of new names and the complete list of women voters.

This book makes the most complete and up-to-date directory of Winchester ever published, containing as it does, the names of both men and women arranged both alphabetically and by streets, and giving ages, occupations, and a fine map.

It is the most sought for publication in town next to the STAR, and through the edition being limited, the copies are usually exhausted within a short time.

Copies may be obtained at the STAR office at 50 cents each. For postage within 20 miles add 15 cents. Safe delivery not guaranteed. The books will be sold only for cash.

LAWN PARTY OF ST. MARY'S PARISH

Annual Event Takes Place Tomorrow

The Annual Lawn Party in aid of St. Mary's School Winchester, will take place on the parish grounds Saturday, September 3, from 2 to 11, and in event of storm, it will be held on Labor Day. The enthusiasm of the past weeks of preparation promise to all, especially the children, a most enjoyable afternoon and evening.

Children's races, for which suitable prizes will be awarded will begin promptly at 3 o'clock. The closing race, a relay race between the boys of the different districts, will feature this part of the programme.

A Punch and Judy performance will take place from 4:30 to 5:30. Music and dancing will continue from 7 to 11 P. M.

Each district is preparing surprises for its followers and a healthy spirit of friendly competition is bestirring all to their best endeavor. The East Side Table in charge of F. Fitzgerald, will have an auxiliary Tea Table and a Basket-Booth. The West Side Table will feature a Palm Garden and a Doll Booth, and will be in charge of Fr. Quigley. The Hillside Table, in charge of Fr. Early, will also control the Candy Booth and a Fancy Blanket Bazaar.

The Midway amusement attractions are Ball-Throwing Contests, Disc Throwing, Japanese Roller Boards, Duck Pond and other features.

ENDORSED FOR POSTMASTER

The Republican Town Committee met on Friday evening for the purpose of considering the matter of endorsing some person for the position of Postmaster. Each person whose candidacy for the position had been made known, either through the STAR or to some member of the committee, was carefully considered. The vote was unanimous.

Mr. Lochman has long been identified with Winchester affairs, having held a number of positions of trust. Since the formation of the Winchester National Bank he has been its cashier, and for the past three years he has been Auditor of the town. His name has been sent to Representative Frederick W. Dallinger at Washington, who will request the appointment.

The appointment made at this time will be for the unexpired term of the late Postmaster, John F. O'Connor, running for a period of about a year.

INJURED BY MOTORCYCLE

Mr. Alden H. Symmes of Winthrop street received a bad cut on his leg Saturday morning while riding through Border road in the Falls. Mr. Symmes was on his way to Gloucester to spend the week-end, leaving his home shortly after seven o'clock. When making one of the sharp turns on Border road he encountered an automobile coming in the opposite direction, and to avoid an accident was obliged to drive his motorcycle up the bank at the side of the road. His wheel hit a boulder, throwing him off, his leg catching in a part of the gear and being badly cut.

He remounted his motorcycle and rode to the end of the road, where he met a park officer who took him in his side car to the Falls police headquarters. A doctor was summoned and several stitches taken to close the wound.

Mr. Symmes has been confined to his home during the week, but expects to be out again by Monday.

MR. JOHN MCCRAVEN

Mr. John W. McCraven, an old resident of this town, died at his home on Elm street yesterday afternoon after an illness dating since last February. He was 65 years of age and was born in this town, the son of Hugh and Bridget (O'Connor) McCraven. He received his education in the public schools and during his early life was a teamster. For eight years, ending last February when he suffered a shock, he was a gate tender at the centre railroad crossing.

Mr. McCraven married Mary Nagle of this town, who died about 26 years ago. He leaves five children, Miss Helen G. Miss

Subject—Selecting Vegetables for Exhibit

Nearly every town and city has its local fair or garden exhibit. There are three large fairs in the county at Waltham, Acton and Groton which provide generous premiums for growers of vegetables. They provide an opportunity for pleasant competition and they have an educational value in that they provide the best means of finding out what types and varieties are most desirable for market and exhibition purposes.

To select vegetables for an exhibit it is usually necessary to have a large number from which to make a choice. In most fairs five is the number required of small vegetables and two of larger varieties. It is surprisingly difficult to secure five different specimens that are uniform in size, shape and color. This is important for an exhibit. They should always be of good quality and free from blemishes and evidence of disease. The largest specimen is not likely to win the prize. Exhibits are judged according to their eating quality. This means that products should be of medium size. If they are too large it is evident that they will be of coarse grain and tough. If they are too small it is evident that they are not properly grown and will not be palatable.

Exhibits should be thoroughly cleaned, preferably by brushing the dirt dry from the product rather than washing it. Leaves should be removed from root crops. To be able to win a blue ribbon at the local or county exhibit should be the ambition of every backyard gardener.

What He Gets.

When Jones' rich grandmother passed away all his poverty stricken friends rallied about him with words of cheer and comfort; but Jones remained sad and dejected. "She left a last will and testament, I suppose?" murmured Jenkins carelessly. "Oh, yes," said Jones, "she left a will and testament." They hung expectant while Jones choked back his words. "I," he declared at last, "am to have the testament."

CAREERS AND "PEP"—WHICH CAUSES WHICH?

As difficult of solution as the old problem, "Which came first, the hen or the egg?" is this one "Do interesting people have such varied careers because they are so full of pep or are they full of pep because they have had such varied careers?"

One may well ask this question concerning Harry Myers, film comedian of "Cometicut Yankee" fame, who will be seen here shortly in support of Bebe Daniels in her latest Realart release "The March Hare."

Mr. Myers has been a lively one ever since his small boy days. He was born in New Haven, Conn. But the family early moved to Philadelphia, where the boy distinguished himself as a juvenile school athlete.

At eighteen years he gratified his dramatic ambitions by joining a stock company where he started at the absolute beginning, from running props to super roles and the smallest bits. After several seasons of stock acting, he decided that art should be his career, and for three years he attended an art school specializing in letter or decoration. But the lure of stage was too strong to be resisted, and soon he was back with his first love, the drama.

With the famous old Maude Hillman stock company he played juveniles and leads in such old productions as "Resurrection," "Salvation Nell," and "Graumark."

Then he joined pictures, in which he has played everything from comedies and Westerns, to ambitious leading roles varying his screen work with a year and a half in vaudeville and time off for the war.

Now who can tell whether his well-known pep comes from the varied career he has led or whether the varied career was a foregone conclusion for a chap with so much pep?

In "The March Hare," which comes to the Strand Theatre, Waverley, next Sat. Sept. 3, Mr. Myers plays leading man with Miss Daniels and a most amusing picture is predicted.

Just Common Humanity.

The very serious trouble with most people is that they are human, like ourselves. They react in the same way under the same stresses. They also want sympathy, and are looking for a friend. They too, heartily enjoy being appreciated or at least understood. Burdens that are heavy for us are heavy for them. It is as easy for them to watch other people at work as it is for us. They, likewise, enjoy plays and parades—Exclamation

MRS. WINCHESTER SELECTED

The lawn party given on Friday night at the rectory grounds of St. Mary's Church resulted in the selection of Mrs. Winchester, Mrs. Norah O'Melia being picked by the judges as the best appearing married woman present. Over 200 attended. The affair was given by the West Side Table of St. Mary's parish.

The entertainment included Irish dances by Eileen and Christine Buckley, children brought here from Ireland by Miss Mary McSwiney, after their father was killed and their mother died; solos by Archie O'Connell of Winchester and Jeremiah Saniatore of North Woburn.

Whist was played in the hall and dancing was enjoyed on a platform on the lawn.

It Isn't Your Town: It's You
WINCHESTER

If you want to live in the kind of a town

Like the kind of a town you like, You needn't slip your clothes in a grip And start on a long, long hike. You'll only find what you left behind. For there's nothing that's really new.

It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town. It isn't the town—it's you.

Real towns are not made by men afraid. Lost somebody else gets ahead. Where everyone works and nobody shirks.

You can raise a town from the dead. And if while you make your personal stake Your neighbors can make one, too, Your town will be what you want to see.

It isn't your town—it's you. Auction Friday and Saturday, Sept. 2 and 3, 2 p. m., 44 Bromfield street, Boston, Mass.

Clifton Again Takes Quarter Mile at Boat Club

Theodore Clifton won the single paddling quarter-mile canoe race for the third consecutive time in the fortnightly Winchester Boat Club canoe regatta and water sports on Upper Mystic Lake Saturday afternoon. Clifton was conspicuous because he paddled standing up in the canoe, while his nearest rival, Robert Moffett, and the other three contestants in the race paddled kneeling. He had a lead of 1 1/2 canoe lengths half-way down the course.

Moffett then began to pull up on him and at the finish line he was within a foot of the bow of Clifton's canoe. Moffett's game efforts to overtake Clifton in the last 75 yards was the feature of the regatta. Francis Handlett finished third, about two lengths behind Moffett.

Moffett and Kenneth Pratt turned the tables on Clifton in the tandem single blade quarter-mile race in canvas canoes, winning the event, in which Handlett was Clifton's partner, by a canoe length, after leading all the way.

The No. 2 club four crew won the club four race in cedar canoes over No. 1 crew. Moffett stroked this crew which got the worst of the start and lost its stroke about two-thirds of the way up the course. The cool headwork of helmsman George B. Cummings, an old-time paddler in the No. 2 crew saved the day. Cummings got the crew back into stroke and by "last" paddling the four men overcame their loss, passed their rivals about 50 yards from the finish and crossed the line with a lead of 2 1/2 canoe lengths. The summary:

Single Paddling, 1/4 Mile—Won by Theodore Clifton; Robert Moffett, second; Francis Handlett, third; Kenneth Pratt, fourth; John Ordway, fifth.

Tandem, Single Blade, 1/4 Mile—Won by Kenneth Pratt and Robert Moffett; Theodore Clifton and Francis Handlett, second; John Hovey and John Ordway, third.

Club Fours, Cedar Canoes, 1/4 Mile—Won by No. 2 crew (Robert Moffett, stroke; Kenneth Pratt, 2; Donald Eldridge, 3; George B. Cummings, stern) over No. 1 four (Francis Handlett, stroke; Theodore Clifton, 2; John Ordway, 3; John Hovey, stern).

Tail-End Race—Won by Kenneth Pratt; Robert Moffett, second; Francis Handlett, third; Theodore Clifton, fourth.

Tip-Over Race—Won by Kenneth Pratt; Robert Moffett, second; Theodore Clifton, third.

Filtering Tournament—Won by Theodore Clifton (filter) and Francis Handlett (paddler); John Hovey (filter) and Handlett, paddler, third.

A dance took place during the evening at the clubhouse, which was illuminated with colored electric lights and Japanese lanterns.

EXHIBITION AT COUNTRY CLUB

Announcement is made by the Golf Committee of the Winchester Country Club that Joe Kirkwood, Australian golf champion, will be seen here on Wednesday, September 7th. On that date he will give an exhibition at the local club, playing both morning and afternoon and showing fancy shots.

Joe Kirkwood, Australian golf champion, is a veteran of the World War and has risen to prominence in the golfing world within the last few years. As a master of trick shots he is unquestionably the world champion today. His exhibition includes an entertainment of over an hour and a half wherein he performs all manner of trick shots, such as teeing balls on top of each other and hitting whichever one is named, various ways, and hitting a full machine shot straight in the air, catching the ball without moving.

The exhibition will prove fully as interesting to club members and their friends as any entertainment which has been produced at the club this season. It is announced that facilities have been provided for serving supper to visitors and guests. The exhibition opens at 4:45 p. m.

COOK WINNER AT COUNTRY CLUB

Saturday afternoon's play at the Winchester Country Club was a medal play, best selected 14 holes, two-thirds handicap. C. E. Cook won the event with a net of 40, while Trafford Hicks, W. W. Smart and H. B. Turner tied for the second honors with 50.

WINCHESTER WON FROM WOBURN 3-1

Before a record crowd on Manchester Field Saturday afternoon the Winchester Town Team won from the Woburn Town nine 3 to 1. Winchester scored all three runs in the second inning, the local team making four hits, two of the three runs coming across on a pretty double by Murphy. Woburn scored once in the eighth, McEachern making a triple. Matthews allowed eight hits, but all were well scattered. The game was fast. Woburn playing without an error and Winchester making but one.

It is reported that a new civic organization is being planned for the town by interested citizens. The idea as outlined is a good one, and active steps are soon to be taken in starting it, it superseding the present Board of Trade.

The white line is a step on the way to better road manners. It will reduce the number of accidents caused by speeding around a bend in the road or in coming over the top of a hill, for the automobile which has fouled the line is certainly on the defensive after the accident.

Framingham, Winchester and other towns must content themselves for the present, at least, with Post Office sites as the government has announced "that owing to the present conditions of the Government finances and the consequent necessity for the most rigid economy, as well as the pressure of emergency legislation, the committee has definitely decided not to prepare and report a general public buildings bill at this session, or to consider any individual bill authorizing an appropriation of money other than for hospital facilities for the treatment of our disabled ex-service men and women."—Natick Bulletin.

This week, marking the opening of the Winchester public schools, must hold especial significance to one of our townsmen, Mr. Lewis Parkhurst, for 40 years ago this time he first came to Winchester and undertook the duties of master of our High School. The anniversary should be a pleasant one and gratifying, and it is eminently fitting that he should today head the great firm of Ginn & Co., publishers of school text books. As he has risen in public and private affairs, holding as he does an enviable position among our residents and representing us in the State Senate. During his 40 years' residence here he has seen many changes in Winchester; all forward and upward; and we, his friends, can one and all accord him credit for always being the first to shed his coat and put his shoulder to the wheel of progress. May the STAR add its congratulations to those of a host of friends.

After viewing for some weeks the workings of the present traffic routing in the square we are of the opinion that the working of the new system is not so satisfactory as the old lines of travel. The present routing has been made, of course, with the idea of improving conditions, those in charge working towards increased safety and convenience for both autos and pedestrians; but while having no experience in traffic routing, we find numerous conditions of a dangerous nature now existing which were previously absent. It does not, to us, seem wise that all south bound traffic from Wolurn should be sent through a space 100 feet long and 15 feet wide between electric car track and sidewalk curb in front of the Hutchinson, Hersey and Knight stores from Park to Church streets. To do this, the whole broad space between Lyeum Building and the railroad tracks, available for this traffic under the old routing, has been excluded to south bound use. The result is two-fold; a badly congested and dangerous corner at Knight's store, and the piling up of autos on the railroad crossing. With an electric car standing at Knight's corner on the Wolurn track and another electric standing on the Arlington track, this place is very bad. Autos may not pass the Wolurn car, so pile up in front of it. When the car is ready to start it cannot do so until the autos are backed up—some into

Dear Sir:

Will you kindly concentrate a few minutes thought on the following:

A proper amount of Life Insurance correctly arranged will conquer the "Incredible and Inevitable," as they occur in the affairs of life, in a way no other known agency can.

A fraction of your income deposited as a premium which grows less year by year, means immediate protection to your family and a guaranteed income for yourself the later years of life if you survive.

The Northwestern with its wonderful "Optional Settlement Contract" gives service which will meet almost any condition that may arise.

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM W. HILL, Agent
The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company
79 MILK ST. Boston
Phone Main 3760 Winchester 118

Park street—entailing considerable delay. The Arlington electric makes a perfect "blind" corner for autos going around towards Wolurn, just where they meet the south-bound autos from Wolurn. Added to this is the discharge and embarkation of car passengers. Following the passage of trains, congestion on the east side of the crossing stalls autos on the railroad tracks, the south-bound traffic starting across immediately upon the raising of the gates. In fact the traffic has caused electric to stop on the railroad tracks. The conditions probably make it easier for the traffic officer on the east side of the centre, but if two officers are not to be used, in our opinion, the present officer is needed more on the west side intersection.

It has been suggested that the gate-mans' shanty be made an island, around which all traffic should travel similar to that at Harvard square. This possibly may be the solution, although in some instances it would compel autos to cross the railroad tracks twice, where they do not now cross them at all. Another suggestion is that the old lines be restored and signs displayed warning autos not to cross the railroad until signalled by the traffic officer. However it may be, there is room for improvement in our opinion. Possibly a traffic expert might be of assistance. At any rate, the routing should be thoroughly gone over and settled while the increased traffic due to the closing of Cambridge street is being experienced.

UNOFFICIAL SIGNS

A contributor calls attention to the confusion which the privately established traffic signs occasion. They should come under the control of public authorities. It is enough for the motorist to respect their deliberate conclusions without having to accept directions from all the private property owners who see fit to put out a sign. Their advice may be wise and it may not. Let the public authorities decide.

Another thing that ought to be done away with is the direction which nobody intends to enforce. On the State highway between Nashua and Manchester, N. H., for example, one constantly meets "15-mile-an-hour" signs, but he sees no one enforcing them. When he is subsequently held up by officers somewhere, who ask if he did not "see the sign," the natural response is that he did not know that it was loaded.

Can we not have some system of supervision of signs by state authority to see that only those are in evidence which have some serious purpose?—Herald.

SCHOOL CHILDREN LEARN CANNING

In connection with the garden work in the public schools, the children have canned vegetables all summer at the High School. There have been four clubs. Each child has done at least 24 jars of fruit and vegetables, while a few have done more than that.

These clubs are under the State extension service and County Farm Bureau. The work is now over for the summer, while the school is being made ready for the opening.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

A goodly company of Methodists came together in Winchester just fifty years ago to make plans for a society and for a place of worship. A hall was hired and a program of action commenced. Their church edifice on Mt. Vernon street was occupied many years. A year ago it was sold and July last, vacated. A new church is to be constructed upon the Church street grounds purchased for the purpose. Again they hire a hall and continue their work to build larger and better. Waterfield Hall will be the church home for the present. This place is centrally located, is at the corner of Church and Common streets

BASEBALL

By Mack

Winchester AA will meet Webburn Town Team Labor Day afternoon on Manchester Field the game starting at 3:30 P. M. The AA has played road ball in the majority of games this season and have faced some of the best teams in Greater Boston. It has always been the custom in this town to play a game on Manchester Field on a Holiday afternoon, and as the majority of the people prefer to stay in their own town to see a game we have decided to use the field and put on a good game of ball. Right here I want to take exception to a statement in the Star last week in which it said the Town Team showed its superior playing qualities over the local boys. Anyone who saw both these games and knows any thing about baseball will agree with the writer when he says that both teams were evenly matched and only the luck of game gave a victory to the town team in both cases, but that is neither here nor there, they won the games and let it go at that. At any rate you people who want to see a game (an attend the game on Manchester Field Labor Day afternoon, and if it is going to be anything like the game we played at Webburn last Wednesday night there will be plenty of going. In the morning the AA will play at Arlington.

We are now prepared to care for your electrical wants promptly and efficiently.

Personal attention is given to all calls and repairs and you will find our prices as reasonable as is consistent with good work.

President Harding Thoroughly Enjoys "Roughing It" in Mountains With Edison-Ford-Firestone Camping Party

Upper left: Henry Ford, chopping wood. Upper right: President Harding and H. S. Firestone discuss the morning news; Thomas A. Edison in the foreground resting. Center: President Harding accepting a bouquet of flowers from an aged woman residing near the camp. Lower: President Harding, on his arrival, greets his fellow campers.

There are those who may claim the above picture refutes the popular belief that Thomas A. Edison, the world's foremost inventor, sleeps only four hours a day. But Mr. Edison is only resting, while his companions, President Harding and W. S. Firestone, the tire manufacturer, discuss the morning news.

These three men, with Henry Ford, recently concluded a unique camping excursion through the Maryland and West Virginia mountains.

It was a genuine "back to nature" trip for the campers, who sought to shun as much as possible the spotlight of publicity which continuously plays upon each of them. The President was obliged to return after a brief outing because of the press of official business, but Mr. Edison, Mr. Firestone and Mr. Ford continued into the heart of the hills.

While in camp, the president and other members of the party made their own bunks, assisted in the camp chores, went fishing and followed the usual routine of the tin-can tourist.

One of their favorite recreations was horseback riding. Mr. Firestone bringing six thoroughbred horses from his Ohio farm for the accommodation of his friends. It was as one of these spirited animals that the president took his first ride in years. He expressed his enjoyment of the experience, and his physician has suggested that he continue the practice for his health.

MILK CHART FOR AUGUST, 1921.

Published by the
WINCHESTER BOARD OF HEALTH

The bacteria count in this chart gives the number of bacteria found in one c. c. taken from the center of the sample after it had been well shaken. It should be remembered that another c. c. taken from the same sample might give a somewhat different count, but the difference would rarely, if ever, exceed ten per cent.

ALWAYS ON GUARD

Superstitious Bulgarians Dread Spirits of Evil.Observe Many Odd Customs Which They Believe of Immense Importance to Their Welfare.

Are you one of those who will not walk under a ladder, pass an umbrella in the house or spill the salt without casting a few grains over your shoulder? If you believe in those or the kindred superstitions fast dying out in this country, you will find a degree of kinship with the average Bulgarian peasant. For there are so many things a Bulgarian may not do, writes Temple Manning, in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Among the many customs of pure Bulgaria, to neglect which is considered unlucky and even sinful, are the following: To bring flour into the house and neglect to fumigate it with special incense. This must be done before the flour is used, any dough which may have entered the sack.

When the housewife or her daughter goes to the spring for water, she must not neglect to spill a little on the ground before even shutting with the pail for the longer. This is done to turn out any elemental spirit which has been seeped into the pail. If it isn't done the spirit may take up its abode in the house, and may even enter the body of one of the family who drinks the water.

If you are asked to sell a loaf of bread you must not part with it without first having cut or torn off a small piece from an end. The spirit that has helped you make the loaf must be given a chance to fly out of the loaf and still linger in the house he loves.

Under no circumstances may you give a child a spoon to play with. I do not know just why you may not do this, but it is considered exceedingly unlucky.

Nor can I account for the belief which is common in some far farming sections of Bulgaria, that it is very unlucky to give a child under seven years of age a bath. The child may wash itself, but that is its own lookout. The mother may wash the child a little also, but not give it a bath all over at one time.

Imagination easily accounts for the prohibition against cleaning a stable, selling milk, fetching water or doing any of the many other farm duties after darkness has fallen.

But how is one to account for the Bulgarian belief that to permit a dog to sleep on the roof of a house will disturb the rest of the dead members of the family?

These and countless other superstitions rule the daily work and habits of all Bulgarians and the youths who live and work in many a shut-in section of that hilly land.

Bitter Joking.

Elliot Glyn, the novelist, was talking to a reporter about her long visit in Spain.

"The death rate for babies is fearful in Spain," she said. "If it were not for that sad fact the world would soon contain more Spaniards than Chinese; for the Spanish are a remarkably prolific race. Families of 15 and even 20 children are not uncommon among them."

"But these children die off in their infancy because their mothers are so very ignorant of hygiene. I once heard two Spanish doctors joking jokingly, you know—about this maternal ignorance which does so much harm."

"Yes," said the first doctor, "Donna Pilar's new baby died off, of course. At the age of two months she was feeding it on pork, cheese and wine."

"Pork, cheese and wine—a good diet, that, for a two-month-old baby," said the second doctor. The rich Spaniards, though, have a better one for their youngsters. They give it for dinner every evening a brace of chops, sweet potatoes, sweet pudding and a stiff whiskey and soda, with coffee, liqueur and a good strong Havana cigar to follow."

Aviation Marvel Found.

An airplane capable of landing without the need of a large aviation field, able to rise without a long run before, able to travel more than 200 miles an hour and, if necessary, to maneuver about at but a few feet in the air, is announced as the invention of an Italian engineer, Egonina Bortolotti of Rome.

The inventor claims that he already tried out the machine on a small scale and records his first experiments as indicative of the success of the invention. The new machine is primarily intended for aerial war chusing and is to be armed with a machine gun. It is a monoplane.

Remedy for Ants.

There is a helpful paragraph in a New York paper: "To rid the pantry shelves of red ants, wipe them with denatured alcohol every few weeks." Now, how are you to catch the ant and give him that alcohol bath? The cussed little things just won't stand still—Jackson News.

The Crowning Aggravation.

To make matters worse, when your collar is wilted; when you vacillate between a desire to commit suicide and a desire to throw up the lot, and wander off to some cold mountain to rest, in pops the coal man to say: "Buy your winter fuel now."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Quota an Ancient Game.

The game of quota was probably played in the streets of Jamestown, St. Mary's City, Port Tobacco, Dumfries and Piscataway, ancient towns in Tidewater Virginia and Maryland, long the early abode of the Indians. It was in doubt played in the stable yard of the barony of southern and eastern homes more than a century before America began to think of a Declaration of Independence. White men in buckskin clothes and conkin caps, and Indians nearly naked looked on as the players tossed the horse-shoe and did or did not "bring" the "ho."

Holbrook Homilies—WINCHESTER

Being primarily a residential town, its citizenship is to a great extent composed of families of refinement and education. If you would have your children grow up in an environment of this character you could not do better than make Winchester your home.

One of the most attractive residences of this town has just been listed with me for immediate sale. The price is $25,000, and is most reasonable. It is situated on one of the finest residential streets and is convenient to Boat and Country Clubs. The lot contains nearly 15,000 sq. ft. of land. The house is of Colonial type, built in 1880, and is most attractive architecturally. Lower floor has large well-proportioned living room with fireplace; reception hall and library all finished in mahogany; dining room of generous dimensions is paneled in mahogany; modern kitchen. Second floor has four bed rooms, two the baths, dressing room and large sleeping porch. Three rooms and bath on third. Heated garage. Tel. Winchester 1250.

WEEK-END BASEBALL

Morning Game Goes to Winchester on Forfeit After Tie

The Winchester Labor Team played two games on Labor Day, both with the Woburn Legion team, the morning game taking place on Manchester Field and the afternoon game at Library Park, Woburn. Winchester won both games, that of the morning, after going 10 innings with the score tied at 2 to 2, being broken up because of a dispute over a decision by umpire LeDue. Woburn refused to finish the game and left the field, umpire LeDue awarding the game to Winchester, 9 to 0.

It appears that after a fine exhibition, in which the game went to the tenth inning, Winchester came to the bat, Charlie Flaherty of the local team hit a slow grounder along the third base line, there being at the time one out and men on first and second. The ball rolled to within ten feet of the sack, where Boyce of East Boston, Woburn's third baseman, stood awaiting it to roll outside the line.

The umpire and spectators in the vicinity claimed that Boyce went forward and in picking up the ball pushed or kicked it about a foot over the line. The umpire ruled that ball fair, which filled the bases, with the score standing at 2 to 2.

Woburn players declared the decision unfair and claimed that the ball had rolled over the line before it stopped, their contention being backed by rooters from their city. Some of the Woburn spectators walked on the field and refused to leave, so after allowing four minutes for Woburn to resume play, umpire LeDue declared the game forfeited to Winchester.

The game was a good one up to the dispute and both teams found plenty to test their mettle. Winchester scored two in the second, Woburn coming across with one in the third on hits and another in the fifth on an error by the local right fielder, who dropped the ball.

From then on the teams trailed each other until the disputed tenth. Matthews pitched a fine game, allowing but four hits, while Murphy stood up for six.

ST. MARY'S GARDEN PARTY

Fifteen hundred and more people crowded the Parish grounds last Saturday afternoon and evening to swell the school fund and make the Annual Lawn Party one of the most successful St. Mary's Parish ever held.

In the early afternoon, after the storm had passed and the zealous and painstaking committee workers had repaired the damage done by the beautifully decorated booths, a score of more boys and girls completed in running races for suitable prizes, while some others enjoyed the antics of clown Martini, and many others roared their glee at the Punch and Joke show.

The midway amusements attracted hundreds. The music by Cullen's orchestra was splendid, while the exquisitely festooned booths drew all and chances on dolls, blankets, baskets and aluminum were being gathered in by the thousands.

The District Tables under the direction of Fathers Early, Fitzgibbons, and Quigley were well patronized and the Pastor, Father Merritt, was well pleased with the excellent work done by the men and women in charge.

MRS. CHARLES O. ANDERSON

Particularly sad was the death on Wednesday of Mrs. Augusta Caroline Anderson, wife of Mr. Charles O. Anderson, at her home at 16 Grove place. She was 43 years of age and passed away after a lingering illness, leaving besides her husband a family of five children. She was a native of Sweden.

The funeral services are to be held at the residence this Friday afternoon at two o'clock and will be conducted by Rev. Howard J. Chidley of the First Congregational Church. The burial will be in Wildwood cemetery.

BUILDING PERMITS

The following permits have been issued by the Inspector of Buildings for the week ending Sept. 8:

George L. MacNeill, 29 Grove street, Wood frame garage at same address, 14x22 feet.

Gertrude B. May, 19 Sheffield road, Wood frame garage at same address, 28x23 feet.

DROWNED AT SANDY BEACH

Miss Edwina Doherty, 22 years old, was drowned at Sandy Beach yesterday afternoon shortly after three o'clock. She was brought to shore and the police and Dr. Richard Sheehy worked over her for over two hours with the lungmotor in an attempt to resuscitate her, without avail.

According to stories of the affair she had arrived at the beach but about fifteen minutes before the accident. She was first noticed by two boys, George Holmes of 103 North street, Medford, and Gus Anderson of 364 Highland avenue, Somerville, who were paddling in a canoe. At that time she was in water about up to her head, the top of her bathing cap showing, and a group of young boys were swimming around her shouting and pushing at her. They told the two in the canoe she was trying to see how long she could stay under water.

The two paddled to the beach and then noticed that the girl was in a relatively the same position and that the boys had left her. They paddled out and shouted that they thought she was drowning. At first no one paid any attention to them, but it is said one of the two swimmers swam out to her and then back to shore.

About this time the shouts attracted the attention of Ralph Wilkins of 204 Winthrop street, Medford. He was on the bank back of the beach, and immediately ran into the water and brought her to shore.

She was unconscious, and he at once began to work over her in an attempt to resuscitate her, meanwhile sending a boy to notify the police to get a doctor. The Winchester police received the message at 3:15 and Sergt. McCauley and officer Donaghy took the lungmotor to the beach. Dr. Sheehy arriving at about the same time. Their work proved unavailing.

Miss Doherty resided on Blossom street, North Scituate, and was visiting at the home of Thomas Bresnahan of 112 Sheridan avenue, Medford, with whom she went to the beach. Bresnahan was not in the water when the accident occurred and reached the beach just as she was taken from the water. It was estimated that she was in the water about five minutes, as Bresnahan thought it had not been fifteen minutes from the time they arrived until she was taken out, although the time must have been underestimated.

The Park police dispatched several officers to the scene, together with an ambulance and after the work by Dr. Sheehy was given up, took the body to the Medford home.

The School Garden Exhibition will be held Saturday, Sept. 17, from 2 to 3:30 p. m., in the Small Town Hall.

All entries must be made between 9 and 12 a. m. on Saturday, the 17th.

Parents are asked to have children exhibit canned goods, as one of the Club requirements is that all members should exhibit at least 5 jars of fruit or vegetables—3 of vegetables and 2 of fruit.

BRIDGES—WHITE

Mr. Perry Andrew Bridges of this town was married on Tuesday evening to Miss Hazel Osborne White, daughter of Mr. William H. White of 22 Wellington street, Arlington. The ceremony was performed at seven o'clock by Rev. Henry F. Cotter, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Arlington.

The bride wore a wedding dress of white crepe de chine, trimmed with rare old lace which had been in the family nearly a century. Her veil was fastened with a pearl ornament, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Marion White, who wore pink organdie and carried sweetheart roses. Mr. William W. McLean of this town, Mr. Bridges' business partner at the Winchester News Co., was best man.

A reception followed the ceremony, attended by many friends of the young couple from Somerville, Arlington, Winchester and surrounding places.

They will enjoy a honeymoon by auto, taking a trip through the White Mountains, Canada, Niagara Falls, Philadelphia, Washington and Atlantic City. Upon their return they will make their home at 33 Pierson road, Somerville.

Miss Hattie I. Cowdery, who has been ill at the Winchester Hospital, left that institution yesterday and is at her home at 41 Church street.

HENRY J. MAGUIRE

WINCHESTER BOY AT PENN STATE COLLEGE

Mr. Henry J. Maguire of Westley street is attending the Industrial Engineering Course being conducted this summer at Penn State College for business executives and industrial managers.

He has been Assistant Manager of the S. S. Pierce Company Brookline Store for the past year or so, and that he should have been designated to attend this course is certainly an indication of the high esteem in which he is held by his employers, and the confidence they place in his ability.

Among Mr. Maguire's other duties with the Company has been that of Editor of the "S. S. Pierce Letter" regarded as one of the best house organs being put out by any of the larger New England firms.

Upon completion of his course he will spend a week or two in Washington and other southern cities. His Winchester friends extend congratulations.

THOMAS MORRIS DEAD

Mr. Thomas Morris of 18 Mystic avenue, long a respected resident of this town, died at the Charlesgate Hospital, Cambridge, yesterday noon. He was 83 years of age. Six weeks ago Mr. Morris went to the hospital to undergo an operation. He alternately rallied and sank, passing away yesterday.

Mr. Morris was a native of Biddeford, England. He was the last of his family. For many years he conducted a furniture and upholstery store in Woburn, and he had made his home in Winchester for over 30 years, he retiring a number of years ago. His wife, Miss Sarah F. Dodd, died eleven years ago and since that time he had made his home with his niece, Miss Annie Trowan.

He was a member of the Methodist Church and of Waterfield Lodge, I. O. O. F.

The funeral services will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence, Rev. A. B. Gifford of the Methodist Church will officiate, assisted by Rev. S. S. Winchester. The burial will be in Wildwood cemetery, and friends are requested to omit flowers.

FOUR YEAR OLD BOY HIT

Four year old Edward Penney, son of T. F. Penney of 118 Swanton street, was struck and knocked down by an automobile owned and driven by Frederick E. Gilchrist Tuesday. Mr. Gilchrist took the child to the hospital, where he was found to be only slightly injured.

POLL LIST BOOKS ARE OUT

The "List of Persons Residing in Winchester," more commonly known as the "Poll Books," are now ready for distribution. A charge of 50 cents a book is to be made this year, the books being over double the usual size through the addition of new names and the complete list of women voters.

This book makes the most complete and up-to-date directory of Winchester ever published, containing as it does, the names of both men and women arranged both alphabetically and by street, and giving ages and occupations, and a fine map.

It is the most sought for publication in town next to the STAR, and through the edition being limited, the copies are usually exhausted within a short time.

Copies may be obtained at the STAR office at 50 cents each. For postage within 200 miles add 15 cents. Safe delivery not guaranteed. The books will be sold only for cash.

AUSTRALIAN CHAMPION ENTER-TAINS

Nearly 1000 Enthusiasts Watched Him Do Stunts at Country Club

Nearly a thousand enthusiastic golfers and interested spectators saw Joe Kirkwood, Australian golf champion, play at the Winchester Country Club Wednesday. His exhibition consisted of playing around the course both morning and afternoon, and closing with display of fancy and trick shots which was nothing short of marvelous.

The distinguished visitor jumped into immediate favor with the big gallery, his unassuming manner and likable good nature winning him the friendly support of everyone. He was willing to try any nature of shots which were suggested, not omitting the stunts devised by the caddies, and while he did not in every case accomplish the feat off hand at the first attempt, he came through with every stunt with flying colors.

Paired up with genial Harry Bowler, he went around the course twice, playing against Francis Guinet and Torley Chase, and he and Harry made some team, even though the amateurs did not lose out. In the afternoon round Kirkwood was within one stroke of Guinet's record of 70, and for a time it looked as though he was sure to lower it, for he was down to a 33 going out. He got into trouble at the 11th, three putts for a 4 slowing him up, while at the 14th he lost another stroke by over-driving, and had he been able to negotiate a 10-footer at 18th he would have just tied the 70.

The most interesting part of Kirkwood's visit was his exhibition late in the afternoon, and everyone who could, was out to see him perform. The results were well worth the attendance, he making all manner of shots. Included in his list was driving while standing on one foot, playing a full shot on the back ball with two placed together, teeing three balls and driving out the middle one, placing any number of balls in line and driving them one after another, and by any means the best, driving a ball over on Harry Bowler's too. The latter stunt resulted in divided applause for the champion and Mr. Bowler, for he got his full share of admiration too.

TWO BREAKS IN TOWN

Two residences were entered by thieves in town, presumably last Friday night. They were the homes of Mr. James H. Dinwiddie at 354 Main street and of Mrs. Harriet Ainsworth at 131 Forest street. Nothing was taken at either place so far as has yet been discovered.

The break at the Ainsworth house was discovered Saturday by the family of W. S. Davis of Maple road. They notified the police, who visited the scene and found the house ransacked. The Dinwiddie break was found the same day when a man working nearby found the cellar window pryed open.

In both places it is thought the thieves were after money, for while a thorough search of the premises was made, nothing in the way of silver or clothing was touched.

MRS. ADDIE W. RAZEE

Mrs. Addie W. Razez of Washington street, died on Sunday after a long and lingering illness. She was 62 years of age and the wife of Mr. Arthur W. Razez of the Winchester Laundry Company.

Mrs. Razez was a native of West Enfield, Maine, the daughter of Alvin and Harriet Lancaster. She had made her home in Winchester for the past fifteen years and was a member of the Western Missionary Society of the First Congregational Church. She leaves besides her husband one son, Mr. Albert Howard Razez, and one sister, Mrs. C. A. Lovell, both of this town.

The funeral services were held at the residence on Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock, being conducted by Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church. During the service several selections were sung by Miss Ada Belle Childs, soprano soloist. The display of flowers was very beautiful and testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held. The burial was at Franklin.

LEONARD'S BODY ARRIVES

Remains Came Here This Morning—Will Lie in State in Town Hall

The body of Private Augustus M. Leonard, son of Mr. Frank Leonard of Harvard street, arrived here this morning shortly after seven o'clock from Hoboken, N. J., and was taken in charge by undertaker Sullivan. Later in the morning the remains were turned over to the officers of the Winchester Post, American Legion, and taken to the Town Hall, where they will lie in state for 24 hours. During this time a Legion guard of two men will remain constantly on duty. The hall will be open to the public.

Arrangements are being made for a full military funeral to be held at the Catholic Church on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, to which the Legion asks all veterans of the World War to turn out in uniform.

PRIV. AUGUSTUS M. LEONARD

Augustus M. Leonard was born in Lawrence and came to Winchester with his parents in 1895, when an infant, making his home here up to the time of entering the Service. His mother was Katherine (Crowley) Leonard and his father Frank Leonard. His mother died in December, 1918. He received his education in the public schools and upon graduating entered the employ of George Adams Woods in his real estate office, later taking entire charge of the management of the Winchester office. He later entered the office of Herbert Wadsworth, Jr., and at the time of entering the army was working in the freight department of the Boston & Maine Railroad.

He left in the draft in May, 1918, at that time having been accepted by the Quartermaster's Department at Cambridge. Although he could have taken this position in the service he preferred to go to the front, and it is characteristic of him that even his father did not know that he had the opportunity to take up the easier branch of the service.

On the 26th of May, 1918, he went to Fort Slocum, N. Y. He was transferred from there to Camp Mead and then went across. He was a member of Co. E, 314th Infantry.

The first word of his death came early in November, 1918, when his father received a cable. Later the sad news was confirmed by the War Department and Red Cross. He was killed by a H. E. fragment which went through his heart at Mountfaucon on Sept. 28, 1918. His company was advancing towards Nantillois, with that town as its objective. He only lived a few moments, and his comrades could only give him a drink of water before he died. His death occurred at about two o'clock in the afternoon, a shell bursting right among a group of men, killing him and wounding another man. He was an automatic rifleman.

His company had to be kept right on going and later he was buried where he fell, but afterwards his body was removed to the cemetery at Romagne. He left his father: two sisters, Helen E. and Katherine A., and four brothers, William F. of the U. S. Navy; Sergt. John P., 107th U. S. A. L. Co.; Frank M. and James A.

He was a most popular young man and a great favorite with all who knew him. He was a past secretary of Winchester Council, K. of C., a past treasurer of the Young Men's Social Club and a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

LEGION COMMANDER MARRIED TOMORROW NIGHT

The wedding of Commander William Elben Ramsdell of Winchester Post 97, American Legion, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Ramsdell of Mt. Vernon street, to Miss Helen A. Hutchins of Roscoe, Ill., daughter of Mr. Bart Hutchins of that city, will take place on Saturday evening at eight. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. H. E. Jaycox of the Roscoe Methodist Episcopal Church at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Dudley Sayford.

It is to be a double ring service, the couple being attended by Miss Anna Hutchins, sister of the bride, and Mr. Robert Dickinson of Little Rock, Arkansas, and Master Sayford Gsell, cousin of the bride will be ring bearer, with Masters Herbert Gsell and Dudley Gsell ribbon holders. A reception will follow the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of the Roscoe High school and of Stout's Institute at Menomonee, Wis. She is president of the Roscoe Girls' Club. Mr. Ramsdell is widely known to Winchester's young people, being born in this town and a graduate of the public schools. He attended Boston University Law School and served with the 135th Ordinance Depot Co. during the War. He is a member of the Gamma Eta Kappa Fraternity and is engaged in the practice of law.

The couple will take a wedding trip to Chicago and Niagara Falls, and will make their home in Winchester.

PUPILS TO RECEIVE PRIZES

Mrs. Annie Soule Lewis will meet her piano forte pupils, socially, in her home, No 1 Maxwell road, Saturday, September 10th at 3 o'clock.

On this occasion, pupils will receive the prizes won for the best records made during the last season, and will select dates for their lessons for the coming season. New pupils will be assigned dates after September 10th, in time for the first days of the term commencing September 15th and 16th.

For information, address Mrs. A. S. Lewis, 1 Maxwell road—Advertisement. Sept. 2-9

RETURNS FROM EUROPEAN TRIP

Mr. Roger Conant Wilde, Dartmouth '21, with a party of three other Dartmouth men, sailed on Wednesday from Southampton on the ss Arabic for home. Mr. Wilde has been travelling in Europe during the past six months, visiting many of the foreign battlefields. Mr. Wilde will return to Dartmouth this fall for a post graduate course at the Tuck School of Business Administration.

APHIDS ATTACKING TREES

Many persons have noticed within the past two weeks the blighting of numerous shade trees about town, especially the elms. Underneath these trees the walks are wet during the early morning hours. William A. Nicholson of the Shade Tree Department took the matter in hand and sent specimens to the State Forestry Department, receiving this week the following letter:

"We are in receipt of a box from you containing elm leaves, and an examination of these leaves confirms the surgesion which we made to you over the telephone, that the trees have been infested with aphids. I find in Comstock's 'Manual for the Study of Insects' that the honeydew excreted from these insects 'is sometimes produced in such quantities that it forms a glistening coating on the leaves of the branches below the plant live, and some leaves beneath shade trees are often densely spotted with it.'"

The ordinary methods of combating this insect are either by the use of a strong solution of soap or with kerosene emulsion. It is quite possible, however, that another season the trees may be entirely free from the depredations of this insect."

Not only are the town trees affected by the insects, but many trees on private property appear to be suffering from its ravages.

WILL PLAY A FIVE GAME SERIES

Arrangements were completed on Wednesday for the playing of a five game series of base ball between the Winchester Town Team and the Woburn Legion, the first game being played at Woburn this Saturday, they having won the toss. This series should provide one of the best matches to be seen here during the season, both teams being exceptionally evenly matched, as shown by the two games played on Labor Day. Mathews and Flaherty are to hold down the batting end for Winchester, and as Joe Mathews has shown some of the best pitching developed by a local man in a long time, this end of the series should be well cared for. Opposing the local battery will be Weaver and Walsh, two players who have shown exceptional ability and who will give a good account of themselves.

Owing to Woburn's game with Harvard College, to be played on the 17th, Winchester will make a date with some other team a week from Saturday.

WINCHESTER ESCAPED BIG STORM

Winchester escaped any serious effects of the tornado which did so much damage at Woburn last Saturday afternoon, a few broken trees and some fallen wires being recorded. The storm hit between Winchester and Stoneham on its way over from Woburn, and what damage was done here occurred in the north end of the town. A tree on Mt. Vernon street at the bridge was blown over, blocking the street for a time, and a large tree was blown over at the electric car turn-out on Forest street. This was the most serious result of the storm, for a lot of electric wires went down with the tree, including two high tension feed wires. Chief McIntosh ordered the Edison Company to shut off the current in the northern section of the town on this account.

The storm struck town a little after two o'clock. There was little warning of its violent nature until about the time the rain commenced to fall, when clouds of inky blackness rolled over the town. The rain was very heavy, at times turning to hail, and the wind extremely high.

At Woburn two leather factories were wrecked, one having its roof blown off and the whole building being blown down at the other. The south end of Stoneham also suffered severely, the side of one house being blown down.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

Exhibition of pictures loaned by the Library Art Club, Sept. 1 to Oct. 1. Woman's work in the war.

It is difficult to find any work in which man has been engaged which has not been invaded, and invaded successfully, by woman, since the beginning of this war. She has worked at the various branches of agriculture, as miller, brickmaker, blacksmith, stone mason, carpenter, butcher, horse doctor, manufacturer of gas, glass and paper chimney sweep, electrician, in all kinds of railway work, motor cars and tractors, type setting, boot blacking, postman and news girl, watering roads, ship building and the construction of aeroplanes. The supply of munitions would fail if woman's skillful fingers had not adapted themselves to such forms of machinery, while as "V. A. D's," "Wrens" and "W. A. C's" they have rendered invaluable service in innumerable ways.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES

Roses white and roses red
For the bride just one year wed,
Five years wed—'tis understood
Pretty presents all of wood,
Ten, with jellity and din,
Come the treasures made of tin,
Twelve means linen soft and sheer,
Fifteen, crystal bright and clear,
Twenty, dishes patterned gay
For the china wedding day.
Twenty-five comes clear and shining,
All its clouds have silver lining.
Thirty is the year of pearls
For the loveliest of girls,
Forty is of amber mellow,
Fifty is of gold so yellow,
Sixty years together spent—
Tenderness and sweet content,
Sixtieth anniversary,
Comes the diamond jubilee.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Winchester, Mass., Aug. 7, 1921.
The Officers, and Members of the New Hope Baptist church, wishes to say that they have started their church building, through the generous assistance given us by some of the citizens of this Town. We have been able to nearly complete our building. We have been able to do the work except plumbing, plastering and heating, which will cost about $3000. In order to do this we must ask the citizens of this Town to assist us if possible. Any one wishing to contribute to this cause may do so by getting in touch with National Bank, Rev. Wm. H. Smith, Pastor, Wm. Guy, Clerk.

WAS FATHER OF HARRIS M. RICHMOND

Mr. Meigs C. Richmond, father of Harris M. Richmond, Esq., of Grove street, this town, died at his home in Adams, Mass., on August 29, 1921. Mr. Richmond in former years had visited his son in Winchester and was known to some of our townsmen.

He was born in Adams November 13, 1848, third child of David and Angeline (Cole) Richmond, in the eighth generation of Richmonds in New England. John Richmond, immigrant from England and one of the purchasers of Taunton from the Indians in 1607, was the first. He had always lived in Adams and for the past thirty-three years dwelt in the house where he was born. In early life he was a land surveyor. At the age of twenty-two he entered business as a merchant miller. In that business, first as partner and afterwards as sole owner, he continued for forty-five years till his retirement from active business in 1916.

Besides his widow, who before her marriage was Achsah M. Carpenter, and his eldest son, Harris M., he leaves two sons, Waldemar S., a consulting hydraulic engineer of Buffalo, N. Y., and Carl E., formerly of this town and now of Waterbury, Conn., general manager of the Connecticut Oil Co.

INTOXICATED MEN LEFT AUTO

Two Lawrence men, Omar Polsson and Adolphus Brats, were arrested by the local police at the road around Black Ball Pond Tuesday morning about two o'clock. They had abandoned a Hupp runabout after stripping the gears and were on their way to other fields of pleasure.

The story was that they had been during Labor Day to York Beach, Me., with the owner of the car, Joseph Lamatis. After they returned the two took the car without the owner's knowledge and got as far as Winchester with it. What they planned to do in the vicinity of Black Ball Pond was not explained.

At Woburn they were each fined $15 Tuesday.

LABOR DAY REGATTA

Upper Mystic Lake and the Winchester Boat Club was the scene of what is without doubt the most successful Regatta ever conducted by our club.

The weather conditions that were perfect for the largest and most successful of gatherings, who both crowded the club boat, piazza, balcony and grounds, and lined the shore. A spectacle was enacted, really capable of heartily pleasing followers of the water sports.

Modified Boat Club members were the guests of Winchester. Only a half dozen men came in as representatives but they did win two of the events. It was also a walk-over for the Winchester club and it is very encouraging for next year, from the fact that about fifteen W. B. C. members went into the races and strange as it may seem it was the "odd Times" just to mention, Bill Locke, Bryant Woods, Geo. Cummings, Fred Bates, and who walked away with the prizes.

The half mile single single blade race in canvas canoes, for the Cooper Cup, started promptly at 2:30 P. M. as scheduled. Just four Winchester men went into this event, Tel Clifton, Bob Moffette, Francis Randlett and Pat Hayes.

Clifton standing up paddling took the lead at the start, followed closely by Moffette. As they surged down the course Clifton increased his lead quite markedly, and Moffette and Randlett kept about even. At the end Pat Hayes was forced to drop out. Clifton was quite a distance ahead of the other two, but not content with this he flashed out a burst of speed that was remarkable and crossed the finish, a winner by many boat lengths.

The Tail-End race was next in order. Even with scarcely any breeze blowing most of the canoes "merry-go-round" and a couple of upsets were registered much to the amusement of the on-looker. G. Bryant Woods was the winner. Rocco Kibbe was second and Tileston of Medford third.

The Tiedoms brought out a field (or whirlpool, you might say) of a dozen entries. The combinations were all good but many got crowded out of showing their true worth. It was the thriller! The winners travelled just fast enough to steer clear of the entangling followers. One casualty resulted. Pat Hayes and P. Hard upset. Bill Locke and Francis Randlett crossed the line first. Monroe and Donnellan of Medford were second, and Fred Bates and Murray of the Puritan Yacht Club were third.

The Standing Canoe race proved quite a sensation. Each man stood up on the gunwale of his canoe, as near the stern as possible. Then by means of jumping the canoe up and down it was propelled forward entirely without use of the paddle. This event was new to everybody but remarkable skill was shown by some and it was a pretty sight to watch. Bryant Woods and K. Pratt jumped along to a close finish. Woodie humbled Pratt by a matter of inches. Tileston of Medford parted the waters for third place.
Clarence Russell's six feet and three inches of mighty propulsion caused much merriment.

At this point Sam Richards of the Puritan Yacht club, the noted long distance swimmer demonstrated the evolution of the swimming strokes from the dog-paddle thru to the crawl-stroke. Mr. Richards took to the crawl-stroke. Mr. Newcomb and Mr. Murray paddled over from the Puritan Yacht Club South Boston and back. The Winchester Club was fortunate to have them as guests for the day.

The Club Four event was won by the Medford Boat Club crew, composed of Monroe, Stroke Harlow, 2, Donnellan 3 and Vaughn, Helmsman.
The Winchester crew were Marshall
Symmes, stroke, Bill Locke 2, Bob Moffette 3, Clarence Russell, Helmsman.

The chair seat race, a special novelty event was next. A large armchair rocker was placed in each canoe and the contestant paddled seated in this. This proved to be a very interesting event. The chair arms hampered the paddlers and the canoes did not balance too well. Eddie Vaughn, Medford was first over the finish line closely followed by Art.
Donnellan of Medford who immediately lost his balance and pitched head first into the water. Clarence Russell Winchester was third. Two others besides Arthur Donnellan failed to remain seated in their boats.

The Tip-Over went to George Cummings, who easily out distanced the large number of other entries. Harlow of Medford was second, and Bryant Woods, Winchester crossed the line third. The Tip Over is always an interesting event and is instructive also.

Medford entered no teams in the Tilting Contest, but Winchester made up by having eight combinations.
President C. H. Eastwick of the Club drew slips to determine the opponents.

The first eliminations resulted as follows:

Pete Hart, Tilters: Rocco Kibbe,
Paddler; defeated Alan Howe;
Tilters: K. Pratt, Paddler;
George Cummings, Tilters: K. Pratt,
Paddler; defeated Ted Elliott, Tilters:
C. Russell, Paddler.

Stewart Eldredge, Tilters: Gleason
Buckley, Paddler; defeated Bryant
Woods, Tilters: Jack Woods, Paddler;
Tel. Clifton, Tilters: Clarence
Russell, Paddler; defeated Bill Locke, Tilters: I. Randlett, Paddler.

This last match was the most interesting of all as it was a long hard struggle before Clifton was able to upset Bill Locke, after the men were forced to do "bottle from the gunwales."

In the second elimination, Cummings, Pratt vs. P. Hart, R. Kibbe.
Geo. Cummings knocked his opponent squarely into the front seat of his (George's) canoe, a stunt never before witnessed.

The combination, T. Clifton, C.
Russell, vs. S. Eldredge, Buckley, developed into a tough struggle but the youngsters Eldredge and Buckley surprised everybody by coming thru winners.

The final bout was staged between Cummings, Pratt, vs. Eldredge, Buckley. This was a very setto. Eldredge proved a very hard opponent to dislodge from his canoe. Both tilters were forced to battle from the gunwales but neither could gain a clean upset so referee Fred Bates ordered a free-for-all. No fouls to be called, hit when canoes were by, anything in fact was in order. This caused it to be the liveliest contest of the bunch and in quite short order,
Geo. Cummings tilted Stewart Eldredge from his boat, making Cummings and Pratt, winners.

The officials for the races were Judges, Pres. Eastwick and H. D.
Murphy. Announcer, Fred Bates.
Starter, Stafford Rogers.

The Dance in the evening was highly successful, the music was good and a very large number attended.

On the Job

Home again, dusty with travel, tired, hungry. "Something to eat—quick," and you turn to the kitchen range. A match, a twist of the wrist, and there it is, the same old reliable and efficient gas!

Yes, and it has been there waiting for you all the time, ready to respond instantly to any demand you make upon it.

Tomorrow you will call upon us again for service, but you will give us no warning from hour to hour just what your requirement will be. Yet the gas will be there, plenty of it at all times, ready to be used in large or small quantities as you see fit, and to be paid for after you have used it.

Again our willingness and constant readiness to serve you!

To us it means having gas on tap, 24 hours a day, 365 1/4 days a year, whether you use it or not.

Have you ever thought of it in this way?

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

The fruits of industry do not grow on every family tree.

A good receipt for these hot days is, Encourage kindness—even if you have to practice on yourself.

What a monotonous old world this would be if all the people thought and did as we do.

If a man is crank and makes a success, he certainly is a genius.

Push may get a man in, but it isn't always welcome.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING, SEPT. 6

The Board met at 7:50 p. m. Present: Messrs. Blackham, Bond and Willey. In the absence of the chairman Mr. Blackham was chosen chairman pro tempore.

The records of the meeting of August 29 were read and approved.

Eastern Mass. Street Railway Co.: Mr. William J. Stevenson of 29 Hingham street appeared in behalf of the citizens in his section of the town to complain about the curfew charge of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company. He stated that the fare charge was fifteen cents from Hingham street or any street north of Swanton street to Medford square, and felt that the charge should be ten cents anywhere in Winchester. This matter was referred to the Committee on Corporations for investigation.

Hearings: A notice was received from the Department of Public Utilities notifying the Board of a public hearing to be held by the Commission of the Department of Public Utilities. The hearing which relates to an investigation of the comparative safety and cost of service to responsible common carriers in carrying passengers on highways by electric railway or by automobile is to be held in the hearing room, 100 State House, Boston, Mass., on Thursday, September 22, 1921 at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon. A record of this notice will be put on the docket again on September 19.

Street Lights 1921 Sheridan Circle North: As the Street Light Committee was not ready to report in regard to the petition of Frank Paine and others requesting that a suitable light be placed on a pole that sets in about 50 feet back of Main street on Sheridan circle North, the matter was laid over one week.

The meeting adjourned at 9:40 p. m. George S. F. Bartlett, Clerk of Selectmen.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. Henry J. Macuire of Westley street is enjoying a three weeks' vacation in Pennsylvania and Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Betterley of Brattleboro, Vt., are the parents of a daughter, Marjorie, born July 28. Mrs. Betterley was formerly Theresa Murphy of this town.

The enrollment on the opening day in the Winchester National Bank was 1522, of which 401 are in the High School. Last year the first day produced 1499 pupils of which 362 were in the High School. The High School enrollment has increased 39 over last year and 108 over two years ago.

We received this week the finest peach we have seen this year, or in fact for many years. It was grown on the estate of Mr. George H. Lochman and measures 9 1/2 inches one way and 10 inches the other. It must taste as good as it looks. We thank you, Mr. Lochman.

Assistant cashier George H. Lochman of the Winchester National Bank and Mrs. Lochman are quietly observing their 25th marriage anniversary today. No especial celebration is being made, but during this afternoon and evening members of the family have made arrangements to gather at their home and extend best wishes in a fitting manner. Mr. Lochman was recommended last week for the position of Postmaster of Winchester.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

The fire Sunday evening at 6:30, when box 35 was rung in, was for a hen house at the rear of 106 Swanton street. The blaze was seen by officer Daniel P. Kelley, who rang in the alarm. Damage slight.

A Main street resident reported to the police Sunday evening that a man in a yellow wagon had stolen one of the town lanterns placed near the new sidewalk work in the vicinity of Symmes corner. A telephone message to the Medford police resulted in the arrest of Joseph Bazanah of Boston, he being brought to Winchester by Sergt. McCauley from the Medford police station. He will be in court this morning.

On Monday an automobile driven by Ernest C. Mathews of 22 Lincoln street and a bicycle ridden by Allen McKinnon of 21 Everett avenue came together on Mr. Vernon street near the Baptist Church. The bicycle was badly smashed, but McKinnon was not hurt.

The work of altering the adjoining store to the present quarters of the Winchester National Bank is nearly completed, and within a short time the bank will move from its present banking rooms into the new section while those now occupied are put in shape.

Mr. Francis J. Powers, local agent for the Brown Reflectors, has been assigned to handle the firm's business in New York and Connecticut. He writes Winchester friends that his first order was received yesterday on his arrival from the Connecticut State Police, which covers three cars.

FREEMAN—HOPKINS

Mr. Oliver Francis Freeman of this town was married on Saturday last, September third, to Miss Ruby Smith Hopkins. Both of the young people make their home in Springfield. Mr. Freeman, a former well-known resident, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Freeman of Mystic avenue and his bride the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Hopkins of Westfield.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents at Westfield, being performed at six o'clock by Rev. James M. Patterson of the Westfield Methodist Episcopal Church.

Decorations of white asters, asparagus fern and gladioli made a fitting background for the wedding, and the couple were attended by Mrs. Leland F. Bardwell of Springfield, sister of the bride, who was matron of honor, and Mr. Dana Freeman of this town, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bridesmaids were Miss Alice Freeman of this town, sister of the groom, and Miss Beatrice McQuillan of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The bride wore a dress of white satin with pearl trimmings and court train. Her veil, a family heirloom, was arranged in fan shape and caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses, showered with lilies of the valley. Mrs. Leland F. Bardwell, the matron of honor, herself a recent bride, wore her own wedding dress of white satin and of chintilly lace, her bouquet being of Killarney roses. Miss Freeman wore yellow organdie with a flower band around her head, and carried Wards roses. Miss McQuillan wore orchid organdie and also a head band of flowers.

The reception followed the ceremony, being largely attended by the many friends of the couple, who were assisted in receiving by their parents.

They are now on a wedding trip to New York and Atlantic City, and will make their future home in Springfield.

We are now prepared to care for your electrical wants promptly and efficiently.

LEONARD BURIED

Services Attended by Town Officials
And Service Men

The body of Augustus M. Leonard, arriving in Winchester from France last Friday, was laid in state in the Town Hall until the following Saturday, after which it was taken to the home of the dead soldier's father, at 5 Harvard street, and solemn high mass was celebrated at St. Mary's Church on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The service was largely attended by service men and town officials. The burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Montvale.

Private Augustus M. Leonard, Co. E, 34th Infantry, son of Frank and the late Mrs. Catherine Leonard, 5 Harvard street, was killed in action at the end of a five days' battle in the Argonne Forest, France, Sept. 29, 1918.

The body was placed in the Town Hall last Friday forenoon. The heavy bronze casket, of a beautiful and simple design, was draped with the United States flag and lighted candles were placed at the head. The remains lay in state until two o'clock Saturday afternoon, constantly under guard by members of Winchester Post, American Legion, and visited by many people. The Legion members who stood guard included the following:

Thomas J. McKee Edward F. Boyle
J. Leslie Johnson Edward G. Boyle
William J. McKee Fred Stevenson
Arthur A. Mullen George Tellez
Anthony Cullen Horace Randolph
Daniel Binnion Gaetano Russo
Louis Golda John Loherty

Saturday afternoon the remains were escorted by the Post to the home on Harvard street, where they remained until taken to St. Mary's Church for the Monday morning service.

The body, resting on an artillery gun caisson and draped with the flag, was escorted to St. Mary's Church by a delegation of Winchester Post, 97, A. L., under command of Capt. Marshall England, a firing squad of Legion members, commanded by Maurice Rebenacher, and a delegation of Winchester Council, K. of C., headed by Deputy Grand Knight P. J. Kennelly.

The selectmen headed by Chairman Alfred Dobson, town officials, members of the Winchester Board of Trade, Winchester Council, K. of C., Holy Name Society of St. Mary's parish, Young Men's Social Club and many prominent men and women of the town attended the services.

Rev. Fr. Joseph M. Fitzgibbon was the celebrant of the solemn high mass of requiem. Rev. Fr. Joseph L. Early, deacon and Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Quigley, subdeacon. Rev. Fr. Nathaniel J. Merritt, the pastor of St. Mary's Church was also present. The music was sung by a choir with Mrs. J. Roy McGrath, soprano; Mrs. Mary Quinn of Arlington contralto and William Kelley of Cambridge, tenor, as soloists. Mrs. McGrath sang the "Pie Jesu" at the offertory of the mass.

The nylons included four members of Winchester Post of the Legion representing the army and four representing the navy: A. W. Lloyd, E. M. Danahey, Geo. H. Joyce, P. S. Savage, E. C. Mathews, W. R. Carroll and H. J. Donovan.

The flags on the common and public buildings were flown at half mast from the time the remains reached Winchester until the close of the funeral service, while during the funeral on Monday the fire alarm bell was tolled.

The floral tributes were numerous, and included pieces from the family, Winchester Post, A. L., Winchester Council, K. of C., Young Men's Social Club and former school associates in Winchester.

Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Quigley officiated at the funeral service at the family lot in Calvary Cemetery. Three volleys were fired over the grave by the Winchester Post, firing squad, and "taps" was sounded by bugler Edward Fitzgerald of Winchester Post.

MARRIED AT BRIDE'S HOME

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Symmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Symmes, and Mr. Walter Prescott Keyes, son of Mrs. George L. Keyes of Haverhill, took place on Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, 7 Sanborn street, in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward T. Sullivan of Trinity Church, Newton, at three-thirty, being followed by a reception from four until five.

The best man was Mr. George W. Wightman of Brookline, and Miss Nancy Claffin Keyes, niece of the groom, was flower girl. Ten of the bride's friends, all college classmates at Wheaton, were ribbon bearers, and formed an aisle by holding a chain of ground pine ribbons. The wedding march was played by Miss Sylvia Meadoros of Waban, piano, and Miss Frances Greene of Winchester, violin, both being Wheaton classmates.

There were no ushers, the ribbon bearers, dressed alike in yellow organdy, serving at the reception. They were Miss Mildred Burnham of Westbrook, Me.; Miss Elizabeth Hawkes of Charlestown, Miss Nan Brophy of West Roxbury and Miss Marion Ayer of Boston, all Wheaton classmates; Miss Elizabeth Mason, Miss Helen A. Rowe, Miss Esther C. Ayer of Winchester, Miss Helen Wint of Manchester-by-the-Sea and Miss Ethel Tauton of Woburn.

TOO MANY PUPILS AT THE WYMAN SCHOOL

The unusually large attendance at the Wyman School has made necessary a radical change in providing for the pupils of this building. The School Committee has voted to authorize the Superintendent to secure an extra teacher and to arrange a program whereby grades one and two will use the first grade room alternately during the day. This arrangement will make it possible to give each one of the five grades in the building a teacher of its own.

The sessions for the two grades will be as follows:
Grade One—8:30 to 10:30 a. m. and 12:30 to 2:30 p. m.
Grade Two—10:30 to 12:30 a. m. and 2:30 to 4:30 p. m.

The number of pupils at the Wyman school has been increasing for several years. Two years ago about thirty children, who were transported from the Hill district, were transferred from this to other schools in order to make room for the increase. The new program will be put into effect as soon as a new teacher can be secured and the necessary arrangements made.

NEW COMMITTEE MEMBERS APPOINTED

Several meetings have been held by the committee on the school building program appointed by the Town last spring, although the summer season has not been productive of great activity. Meetings have been held with the school committee and superintendent of schools and work is now actively underway.

The original committee included Messrs. M. B. May, James H. Blackham, Richard B. Derby, Frederic S. Snyder, Arthur A. Kidder, Mrs. Charles F. Dutch and Mrs. Alfred S. Higgins. Three members of the committee: Messrs. Blackham, Derby and Snyder, tendered their resignations, the committee filling the vacancies by the appointment of Messrs. Ralph T. Hale, James Nowell and Albert M. Chandler, the latter gentleman being a strong member of the committee on fire protection for the schools, which is now completing its labors.

The school building program presents much for consideration, both as an educational problem and in considering the geographical situation of the town, and the work of this committee will be difficult. It is understood that the present school buildings have been visited and that steps are being undertaken to secure expert advice of an educational and architectural nature.

The School Garden Exhibition

will be held Saturday, Sept. 17, from 2 to 5:30 p. m. in the Small Town Hall.

All entries must be made between 9 and 12 a. m. on Saturday the 17th.

Parents are asked to have children exhibit canned goods, as one of the Club requirements is that all members should exhibit at least 5 jars of fruit or vegetables—3 of vegetables and 2 of fruit.

POLICE SEIZE STILL

Winchester Resident Arrested for Making Liquor

Samuel Frumson, a well-known resident of this town, was arrested by the police on Saturday afternoon charged with making liquor at his house, No. 12 Cross street, Winchester Highlands. In making the arrest the police secured a valuable copper still of about 20 gallons capacity and some 40 gallons of moonshine whiskey in jugs and a kass carboy, three barrels of mash, a layout of cork stoppers for half-pint, pint and quart bottles, 100 pounds of sugar and other paraphernalia.

According to stories of the raid the odor of alcohol had been noticeable in the neighborhood, while mysterious visits of strange persons aroused suspicion. Saturday afternoon Chief McIntosh, with Sgt. McCauley and officers O'Connell, Donahy and Farrell visited the premises. When questioned Mr. Frumson expressed no regret that he should be served with a warrant on such a charge, but his solicitude about some ice in the cellar led Sgt. McCauley to the lower regions of the house, where he unearthed some liquor. The distillery was found on the second floor, off a bedroom.

The outfit was transferred to the police station by one of Kelley & Hawes' trucks, it being valued at about $500.

In the Woburn court Monday morning Frumson, who is well known as a peddler, was fined $50.

LEGION LAWN CARNIVAL

The local post of the American Legion is planning to make Saturday, October 8th, a gala day in Winchester. It will then hold a Lawn Carnival, which will consist of many attractive features.

One of the features of the Carnival will be a parade covering different sections of the town. The parade will consist of several divisions, among which will be the American Legion, other patriotic organizations, and a large number of floats entered by the leading commercial enterprises of the town.

An invitation is hereby extended to all the tradesmen in town, and any other spirited citizens to participate in this parade by entering and decorating a float, truck, automobile or wagon.

The parade will wind up by passing in review in front of the new Legion House on Washington street.

At that time the Legion House will be formally presented to the post by the selectmen, and accepted by William E. Ramsdell, Commander, on behalf of the post.

Speeches by prominent men will follow the presentation and acceptance of the house.

The new Legion Home will be formally opened to the public at that time, and a cordial invitation is extended to all the citizens of Winchester to visit and inspect it.

In the afternoon and evening there will be a band concert given by the Waltham Watch Band.

Dancing will also be enjoyed through the evening in the town hall.

The various booths, amusements and concert will be held on the Legion and Town Hall lawns, which will be well decorated for the event.

The committee in charge of the lawn carnival consists of Arthur Harris, chairman, Harry C. Bigelow, Douglas Case, Edward Boyle, Harry Donovan, Marshall Symmes, Marshall England and Vincent P. Clarke.

HARDY—CONNOLLY

Miss Abbie Christine Connolly of 19 Clark street and Mr. Michael Joseph Hardy of South Boston were united in marriage on Sunday evening at seven o'clock by Rev. Fr. Joseph M. Fitzgibbon of St. Mary's Church. Mr. Thomas Hardy of South Boston, cousin of the groom, was best man and Miss Della Hardy of South Boston, the groom's sister, was maid of honor.

The bride wore a dress of brown crepe de chine and Dutch lace embroidered with pearls. Her veil was fastened with a spray of orange blossoms. The maid of honor wore blue tulle with picture hat to match and carried pink roses.

A reception followed the ceremony, being held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Thomas Connolly, 19 Clark street. There were guests present from Quincy, Woburn, South Boston, Revere, Melrose and Winthrop, the residence being attractively decorated for the occasion with ferns and potted plants. During the reception violin solos were rendered by Miss Jessie McCormack and Mr. Bush of Revere sang several solos. The couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

Following an automobile trip through New York State, the couple will make their home in South Boston.

NEW TEACHERS IN OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

September, 1921

Miss Marian A. Lewis of Littleton, New Hampshire, is to take the place of Miss Marion Wilkinson, teacher of Domestic Science in the High School and grades. Miss Lewis is a graduate of New Hampshire State College, class of 1919, and has taught Domestic Science in Falmouth, Massachusetts, for the past two years.

Miss Jessie Weelen of Newton, Centre, takes the place of Miss Marion C. Parkhurst, teacher of physical training in the High School and the grades. Miss Weelen attended Wheaton college for two years and graduated from the Sargent School for Physical Training. She taught one year at the Lowe and Heywood School in Stamford, Connecticut and during the past year has been Supervisor of Physical Training in Lexington.

Miss May J. Huff will be teacher of Art in the High School in the position formerly held by Miss Louise Clark. She is a graduate of Boston Normal Art School and also of Boston University, and has taken summer school work at Harvard University and at New York University. During the school year 1916-17 she taught at the Fitchburg Normal School, during the succeeding year at Lowell Normal School and during 1918-19 at Framingham Normal School.

Miss Dorothy DeWolfe of Nashua, New Hampshire, will teach Grade III at the Gifford school, Miss DeWolfe graduated from Fitchburg Normal School in 1915 and since then has taught in Danvers, Massachusetts. She has attended the Columbia University summer school for two sessions.

Miss Margie Bliss of Dover, Maine, will teach the second grade at the Mystic School. She is a graduate of the Lesley Normal School, Cambridge, and has taught in Lincoln, New Hampshire, Waverley and Mansfield, Massachusetts.

Miss M. Margaret Buswell of Foxcroft, Maine, will teach French in the High School. She is a graduate of Colby College, class of 1912, and spent the following year in post-graduate work at Radcliffe College. She has held a teaching position in Corinna, Maine.

Miss Helen Bronson of Abington, will teach common subjects in the High School in the position formerly held by Miss Ruth B. Taylor. She is a graduate of the Abington High School and Brockton Business College. She has taught in the Ansonia, Connecticut High School, 1917-1920 and in the Wellesley High School during the past year.

Miss Jessie W. Tweedie of Franklin, will teach the seventh grade in the Wadsworth School. She is a graduate of Framingham Normal School, class of 1912, and has taught in East Bridgewater, Franklin, Norwood and North Attleborough, Massachusetts.

Miss Blanche A. Pratt of Burlington, Vermont, is to have charge of elementary teaching. She is a graduate of the Castleton, Vermont, State Normal School and has spent five summers in study at Columbia University. From 1914-1917 she was a supervising principal in Burlington, Vermont; from 1917-1920, critic teacher in the Johnson State Normal School, Burlington, Vermont; and during 1920-1921 supervising principal and supervisor of teacher training in Burlington, Vermont.

HAMMOND—BROWNELL

Miss Grace Agnes Brownell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brownell of 43 Canal street, was quietly married on Wednesday evening at eight to Mr. Ivan Hammond of 18 Richardson street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Allison B. Gifford, pastor of the Methodist church. The couple were attended by Miss Helen Brownell, the bride's sister, who was maid of honor, and Mr. Sidney Elliott, who was best man.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

The following marriage intentions have been filed with the Town Clerk during the past week:

Bernard F. Noyle of 25 Oak street and Bernice Helen Bond of 17 Beachland avenue, Revere.

Romeo Rollis of 55 Swanton street and Nicoletta Bignoria of Lowell street, Somerville.

Frank E. Callahan of 13 Tremont street, Melrose, and Sarah Sawyer of 19 Richardson street.

George Turley Nason of 45 Lincoln street, West Medford, and Helen Grace Green of 46 Harvard street.

McLERAN—FITCH

Well Known Winchester Girl Marries Illinois Man

The wedding of Miss Mary Lovell Fitch, well known and prominent among Winchester's young people, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fitch of 14 Oxford street, and Mr. Donald Oeden McLeran of Hinsdale, Ill., son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. McLeran of that place, took place on Saturday evening at the Church of the Epiphany before a large and brilliant gathering of friends and relatives from Winchester, Woburn, Greenfield and Boston, besides other surrounding towns and cities. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Murray W. Dewart, rector of the church, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a wedding dress of ivory satin with touches of real lace from her mother's wedding gown. Her veil, attached to a coronet made of rose point lace and orange blossoms, was worn by the mother of the groom. Her face veil was a piece from her mother's bridal veil. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses, and she wore the gift of the groom, a beautiful little finger ring of black onyx set with a single diamond in the centre.

Mr. Arthur Stockdale of Toledo, Ohio, classmate of the groom at Dartmouth '20, was best man, and Miss Elizabeth Fitch, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were the Misses: Phyllis Fitch, the bride's sister, Charlene Dean, Flora Locke and Georgianna Watters, all of Winchester. The maid of honor wore turquoise blue satin with the skirt made of panels of net, edged with silver, combining the sunset colors. The bridesmaids' dresses of taffeta and net were sunset colors: also green, yellow, blue and pink. They wore coronets of net to match the gowns, and all carried bouquets of pink tinted roses.

The ushers, serving at both the church ceremony and the following reception, were Mr. Richard Stetson of Sharon, Dartmouth '22; Mr. William Alderman of Springfield, Dartmouth '19; Mr. Corydon K. Litchard of Springfield, Dartmouth '21; Mr. Carter Hoyt of Lowell, Dartmouth '22; Mr. Donald C. Starr, of Winchester, Dartmouth '22 and Mr. James L. Fitch of Winchester, brother of the bride.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the house being decorated with gladioli, ferns and palms, and the newly married couple receiving with their parents under a pergola decorated with gladioli, ivy and ferns. The couple were the recipients of many beautiful wedding gifts.

At the close of the reception, Mr. and Mrs. McLeran left on a wedding trip through the White Mountains. They will make their home at Hinsdale, Ill.

Mrs. McLeran is a graduate of the Winchester High School, class of '18, and of Miss Wheeler's Training School, class of '20. The groom served through the War as a naval ensign. He is a graduate of the Lewis Tech. School of Chicago and of Dartmouth College, and is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. He is connected with the Chicago office of a New York life insurance company.

FAMILY DAY AT THE FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

At the First Congregational Church next Sunday morning Family Day will be observed. The families of the church have been invited to attend and sit together as families, carrying out the custom of years gone by when the best traditions of the Family Pew were alive. Mr. Childley will preach to the parents and young people on "The Religion of Youth."

At the close of the morning worship the Rally Day exercises of the Sunday school will be held in the vestry. Mr. Edward E. Thompson, principal of the High School will give a brief address at the exercises. In the evening the pastor will preach on "The Optimism of Love." The public is cordially invited to all of these services. Seats are free, and strangers are always welcome at all of the services of the church. Morning worship at 10:30, evening worship at 7 o'clock.

The no-school signal was sounded Monday noon for the public schools, owing to the rain.

McMINAMIN—DOHERTY

Miss Anna Josephine Doherty, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Doherty of 805 Main street, and Mr. John L. McMinamin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McMinamin, were united in marriage on Sunday evening at the rectory of St. Mary's church by Rev. Fr. Joseph Quigley. Miss Helen J. Doherty, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mr. Hugh McMinamin, the groom's brother, was best man.

The bride wore a wedding dress of white satin crepe with train. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore peach colored georgette crepe and carried a bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas.

A reception followed the ceremony, it being held at the home of the bride's mother from seven-thirty to ten o'clock. The residence was attractively decorated for the occasion with potted plants and ferns, and the young couple were assisted in receiving by their parents. Many prominent guests attended and offered congratulations, including Mr. and Mrs. John Walsh of Watertown, Mr. Henry Edgar of Lakeport, N. H., Dr. and Mrs. H. J. McMahon of Woburn and Mr. and Mrs. Frank and Miss Rose McDouglrick of Cambridge.

The ushers were Messrs. Edgar McMill of Lakeport, N. H., John Pellam of Cambridge, John Gintz of Cambridge, Frank McDouglrick of Cambridge, Arthur Ryan of Lynn, Frank Miller of Lynn and Raymond Fenton of this town.

The couple received many beautiful and costly gifts from their many friends. The groom's gift to the bride was a necklace of pearls.

After an extended wedding trip through the White Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. McMinamin will reside in their new home at 805 Main street.

Winchester Man Promoted Through Service This Paper Rendered

We print below a letter from Mr. Francis J. Powers, well known as having represented the Brown Reflector Company in Winchester. Mr. Powers took on the Brown agency in July and immediately started an advertising campaign through the STAR. His advertising, aided by an engaging personality, brought him immediate success, he being obliged to enlist aid from the factory in making his local installations during the past few weeks. He has now been taken on by his company as a member of the sales force and given an important position, as may be noted by the following:

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 12, 1921.
Dear Mr. Wilson:—
I think I will have to discontinue my ad until I see just what I am going to do regarding Winchester territory. You know I have been appointed distributor for the States of New York and Connecticut, and West Virginia. Is that I am the only salesman the firm has out now in this section, and I am placing dealers and distributors.

My work in Winchester was so satisfactory in volume that the firm gave me a better job. I credit the STAR with fifty per cent of my good luck, as I would never have been able to get in touch with the people the way I did by any other means.

Will you kindly see that my paper is mailed to this address, etc.

Sincerely yours,
Francis J. Powers.

MR. JOHN P. TUCKER DEAD

Mr. John P. Tucker, a former well known resident of this town, died suddenly at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Boston, Friday night. For a number of years he made his home in Glenbury. He was connected with the Boston Traveller, editing the column "The Whirling Hub," and was previously with the Boston Record as editor of its "Seen and Heard" column.

SUNDAY MUSIC AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

The program of music at the Winchester Unitarian Church for next Sunday is as follows:
Organ Prelude. Andantino. Simonetti
Quartet. Allegro, Then Light Ditties. Morgan
Solo. Omen the Gates. Knapp
Quartet. Be Ye. All of One Mind. Caffrey Organ Postlude from Simonetti. Handel

A PROTEST

Editor of the Star:

How much longer must the house-liners of Winchester endure war-time restrictions in certain matters important to us all?

How about the limited service given for several years by our Health Department?

Does anyone who knows, think that twice a week is often enough to collect garbage? If so, let him come some Tuesday morning and inspect a pull into which has been put the fish bones of the previous Friday night and on top of them Saturday's and Sunday's refuse—and the temperature in the nineties. This isn't nice to write about. It is still less nice to live with and we wonder if with increased taxation and many unemployed, it would not be possible to return to pre-war service? From May 1st to Nov. 1st the Health Department should call at every household's door at least three times a week.

Winchester is a fair and lovely town and boasts a Health Center. Why not get busy and clean up the unseen corners?

A Voter.

QUALIFYING ROUNDS AT COUNTRY CLUB

Saturday's play at the Winchester Country Club was an 18-hole, medal play, the best 16 gross qualifying for the President's club and the best 16 net qualifying for the Fall cup. There was a large field, over 50 golfers being out.

Those qualifying for the President's club were paired as follows:

G. F. Freeman and L. W. Barta.
Sidney Gleason and P. A. Hendrick.
T. R. Bateman and R. R. Higgins.
M. F. Brown and B. K. Stephenson.
F. E. Skelton and P. B. Elkins.
H. T. Bond and Geo. Elkins.
A. B. Saunders and A. H. Wood, Jr.
S. T. Hicks and W. W. O'Hara.
The best 16 net scores for the Fall cup were paired as follows:
E. A. White and W. N. Saunders.
H. V. Hovey and N. H. Seelye.
T. F. Avery and D. W. Comins.
E. R. Giddlen and J. A. Dalben.
H. S. Underwood and S. B. Nolley.
R. T. Damon and F. M. Smith.
F. H. Walker and W. G. Bott.
J. F. Tuttle and C. A. Wheeler.

The house at 5 Wilson street, has been purchased by Mr. Pilgrim of corner Washington street and Governor's avenue. After improvements he will occupy it.

FOOTBALL OPENS

Winchester High started in football practice promptly the first of the week under the direction of coach Bond, the former Harvard star. Matthews, Lunsey, Wynn, O'Connor, Kelley, Randlett, O'Donnell, Harrold, French, Ryan, Kodum, Kendrick, McElmney, Vance, Mason, Richardson, Coss, Gray, Edmeston, Priest, Barnes and Davies are some of the more promising candidates. Mr. Bond expects to keep them busy for three weeks.

AMERICAN HOLDERS OF CANADIAN LAND

An undertaking that should prove of interest to American holders of land in Canada, of which there are quite a number in this vicinity, has been accomplished by the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, namely, the list of vacant lands for sale in the Western provinces, together with particulars as to the area suitable for cultivation, nature of soil, price, terms, etc. The value of the information contained in these lists lies in the fact that it places the intending purchaser directly in touch with those who, for one reason or another, have been unable to cultivate their holdings and are, therefore, willing to dispose of same at inviting prices. The availability of such land is not due to any lack of value. On the contrary, particularly in the Prairie provinces, such idle land is rich virgin soil. When one considers Canada's vast area, however, and its comparatively small population it is at once apparent that a large proportion of the acreage which is in private ownership must be uncultivated and, therefore, available for purchase at reasonable prices. The lists have been published by districts and may be obtained free of charge upon application to the Natural Resources Intelligence Branch, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

As Mr. Irving L. Symmes was leaving the Post Office in his Ford sedan Wednesday morning a rear wheel broke off. The auto was somewhat damaged, but Mr. Symmes was unhurt.

Mr. Harold Elliott of Linden street had his automobile smashed Sunday night when returning home from Finchurst. He was run into by another auto in the fog.

Mr. Ormsby Court, who has gained considerable renown for his eccentric dancing, appeared at the Copley-Plaza this week.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

No, said the man from Connecticut, I never saw a prairie fire, but I have lived in a town where they go-sped.

The pasture of Old Age that has the most clover in it, is the one at the end of the straight and narrow road.

Some men owe all they have in this world to others, and quite a few owe a lot more.

The person who pleases him or herself only, furnishes all the applause.

Last Friday night in the vicinity of eight o'clock we saw autos stopped on the centre railroad crossing twice within a period of fifteen minutes. On Saturday afternoon a few minutes before five o'clock we counted five autos and an electric car, all on the tracks, where they waited several minutes before they could be untangled by other autos driving to the left of traffic signs. When have such conditions been equalled before the new traffic route went into effect?

During the month of August the STAR added some 16 subscribers to its list, a total of seven over the corresponding month of the year previous. The first week in September has been the largest single week of the year, no less than 14 new names being added to our list. On August 19th, 2180 copies were issued; on the 26th the edition was raised to 2225; Sept. 24 to 2250 and last week we printed an even 2300. This week sees another increase of 25 copies. Winchester people evidently like the STAR.

The drowning at Sandy Beach last week was very unnecessary. The young victim was surrounded by able swimmers and might have been rescued easily had her plight been known. At 1:50 p.m. a girl was in the water and on the beach in the immediate vicinity. Last July, when we watched the beach with close to a thousand bathers, we wondered that some sort of a safe-guard was not provided, but the very number of those in the water apparently provided the needed safety. This year there has been a noted absence of thrilling rescues at the beach, although the number using it has never before been approached. However a man in a boat would have probably recognized the difference between fooling and reality.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS RENOVATED FOR FALL WORK

Extensive repairs in the way of fire protection and painting have been made on the school buildings during the summer.

The committee on fire protection of school buildings has nearly completed its work. Four fire escapes have been erected on the High School, furnishing egress from classrooms on three floors and also the assembly hall. A door has been provided to furnish egress from the gymnasium. With the present arrangement pupils can leave the High School building without using the inside stairways, and the assembly hall and gymnasium may be entered by means of the fire escapes without using the inside corridors and stairways.

At the Wadleigh School a fire escape on the rear will furnish egress from three floors. A free passage has been provided so pupils may go from room to room without entering the corridors. Exit has been provided for the manual training room, which is in the basement, and another exit has been provided for the book room at the opposite end of the building.

Escapes have also been erected on the Prince, Chapin, Wyman, Washington, Ramford and Mystic schools. The old fire escape on the Gifford school has been altered and improved.

The Committee on fire protection is to be congratulated and commended for the thorough and effective way in which it has done its work. Although the appropriation for these extensive alterations was not made until June the Committee has succeeded in having plans and estimates made, proposals submitted and the work done in time for the buildings to be ready for the opening of schools.

A leading official of an immense Massachusetts corporation says that general business is improving steadily and will continue to improve. Some men say however that we shall have a very hard winter.

No one can look ahead and be sure.

Is it not wonderful that a man can prophesy comfort for his family and also for himself in later life, and be sure of the fulfillment of his prophecy by carrying a proper amount of Life Insurance correctly arranged?

The Committee is made up as follows: Mr. Albert M. Chandler, Chairman, Mr. Nathaniel M. Nichols, Secretary, Mr. David H. DeGourey, Mr. George B. Hayward and Mr. Edward R. Watt.

More than the usual amount of interior painting has been done by the School Committee. The interior walls of the Chapin, Washington, Gifford and Wyman schools and a part of the Wadleigh School have been refinished and the exterior of the Highland School building has been painted. The High School Assembly Hall has been entirely redecorated. In view of the extensive alterations made necessary by the installation of the fire escapes, a part of the expense on the High School and Wyman School was borne by the Committee on Fire Protection.

PROVIDE PROTECTION AT SANDY BEACH

To the Editor of the Winchester Star,

Dear Sir:

Now that the drowning season is about over, and we have had several illustrations of how easy it is for even young people to die, I want to register a protest which may do some good another year. Bathing at Sandy Beach should either be prohibited or properly supervised. To allow hundreds of girls and boys, the vast majority of whom cannot swim, to go into water which rapidly becomes deep for a child, with no skilled person near to help in case of distress, is negligence amounting to a crime. Add to this the fact that much of the beach from Winchester and all surrounding towns make Sandy Beach their meeting place, where they "rough house" to their heart's content with no one to curb them, and the drownings which have taken place are easily accounted for. Small children crowd on to the raft, then a gang of roughs take possession of it, and the little people are rocked and knocked off. Some go under the raft, generally to be dragged out half drowned, but it is no one's business to protect them, and the marvel is that many have not died like puppies in a bag. Miss Dolby probably drowned as the result of being hounded by roughs until she lost control of mind and body alike. This whole business, including the language and conduct of some of the frequenters of Sandy Beach is a disgrace to the town. Our Board of Selectmen should take action upon the matter, either to provide or get the Park Commission to provide proper policing and proper supervision at all hours of the day and night.

Truly yours,
Francis Oliver Hall,
6 Parkway, Winchester, Mass.
Sept. 12, 1921.

KorKer
Tire Treatment

Bang!

"KorKer counts most when needed most"

Mr. Autoist!

Do You Realize That You NEED NOT HAVE PUNCTURES?

Use Kor-Ker in your Tires and Save Tire Trouble I Plug Punctures and take that tired feeling out of tires.

I live inside your tire tube and INSTANTLY find and PERMANENTLY plug every puncture "on the run," without loss of air.

I locate and seal forever those sneaky little porons places in your tube which cause SLOW-LEAKS—the daddies of all flat tires, rim-cuts, stone-bruises and blow-outs.

I keep the rubber of your tube soft and elastic. I LAST FOREVER—I never dry out, harden, gum, ferment, or clog your valves.

I DO NOT FILL YOUR TIRES. I take up only 6% of the air space and weigh almost nothing.

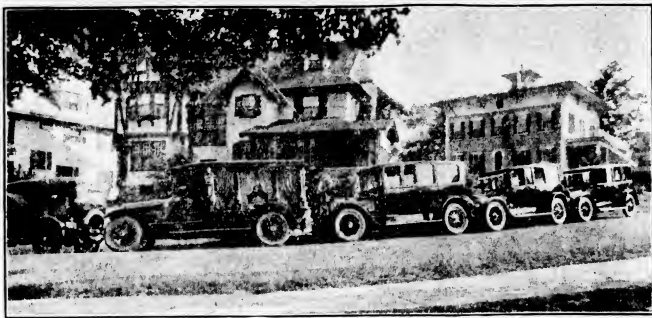

The best part of it all is that I SAVE YOU MONEY.

Let me do your DIRTY WORK. You've wanted me for years and here I am! I'll chase away the "Puncture Gloom" forever, and save your TIME, TEMPER AND TIRES.

Ask my managers to let you see me work.

Remember This: I Do Not Use Your Tire Guarantee

JUTE BAGS, EASY AND IN- TENSIVE TO MAKE, WIN POPULAR FAVOR

By Lydia T. Barlow Walker

Jute bags are not only the latest things in these useful and decorative accessories, but they are the latest word in fancywork. These new style bags, which are distinctly adapted to women because they can be made by any person at all hands with crocheted or knitted needles, the material is inexpensive, they take but a short time to make and the results are artistic. The new jute yarn that comes especially for fancywork is made from the soft fibre and lends itself admirably to its purpose. Moreover it is brought out in so many colors that it has the possibilities of regular yarn.

Suggestive of Peasant Work
 There is about these jute bags a suggestion of peasant art with its strength of material and coloring that is particularly pleasing just now, for ever since the recent introduction of Czechoslovak designs and work the interest in peasant art has had a distinct revival. Many of the jute bags are strong enough to hold heavy bundles if they are used for shopping purposes, and this is a trying test. But there are other styles that have a charm of interwoven stitches as the chief characteristic. One of these bags is illustrated. The jute forms the motif for the lower portion of a fabric, which in this case happens to be a jute mixture. However, any other suitable material, such as satin, rayon, etc., would be equally good. The important thing is to have the colors exactly match or be harmoniously contrasting.

Various Decorations
 There are innumerable possibilities for ornamentation of jute bags. Flowers and foliage crocheted from the jute itself are in high favor. Jute embroidery similar to raffia work is another, and cross stitch in jute is excellent. Still another decoration is beading, using wooden beads. Tassels make very effective finishes for ends of bags and the places where handles join the bags themselves.

Crochet Directions

The directions for the jute and fabric bag are as follows: Make a chain the length of the bag, chain 2, turn.
 First Row.—Se in each st, ch 3, turn.
 Second Row.—Put thread over needle twice, put needle through next st, draw through, take up thread, and draw through two strands. Put needle over and under the ch of 3. Take up thread and draw through two strands, take up thread and draw through the remaining strands. "Tr" in next st.

Put thread over needle twice, then through next st, draw thread through. Take up thread and draw through two strands. Put needle over and back of it and take up thread, draw through two strands. Take up thread and draw through the remaining strands on needle. Repeat from "2" to end of row. Continue across on other side of first row, putting the needle in exactly the same holes as at first in order to make the motifs come opposite one another. This double line of stitches in the second row begins to shape the bag. Join the ends of second row by first.

Third Row.—Se in back loop of each st.
 Fourth Row.—Same as second row, putting hook in back of each st.
 Continue in alternate rows of motifs and single crochet until there are five motifs rows. Finish with row of single crochet.

The bag finished before the crocheted work is attached measures 15½ inches in depth by 14 inches in width.

The size of bag and number of rows in the crochet can be made to suit any requirements. However, it is well to keep to these proportions as they are pleasing and decoratively correct.

Round and Flat Bags

Without giving exact directions for either of these, they can readily be made by following these suggestions and consulting the illustrations.

The round bag has for the bottom a flat circular mat of 12 rows of single crochet. The sides are in double crochet in every other stitch. The motifs start with one st and increase two in each row to the widest portion.
 The flat bag is in Afghan stitch. Any flat crochet design can be introduced for a border. The top is finished with a single row of color to match that used in the border. The handle is strengthened by having a foundation of three strands of jute yarn, over which is single crochet by going up one side and down the other. This makes a firm finish to the edges of the handles. This style of jute bag is just the thing for school bags that are now beginning to be in demand.

A No. 10½ bone crochet needle is recommended for the usual size strand of jute. The bags are but suggestions of the many interesting ones that can be made from this new jute yarn.

WE Serve You

SERVICE!

We like to put it in capitals that way because we believe it is the most important thing in the battery business.

Of course we can't make a new battery out of an old one, or a good battery out of a poor one, or a long-lived battery out of a short-lived one. There are limits even to battery service.

But we can make any battery last longer and serve better if you give us a chance. We can make the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery do both—and it already holds records for long life and reliability.

We can always do more with a battery if we get a chance right at the start, although we are ready to help any time. Come in! You'll say, too, that we give—

Let us make it a Mothers' Rally Day, and every mother come and pledge herself by her presence to the splendid work of the Association. The aim of the Association is to bring mothers and teachers in closer relation to each other and to the home and to discuss problems bearing on both. At this meeting three departments in the school will be able to present in three brief talks, Mr. E. E. Thompson, principal of the High School, will speak on some of his aims and problems; Miss C. L. Mason will tell of her splendid work for the backward child; and Mr. R. W. Grant, supervisor of schools, will explain his method of teaching which is proving so successful. Miss Nathalie Gifford will sing several songs.

A social hour will follow the program, and all are cordially invited to attend and meet the teachers and children.

Let children be brought and

Lawrence Dunnigan, 22 years of age, who was killed in Burlington early Monday morning as the result of an automobile accident, resided in this town with Harry A. Collins on Vine street. His address was given as Woburn, he residing at the time with Walter A. Gillis of Greenwood avenue, that city, who was driving. The car skidded on Winn street, Burlington, near the residence of Edward Walker. It overturned and Dunnigan was pinned beneath it in such a manner that he was suffocated by a portion resting on his chest. He served in Co. G, 101st Inf. during the war.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

At the first meeting of the season held last Friday at the Congregational Church vestry, the chief business was outlining the plans for the coming year, by the president, and election of delegates for the coming county and state conventions. The president was empowered to appoint as delegates to the county convention at Woburn next Wednesday such members as are in attendance, the quota being large and the place of meeting so accessible. For the State convention, held next month in Worcester, the following were elected as delegates: Mrs. Annie Stearns, Mrs. Martha Tibbets, Mrs. Eliza Adams, while Miss Elliott, Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Silson were made alternates. Both conventions are annual meetings to elect officers and transact other business.

The Union also voted to give the same amount to the White Ribbon Home that was given last year. The Home is to have its annual Open House Day on the same day as the county convention, Frances Willard's birthday, September 28th, a conflict of dates which could not well be avoided this year but which is unfortunate since the Home is in Middlesex County and many of the Unions are interested in it. A member of the Woburn Union spent her last day in the Home, she died there, her death in the Union and her church.

The Convention at Woburn will be held in the M. E. Church, opening promptly at 10 o'clock. The morning session will include the election and usual reports. In the afternoon, Mrs. M. F. McWain, president for many years of the Cambridge Union, will conduct the memorial service for Mrs. Abby Rolfe, first president of the county and always its leader in all good works. There will also be an address by Robert Macgregor of the Anti-Saloon League who will speak of enforcement and why it is not more effective. It is hoped there may be a large delegation from Winchester.

WINCHESTER GRANGE

The next regular meeting of Winchester Grange will be held Tuesday evening, Sept. 27, at Lyceum Hall. The program will consist of a concert rendered by the School for the Blind at Cambridge, and it is hoped a large attendance of members will show. Brooms will be sold that were made at the school.

Applications will be received at this meeting. Bear in mind it is the last chance before the degree work, Oct. 11.

SUNDAY SCHOOL AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

The program of music at the Winchester Unitarian Church for next Sunday is as follows: Organ Prelude. Worcester Quartet "Praise Ye the Way of the Lord." Solo, "O Mother dear Jerusalem." Quartet, "Glad to whom we look in prayer." Organ Postlude.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Barnham of Everett avenue have returned from Sanbornville, N. H., where they spent the summer.

Jack Frost

Jack will soon be here—tinzling your finger tips—nipping your toes—puffing his frosty breath upon the window pane. Are your BLANKETS ready?

CLOCKS GO BACK TOMORROW NIGHT

The end of the daylight saving will occur this Saturday night, or to be explicit, at two o'clock Sunday morning. At this time our clocks will go back to their regular standard time again.

The wisest method of setting the clock will be to stop it for an hour, especially with regard to striking clocks.

TOOK PRIZES AT LYNN FAIR

A number of Winchester people took prizes at the horse show at the Greater Lynn Fair, held at that city last week. Miss Helen Saborn of this town was judge of the show.

Riding master Harry Good took five string of horses over to the fair and exhibited them to good advantage, competing with exhibitors from Lynn, Swampscott, Brookline, Chestnut Hill and other places.

Among the Winchester riders who took part were the following: Mrs. Franklin E. Gregory, 1st and 2d; Jack Saborn, 1st and 2d in jumping; Jim Black, 1st and 2d in jumping; Mrs. Daniel Rogers, Miss Molly Tuffs, 2d and 3d; Billy Black, 1st; Nobby Wilson, 2d; Janet Smith, 2d; Ruth Good, 1st and 2d.

POLL BOOKS OUT

The List of Assessed Polls, more generally known as the "Poll Book," is out for 1921, and copies may be obtained at the STAR OFFICE at 50 cents each. Purchasers desiring copies mailed must add 15 cents additional for postage up to 500 miles. Safe delivery not guaranteed.

No books delivered except for cash.

This year's book is over double its usual size, the addition of many new names, together with those of all women voters, greatly increasing it in volume of the town.

The edition is limited and those desiring copies are urged to order at an early date. Purchase your books at the STAR office.

WINCHESTER COUNTRY CLUB

Saturday's play at the Winchester Country Club was won by R. B. Neely and S. Trafford Hicks, the event being a four ball, best ball tourney. The winning combination had a gross of 79. E. S. Hall and Edwin C. Starr took best net with 74.

The scores: R. B. Neely and S. T. Hicks, 79; E. S. Hall and E. C. Starr, 74; G. F. Freeman and M. F. Brown, 82; F. J. Swettenham and J. H. Brown, 84; G. H. Hall and H. C. Buckminster, 89; H. Bond and L. W. Bache, 89; S. M. Smith and C. A. Wheeler, 91; F. A. Walker and C. A. Redout, 97; F. A. Kelley and N. F. Hammett, 95; R. F. Whitney and J. J. Tuttle, 106; W. G. Bell and F. S. Batt, 106.

Mrs. Minerva Chapman and her daughter, Miss Alice Eudora Chapman, of Fells road, have returned from a delightful summer spent at Newfound Lake, Bristol, N. H.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

The meeting of Troop One will take place as usual in the High School gym at 7:30 P. M. Friday. New boys will be cordially welcomed to the troop.

The first meeting of Troop Two was held on Thursday of this week. The meeting of Troop Three last week took the form of a successful hike and camp supper at Camp Gileson.

The bicycle hike of Troop One to Salem took place last Saturday, and Lawrence Hallock, Norman Ash, Billy Martin, and Richard Smith accomplished the round trip, a distance of about 35 miles, making the return trip in the rain after seeing the old-time relics of the Essex Institute and the wonderful trophies, especially the weapons used by the savage peoples of the earth, brought back to Salem by the old sea captains.

The boys of Troop One wish soon to hold a swimming meet.

The scouts of Winchester have been invited to take part in the parade of the American Legion on October 12th and are pleased to accept.

MOFFETTE-SHAVER

Mr. Henry Elton Moffette of 25 Wildwood street, was quietly married on Tuesday evening to Miss Beatrice Irene Shaver of 23 Federal street, Beverly. Mr. George E. Moffette, brother of the groom, was best man and the bridesmaids were Miss Mildred R. Smith and Miss Marjorie E. Patten, both of Beverly.

BOWLING OPENS SATURDAY

The Bowling Committee at the Calumet Club announces the opening of the season this week with a special tournament scheduled for Saturday afternoon and evening. Prizes are offered in each of three classes: bowlers averaging 20 up, 20.5 and 21 or less. New bowlers will be given ratings by the committee.

MRS. MARTHA W. RICE

Mrs. Martha W. Rice, for 49 years a resident of this town, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richard S. Taylor, on Border road Sunday, Sept. 18, at her 70th birthday. She was a native of Cambridge, the daughter of Hosen and Charlotte (Payson) Whitney. For a number of years she was a member of the East Cambridge Baptist Church, and her family was always noted for its musical inheritance. She came to Winchester when 16 years of age with her husband, Richard S. Taylor, and made her home at the house built by him on Border street at Winchester Heights.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church and a life member of the Woman's American Baptist Home Missions Society. She is survived by three children, Miss Caroline E. Rice, formerly a missionary among the foreign speaking people of New York, Conn. Mrs. Richard S. Taylor, who was formerly a gospel soloist of note throughout the United States and Canada, and Mr. Walter Lincoln Rice, widely known as a violinist.

The funeral services were held at the residence on Tuesday evening at 7:30, being conducted by Rev. Clifton H. Walcott, pastor of the Baptist Church. There was a large attendance of old friends and many beautiful flowers. Services were rendered by the Pilsbury quartette of Boston. The remains were taken to the Cambridge Cemetery for interment Wednesday morning. Rev. Mr. Walcott holding a committal service at the grave.

God has been good to me.

To tell in part demands new words and all eternity.

His gracious bounty in so many ways.

Has helped me through bright years of happy days.

I have not courage to voice His praise.

But I can say with grateful heart—

God has been good to me.

God will be good to me.

I would face out toward the great unknown with grateful heart.

He has sustained me in so many ways.

I have had love to give, to lend, to share.

And ever found it waiting everywhere.

Then of the future why should I have doubt?

God will be good to me.

BACON—PILLSBURY

The wedding of Miss Rosa Lillian Pillsbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Pillsbury of 779 Salem street, Malden, and Mr. Charles Newcomb Bacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bacon of Grove street, this town, took place on Friday evening, September 16th, at seven-thirty at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. A. J. Cameron of the Maplewood Congregational Church performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by a large gathering of friends and relatives of the young couple. The double ring service was used.

The residence was most attractively decorated with palms, laurel, hydrangeas and gladioli. Mr. Harold Dwyer of this town was best man and Miss Alice B. Pillsbury, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The little niece of the bride, Miss Dorothy E. Robinson of Chester Depot, Vt., was flower girl, and the ushers were two young ladies, Miss Maude Gurney of this town and Miss Nellie Barnes of Lexington.

The bride wore a wedding dress of ivory Dutchess satin and chantilly lace, carrying a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore rose taffeta with silver trimmings and carried pink roses, while the little flower girl in blue taffeta, trimmed with rosebuds, and carrying a basket of rose petals, made a charming figure. The two ushers were dressed alike in pink and pale green taffeta, trimmed with silver lace. They wore corsage bouquets of sweet peas.

The reception followed the ceremony, lasting until ten o'clock, when Mr. and Mrs. Bacon left on their honeymoon, which will include a motor trip to New York, Buffalo and Canada. They were assisted in receiving by their parents. Many beautiful and attractive gifts testified to the esteem in which they are held by a host of friends.

Mr. Bacon is an overseas veteran and was with the Army of Occupation. He was a member of the 107th San Train Hdq. with the 32d Division. Mrs. Bacon graduated from the Malden High School in 1915 and is a graduate of Salem Normal School, '18.

NEW TRAIN TIME MONDAY

With the ending of the daylight saving hours, the new time on the steam railroad will go into effect on Monday. The changes in trains are merely of a minor nature and almost all are in Boston bound trains. Winchester people should note particularly that the eleven o'clock train running to Boston week days and Sundays now departs at ten o'clock.

The changes in trains to be noted particularly are as follows: New inward train leaving Winchester at 2:20 p. m.; inward trains formerly leaving at 2:32 and 5:57 p. m. are taken off; inward train leaving for Boston at 11:36 now leaves at 10:39 p. m.; inward Sunday train leaving Winchester at 11:29 will leave at 10:29 p. m.

There are a number of other changes, including several more trains which will not run on holidays. As a net result of the new schedule Winchester loses one inward train a day.

Announcement was made this week of the dissolution of the partnership of Russell, Pugh & Kneeland, with law offices in Boston. Mr. William A. Kneeland will continue the law practice of law at 18 Tremont street, Boston, and the other members of the firm have associated with Mr. Ralph E. Joslin and the same firm, Russell, Pugh & Joslin, with offices also at 18 Tremont street.

IMPORTANT CIVIC MOVEMENT American City Bureau Starts Activity In Winchester

Winchester is to have a thoroughly modern civic body, according to the plans now being carried out by the American City Bureau.

These plans contemplate, first, enlarging the main town hall and second, the installation of a modern method of operating a municipal government, counting and finance systems, and the services for a term of years, of a highly successful organization of specialists in civic administration, the American City Bureau.

Two of the Bureau representatives have been at work in Winchester for a week. They are William C. Trotter, the campaign manager, and W. C. Trotter, his assistant. Mr. Trotter was a resident of Winchester for 15 years. He assisted in forming the Civic Improvement Association in the city and also the Rotary Improvement Society, two influential civic bodies. He was for several years also a director of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. His record in his present work is of the best.

His assistant is a former newspaperman who has had much practical experience in organization work. Mr. Trotter's special duties here will be publicity.

The preliminaries of this campaign to give Winchester a broadly representative civic body were completed this past week. Headquarters was secured in the store formerly occupied by the Edison Co. of Main street and all the equipment necessary for a busy office was installed. Two Winchester girls, Misses Elsa Johnson and Catherine Foley, have already commenced work.

The formation of committees of local men has progressed rapidly, as will be seen in another column. These men will act in an advisory capacity, and, in some cases, will be called upon to perform some of the work that can be handled only by local men.

The service to be performed by the American City Bureau is of three kinds. First is the educational program, which is now going on. This will last three weeks. In that period, the purposes, scope and method of operation of the new organization will be given the widest possible publicity in three ways: newspaper printed matter and meetings, of the latter, there will be three general gatherings, one next Thursday night at Lyceum Hall in the form of a smoker and the next in the week following. This last meeting will be a dinner open to all. There will also be a general women's meeting.

At the present time a strong mailing list and prospect list are being worked out at headquarters. While this is going on, a team organization will be found which will go out in the fourth week to enroll new members. Such, in brief, is the first part of this service. The second follows immediately afterward. A highly trained field secretary from the American City Bureau will come here to install the body system of operation of the reorganized body. This work will all last one month. The features of it are an election of new directors, the formation of a program of work, adoption of constitution and by-laws, building up of the committee system, and installing office system. In fact, the field secretary makes a going concern out of the new membership before he leaves.

The third part of this service is continuation. For a period of years, the American City Bureau will be in constant touch with the new Winchester organization, not as a controlling power but as a consultant. Periodical visits will be made by experienced field men to assist the local men in maintaining a top-notch organization. Of utmost value to Winchester will be the research department of the American City Bureau. This department is ready to submit a number of reports on civic matters affecting Winchester, said reports to be chosen by the local organization. In addition, a constant stream of information is available to the local body by means of this department.

The secretary of the local organization is also entitled to receive free tuition at the American City Bureau Summer School of Community Leadership, held every summer. This school is considered of such importance in civic work that many universities, and colleges are taking up the work in the form of subsidiary schools.

The American City Bureau, which is supervising the work of reorganization, has an experience of eight years behind it and more than 450 successful organizations built during that time. The organizations they build are based on the philosophy of service, and that a town is what the citizens want it to be. Every right thinking citizen wants a good town, but cannot obtain it unaided. Therefore, a broadly representative plan of operation has been worked out which can best utilize the intelligence and energy of citizens for community advancement in all lines.

KNIGHTS ELECT OFFICERS

Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus, held its annual election of officers on Monday night, the following being elected:

G. E. J. Chris Sullivan, D. G. K.—Walter Shaughnessy, Chancellor—Frank E. Rogers, Fin. Sec.—Edmund A. Gozgin, Rec. Sec.—Frank Boyle, Warden—James Boyle, Treas.—Eugene P. Sullivan, Adjutant—P. E. Fitzgerald, Trustee 3 years—Luke P. Glendon, Delegate State Convention—Edward G. Boyle.

Alterations—Luke P. Glendon and Jas. V. Haley. I. G.—Francis Dempsey. O. G.—Hugh Skerry.

A meeting of the officers elect will be held at the Home on Vine street Sunday forenoon at 11 o'clock. It is expected that the remodelled Home will be closed for occupancy about November 1st.

The Mistress, Mary Tea Gardon will close for the season after Sept. 25th.

A 365 1/4-Day Industry

Like Tennyson's brook, the gas business "runs on forever." We can clock up shop for the night, take a vacation during the dog days, close down because of high prices or get tired of doing business here and move elsewhere. We must stay on the job at all times, serving everybody alike, rich and poor.

The churches may be closed six days a week, the schools two days, the post office, banks and stores one day, but not your gas plant. No business requires more unselfish devotion to the maintenance of continuous and good service than does this one.

Interruption of service is practically unknown, has come to be considered almost a disgrace, and has been prevented only by the utmost care, intelligence and watchfulness. The gas business is a 24-hour, 365 1/4-day industry and its fires never go out, winter or summer, bad times or good times, day or night.

Service such as this deserves your good will.

TRAFFIC ROUTING IN SQUARE CHANGED

On Friday night the traffic routing in the square was changed back to the old lines of travel, the southbound Woburn traffic being allowed to go direct over the railroad crossing. For a number of weeks the scheme of sending this traffic around by the Hersey and Knight stores and over the south half of the railroad crossing was in force, it being thought that this would aid in safety and handling. The idea, however, did not prove satisfactory, and the old line of travel is now restored.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Nothing is ever just right to the pessimist or all wrong to the optimist.

A hen is the only thing that ever accomplishes anything laying and setting around.

Never offer a man a chair in your office unless you know the man.

It wasn't the 10-cent loaf that caused our business troubles, it was the eight-hour loaf.

This "drive slow and see our city" drive fast and see our jail" sign is becoming quite popular, it is warning motorists in many surrounding towns and cities. It is working out quite according to schedule, with ambitious police officers hiding behind trees and buildings, looking for an opportunity to distinguish themselves. This practice, it is observed, is rapidly being looked upon with much disfavor by all law abiding motorists, who feel that such tactics are hardly needed in these days. The driver who exceeds a 15 mile speed limit on an empty road should not be classed with the reckless driver endangering life and property in crowded traffic.

Following the accident of Friday noon, when a second auto was struck by the rear end of an electric car at Knight's corner, the police decided to change the routing of south bound traffic back to the original line of travel from Woburn. As the majority of auto drivers did not know of the change, few cars took advantage of the removal of the signs and cars continued to go by the south crossing route, there being a bad mix-up on the crossing Sunday evening around six o'clock. This might have been avoided had a traffic officer been stationed on the turn at Park street, it seems as though there is work on Sundays for two officers in the square. Just what will be done now in handling the traffic is not known, but the centre presents a difficult problem. It has been suggested that a "stop" and "go" sign on the east side of the crossing might aid the traffic officer, but objectors point out that such a sign would hold up a traffic jam on the hand turn. Were it not for the railroad tracks the "diamond" method of handling the cars entering the square would undoubtedly prove satisfactory. One more reason for the speedy elimination of the grade crossing.

OUR JOB

Our job is Winchester. That is what the Winchester Board of Trade has in mind in opening a campaign for a reorganization along modern lines, in order that the town may have an organization which will do the things that need to be done. The first outlines of this work appear in another column of the Star, and we commend it to the general public as a plan embodying sound principles and great promise of permanence.

In their introduction to the Winchester public, the organizers declare that they are building upon the philosophy of service. It is the business of the citizens to see to it that they get the kind of a town they like. It is the business of the citizens to see to it that when they have a town they like, they shall keep a faithful watch to see that nothing happens that can detract from its advantages. Built on that platform, a broad, representative organization of men and women can surely work to great advantage.

The directors of the Winchester Board of Trade did not rush into this matter blindly. They deliberated earnestly and for a long time as to the best methods of obtaining those things which Winchester needs and the things that Winchester must guard jealously. In the American City Bureau, which they engaged to render service over a period of years, they found an organization that has built hundreds of civic-commercial bodies all over the country, whose great success lies in developing a spirit of pride in the communities in which they were formed and establishing a means to carry to a successful conclusion, all manner of worth-while accomplishments.

The entire plan is not yet known. This thing is certain however and the men behind the present reorganization, the directors, of the Board of Trade and other men who have shown an interest by enrolling for service during this campaign, should indicate to everyone the high purpose of the new organization. It deserves the earnest consideration of all our citizens as something that can, and will if given the proper support, be of the utmost benefit to everyone in the town.

GARBAGE COLLECTION

Dear Mr. Wilson:

There appeared in last week's Star a letter criticizing the present method of garbage collection. We would appreciate your publishing the following statement from the Board of Health concerning same.

For several years previous to the election of the present board, the same system has been in effect, namely, two collections a week throughout the greater portion of the town. As we had received no complaints we had assumed that the service was satisfactory. During the past two weeks we have received several specific complaints and were investigating the situation at the time of your last issue.

We are convinced that during the summer months two collections weekly are not sufficient at many houses and we have engaged an additional man and team for the balance of the season so that each house can be properly cared for. We shall have to request an additional appropriation next year to maintain this increased service but we are confident that the citizens desire matters of this kind handled properly and are prepared to pay the necessary bills.

We, however, wish to make clear the fact that the system in force was not a purposely restricted one, nor did it have any connection with war measures. We find on investigation that a previous board, prior to the war had for a time made three collections on certain streets, and discontinued the practice several years ago, as unnecessary. With the growth of the town and the very noticeable increase in the amount of garbage since the war, possibly due to a reaction from war time economies, the establishment of a larger number of collections at certain points appears justifiable.

The Board is desirous of handling these matters in a satisfactory manner but also desires to avoid placing any unnecessary expense burden on the town. We at all times welcome constructive criticism, and will investigate all such instances thoroughly, and where improvement can be made, recommend it to the town.

CARL F. WOODS, Chairman,
Board of Health.

WE Serve You

SERVICE!

We like to put it in capitals that way because we believe it is the most important thing in the battery business.

Of course we can't make a new battery out of an old one, or a good battery out of a poor one, or a long-lived battery out of a short-lived one. There are limits even to battery service.

But we can make any battery last longer and serve better if you give us a chance. We can make the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery do both—and it already holds records for long life and reliability.

We can always do more with a battery if we get a chance right at the start, although we are ready to help any time. Come in!

You'll say, too, that we give—SERVICE!

"I like to see a man proud of the town in which he lives. I like to see a man live so that his town will be proud of him."

A. Lincoln

Lincoln spoke words that were well-worth pondering that time. He might have spoken at the first sentence. If a man is proud of his town, he will naturally serve that town so that it will be proud of him.

A few years ago in St. Paul, Minn., the slogan for a community-chest campaign was:

"Suppose nobody cared?"

If nobody cared, if no one had ever cared, what would Winchester be today?

If everybody cares, think what Winchester can be.

The Winchester Civics and Trade Association is the clearing house for community thought and action. It CAN express in terms of accomplishments, the desires of those who care, who are proud of their town, and who want their town to be proud of them.

FINE NEW QUARTERS

The false front protecting the new quarters of the Winchester National Bank was removed Saturday. The bank occupying a large part of its new offices. During the week the new mahogany counters and furniture was installed, the front of the old quarters torn out and the new plate glass windows set in. Monday will see the interior as it will be from now on. The new banking rooms will provide ample and commodious accommodations for customers and officers alike, and are a great advance. The outside aspect is particularly pleasing. Mr. E. C. Alexander of Lakeside road has had the work in charge and is highly complimented upon the dispatch with which it has been accomplished and the minimum of disturbance to the bank and its patrons during such an extensive alteration. It is anticipated that it will be several weeks yet before all the final details are settled and the bank placed in the condition its directors plan.

WINCHESTER LOST AT WOBURN

The Winchester Town Team now travels exclusively by "Junk Haul" which so successfully handled the games during the latter part of the season under the Base Ball Association, went down to defeat at Woburn Saturday in its game with Woburn American Legion. Woburn took the honors 7 to 4. The game was played as a part of the second "Conlon-Correll" day, and was witnessed by a big crowd. Weaver and Walsh made up the battery for Woburn, with Matthews and Flaherty holding down Winchester's ends. The latter, in company with Heavey, who played short for Winchester, came through with three baggers.

FORTNIGHTLY REGATTA

The fifth afternoon in the series of six regattas at the Winchester Boat Club brought out a good number of spectators and the weather was ideal.
T. Clifton settled beyond all doubt who is to be the winner of the single pudendum trophy, by again taking first place in this event. R. Moffette was a close second and K. Pratt trailed for third place.

The tandem race took three different trials before a winner could be declared. In the first heat Clifton and Randlett met with an upset when they collided with Woods and Kibbe. In the second heat, three boats fouled when they were half way over the course. The third trial was successful. Pratt and Moffette won. Woods and Kibbe were second and Clifton and Randlett finished third.

The tail-end race went to R. Kibbe, who paddled the full course without a mistake. T. Clifton and K. Pratt staged a very close finish. Clifton had a good lead over Pratt and was only a canoe length from the finish line when his boat made a wide stroke, and they do quite often, and started to head in the other direction. This gave Pratt time enough to catch up, but he too had his difficulties, as his boat took a full swing, bringing both canoes heading with hardly a foot of water separating. Pratt must have "enraged the horses" for by good luck, rather than skill he brought his craft about and just nosed out Clifton for second place.

The fourth event was published in canvases canvas. Crew No. 1, composed of T. Clifton, stroke; F. McCartney,
No. 2; J. Boyer, No. 3 and J. Woods,
No. 4. The fifth event was published in
No. 2, made up of K. Pratt, stroke;
R. Kibbe, No. 2; R. Priest, No. 3 and J. Moffette, helmsman. This latter crew was not as good as the first, in that they did not hear G. Buckley give the starting signal. They demanded a new race, but the other crew overrall all objections by disbanding before a second race could be run off.

The tip-over was won by K. Pratt.
T. Clifton finished a close second. R.
Kibbe crossed the mark third.

Instead of the trifling standing gunwale race was substituted. T.
Clifton was the winner, with R. Kibbe second and J. Woods third.

The standing by points to date is as follows:

MYSTIC VALLEY VISITATION

Mystic Valley Lodge A. F. & A. M. was honored Tuesday evening with a visit by the Master of Mystic Valley Lodge, W. R. W. W. R. W.
Witherell, District Deputy Grand Master of the Sixth Masonic District, accompanied by W. R. W. W. R. W.
Hatch, District Deputy Grand Master, and a suite numbering 22, which comprised many prominent members of the fraternity.

The deputy and his marshal were the recipients of bouquets at the hands of the master and the meeting was followed by a collation.

Fanny Stockbridge and Laura Laraine are two veterans of the stage and screen who provide much of the human comedy that is one of the most interesting and delightful features of "The Old Nest" the Goldwyn picture, which comes to the Storham Theatre, for two days, beginning October 3, 4. The former as the crabbled old family servant and the latter as the woman who will be ill in spite of wonderful health are two figures drawn from life by the skilful pen of Rupert Hughes, who wrote the story.

Parker & Lane Co. have just received a supply of desirable hardwood in oak and maple for fire places, selling at a low price. Phone 192.

Service the True Function

Primitive man was dependent upon his own efforts for the necessities of life. Heat and light came from fuel dragged from the nearby woods. The only power was man's brawn and the domestic beasts.

Today public utility companies supply very many of our daily necessities.

This is pre-eminently true of the gas business. Your Gas Company is not content simply to supply you with so many thousand cubic feet of gas. It furnishes gas when and where and in what quantity you want it. It virtually cooks your meals, heats your rooms, lights your home. It offers you a service you could not do without; and back of it are trained labor, substantial investment and a directing genius, all working together to merit your good will by efficient, faithful service.

Gas never fails!

THE EMPLOYEES OF THE WIN- CHESTER LAUNDRIES, INC. ORGANIZE A MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATION

Nearly two hundred employees of The Winchester Laundries, Inc., main plant at Winchester and two branches, Lowell and Waltham, respectively, met at the Town Hall last Friday evening to organize a Mutual Benefit Association.

The proposed By-laws were submitted and each article read and adopted.
Next came the election of officers, which are appended below. While the officers were counting the ballots the Winchester Laundries, Inc. orchestra furnished music for dancing, which was heartily indulged in and greatly enjoyed by the employees until intermission.

It was during this intermission that the result of the balloting was announced amid considerable enthusiasm.

Tea and cake was served and dancing was resumed until very nearly midnight.

The management of The Winchester Laundries, Inc., and also the employees are to be congratulated for having made possible this splendid association. Such a spirit of helpfulness and co-operation on the part of the officials of the company and its employees cannot but help spelling success in the social welfare work which this corporation is so ardently interested in.

The annual outing at Canobie Lake, now a permanent fixture, the yearly dances at Winchester and Waltham and the splendid orchestra of twenty pieces, and other social activities means that this progressive concern is ever on the alert for the welfare of its employees.

Following is a list of officers and directors elected at this meeting of The Mutual Benefit Association:
President, M. D. Loring; Vice President, H. Raper; Secretary, F. M.
Jewett; Directors, R. Smith, G. Winslow, J. Hammond, C. Gauthier, E.
Crosby, E. N. Perry, P. A. Anderson,
J. Guertner, M. C. Ambrose, C. Mac-
Donald, G. Morrow, A. Dorette, N.
Doherty, J. McDonough, J. Lester and R. Gillis.

For fire places, oak and maple wood roof size, dry, and cheap in price. Parker & Lane Co. Phone 162.

HIGH SCHOOL SURVEY

Students of the Winchester High School are taking part in the campaign for the organization of the Winchester Civics and Trade Association.

In a survey conducted by the campaign committee, the students are asked to give their opinions as to the things needed by the town. Previous to the distribution of the short questionnaires, there was a talk by W. C.
Ewing, Thursday morning at the community assembly hall in which the speaker emphasized his conception of the duties of citizenship as the students will some day be called upon to exercise them.

Blank forms containing the following questions were then distributed:

1. What occupation do you intend to take up when you finish your schooling?
2. Do you intend to remain permanently in Winchester? If not, why not?
3. What would you like to see the Winchester Civics and Trade Association undertake for the improvement of Winchester?

REGULAR MEETING SUNDAY

The next regular meeting of Winchester Council, K. of C., will be held in White's Hall, Sunday, Oct. 24, at 2:30 P. M. At this time the newly elected officers will be installed by D.
D. James E. Hensley, and suite of Woburn. There is to be an exemplification of the first degree on Monday,
October 17.

The Selectmen ordered the street lights turned on at 4:30 o'clock monday morning, to continue through the fortnight, for the benefit of those attending the mission at St. Mary's Church.

Express and moving; packages called for and delivered. Prices reas-

STONE & FORTSMYTH OFFER PRIZES

Elsewhere in this issue appears the advertisement of Stone & Forsyth Co. featuring the new colored Signet Jute Yarn for crocheting, knitting, etc. The brilliant colors and ease and rapidity with which Jute Yarn can be manipulated gives every promise of making Jute needles work the last word in popular novelties. Signet Jute Yarn is carried locally by G. Raymond Baker.

The number and character of useful articles that can be crocheted from this yarn is evident. It is apparently so indicated that in order to bring out all the original articles and designs that can be thought out, Stone & Forsyth Co. are offering cash prizes, totaling $5000, for the eighteen most attractive original shopping bags, mats, rugs or other articles that are counted to them on or before November 15th, as follows:

1st prize $2000
 2nd prize $1000
 3rd prize $500
 4th prize $1000 each.
 The only conditions of this contest are that at least two colors of Jute Yarn rather than the natural color must be used in crocheting each article submitted and that the articles that are awarded the prizes remain the property of Stone & Forsyth Co., 67 Kingston street, Boston, to whom the articles should be sent.

 Twenty-seven Colors in 150 Yard Balls.
 Softness of texture plus strength and sturdiness, wearing qualities, adaptability for needlework and exceptional color effects explain why jute is replacing paper, raffia and cane handicraft, and its substitution for higher priced yarns.
 The ease and rapidity with which it can be manipulated gives every promise of making jute needles work the last word in novelties and as such makes its appeal to the women. The approach of Christmas assures an unlimited demand for the holiday season.

HOUSEWIVES OF CITY TO BE INVITED TO SEE LAUNDRIES

"Visit Your Laundry Week" to be observed locally week of October 24-29.
 "Visit Your Laundry Week" a national movement prompted by more than 4000 laundry owners, will be observed in this town October 24 to 29. During this week everyone who is interested in laundry service is invited to visit the laundries to see for himself how washing and ironing is done in these plants.

During the last five years the laundry industry of America has invested many millions in improved equipment, says a local laundry owner in explanation of Laundry Week. The object of the present movement is to make the public familiar with the laundry as it is today and to remove possible unfavorable impressions which may have been gained from contact with the less progressive laundries of other days.

During Laundry Week visitors will be made welcome and shown through the plants by competent guides. The invitation is general, and laundry-owners hope for a liberal response.

At the open golf tournament held last week at the Willard Golf Club, R. W. Clough of Winchester, made the first round in the first division, he being defeated by Carl Bodder of Cantonwealth. P. B. Elkins was defeated in the second round of the second division, and A. M. Bond went to the fourth round in the same division. G. W. Elkins was defeated in the second round of the fourth division.

Mrs. Josephine P. French (Mrs. Dr. John L. French) who has been spending the summer at Orleans, returned this week to her home at 367 South Graham street, Pittsburg, Pa.

WE Serve You

SERVICE!

We like to put it in capitals that way because we believe it is the most important thing in the battery business.

Of course we can't make a new battery out of an old one, or a good battery out of a poor one, or a long-lived battery out of a short-lived one. There are limits even to battery service.

But we can make any battery last longer and serve better if you give us a chance. We can make the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery do both—and it already holds records for long life and reliability.

We can always do more with a battery if we get a chance right at the start, although we are ready to help any time. Come in!

You'll say, too, that we give—
